Just Now

All are laying in their little store of luxuries, so I wish to call their attention to my immense stock of Liquors. I have a very fine Port Wine, well aged, which I am running off very cheap. Fine Ginger Wine. Natives, from the finest Concord Grapes. Some special lines of very old Port, which may be considered high in price, but when the age is taken into consideration, it appears low. I may speak the same of Brandy, Cherry, Whisky, Gin, Claret, Rum, Old Tom, Sherry, J. Ball. My stock of Liquors not only being the largest, is considered the most complete of any in town. My bottled Goods consist of Clubs, Gooderham & Worts, Imperial, Old Times, White Wheat, Hennessy, Martell, Jamieson's. Liquors of all kinds, etc., etc. W. J. MORROW 340 George street. dw

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam Balsam for coughs and colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The Large Bottles are 50c. and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

To a Musical Stuffed French Bullfinch.

While walking along Hunter street I was startled with the loud and melodious notes of a bird in its cage hanging outside the door of the Oriental grocery store, kept by Messrs. Ed. Brown & Brother. As I stood admiring its beauty and music, genial Ed. stepped out and gave me full details of the wonderful songster. Its name, he said, was the French bullfinch, stuffed and so constructed as to warble in its clear and natural melody. He purchased it in London, Eng., and brought it here about two years ago.

It is winter, O yes, for the snow flies to-day,
But it damps not your ardor, it stops not your lay.
Outside in the doorway, unprotested, you swing,
In your tempest-tossed cage loud and merry you sing.
Perfect image of beauty, here I gaze upon you
With your rich shining plumage, black, crimson and blue;
I can tell by appearance and the notes in your song,
To the songsters of Canada you do not belong.
Your name and your history Ed. gave me at once—
Sweet bullfinch, your birthplace was fair, sunny France.
From your nest in the green woods you join'd in the throng
With wild warblers to send forth your music in song;
By true instinct you raised your melodious note,
With the quick quivering tongue and the large swelling throat,
On the wing, on the bough, in the forest or plains,
Silent solitude echoed with the sound of your strains;
On your pinions of freedom how you dashed through the air
With a light, joyous heart, free, untrammelled from care,
With companions in song, in the air, on the tree,
While your life-giving hand food provided for thee,
Your music cheered peasant, prince, children and sage,
With the blue vault of heaven as your wing-course and cage.
But your life, joy and song were all doomed with your breath
To be hushed into silence by your premature death.
Was your death in accordance with Divine will and plan,
Or was it the act of some cruel-hearted man.
Dear bird did his snare trap, or rifle you slay
To secure and preserve you as a wonder to day?
Sweet bullfinch, how natural and so life-like you stand,
Shape and plumage so lovely, so attractive and grand.
And your head, tongue and throat moves as graceful and true
As when life-power and melody blended in you.
By divinity formed, but by man's hand preserved,
By skill ul invention voice and body is nerved.
When your soul-stirring notes sent a thrill through my ear,
Yes I thought a live songster from the forest was near,
I thought not, I knew not until Edward me told
You were voiceless and bloodless, inanimate, cold.
Your legs, head and plumage were all true, every one,
But your music and motions were inventions of man.
Though far from youth's mates and the land of your birth,
Passed through death and transformed, still you warble in mirth.
Imitations of life notes sweet, harmoniously flow,
Regardless of sunshine, rain, cold, frost or snow.
Sing on pretty bullfinch, how we love you to hear,
And make Hunter street ring with your notes loud and clear.
The pedestrians stands gazing, and they wonder why not Every sound, note and chord does not freeze in your throat.

Dreadful Psoriasis.

Covering Entire Body with White Scales. Suffering Fearful. Cured by Cuticura.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It run into my eyes and my physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scales fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and bleed and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease, from which I had suffered for five years. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and as to my eyesight.

BISMARCK'S RETIREMENT.

THE TRUE VERSION NOW FIRST MADE PUBLIC.

A Resignation that was Promptly Accepted Much to the Iron Chancellor's Surprise—He had, 'tis Alleged, Become Tyrannical and Capricious.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The following account of the circumstances which brought about the resignation of Prince Bismark is published by The Times this morning, and vouched for as accurate:

"France now begins for the first time to understand the cause of Bismarck's fall, and the circumstances, unknown till of late, which accompanied it. All these revelations are such that the ex-Chancellor's bitterest enemies hardly venture to discuss what a shadow he cast on his descent from power.

"The iron rule of Bismarck had of late been an obstacle, an embarrassment, and a cause of irritation to everybody, and a constant difficulty in the despatch of public affairs. Latterly he had seen none of the ministers of whom he was chief, had listened to none of their objections, and gave positive and definite orders as if the opinions of his associates in the government were of no value. He was almost inaccessible, and received those only whom his caprice invited round him. He tolerated no objections, listened with a condescending smile which condemned beforehand the ideas submitted to him by his young master, the Emperor. He even ceased really to work while complaining bitterly if the slightest decision was come to without consulting him and yet professed himself overwhelmed with labor whenever documents were sent to him to sign. He had become a terror to all who were obliged to come near him. Nobody ventured to contradict him; even the Emperor William II. saw him only occasionally, either because His Majesty was afraid of disturbing or of irritating him.

"At last the moment came when his pupil—now his master—confronted the fact that he was not master, but only chief servant. The long-restrained imperial discontent broke into an open quarrel on a minor question, and poured forth in such a torrent that the chancellor, taken by surprise and disconcerted, suddenly said:

"'Then I can only offer Your Majesty my resignation.'

"The Emperor was silent and Bismarck withdrew. Two hours afterward, the resignation not having arrived, the Emperor sent an aide-de-camp. The Chancellor greeted him very affably, being convinced that the Emperor wished him to return and to reconsider his idea of resignation; but to Bismarck's horror and surprise, the aide-de-camp had been sent to demand his written resignation. The Prince, very uneasy, made the lame excuse of not having yet drawn it up, and deferred the matter till to-morrow. Next morning the aide-de-camp reappeared. This time Bismarck was calmer, but again made the same excuse, saying that before preparing a written resignation he was bound to pay a visit.

"Accordingly, he did pay a visit which, incredible as it may appear, we can vouch for, was to the Empress Frederick. Yes, in a panic at his fall, this man, who but the day before had been the great Chancellor, now stooped before her whom he had so long humbled, and explained the danger to the Empire involved in his fall, and the fatal consequences which the young Emperor risked in thus overturning the founder of the Empire. He begged her Majesty to intervene and prevent the disaster to Germany and the remorse that her sovereign would feel at this unmerited humiliation of his most faithful servant.

"The Empress heard him out. She saw humiliating himself before her the man who had hated implacably her husband and herself, and who had sown distrust between father and son. No doubt she enjoyed the spectacle of seeing at her feet this bitter enemy, now dismissed by the very son whom he had reckoned on making his tool against her, and in a single sentence, becoming an Empress, a mother and a woman, she returned to this cringing diplomatist all the insults he had cast upon her.

"'I much regret being quite powerless. I should have been extremely glad to intervene with my son in your favor, but you so employed all your power in estranging his heart from us, making his mind foreign to mine, that I can only witness your fall without being able to ward it off. When you are no longer there my son will perhaps draw nearer to me, but then it will be too late for me to help you.'

"The Prince withdrew with downcast head, and returning home found the aide-de-camp who, for the fourth time, had come for his resignation, which the fallen statesman handed to him."

Tragic Suicides in Germany.

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—An officer of the Black Hussars who eloped from Berlin a few days ago with the daughter of a wealthy resident of this city shot the girl dead last night and then committed suicide with poison. The tragedy occurred at a hotel in Brunswick, and followed the receipt of a letter from the young woman's father, in which he refused to supply her with money or even to recognize her longer as his child.

Justice Baron Eschs of Templin, Prussia, committed suicide by swallowing poison on New Year's day. The news of his shocking death reached his family while they were awaiting his presence at their yearly reunion.

Alleged Barbarity to a Seaman.

HALIFAX, Jan. 4.—The captain and mates of the ship Selkirk, at this port in distress, are to be arrested for cruelty to a Russian sailor named Rinz, who alleges that the captain and mates struck him with belaying pins, prodded him with a needle, refused him food and subjected him to exposure by compelling him to lay on deck half naked when he was too weak to stand, so that his hands and feet were frozen. He is now in the hospital.

Crushed in His Skull.

WIARTON, Jan. 4.—While Thomas Swear of the 12th concession of Albemarle was felling trees for his neighbor, Mr. William Armstrong, a heavy branch fell, striking the unfortunate man on the head, crushing in the skull. He will probably die.

A Coaster Killed By a Train.

PENETANGUISHINE, Jan. 4.—Saturday afternoon, on arrival of the mail train from Allendale, Theophilus Lalonde, ten years of age, was coasting on the hill near McGibbon's mill, and his sleigh ran on to the railway track and he was struck by the train and had an arm and leg almost torn off. He died after two hours' suffering.

POSTAL CLERK STRIKE.

ALL THE LONDON EMPLOYES TO GO OUT THIS WEEK.

They Claim That They Are Not Properly Paid for Overtime—The Glasgow Strike Is not yet Over—Leader Burns to the Rescue with £5,000.

GLASGOW, Jan. 4.—The railroad companies are engaging new men very slowly. Men who are on probation accompany most of the engines. The strikers are still confident of success.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Michael Davitt delivered an address at a trade unionists mass meeting held here to-night. He declared that the London railway men were determined to support Scotch strikers in their demand for shorter hours. John Burns, the Socialist leader, who also addressed the meeting, called on the big unions to forward £5000 to Scotland forthwith. He said he was going to Glasgow himself to-morrow.

At a meeting of the strikers held in Glasgow to-day Councillor Tait appealed to those of the men who had been reinstated to rejoin the strikers, saying that if they refused to do so they would find their position uncomfortable when the cause of the strikers triumphed.

Both officials and men consider that the coming week, when a general resumption of business after the holidays is expected, will be a crucial period of the railway struggle. The outcome of the fight it is believed depends on the ability of the companies to cope with the large freight traffic which they will be called upon to handle. If the company fail to handle the business successfully the men hope to be able to compel the concession of their demands.

The Waterford and Limerick strike has collapsed, and the company refuses to employ any of the strikers.

POSTAL CLERKS TO STRIKE.

Owing to a Dispute as to Overtime—200 Suspended.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—A sensation was caused in postoffice circles here to-day by a wholesale suspension of clerks. Over 200 clerks employed in the Postoffice Savings Bank were suspended from duty because they disobeyed the order of the secretary of the bank to remain on duty two hours over the usual time. In addition the places of the suspended clerks were promptly filled by new men.

The postal clerks have decided to go out on strike. The movement is nominally to test the question whether working overtime shall be voluntary or not, but virtually it is a protest against the increased employment of female clerks. Many clerks who have been dismissed and their places filled with women had been in the service 20 years.

LONDON'S STORM AND FOG.

No Sunlight for 36 Days and no Cabs at Night.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—It is nearly half a century since London passed such a gloomy, wretched Christmas week. We have been living—more truly existing—in an atmosphere of frost and fog for a month. The thermometer has been below the freezing point generally five to ten degrees, and twice or thrice has exceeded twenty. Snow is 4 inches deep in the suburbs. No sun has been seen in London for 36 days. Floes float down the Thames opposite Westminster. The river is frozen over above Teddington. There is skating everywhere. Thirty thousand people are daily to be seen on the Serpentine. Fuel is rising to famine prices. The theatres are half deserted. Few people will leave home in the nighttime and risk the appearance of fogs, which drive cabs from the streets and delay trains. For the same reason dances and private parties are postponed. On every hand the distress is greatly increasing. The pinch is severely felt by half the London unskilled labor.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—During a dense fog which prevailed over the British Channel Saturday morning the oil-laden steamer Caroline Robert De Massey, from Bartoum to Antwerp, was sunk within a short distance of Dungeness Point, forming the southern extremity of the coast of Kent. The Caroline, it appears, was feeling her way up channel through the fog and at the time of the accident is said to have been under an easy head of steam. Suddenly and without warning a steamship, the Raithwaithall, appeared off the Caroline. Robert de Massey's beam and struck the latter fairly amidships, sinking her in a very short time. Luckily the sea was calm and the crew managed to lower the boats and reached Dover in safety. No lives were lost.

Evidence of another serious disaster is found on the coast of Deal, not far from Dover, where the carcasses of a number of bullocks have been washed up by the tide. Tierces of beef have also been found floating on and about the Goodwin Sands.

The London Daily Telegraph Predicts the Downfall of Home Rule.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The Daily Telegraph (Conservative) in its issue of yesterday invites the followers of Mr. Gladstone to recognize manfully the distasteful fact that Home Rule for Ireland is defunct. The present policy of the Liberal party, The Telegraph thinks, is certain to give way to a different program, while the party itself will at the same time have to make new combinations.

"After the next election," says The Telegraph, "Home Rule will be barely represented in Parliament and will sink to the level of radical fads—socialism, total abstinence and the anti-vaccination craze. Crocheamongers we always have among us, but as the English party in the highest sense of the word is co-extensive with the two great political connections which have divided Parliament between them since the beginning of the constitution period, the Home Rule party has forever perished. The party going to the country on the Home Rule platform would court disaster."

The same paper further urges the Gladstonians to "discard vain imaginings and to return to the ancient ways of Liberalism."

Rich Gifts for the Sultan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 4.—The Emperor of Germany is sending a special envoy with rich gifts to the Sultan in token of the Emperor's appreciation of the assistance rendered by Turkish authorities to the German ironclad Fredrich Kar. This vessel ran on a reef in the Ægean Sea, but was floated without sustaining much damage.

Sudden Death of Capt [illegible].

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 4.—Capt. John Wood drove to the lake to inspect a wharf he proposed to build. In jumping off the sleigh he complained of feeling strange and at once fell in the snow. Before medical assistance could be procured he was dead.

BALFOUR'S PROGRAMME

FOR RELIEVING THE DISTRESS IN IRELAND.

Funds to be Distributed to Those in Need and Unable to Work—Meals for School Children and Clothes for all Cannot Obtain Them Elsewhere.

DUBLIN, Jan. 4.—The Earl of Zetland, Viceroy of Ireland, and Chief Secretary Balfour signed a declaration which has been issued on the condition of the poor in the western part of Ireland. The declaration says: "Poverty is chronic in some districts and will, if the people are not aided, reach a stage of acute distress during the winter and spring. There is neither a resident gentry nor a substantial middle class to give employment, nor are there charitable organizations to aid those who are unable to aid themselves. Outdoor relief, except in cases of emergency, cannot legally be administered except to persons holding over a quarter of an acre of land. Although none acquainted with the history of the Irish poor law would regard the relaxing of this rule as other than a public calamity its maintenance undoubtedly limits the capacity to deal with periods of exceptional distress. The position thus created leaves a part of the social organism sick at all times. Stricken with a disease from which without extraneous help it has no power to rally. The question is not whether money ought to be given, but how it ought to be given, to what class and for what special purposes. Charity ill administered injures the recipient everywhere, but is especially injurious in those parts with which we are concerned.

In Congested Districts.

Elsewhere the injury may be confined to a class relatively small, but in the worst portions of the congested districts the whole community may be affected. All are poor all can plausibly appeal for aid, and help recklessly given in response may infect whole townships with the vices and weaknesses of professional mendicancy. We have spoken of this matter to many priests and others acquainted with the condition of the people. There was not one of them, however keenly they may have felt the sufferings of those amongst whom they lived who did not admit that permanent ill effect followed from much charitable expenditure within their experience. Regarding the appeals for help it is needful to say that tales of distress need not to be taken as authentic because they are couched in strong language and seem to come from well-informed quarters. The desire to stimulate flagging charity has been a fruitful source of exaggeration. We do not know that there is any reason to suppose that in Ireland this tendency is likely to be controlled by long-established habits of severe and disciplined accuracy. It is not easy adequately to check such statements, even by personal observation aided by statistics, however accurate.

In regard to the failure of the potato crop, small occupiers in the west seem at first sight all to live much in the same way. They live in the same cabins, cultivate the same kind of holdings and are clothed with the same kind of dress. It would be natural to conclude that in all places where the failure of the crop is the same, the distress is the same.

The Potato Crop Failure Not a Correct Guide.

But such is not the case. In no district does the bulk of the community live wholly on the potato. Every district has means of livelihood independent of the cultivation of the potato, such as fishing, labor in England, cottage industries, kelk-making and sales of farm stock. The degree of the failure of the potato crop is therefore by itself a misleading guide to the degree of distress existing among the people. Other elements in the finding of the position of the people are the amount of their savings and their debt and credit with local tradesmen. Furthermore, in the organization of any plan of gratuitous assistance, caution is necessary in order that it shall not interfere with the system of railway relief works. Several thousands of pounds weekly are already distributed in the form of wages in the districts most in need. Those getting wages through work ought not to get charity without it. The conclusions we come to are that charitable aid ought to be confined:

1. To families which are in serious want and which having no able-bodied persons among them cannot derive benefit from the public relief works.

2. To providing meals in the schools for children attending them.

3. To supply clothes for children unable to procure them elsewhere.

These forms of assistance are less liable to abuse than others.

Multifarious Agencies Condemned.

The declaration proceeds to discuss the requisites for a good distribution of aid among the poor. The authority for such distribution, it says, should be single, for the vesting of this authority in more than one person would cause confusion as to areas and inequality of resources, and would lead to no rational adjustment between needs and means. The single distributing authority ought to command all available means of information as to the condition of the people throughout the country. The declaration concludes: To those who think that we who can obtain the services of poor-law inspectors, school inspectors, relieving officers, resident magistrates, the police and other residents in localities affected and who already are officially responsible for relief works the exceeding anything that charity is likely to effect; to those who think that we are better equipped for carrying out this work than persons not having these advantages we offer to undertake the management of the distribution of any funds entrusted to us. We believe that money so spent will be well spent. All assistance in the shape of clothing through this channel or any other which reaches children and helpless persons will lighten or remove much immediate suffering without exaggerating chronic evils requiring different and continuous treatment for a permanent cure. Subscriptions and clothing will be received by the Countess of Zetland at the Vicereal lodge, Miss Balfour at the Chief Secretary's lodge or by the Viceroy or Mr. Balfour.

Speaker Peel Improving.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Speaker Peel, who has been sojourning at Cannes for the benefit of his health, is well again and will return to London in time for the re-assembling of Parliament.

Elections for members of the French Senate were held yesterday.

Blew His Eye Out.

UXBRIDGE, Jan. 4.—Moses Linton, sr., made preparations for a shoot to-day. Among other things he got a cartridge too large for his rifle, and in making an effort to drive it in exploded it, resulting in the loss of one eye and probably the sight of the other.

Died of Grief.

HAMILTON, Jan. 4.—Albertha Mason, aged 14, a daughter of Mrs. Weir of Cannon-street, died on Thursday. The Mason family has had a tragic history. Engineer Teddy Mason, its head, was killed in a railway collision. A son was frozen to death on the ice on Hamilton Bay. A few weeks ago a daughter committed suicide in Chicago. And this child, Albertha, died yesterday, literally from grief over the death of her sister, to whom she was devotedly attached.

PARNELL AND O'BRIEN.

Resumption of the Boulogne Conference in Doubt—Davitt's Advice to O'Brien.

PARIS, Jan. 4.—Mr. O'Brien will not resume his conference with Mr. Parnell unless the proposed negotiations obtain such sanction from the leaders of the majority of the Irish party as will justify the hope of a reunion of the party. Mr. O'Brien declines to state whether, in the communications passing between himself and Messrs. Dillon, McCarthy and others, they promise their approval of further negotiations. The opinion of the Irish group here is unfavorable to a resumption of the conference at Boulogne-sur-Mer. It is reported that Mr. Davitt has written to Mr. O'Brien not to deal with Mr. Parnell, except as a medium to obtain the surrender of the party's banking account in Paris. Mme. Rafalovitch, Mr. O'Brien's mother-in-law, says Mr. O'Brien will not return to Ireland to enter prison, leaving the party fund unhealed. While the rupture lasts, she says, he can better serve the cause here or in America.

Parnell and Capt. O'Shea.

DUBLIN, Jan. 4.—Father O'Shea has written a letter from the Franciscan Convent at Drogheda. He says: "As Capt. O'Shea's nominator for the Galway election of 1886, I can throw light upon the foul calumnies uttered about Mr. Parnell and Capt. O'Shea. From undoubted authorities present it can be proved that no shadow of suspicion rests upon the political purity or the motive actuating Mr. Parnell when he decided to run Capt. O'Shea for Galway. He hoped thereby to secure Capt. O'Shea's influence and to induce the coalition of the 86 Irish members of Parliament with the English Liberal party. Mr. Parnell's anxiety was so great to obtain this result that he carried Capt. O'Shea forward against all opposition and without exacting the usual political pledges. In spite of the fact that few stones have been left untarned to ruin Capt. O'Shea's reputation and lessen his pocket, I believe him worthy of his friend's esteem for his kind-heartedness and his right sense of great moral virtues. In the event of another election in Galway I should act in a similar manner to prove my belief in Mr. Parnell's honesty at that time. I could bear witness that the proceedings in the divorce court had no connection with the Galway matter so far as Capt. O'Shea was concerned."

SENTENCED TO BE HANGED.

An Irish Murderer Who Looked for Justice in the Next World.

DUBLIN, Jan. 4.—At the Nenagh Assizes to-day Bartholomew Sullivan, a farmer, was placed on trial charged with complicity in the murder of Patrick Flahive, at Ballyhague, in the county Kerry, in August last. It was alleged that the actual murderer, Patrick Kennelly, had escaped to America. The motive for the crime was the announcement made by Flahive of his intention to cut the crops on a farm from which the tenants had been evicted.

The jury deliberated over the case for two hours and finally returned with a verdict of guilty. In reply to the question of the Judge as to whether he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced upon him the prisoner said: "I am not a bit in dread of the Highest Judge, my Lord, the next Judge won't condemn me for it." Sullivan was then sentenced to be hanged in Tralee on Feb 2.

COLLIERY EXPLOSION.

Forty Miners Perish Near the Polish Town of Ostrau.

VIENNA, Jan. 3.—A terrible explosion of fire damp took place Saturday in the Trinity Pit near the Polish town of Ostrau. Fifteen bodies have been recovered. Many of the miners are still imprisoned in the pit. Rescuing parties have been formed and every effort is being made to save the lives of the men, but it is found that it will be impossible to effect the rescue for 24 hours. It is feared that the accident will result in the death of 40 miners.

More Nihilist Disclosures.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 4.—A young lady named Istomina, who was the organizer of one of the Nihilistic rings, has been on trial here for her connection with Nihilism. She was subjected to a very severe examination lasting seven hours, and was finally forced to confess everything she knew regarding the workings of the secret organization. The officials thus learned who the young woman's confederates were, and their conviction was secured. Several persons who were accused of being members of the order and were imprisoned have been liberated owing to the absence of any proof in their case.

The Sultan Apologizes.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 4.—It is learned that the Japanese ironclad which brought home to Turkey the survivors of the foundered Turkish frigate Ertogroul, was not allowed to pass the Dardanelles, there being a standing prohibition against any war vessel going through the straits. Her commander was enraged at the refusal and at once started to return to Japan with the Turkish sailors aboard. The Sultan sent his private yacht after the Japanese vessel, which was overtaken at Smyrna. The Sultan's representative tendered apologies to the Japanese commander, which were accepted, and the visiting warship was soon at Constantinople discharging her passengers.

Was he Eyraud's Victim?

PARIS, Jan. 4.—A curious fact has been disclosed in connection with the Gouffe case. When traveling to Lyons and elsewhere with Gabrielle Bompard and the trunk containing the body of the victim, Eyraud assumed the name Emil Breuil. It comes out that there was a real Emil Breuil, who went to America 10 years ago, about the time Eyraud first visited that country and he has never since been heard of by his family. A brother of the missing man, a wine merchant in this city, has written to the Procureur-General demanding the most an inquiry be made into the strange coincidence of the disappearance of his brother and the appropriation of his name by an assassin 10 years after ward.

A Family Asphyxiated.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 4.—In the town of Cincy, near Namur, the wife, brother-in-law and three children of a gamekeeper, who was recently killed by accident, have all been found asphyxiated in their beds. There is no evidence to show whether the deaths were caused by accident or design, and the terrible affair has occasioned considerable excitement among the people of the town.

Charged With Strangling His Mother.

PARIS, Jan. 4.—The public prosecutor of St. Etienne has ordered the arrest of M. Dupeaud, a member of the Municipal Council. He will be charged with the murder of his mother, who was eighty years of age. The aged lady was found strangled to death Wednesday last.

Bonus Bylaw Carried.

BRACEBRIDGE, Jan. 2.—A bylaw granting a $2000 bonus to another sole leather tannery here was voted on to-day, and carried by a majority of 65.

Mr. Wainwright Promoted.

MONTREAL, Jan. 2.—Mr. William Wainwright, formerly assistant manager, has been appointed to the position of assistant general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway. It is understood that he will also fill the position of traffic manager made vacant by the promotion of Mr. L. J. Seargeant to Sir Joseph Hickson's place.

Foul Play Suspected.

HAMILTON, Jan. 2.—While some parties were going home at 6½ on New Year's eve they discovered H. H. Walker, a woodworker, lying in the alley way off Gore-street. They took him home, but before they arrived the man was dead. An inquest will be held.

METHODISTS OF NORWOOD

Open Their Fine New Church With Rejoicings.

An Important Epoch in the History of Methodism in Norwood—A Substantial and Beautiful Edifice Dedicated—Descriptive of the Building and Other Interesting Particulars—Proceedings on New Year's Day and Sunday.

With a handsome new church, sound financial position and a popular and active pastor, the large and prosperous Methodist congregation of Norwood have every reason to congratulate themselves and may sing with full hearts praises to the Almighty who has so graciously showered his blessings upon them. Their new house of worship, a credit to the denomination and the thriving village in which it is situated, the corner stone of which was laid under Oddfellows' auspices the 26th of May, 1890, has been finished and formally dedicated to the service of God. What is still more satisfactory, the edifice is about paid for; almost if not quite the whole amount has been subscribed, and as soon as the payments are all in the church will be practically free of debt.

At the time the corner-stone was laid the EXAMINER gave a description of the building as it was designed, and a brief retrospect of the progress of Methodism in Norwood. A concise resume of the data would not be out of place here. The church is erected on the corner of Peterborough and Colborne streets, centrally situated and conspicuous for its architectural beauty and commanding appearance. The new edifice supercedes the old rough-cast structure which stood on the same lot since 1851, and which was built when the village was in its infancy and the congregation numbered only about 250. Rev. Geo. Carr was the first pastor. Since those early days the grand doctrines of Methodism have flourished as a green bay tree in Norwood, and the congregation is now perhaps the largest in East Peterborough. There are over 400 registered members of the church. Rev. John S. Clarke is the present pastor, and the church trustees who have the executive management are Messrs. Starr, Scott, Reynolds, Fraser, Kirk, Howson, Buck, M. R. Howson, Elliott, Breathen and Brown. These gentlemen are thoroughly representative of the piety, prosperity and Christian perseverance of Norwood Methodists.

A BEAUTIFUL BUILDING.

The new church is indeed a handsome structure. Its general style is Gothic, it is built of stone, is 73x110 feet in dimensions, and its prominent feature is a massive 60-foot tower at the corner next the street. The workmanship and finish of the building is of a superior kind. The foundation is what is known in architecture as ashlar, a facing made of squared stones, and red-pointed, while the upper walls are built of a dark limestone, the window and door caps and window sills being of another quality of stone. The exterior effect is most harmonious and pleasing to the eye. The interior is still more attractive, and quite novel in design. The lofty middle ceiling is coved, while a series of iron pillars on either side support the wings. The pulpit is situated at the front end, the seats are arranged amphitheatrically in modern style and rise gradually towards the rear. An admirable feature of the internal design is the arrangement of the Sunday school and class rooms in the back part of the church, which, by the removal of the glass partition which separate them from the auditorium, can be made one with the church proper, and the whole area thrown into one space, with a total seating capacity of about 1200. Ordinarily the auditory, which seats 800, will be sufficient, but for special occasions the convenience of this arrangement will be apparent. Behind the pulpit is the choir loft, capable of seating a hundred persons. It is supplied with a new 2 normal pedal bass organ of fine tone, made by the Dominion Organ and Piano Company, of Bowmanville. It cost $375. The walls and ceiling of the church are an immaculate white, the pews and woodwork of oiled and polished ash, and the pulpit furniture of oak. Handsome chandeliers depend from the ceiling, and the other lighting arrangements are also complete. The windows are of octagonal stained glass, rich and harmonious in tint. There are two memorial windows yet to be supplied: one by Messrs. J. B. Pearce, Norwood, and P. B. Pearce, Belleville, sacred to the memory of their father and mother, the late Peter Pearce and wife; the other window is to be presented by Col. Lewis, of London, Ont., in memory of a relative and former active member of the church, Mr P. Cope. When the windows are completed the interior of the church will be strikingly handsome.

Provision was also made in building for an excellent basement. It comprises a church parlor and class-room, a thoroughly equipped kitchen and a dining room, of which the hospitable Methodists know how to make a good use. The large furnaces are also situated here. They are adequate for the very coldest weather.

THE WILLING WORKERS.

Altogether the new Methodist church at Norwood is as handsome and complete as it possible almost to make it. Mr. Thomas Dunk, the Campbellford contractor, did his work exceedingly well, and has pleased the church people so much that they intend making him a substantial gift exclusive of the $10,000 he receives as the price of his contract, on which, it is said, he has lost money. There yet remains a few finishing touches to be put on before the terms of the contract are fulfilled. The building committee which had charge of operations are deserving of the highest praise for their taste and foresthought in securing such an admirable edifice at so low a cost. The committee was composed of Messrs. W. H. Stephenson, Thomas Buck, P. W. Reynolds, T. Fraser, W. R. Howson, Robert Scott and Rev. J. S. Clarke. Credit should also be given to the sub-contractors who executed different portions of the work. These are Mr. W. Hill, of Hastings, who excelled himself in the plastering; Mr. T. Loughbridge, who did the painting in a good workmanlike way; and Mr. I. Fraser, who supplied the plumbing so satisfactorily.

The ladies of the church did their share towards the completion of the building. The Ladies' Aid Society shouldered the burden of paying for the organ, pews, carpets, lamps, furnaces, etc., amounting to about $2,000, and they have succeeded in reducing the debt on these items to about $600. The church building is also practically paid for. At the time of the corner stone laying the whole amount required was about subscribed, and more than half of it has already been paid in. Mention should further be made of the gifts to the church by Mr. W. H. Minaker, of 200 chairs to the Sunday school, and by Mr. H. G. Buck, for a long time a member of the choir, of sufficient chairs to seat the singers.

THE FORMAL DEDICATION

took place New Year's Day, but the ceremonial incident to the occasion is to be extended over the three following Sundays.

On New Year's Day a grand tea-meeting was held. In the early evening supper was served by the ladies, and a most sumptuous repast it was. Every skill of cuisine and liberality of provision were brought into play by the ladies, who served the tables four times before all had been attended to. At eight o'clock the dedicatory meeting was held in the church. An overflowing audience, comprising people of different denominations who rejoiced in the prosperity of their fellow Christian workers, had gathered. Rev. Mr. Clarke, pastor, occupied the chair. On the platform were Rev. Dr. Stafford, of Toronto, who was present at the corner stone laying and completed his connection with the church by conducting the dedication; Rev. Mr. Carmichael, Presbyterian, Rev. Mr. Lambert, Baptist, Norwood; and Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Nonham. After the preliminary rites, according to the Methodist Discipline, had been gone through with, addresses on the progress of the church during past year, the balance of church trustees and others sitting in a front seat, rose, and in their behalf, Mr. Buck, the oldest member of the board, formally presented the church to Dr. Stafford to be consecrated to the service of God. Mr. Buck made some touching remarks expressing the joy and gratitude he felt on the occasion. Dr. Stafford read the address to the congregation and exhorted the members continued effort and consistent prayer for divine grace and help. After a prayer the choir sang "Peace be Within Thy Walls," a fine anthem and rendered most acceptably.

Rev. Mr. Clark then publicly expressed his gratitude to God for the fulfilment of the work, and from the platform thanked those who had been instrumental in bringing about the success of the church and church building. The trustees, the building committee, the Ladies' Aid Society and a list of contributors whose names were read, were heartily thanked for their share in the work. Mention was specially made of a gift of a large Bible and hymn book for the church by Dr. and Mrs. Ford.

Rev. Dr. Stafford next delivered one of his characteristic addresses—eloquent, instructive and practical, regarding the duties of church members, and pointing out the best way to promote the interests of the church by working in harmony and love and assisting each other.

Rev. Mr. Clarke gave a short statement of certain expenses and appealed for further subscriptions, to which a number of responses were made.

Rev. Mr. Carmichael and Rev. Mr. Lambert followed with brief but appropriate addresses, and the dedicatory service was concluded, after the choir had sung another anthem, with prayer and the benediction.

Sunday Services.

The special services on Sunday drew large congregations and liberal collections. In the morning Rev. Prof. Barwash, Chancellor of Victoria University, preached from I Cor., xiii, 13: "And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity." Dr. Barwash also addressed a large afternoon meeting, taking for his text I Thes., i, 4: "Knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God." In the evening the church was filled to overflowing, a large number from the Presbyterian church being present. Rev. S. J. Shorey, of Peterborough, preaching a timely and practical sermon from a double text, Matt., vi, 10: "Thy will be done," and Matt., xiii, 28: "An enemy hath done this." The idea running through the discourse was, in this world as we see it now, how much of the things we find fault with in the condition of human things and society, is God responsible for and how much is the enemy? In every department of life the things that really cause us suffering and about which many complain are not the outcome of the will of God, but of "man's inhumanity to man," the greed, fraud and folly in men's lives, and that naturally in the relation we sustain to God there was no reason why man need be afraid to say, "Thy will be done," because God's will is good will. The first consideration was this: We were created in the Divine image, and there could be no collision between the will of the Creator and the highest interests of the creature. Then it might be asked how is it that our will does not run naturally in the groove of the Divine ordinances. That is explained by the discordant element of sin, which has come into life through the fall of man. Then there is another consideration why we should not be afraid to say "Thy will be done;" because God loves us, and this love is seen in the gift of His Son, whereby He seeks to re-create us in the image we lost. Then not only naturally can there be no conflict between the will of God and man's highest interests, but it is the experience of human life. Those who know most of God, the best people we have known and do know, what do they say as they come towards the close of life and look back over it? Their testimony is invariably this, that the Lord has been better to them a thousand times than all their fears, that many things they dreaded and many of the providences which they could not possibly understand could accrue to their benefit, as they look back they see in it all God's goodness, and that God has made all things work together for good to them who love Him. In conclusion Rev. Mr. Shorey said that therefore no man could throw the responsibility of a ruined life on God. Whatever may be said at the grave of a wreck and ruined life, upon the tombstone at all events can be written, "The enemy hath done this." The will of God is good will, and it is only the will of man that is ill will.

On Sunday, Jan. 11th, Rev. C. Rutledge, of Cobourg, will preach morning and evening. A mass meeting of the scholars of the local Sunday schools will be held at 3 p. m. On Sunday, Jan. 18th, Rev. James Thom, B.A., of Newcastle, will preach morning and evening.

Special attention is called to the social and meeting to be held in the church on the evening of Monday, Jan. 12th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. The proceeds will go to supplement the organ fund.

Puny [illegible] Your Blood

[illegible] condition is usually known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditary and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

GRATITUDE AND GREETING.

TO THE PUBLIC:

We wish the public generally, health, wealth and prosperity, and take advantage of this season to express our heartfelt and cordial thanks, for the liberal patronage bestowed on us year after year. We have every reason to feel proud of our success—a success which we owe to two sources—the generosity and discrimination of the public, and to the fact that we have made ourselves worthy of public patronage and support. We have been, and are still anxious to make money; but we aim, while so doing, to give the public the benefit, instead of grinding the last cent of profit out of our goods. We buy them cheap—cut down the price to the narrowest margin of profit, and by big sales—by "small profits and quick returns"—we live and let live. And still we keep up that policy. This is the season when all the world gives gifts and our great gift to the people is, the Grandest Bargains in clothing ever offered to the public—$40,000 worth of First-class Goods, at prices so low, that paying for them seems a mere formality. We strive to be practical philantropists; we give the public the benefit of buying at Genuine Bargains. We prefer to make ten dollars in ten sales at low prices, to making ten dollars, at cent per cent profits, by one sale. In the first case, we benefit our customers and make friends of them; in the other case—well, we don't—but other dealers do grind the last cent out of him, and they never see his face again. Now we see our customers often. When they come once they come again. We cordially invite the public to visit our place at once, and secure the Great Bargains we are offering. In the meantime, we beg to wish our customers, present and prospective, and the public generally

Bradstreet's Review Shows That They Were Considerably Less Than in 1889.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's report a quiet week, so far as the distribution of general merchandise is concerned, as was expected during that particular week. Stock-taking is still a conspicuous feature. The weather has been generally unfavorable and reports are received of a waiting attitude on the part of buyers and sellers at Boston. There has been a freer movement in all lines, that city proving an exception to the general rule. Even wool is said to be stronger both at Boston and Philadelphia. Rubber is up 13c per pound owing to Brazilian speculation and leather is recovering with splits 2c higher. Butter, eggs and potatoes are all firmer and higher in price. Wheat is firmer and has advanced 1c in spite of the unprecedented increase of nearly 1,000,000 bushels in available stocks for the week ending Dec. 27 and larger stocks afloat for Europe and at United Kingdom ports. Hogs, too, are higher at western markets on a more active demand.

Iron is as week as heretofore and coal prices are unchanged. Exports of wheat [and flour] from both coasts of the United States for the past week equal 1,031,000 bushels against 1,431,963 bushels last week and 1,898,054 bushels in the like week 1889-90.

The bank clearings for 1890 at 37 cities in the United States as reported to Bradstreet's aggregate $59,585,536,458, or 6.7 per cent. more than in 1889, 21 per cent. more than in 1888 and 18 per cent. more than in 1887. At New York city the aggregate of bank clearings for 1890 was $37,458,607,008, or 63 per cent of the whole, showing a gain for the metropolis over its total in 1889 of 4.3 per cent, of 20 per cent over 1888 and 12 per cent. over 1887.

Business in Wall-street was light during the interrupted week, but prices tended to advance, and both activity and strength were shown at the close of the week. Money is easier without being in specially active demand. Rates on call have ranged from 3 to 8 per cent., and on time 6 to 6¼. The continued favorable New York bank statement has gone far to add to the growing confidence in financial and commercial circles. There has also been less demand for funds at western financial centres than during previous weeks, with money low but at unchanged rates. Mercantile collections, with a few exceptions, are comparatively slow.

The total number of failures in the United States in 1890 was 11,073, or 9 per cent. less than were reported to Bradstreet's in 1889.

Reports to Bradstreet's give 1636 failures in the Dominion of Canada and Newfoundland for 1890, only 10 more than in 1889. Aggregate liabilities are $12,482,000, against $13,147,000 in 1889, while assets equal $6,748,000, as compared with $6,110,000 in 1889.

Ontario had 837 failures, 25 less than in 1889, with $5,657,000 of liabilities, against $6,143,000 in 1889, and $2,450,000 of assets against $2,835,000 in 1889.

Quebec reported 491 failures in 1890, or 53 less than in 1889. The gross liabilities were $4,027,000 last year and $5,352,000 in 1889. The total assets for 1890 were $2,585,000, against $2,548,000 in 1889.

The failures in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland, Manitoba, Northwest Territory and in British Columbia were each more numerous than in 1889, and except in Prince Edward Island the totals of liabilities of failing traders were also larger in 1890 than in 1889.

LITTLE ONES CREMATED.

Burned to Death in Their Beds While the Parents Were at Church.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 2.—News has just reached here that seven colored children were burned to death near Bayboro, Pamlico County, on Sunday night. Scott Thompson, colored, in company with his wife and eldest child, had gone to church, leaving the seven children, five of his own and two grandchildren, at home. Their ages ranged from infancy to about fifteen years.

Before the service ended Thompson's house was found to be on fire, and the congregation made a rush for it. On nearing it the screams of the children could be heard, but when the place was reached the building had fallen in and every one of the children had perished.

Col. Toledo Killed.

PANAMA, Jan. 2.—Advices from Peru state that in suppressing the revolutionary attempt at Luna, Dec. 24, in behalf of Ex-Dictator Pierola, 26 revolutionists mostly officers were killed. Two parties of conspirators, one headed by Col. A. M Toledo, tried to seize the artillery barrack at Luna, and were fired on and repelled by the troops. Toledo was among the killed. He was a dear friend of Pierola and was prefect of Luna, where Pierola recently escaped from imprisonment. Toledo was arrested, charged with aiding the ex-Dictator to escape, but was released on his promise not to leave the capital.

Another Alleged Fight.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 1.—A special to The Bee from Pine Ridge says: A scout just in from the hostiles says 14 cavalry horses with saddles and other equipments on were brought into the hostile camp last night by young warriors. The scouts overheard the hostiles say there were 14 less soldiers to fight and that the hostiles lost only two warriors in getting the 14 cavalry horses, etc. The scouts report has created a new sensation here which is being followed up by renewed activity around military headquarters. There is little doubt that the intelligence means that a battle or skirmish has taken place in which Brooke's or Carr's command has lost men.

SIGNOR LOSES FAST.

A Little Italian Who Has Existed Forty-Five Days Without Food.

WHEN Signor Succi began his forty-five days fast in New York (which coincides on Saturday, Dec. 20) he weighed 147½ lbs. He has lost about 40 lbs. at the time of writing, three days before the completion of the feat. The New York Sun thus summarizes the performance:

It is not a pleasant thing to reflect upon why people go to see Succi. When analyzed down to its simplest elements, what is the motive which induces men and women to pay money just to look at an Italian who is sick. That's all Succi is—a sick man, nothing more nor less. That he deliberately made himself sick is neither here nor there. The sole spectacle which people pay their money to see in the spectacle of a man suffering from the sickness which comes from lack of nourishment. There is nothing edifying in it; there is nothing interesting in it. On the contrary, upon all general principles the show is one which ought to disgust rather than interest. A ghastly, chalky face, feverish looking, glistening eyes, deeply sunken; great holes in the temples and cheeks; skinny, claw-like hands and wrists—these are not beautiful things worth a quarter to go and see.

Why is it, then, that people go day after day to look at this sick-room show, and that for some of them it becomes a horrible sort of fascination, so that they go again and again? The motive is very simple. It is merely that Succi is suffering agonies, and above all that he shows he is suffering. That's why people go to see him. It is pleasant to see somebody suffer—to watch his grimaces of pain, and to see him clench his teeth and make his features rigid with the will power by which alone he is kept from crying out in his agony. Of course if he did cry out, if he writhed and twisted and moaned and bit his lips until the blood came, the spectacle would be all the more pleasing. But if he only shows that he is in agony, though keeping his strong expression of it under control, even that makes a very pretty show. Such is the show Succi is now offering the enlightened citizens.

The plain simple truth about that Twenty-third street exhibition is that it is disgusting—that Succi is disgusting and that the sight of apparently sane and civilized people going to see him is even more disgusting than Succi.

There are moments when the expression of misery on the man's face is something horrible to see. It is true that he keeps himself loaded up with the "drug anodynes of which his so-called elixir is composed, yet at times it would seem that the strain is too great even for drugs, and the man is clearly in awful agony. At least once he has been on the point of breaking down. But even under the influence of the drugs the expression of pain never leaves his face. Even when he is asleep his countenance has a haggard expression of resigned suffering that is pitiable to see. But it is when he tries to smile cheerily that the most painful effect is produced. Those who have seen that Succi smile are not likely soon to forget it.

Perhaps it is going too far to say that the show is not interesting. If a study of misery as expressed by the human countenance is interesting, then Succi is interesting. His face might be divided into sections and studied separately. The agony lines about the forehead alone would fill an artist's sketch book, or furnish material for a column of descriptive writing. The same might be said of the misery marks about the mouth and cheeks.

But the chief trouble with the Succi exhibition is that it has no meaning, no significance or value. Suppose that a man fasts by the use of powerful drugs, so deaden the pangs of starvation that he can go a certain number of days without food, then what? It isn't new. It has been done time and time again. Under careful medical handling unquestionably a man in sound health might go even much beyond the forty-five days which Succi proposes to go. But what if he can? What interest is there in seeing him do it? He grows day by day paler and thinner, and day by day his sufferings become more intense. Considering that his horrible physical condition is deliberately brought upon himself for money's sake. It is simply a matter of seeing a man in all the gaunt ugliness of a prolonged sickness, and you have not even the advantage of sympathy for him to modify the ugliness. When you look at a person made hideous by illness and remove from your mind every grain of sympathy and look at the sight just for what it is, what feeling would predominate? Just plain every-day disgust, and that is precisely the sentiment which Signor Succi inspires at the present moment.

Some Foolish People

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which is sold on a positive guarantee to cure, they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Price 50c. and $1, Trial size free. At all druggists. dw

The Red River.

The red river of life is the blood; if it be impure, health is impossible and life a burden; Burdock Blood Bitters, say those who have tried it, is the best blood purifier in the world. Good Deeds Done.

The good deeds done by that unequalled family liniment, Hagyard's Yellow Oil, during the thirty years it has been held in ever increasing esteem by the public, would fill volumes. We cannot here enumerate all its qualities, but that it can be relied on as a cure for croup, coughs, colds, sore throat and all pains, goes without saying. 2w1d

Fifteen Months Free.

"Fifteen months ago I had a boiling breast. I tried many remedies but got no relief, I then tried Hagyard's Yellow Oil, which gave me instant ease. It is the best thing I ever used for all kinds of pains or colds." MRS. JOHN CORBETT, St. Mary's, Ont. 2w1d

PROBABLY no modern medicine has obtained wider notoriety, within a given time, than the really wonderful SLOCUM'S EXYGENATED EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL. To sufferers from lung troubles we say, take no other. As all druggists sell it, is easily obtained. w2ws

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES

BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments,

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the NERVOUS and MUSCULAR systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM; but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. The Dorenwend Electric Belt and Attachment Co., C. H. DORENWEND, Electrician, 103 Yonge St., Toronto, Canada.

The surplus accumulated during the THREE years of the current quinquennium far exceeds the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail to be highly satisfactory. The prosperity of the Sun Life is no doubt largely due to its liberal unconditional policies and paying its claims promptly. Canadians should also remember that by patronizing a Home Institution, which invests all its funds in the Dominion, they are benefiting themselves by reducing the rate of interest here, and are helping to build up our own cities rather than those of foreign states.

A Good Opinion.

The new principal of the Collegiate has a good opinion of Peterborough and her schools. In a letter to a friend in Napanee, an extract from which is published in the Express, Mr. Fessenden writes:—"Never in my life have I had a pleasanter term than that just closed. The board, staff, pupils and myself are on the best of terms and have been congratulating one another."

The Public Schools.

To-morrow will be the last day of the school holidays. An advertisement in another column announces some changes in the public school regulations. Junior fourth book pupils residing west of Bethune street, and south of McDonnel street, are now required to attend the South Ward school. No pupils from Ashburnham will in future be admitted to the town public schools.

Schools Opening.

The Collegiate institute and public schools open on Wednesday. It is very desirable in both schools that there should be prompt attendance the first day to avoid a great deal of trouble in the arrangement of classes. Parents will greatly assist the teachers as well as promote the interests of the pupils by seeing that children are promptly sent on Wednesday morning.

A Masquerade on Ice.

The young people are kept in mind of the grand fancy carnival at the skating rink Friday, Jan. 16th. The Foresters' intend to make it the biggest event of the kind ever held in Peterborough. He Threatened to Desert Her.

Chief Rozzel was called to No. 12 College street Sunday evening by a Mrs. Anderson, who said her husband was beating her. The chief, on arriving at the house, found the woman standing in front of the house crying that her husband was going to desert her. She wanted the chief to step in and prevent the man from carrying out his mad design, but the chief replied, "let him go." He has no authority to interfere, and has not yet heard whether a reconciliation took place and the husband was induced to stay at home.

Sheriff of Renfrew.

Mr. Thomas Murray, ex-M.P.P. for North Renfrew, has been appointed sheriff of Renfrew, in succession to the late James Morris, deceased. Mr. Murray sat in the Provincial Legislature for a good many years, beginning as far back as 1870, and was always a faithful and valuable member. Of Irish parentage, he grew up in Carleton Co., and was educated at Smith's Falls. He won his way up the usual road of political success, as councillor, reeve, and finally member of the legislature. In 1882 he resigned his seat to contest his riding of North Renfrew for the Commons, but was unsuccessful. He was re-elected to the Legislature in 1883 and again in 1887.

A Gentleman's Matinee.

Prospects are dim for a winter ice meet, but local horseflesh will have an opportunity of exhibiting its speed. Mr. F. J. Daly, of the Grand Central Hotel, is arranging a Gentleman's Matinee to take place on Little Lake. It will be open to the following horses:—W. Croft's bay mare, Dr. Beatty's chestnut mare, A. V. R. Young's chestnut mare, F. J. Daly's chestnut mare, D. Belleghem's brown horse, J. Canoy's bay mare, Dr. King's bay horse, Dr. Yellland's bay mare, A. P. Cavanagh's grey mare, Parnell's black mare, Aaron Cox's Lapidist Chief colt, J. J. Daly's Lakefield mare. The prizes are: first, silver cup; second, suit of clothing; third, large horse cooler. The first matinee takes place a week from next Friday, at 2 o'clock, and every subsequent Friday (weather permitting) until the cup is won. Best three in five heats in harness, mile heats. Cup to be won three times before becoming the property of winner, when second and third prizes will be awarded to the horses standing next highest. Competent judges will be provided and everything done to make the matinee most successful. Entrance fee $5.00; entries may be made with Mr. Daly up till the Thursday night before the matinee at 9 o'clock.

Church Chimes.

The first of the week of prayer meetings takes place in St. Andrew's church to-night. The subject is "Confession and Thanksgiving."

Four of the city pulpits were on Sunday occupied by strangers. In St. Andrew's church Rev. Mr. Carmichael, of Norwood, conducted the services, Rev. Mr. Jones, of Port Hope, being detained at home. The pulpit of the Murray street Baptist church was filled by Rev. Calvin Goodspeed, of McMaster University. At the Charlotte street church Rev. Geo. Edwards, of Orono, preached. In the George street church Rev. Dr. Sexton delivered two lengthy and learned metaphysical discourses, dealing with the scientific aspect of Christianity. Dr. Sexton's sermons were full of information and food for thought. Collections were taken in aid of the Superannuation Fund. The musical portion of the services was of special interest. A fine anthem was given by the large choir, and solos were sung by Messrs. Bowman and Mulligan, of Rochester. Both young men are well known in Peterborough and their singing was much appreciated.

At Norwood Sunday the pulpit of the Presbyterian church was occupied in the morning by Rev. S. J. Shorey, and in the evening no service was held, to enable the congregation to visit the new Methodist church.

Rev. Dr. Sexton lectures in the George Street Church to-night on "God and Law in Creation." A silver collection will be taken at the door.

The pulpit of St. Andrew's church was declared vacant by Rev. Mr. Carmichael Sunday morning. In the evening the congregation sat in semi-darkness, a few gas jets taking the place of the electric light, which refused to shine, the current not being turned on.

The Sunday school anniversary services of the George street Methodist church will take place Sunday. Rev. Mr. Phillips, of Toronto will preach. On the following Tuesday evening an entertainment will be held.

Dr. Moher's many friends in town regretted much to hear of his removal to Trenton. The doctor was a most active and enterprising young business man who is sure to succeed wherever he hangs out his shingle. Trenton will gain a worthy citizen in Dr. Moher. The EXAMINER wishes him every success.

Sad Cases of Poisoning.

There have been so many shocking cases of poisoning lately that one almost dreads to pick up the morning paper any more; and yet the cases we hear of are few in number compared with those that never find their way into print. Thousands persons are daily being slowly poisoned by their impure blood, which causes dyspepsia, sick headache, and a variety of ills, yet they never think of resorting to that greatest of all blood purifiers, Beecham's Pills. w2d

A Novel Offer.

We note that the publishers of The Dominion Illustrated have originated a plan by which over $3,000 worth of prizes are to be distributed among the subscribers to that paper subject to their correctly answering simple questions on the current contents of each number. We learn that the first prize will be $750 in gold, the second a Heintzman piano worth $600, and that the rest of the many prizes in the competition will be of an unusually costly and valuable nature. They are also offering a second series of prizes for the best specimen of type-writing, open to type-writers all over the world. We have very much pleasure in noting such liberal offers from our leading illustrated journal, and hope that all our readers will take advantage of them. We understand that on receipt of 12 cents in stamps the publishers of The Dominion Illustrated (Sabiston Litho. & Pub. Co., Montreal) will send a sample copy of that journal with full particulars of the plan.

SEALERS TO BE PROTECTED.

Lord Salisbury's Warning—Immediate and Forcible Resistance to any Seizure Outside the Three Mile Limit.

[N. Y. Herald Special.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—A shadow falls upon the message that the President is understood to be penning for Congress on the Behring Sea question. He has in his possession, as a part of the State Department brief or "precis" of the case, a minute by Mr. Blaine to the effect that Lord Salisbury has caused it to be confidentially made known to him that in the existing position of the case Her Majesty's Government could not permit a single British sealing vessel to be searched or seized in Behring Sea beyond the admitted territorial jurisdiction of the United States without an immediate and forcible resistance to such a proceeding.

If the President withholds this positive intimation from the knowledge of Congress, he will find himself in an unenviable position should it become known next summer that he had procured protective seal legislation on a deceptive or misleading statement of the present situation. Should he now communicate his knowledge to Congress, it is not to be expected that Congress would content itself with voting measures calculated simply to provoke a conflict of arms without at the same time arranging for a full and vigorous prosecution of the war so invited.

But to enter upon a course of war legislation without appropriate action by Congress upon the several British proposals for a mixed commission to devise a system of international protection of the seal fishery and for an impartial arbitration of the entire controversy would be a course most unlikely for Congress to pursue.

President Harrison, it is claimed, does not wish for a British war, but only for an anti-British agitation to work for his own re-election. And his delay in going on with his plans for such an agitation is due to the difficulty he finds in making Congress the unwilling instrument of his personal motives. He expected Mr. Blaine to bring out a strong Russian demonstration against Behring Sea sealing by British vessels, instead of which Mr. Blaine has only succeeded in paving the way for a diplomatic controversy with nearly all Europe over the international character of Behring Sea.

At this moment Mr. Blaine is the laughing stock of every foreign diplomat at Washington with enough command of English to read his published notes to Sir Julian Pauncefote and the ridiculing comments of the American press upon them.

It is understood in official and diplomatic circles that the report from Ottawa is true that the note of Mr. Blaine rejecting the Salisbury proposal for Behring Sea arbitration was delivered to Sir Julian Pauncefote several days ago.

However bellicose President Harrison may be in his own person he can assail the British Government with nothing more forcible than paper pellets from the State Department unless Congress shall appropriate money for more warlike missiles and authorize their employment in the manner contemplated in the White House.

EXTENDING CANADA'S TRADE.

Trade Relations with Canada, Mexico and Hawaiian Islands.

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—Hon. J. Foster being spoken to yesterday of the visit of Mr. D. A. Ansell, Mexican consul-general to this city during his absence with a view to talking trade relations, said that he was not aware of what propositions Mr. Ansell had to make but there was an excellent opening for trade between the two countries. Mexico has various products which Canada could take and vice versa. The distance would prove no barrier, as claimed. The return trip could be made in 15 days.

Col. Volney V. Ashford of Honolulu, commander in chief of the military in the Hawaiian Islands, returned to the city yesterday from the west to interview Hon. Mr. Foster on trade matters. He said: "I am anxious to see what can be done towards arranging trade relations between the country and the islands. Our present commercial treaty with the United States ends in about two years from now, and it can be terminated by either country giving a year's notice. There is a strong feeling on the part of many of the leading people in the islands that it should be ended.

"The dropping of the treaty with the United States being likely the question naturally arises, where will our next market be? Personally I am of opinion we can do with Canada all the business we have been doing with the States. The difference in distance between San Francisco and the islands and Victoria and the islands is only about a day by steamer and not much more in proportion by sail, as sailing vessels have to go a good way north after leaving San Francisco, therefore there would be no barrier on that head. The arrangement of terms ought to present no real difficulty. At present we import from the States practically everything we eat except beef and some vegetables. Our largest exports to them are sugar, rice, bananas and vegetables. Now we can take from Canada all the same articles of food, with the addition of agricultural implements, which I think Canada is in a better position to supply. As regards bananas the consumption of them in Canada is increasing rapidly. The aggregate trade between the United States and the islands last year was about $19,000,000. Our imports were about $6,000,000, which I think is worth the attention of Canada.

BEHRING SEA DISPUTE.

THE CLOUD BECOMES MORE ALARMING.

A Statement From the Foreign Office Which is so Unusual as to Become Alarming—Blaine Lays the Whole Correspondence Before Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The President to-day transmitted to the House of Representatives further correspondence on the subject of the Behring Sea centroversy between the United States and Great Britain. The President's message is altogether formal and merely states that in response to the resolution of the House he transmits the correspondence called for. A letter from Secretary Blaine accompanies the correspondence.

The correspondence is made up of two very long letters and a number of enclosures comprising treaties, notes and extracts from previous correspondence, which Secretary Blaine says concluded the correspondence touching the far sealing question up to date. One of these letters is from Lord Salisbury to Sir Julian Pauncefote, dated Aug. 2, 1890, and the other was addressed by Secretary Blaine to the British Minister Dec. 17 last. Lord Salisbury's letter refers to Mr. Blaine's statement that certain of Mr. Adams' expressions omitted by him (Salisbury) for the sake of brevity in quotation give a different meaning to the despatch, which actually supports the present claim of the United States. He claims the omitted words do not in reality affect the point at issue, and that the view which Mr. Blaine takes cannot be reconciled with the despatches. Lord Salisbury recites the Russian concession in 1799 to the Russian American Company to hunt, fish and trade on the northwest coast of America, from Behring Strait to the 55th degree, with permission to extend to the south, provided they did not encroach upon territory occupied by other powers. This southern limit agreed approximately with the ultimate boundary between the British and Russian possessions. No claim to exclusive jurisdiction was made under this charter, but the ukase of 1821 pushed some 250 miles south as far as Vancouver Island the exclusive dominion claimed by Russia, a claim to maritime jurisdiction regarded in England and the United States as extravagant. Objections were made at once. The correspondence which ensued between Mr. Adams, the Secretary of State of the United States, and the Russian Government is quoted at length. Lord Salisbury says: "It is perfectly clear the privileges granted to the Russian-American Company in 1799 did not operate to exclude American vessels from any part of the coast, and the attempt to exclude them in 1821 was resisted. The Russian Government had no idea of any distinction between Behring Sea and the Pacific Ocean, which latter they considered as reaching southward from Behring Strait."

Lord Salisbury quotes Mr. Adams' despatch of 1823 to Mr. Middleton, the person charged with the negotiations for the United States, and says Mr. Adams clearly meant that the Russian settlements or discoveries gave Russia no claim as of right to exclude the navigation or fishery of other nations for any part of the season from the coast of America, and that her rights in this respect were limited to territorial waters of certain islands of which she was in permanent and complete occupation.

Lord Salisbury declares the construction which Mr. Blaine puts on the treaty of 1824 between Russia and the United States is entirely novel, and the separate article which Mr. Blaine says reserved rights of Russia does not bear that interpretation. He considers it unnecessary to argue at length on so elementary a point as that a claim to prohibit the vessels of other nations from approaching within a distance of 100 miles from the coast is contrary to modern international usages. He says the rule recognized at that time, and which has been generally admitted both by publicists and governments, limits the jurisdiction of a country in the open sea to three miles from its coasts. He quotes from Secretary Seward in a note to the Spanish minister in 1862 respecting a Spanish claim to a 6-mile limit at Cuba and from Secretary Fish, who, he says, was entirely unaware of the exceptional jurisdiction claimed in Behring Sea and transferred only eight years before to the United States.

Referring to England's exclusion of vessels from within eight leagues of St. Helena, Mr. Blaine says the water thus controlled was 2000 square miles in extent. As to the Ceylon pearl fishery, he remarked that England assumes the control of an area in the Indian Ocean 600 miles wide. A license fee is collected of vessels engaged in the pearl fishery in the open ocean. Mr. Blaine says the President is willing to adopt the test used in the act of Parliament to exclude ships from hovering nearer to the island of St. Helena than eight marine leagues or he will take the example where control over a part of the ocean 600 miles wide is authorized by Australian law. The President will ask the Government of Great Britain to agree to the distance of 20 marine leagues, within which no ships shall hover around islands of St. Paul and St. George from May 15 to Oct. 15 of each year. This will prove an effective mode of preserving the seal fisheries for the use of the civilized world.

The Secretary maintains the correctness of the position assumed by the United States. He believes the controversy turns upon one point—whether the phrase "Pacific Ocean" used in the treaties of 1824-25 included Behring Sea, as contended by Great Britain. If the United States can prove the contrary here the case is complete and undeniable. Therefore, Mr. Blaine enters into an exhaustive argument, based on Bancroft's history and maps, to show that Mr. Adams and his contemporaries had a distinct understanding that the phrase "Pacific Ocean" excluded the waters of Behring Sea, known also as the Sea of Kamschatka. The secretary points to the large wealth of the Russian American Company, which, he says, would have been carelessly thrown away by the Russian authority in a phrase which merged Behring Sea in the Pacific Ocean. He cites the long years of abstinence from the seal waters by the adventurous people of the United States and Great Britain in a presumption of their lack of right to enter. As stronger evidence of his correctness Mr. Blaine cites the protocols of the treaty of 1824, to show that Russian relinquishment of jurisdiction applied only to the territory below the 59th and 60th degrees. After the explanatory note from Russia to Mr. Adams in 1824 positively excepting the Aleutian Islands and country north of 59 degrees 5 minutes from the concession to the United States of right to fish and trade. He also cites the action of Great Britain excluding vessels from the waters within eight leagues of St. Helena, when Napoleon was confined there, and again refers to the protection exercised over the Ceylon pearl fisheries by Great Britain, saying he is willing to accept those provisions for the protection of the seal fisheries. He speaks of the enormous injury inflicted by vessels under the British flag upon the United States fisheries and suggests that she send an intelligence commissioner to the seal islands.

He objects to the form of the proposed arbitration and says it will amount to something tangible if Great Britain consents to arbitrate the real questions discussed for the last four years: What were the rights exercised by Russia in Behring Sea? How far were they conceded by Great Britain? Was Behring Sea included in the Pacific Ocean? Did not the United States acquire all of Russia's rights? What are the present rights of the United States? And if the concurrency of Great Britain is found necessary then what shall be the protected limits and the close season? Secretary Blaine denies that the United States ever claimed Behring Sea to be a closed sea and quotes Minister Phelps in 1888, where he says that the question is not applicable to the present case.

Lord Salisbury holds that by the convention of 1824 and 1825 the United States and Great Britain obtained secure assurance that Russia would not exercise the claim of jurisdiction made in the ukase of 1821. He asserts that the British Government have always claimed the freedom of navigation and fishing in Behring Sea outside the limit of one marine league from the coast and it is impossible to admit that a public right to fish, catch seals, or pursue any other lawful occupation on the high seas can be held to be abandoned by a nation because for a number of years it has not suited the subjects of that nation to exercise it. Lord Salisbury concluded by saying that his Government has no desire to refuse to the United States any jurisdiction in Behring Sea which was conceded by Great Britain to Russia and which properly accrues to the present possessor of Alaska in virtue of treaties or the law of nations. If the United States Government still continues to differ with the British Government the latter is willing to refer the matter to arbitration.

The Foreign Office Speaks.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Foreign Office this evening issued the following in regard to the Behring Sea dispute:

The statements cabled respecting the correspondence on the Behring Sea question between the British and American Governments are unfounded. A despatch was received Dec. 30 from Mr. Blaine. He made proposals respecting questions to be submitted for arbitration; with this exception, no communication has been received from the United States on the subject for the past three weeks and no communication has been made to the American Government in the same period.

The communication from the Foreign Office on the Behring Sea matter was printed and sent to all newspapers and news agencies in London, as the Foreign Office is a most conservative department and its course in this matter is a startling innovation and strengthens the general belief that the crisis is serious. It is claimed here the preparation of sealskins is an entirely British industry, 13,000 persons being engaged in this work in London alone.

What Sir Tupper Says.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian Commissioner here, said to-day he did not believe the United States was preparing her naval fleet to attack foreign vessels. He thought the American Government's statement on the Behring Sea controversy might have been circulated for election purposes.

The Standard on the Situation.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The Standard, referring to the Behring Sea dispute, says it wears a very unpleasant aspect. Even the possibility of a rupture between England and America cannot be mentioned without feelings of deep regret. America may count upon receiving the full measure of courtesy, patience and firmness which England has already displayed. But Mr. Blaine will do well to bear in mind that firmness will be commensurate, should the moment arrive for its exercise with the patience and courtesy with which he has so far been treated. He seems extravagantly anxious to put himself wrong. Mr. Lincoln cannot too soon on his return devote himself to ascertaining the resolutions of the foreign officers and communicating them to his Government. There is not a person in England but would hear it proposed with profound regret that shots should be exchanged between British and American vessels except in courtesy. But it would excite regret to hear that the British flag had been insulted and the national honor not vindicated by prompt refusal. But we can never believe the American people will suffer its public servants to force a conflict by wanton outrage upon our flag. We will gladly bow to the tribunal of international law, but not to the nod of Mr. Blaine. We trust he will not persist in menace which is certain if he resented and resisted.

The Dead.

Charles Keene, the caricaturist, who was on the staff of Punch, died yesterday at his father's house in Hammersmith, London, Eng.

Mr. Charles T. White, the veteran minstrel, died in New York yesterday. White played Uncle Tom in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" for two years, and was eight years in Bartley Campbell's "White Slave" company.

Mrs. Ramella G. West, wife of "Billy" West of minstrel fame, died in New York yesterday. Miss Morris, which was her maiden name, was a remarkably handsome and accomplished young woman. She could speak fluently in French, German, Turkish and Italian. She was an heiress and had in her own right property valued at $300,000.

Emma Abbott died at Salt Lake City at 7.40 yesterday. The body will be embalmed and sent to Chicago. The prima donna went to Salt Lake to fill a four nights' engagement, and despite the advice of her physicians went on the first night. The next day she was taken alarmingly ill with pneumonia. Emma Abbott was a native of Chicago. She made her debut on the operatic stage in London in 1878 as Maria in "The Daughter of the Regiment." Previous to this she had sung in several halls in New York and other American cities, but had not attracted that attention which the artistic worth of her work afterward procured for her. She soon became one of the most popular American opera singers. She had accumulated a large fortune by 10 years of [illegible]

MILITARY CALLED OUT.

TO EVICT THE STRIKING RAILROAD MEN.

They are Turned Out of the Houses Owned by the Railway Co.'s—Suicides at Monte Carlo—A British Ship Founders—24 Persons Perish.

GLASGOW, Jan. 5.—Seventy policemen backed by hussars to-day evicted the strikers from the houses belonging to the railway companies. Many distressing scenes were witnessed. Much suffering seems in store for the families of the strikers.

The evictions generally were allowed to proceed. Some houses, however, were barricaded against evictors, and when battered open were found crowded with people who refused to retire and were forcibly ejected. A few stones were thrown and there were outbursts of hooting and jeering at officers from onlookers. Although late this evening quiet was restored, police and military were picketed in the streets and about the railway station.

While a number of miners were returning from Motherwell, where the Caledonia Railway Co. recently attempted to evict some of its striking employes from their houses, they sacked a shop in the village of Blantyre eight miles from here. The men acted riotously and the authorities summoned military aid to quell the disturbance. It is feared the miner's sympathy with the strikers will introduce a turbulent element into what was hitherto a comparatively orderly movement.

The Freeman's Journal's Criticism.

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—The Freeman's Journal says: The Earl of Zetland, Viceroy of Ireland, and Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary, have begun to pass around the hat to obtain funds to purchase food and clothing for the suffering portion of the population of Ireland. It is their intention to make the removable police magistrates the relieving officers, who will distribute the contributions forwarded to the castle in answer to the appeal of the Viceroy and Chief Secretary.

Dublin Castle for the present is to be transformed into a sort of drygoods store with a soup kitchen attached. Mr. Balfour now thinks he sees a favorable chance of cutting into the popular feeling. But the country will be disappointed if the indignation of the people fails to find unequivocal expression. If the distress is so bad as to call for the action of the Government then it is by the Government that it ought to be relieved and not by the begging box.

The Express refers to the significance of the fact that at the Winter Assize cases of agrarian crime are tried, without exception, with the witnesses and juries discharging their duties in a courageous manner. This salutary change, says The Express, is effecting objects for which the law exists, and is redeeming the character of Irish juries.

Monte Carlo's Victims.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—Baron Von Imy, member of a Bavarian noble family, has been for several weeks a visitor at the gambling tables at Monte Carlo. A fortnight ago he became bankrupt. As the company was separating one night the Count said: "You see I have not played to-night because I am a ruined man. I have lost all I had and have not a louis to stake to-night. To-morrow I shall have left the hotel. Adieu." The next morning the Count was found dead in his room, having taken a dose of morphine.

A few days ago C. L. Bour took his life after losing his money. Four hundred francs was given his mistress upon consideration that she should leave Monte Carlo and give up all Bour's papers. This she did, and he was buried in Potter's Field. A day or two after his death a young Englishman informed the correspondent that he had witnessed the suicide of a man in the Casino, and that the attendants had thrown the body out of the window and carried it away. A day later the correspondent found two new graves in the suicide part of Potter's Field, showing that still another victim to the gaming table had taken his own life.

An Awful Disaster in Pesth.

PESTH, Jan. 5.—While an enormous crowd of holiday-makers were amusing themselves yesterday on the ice-covered surface of the River Danube between Buda and Pesth, the ice, after a series of alarming cracking reports, suddenly gave way in several places. A terrible panic followed and a number of people fell into the water and were drawn under the ice and drowned.

Irish Invincibles Freed.

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—Thomas Kelly and James Hanratty, who were convicted with eight others at the Belfast Assizes in 1883 for connection with an Irish brotherhood at Crossmaglen, have been released from Downpatrick Prison, where they had as fellow prisoners the Dublin Invincibles.

A Schoolboy Suffocated.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—Johann Jause, a 12-year-old boy, was locked in the closet of a school house in Annaburg as punishment for some misconduct, and when the door was opened he was dead, having been smothered by coal gas. His cries were not heeded by the teacher, who supposed them to have been incited by anger or repentance.

Emigrant Canvassing in Russia.

VIENNA, Jan. 5.—The first case of prosecution for emigrant canvassing in Russia has just been tried at Warsaw. It resulted in the sentence of the defendant to a year's imprisonment and the loss of his political rights. He was charged with seeking to secure emigrants for Brazil.

Training Men for Street Preaching.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Bishop of Marlborough has formed, under the sanction of the Bishop of London, a lay Brotherhood of St. Paul. The members of the order take strict religious vows for one year, at the end of which period they may renew their vows or withdraw, according as they find the work fitting to them. The objects of the brotherhood are street preaching, visitation of the poor, and other works of charity and Christian endeavor.

A Corpse Held the Reins.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—A singularly pathetic incident occurred last week on the high road between Canterbury and Dover. The night was intensely cold, and at the several stopping places it was noticed by the people who received the mail that the driver of the mail cart had not his usual cheery word of greeting for them, but sat still and silent on his box. On the arrival of the mail cart at the Dover postoffice it was discovered that the man was dead and frozen stiff in his seat. The horse had made all his accustomed halts, while the reins were held in the dead man's icy grasp.

An Unfounded Report.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Daily Telegraph says it is authorized to deny the report of Gladstone's intended retirement from the Liberal leadership.

"Are You Going to Put Me in a Coffin?"

SAULT STE. MARIE, Jan. 4.—Thomas White, a farmer, was driving a team drawing a load of hay down Ashman-street when George Wilkes, a small boy, rushed in between White's horses, which he doubtless had not seen. One of the horses struck the boy with its hoof on the top of his head, fracturing the skull and laying open the brain, and the sleigh runner pushed the boy along the road for several feet, having him pinioned by the neck between the runner and the snow. When picked up the boy asked: "Are you going to put me in a coffin?" and a few hours later was dead.

Fire at Amherstburg.

AMHERSTBURG, Jan. 5.—A fire broke out in the old Burke building, Gore and Seymore-streets, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. It started in J. B. Fillion's wallpaper store, where the stock was completely ruined, loss $1900, insured in Atlas and other companies for $900. Delos R. Davis' law office was flooded. J. D. Burk's residence and furniture was also damaged to the amount of $600; fully insured. Loss on Burk building $600, also insured.

DIED LIKE A STOIC.

A DOCTOR TAKES ACONITE IN MISTAKE FOR MEDICINE.

Knowing That He Cannot Live He Goes to a Priest, Confesses, Makes His Will, Returns Home and Calmly Awaits the End.

WINDSOR MILLS, Jan. 5.—Dr. Tremblay of this place was called out to attend a patient. As he was about to step into his sleigh he returned into his back office in the dark to take a dose of a preparation he had made as an expectorant to relieve asthma, to which he was subject. He put his hand on the wrong phial, which, instead of the preparation intended, contained aconite. Of this he swallowed, as he estimates himself, about an ounce. No sooner had he made the mistake than he perceived it and at once tried to relieve himself of the poison by resorting to an emetic, but not succeeding he hurriedly went over to Dr. Meagher's office. Dr. Meagher failed in his attempts to relieve him. The unfortunate doctor then and there resigned himself to his doom and at half-past eight went up himself to the residence of Father Dignan, saying he was poisoned and desired to prepare for death and related the circumstances of his perilous condition. Then the doctor quietly and composedly made his confession, received the sacraments and had his will drafted. He then returned to his home and at 11½, in the most excruciating torture, he died in the presence of his young wife and three children.

FUN AT THE WEDDING.

They Were Introduced, Married and Divorced in Three Days.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 5.—The honeymoon of Banker Dow's son and Millie Price, the actress, who were married here Friday night, came near ending in a double tragedy last night. Dow's father refused to have anything to do with him or aid him financially. The young man was to have left here this morning with the company, and, several creditors hearing of it, had the young man arrested on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretences. The trial was set for Wednesday, which made it necessary for young Dow to remain behind, but he intended to join his wife and the company at Salt Lake City. Last night the couple retired to their room at the Windsor Hotel about 10 o'clock. Two hours later the door was thrown open and Mrs. Dow rushed down the hall, clad in her night robe, screaming murder at the top of her voice. Several guests hurried into the hall just in time to see the husband emerge from his room and fire a shot from a revolver at his fleeing wife. Seeing he had failed to hit her he re-entered the room and attempted to blow his brains out, but the bullet flew wide of its mark and he was overpowered before he could make another attempt. No one knows the cause of the trouble, but it was probably over money matters. The couple met for the first time last Thursday morning. They were married Friday morning and practically divorced Sunday night.

A Novel Crime Detector.

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—Sir John Thompson has authorized the purchase of a photomicrographic apparatus for the public service of Canada. Tried and True.

Is the positive verdict of the people who take Hood's Sarsaparilla. When used according to directions the good effects of this excellent medicine are soon felt in nerve strength restored, that tired feeling driven off, a good appetite created, headache and dyspepsia relieved, scrofula cured and all the bad effects of impure blood overcome. For a good blood purifier, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"THE Impregnable Rock of Holy Scripture," is the characteristically strong title given by Mr. Gladstone to the reprint in book form of his remarkable articles in recent numbers of Good Words. The extraordinary versatility of this wonderful statesman and author, is well illustrated by this, his latest contribution to religious literature, and in particular to the defence of the Bible against so-called "Scientists" in modern days. Its treatment of the proper interpretation of the books of Moses is well worthy of the consideration even of professional theologians, though Mr. Gladstone modestly deprecates the idea of teaching them anything.

SAYS the Hamilton Times: "How natural this sounds! Let a Canadian complain that the young men are leaving the country, leaving fewer shoulders to bear the ever-increasing burden of taxation, and the Tories reply that the young men go because they get tired of hearing the Liberals "run down the country." Let mention be made of the fact that the Tory trade policy is heaping mortgages upon Canadian farms, and Finance Minister Foster replies by putting higher taxes upon the things the farmer has to buy. When farmers complain that the protective system of our Tories has brought on the retaliatory McKinley Bill, the Empire tells them to hoist the British flag upon the school houses, and rejoice that Wellington thrashed Napoleon at Waterloo, as if the memory of Waterloo would pay for a supper or keep children from crying for bread!"

CANON SCOTT ROBERTSON has just completed his annual summary of the funds voluntarily contributed and bequeathed, in the British Isles, to the work of foreign missions for the financial year 1889. It shows that the total so given was £1,301,306. Of this sum, Canon Scott Robertson estimates that £670,000 came from members of the Church of England. Although the total for 1889, £1,301,306, is rather less than for 1888, it is greater than any total previous to the year 1888. The channels of contribution were:—

Church of England Societies.....£	523,226
Joint Societies of Churchmen and Nonconformists.....	217,963
English and Welsh Nonconformist Societies.....	364,652
Scotch and Irish Presbyterian Societies.....	185,646
Roman Catholic Societies.....	9,819

A Farm Delegate's Views.

What Colonel Fane Has to Say of His Trip Through Canada.

The London Times, Dec. 16, says:—Colonel Fane, J.P., of Fulbeck-hall, near Sleaford, Lincolnshire, who, a few months ago, was appointed by the Canadian Government a farm delegate to visit the Dominion and report upon its condition and prospects as an agricultural centre, has arrived home after an absence of ten weeks. During that time he has covered about 17,000 miles, 10,000 of which were by land. He has inspected and enquired into the working of the agricultural schools, the experimental farms, cheese making and dairy appliances, and declares that Canada is far ahead of the Mother Country in these respects. The Colonel made minute investigations at Montreal in reference to the shipping of cattle to England, and he says that the allegations about cattle losing in weight and suffering cruelty through being sent over to this country are not founded altogether on facts. He says that so far as he has been able to learn the cattle do not lose in weight while crossing the Atlantic, though they do lose in condition when being taken along the railroads. He also says there is no cattle disease whatever in Canada. Colonel Fane states that he found people from this side of the Atlantic most prosperous in their new homes, and perfectly satisfied with the country of their adoption. In the report which he is now engaged in preparing to submit to the Canadian Government, the gallant colonel speaks of the class of English people who would be most likely to succeed in the Dominion. He thinks the industrious English laborer and the small farmer with a little capital would do exceedingly well, and gives information relative to the most suitable districts for settling. For mechanics and market gardeners he recommends British Columbia, where wages are very high, and the climate admirably suited for gardening. As to sons of professional men, officers in the army, etc., they are a numerous class in the North-West, but the farm delegate for Lincolnshire says he could not find many who were more than "stopping." Very few of them had received the training to suit them for the "Jack-of-all-trades" work of a western farm. There were many who did their best, but all their education at our public schools went for naught when on a farm in that country. Colonel Fane says he everywhere met with a most enthusiastic reception, and feels certain that the emigrant from the Old Country will find, if he goes to Canada, a most kind-hearted and hospitable people, ever ready to help a new hand.

FALSE LOVE.

A Doctor Horsewhipped—Deserted for a Handsomer Man.

SARNIA, Jan. 5.—J. C. Robinson, formerly of the Bank of Commerce here, but now a storekeeper at Wawanesa, Manitoba, arrived here with the object of marrying Miss Jennie Neil, to whom he had been engaged some years. On alighting from the train, he learned that his affianced had on the preceding day eloped with a young lawyer named W. J. Hanna, and had been married at Point Edward. Robinson gracefully adapted himself to the circumstances.

TAMWORTH, Jan. 5.—Tamworth social circles have been thrown into a state of excitement on account of the public flogging of a physician of this place by another resident. It appears the doctor had been so attentive to a certain young lady, the daughter of his assailant, that her parents began to count on getting him as a son-in-law. Quite recently, however, his engagement to another girl was announced, which appears to have highly incensed the father of girl No. 1.

Patched With Her Sister's Skin.

HAMILTON, Jan. 5.—Some time ago a little girl named Stratan had her leg badly torn and lacerated on a coal wagon. She was taken to the hospital and the wounds dressed. The flesh healed all right, but the skin had been torn entirely away and the leg remained open and sore. Some way of covering the wound had to be devised, and in the dilemma the little girl's elder sister came forward and allowed the doctors to cut large pieces of skin from her back and graft it on the little one's leg. The operations were continued until the wound was covered and the patching had healed, and now both girls are almost completely recovered. The little girl from whose back the cuticle was removed bore the operations bravely and without a tear.

"The Hero of Kars" Secretary Dead.

HALIFAX, Jan. 5.—James E. V. Zohrab, whose death occurred to-day, was 48 years in the English consular service, having been consul at Turkey, Armenia and many other places. He was also private secretary to Sir Fenwick Williams at Kars when the latter earned the title of "The Hero of Kars." His last consulate was at Hayti when the rebellion broke out and he and his family were compelled to leave and had a narrow escape with their lives. On the retirement from the service he received a pension of £750 sterling per year and came to Halifax to reside.

"A RACE WITH DEATH!"

Among the nameless heroes, none are more worthy of martyrdom than he who rode down the valley of the Conemaugh, warning the people ahead of the Johnstown flood. Mounted on a powerful horse, faster and faster went the rider, but the flood was swiftly gaining, until it caught the unlucky horseman and swept on, grinding, crushing, annihilating both weak and strong.

In the same way is disease lurking near, like unto the sword of Damocles, ready to fall, without warning, on its victim, who allows his system to become clogged up, and his blood poisoned, and thereby his health endangered.

To eradicate all poisons from the system, no matter what their name or nature, and save yourself a spell of malarial, typhoid or bilious fever, eruptions, swellings, tumors and kindred disfigurements, keep the liver and kidneys healthy and vigorous, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Unlike the sarsaparillas, that are said to be good for the blood in March, April and May, the "Golden Medical Discovery" works equally well all the year round.

It's the only blood-purifier sold, through druggists, absolutely on trial! Your money returned if it doesn't do exactly as recommended. It's a concentrated vegetable extract, and the cheapest blood-purifier and liver invigorator sold, through druggists, no matter how many doses are offered for a dollar, because you only pay for the good you get.

Can you ask more?

GRATITUDE AND GREETING.

TO THE PUBLIC:

We wish the public generally, health, wealth and prosperity, and take advantage of this season to express our heartfelt and cordial thanks, for the liberal patronage bestowed on us year after year. We have every reason to feel proud of our success—a success which we owe to two sources—the generosity and discrimination of the public, and to the fact that we have made ourselves worthy of public patronage and support. We have been, and are still anxious to make money; but we aim, while so doing, to give the public the benefit, instead of grinding the last cent of profit out of our goods. We buy them cheap—cut down the price to the narrowest margin of profit, and by big sales—by "small profits and quick returns"—we live and let live. And still we keep up that policy. This is the season when all the world gives gifts and our great gift to the people is, the Grandest Bargains in clothing ever offered to the public—$40,000 worth of First-class Goods, at prices so low, that paying for them seems a mere formality. We strive to be practical philantropists; we give the public the benefit of buying at Genuine Bargains. We prefer to make ten dollars in ten sales at low prices, to making ten dollars, at cent per cent profits, by one sale. In the first case, we benefit our customers and make friends of them; in the other case—well, we don't—but other dealers do grind the last cent out of him, and they never see his face again. Now we see our customers often. When they come once they come again. We cordially invite the public to visit our place at once, and secure the Great Bargains we are offering. In the meantime, we beg to wish our customers, present and prospective, and the public generally

A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

GRAFTING DOG AND BOY.

DESCRIPTION OF A WONDERFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

History of the Remarkable Case and of the Various Operations—Illustrations of Its Various Phases—No Signs of Failure of the Experiment.

On the 16th November last, at the Charity Hospital, New York city, a portion of a living dog's fo[illegible] was grafted into a boy's leg, to take the place of a bone that was lacking. The case has created a great deal of interest in medical circles and if it proves to be successful, as is now likely, it will be regarded as one of the surgical wonders. The boy and the dog were bound on a cot, as shown in the illustration (Fig 1), but the dog, a black Spaniel, was loaned in [illegible] Paris coat (Fig. 2), [illegible] Strong, head and tail being fr[illegible]. The boy's leg showed an abnormal degree of [illegible] and shortening, and just above the ankle was a space of over an inch that entirely lacked any bony tissue. Dr. A. M. Phelps, professor of orthopedic surgery in the University of New York, performed the operation, which consisted of engrafting the ulna of the dog's foreleg, the homologue of a man's arm, into the wound. When both subjects were ready to unite, holes were bored in the ends of the boy's leg, and silver wires were passed through connecting the two parts loosely. The graft, the living foreleg of the dog denuded of flesh and hair, was dropped between these two extremities, and the medullary portions of the boy's bone were made to fit over an aluminum pegs. The silver sutures were then drawn tight and tied. The skin and flesh flaps of the dog's leg were sewed firmly to the sides of the wound in the boy's leg, and it was dressed antiseptically. Two long rods of iron were bent to form a protection over the wound. They were bandaged to the body by plaster of Paris bandages, and made to allow the surgeon to look at his dressing. Last of all came the drug stepping of the dog to the boy's leg. This was done by broad bandages of plaster of Paris.

The bone wanted was that of a live and not that of a dead dog. Herein was the delicate nature of the operation, for animals are more susceptible to the influence of anæsthetics than are human beings and it was feared the dog might die. Happily, however, the alarm felt was groundless, and on the twenty-fourth day—the 9th of December—both patients were alive and apparently in the best of health.

Notwithstanding the great interest taken in the case in this country and in Europe in medical walks of life, and despite the fact that constant enquiries are being made, it was difficult to get any detailed information regarding the state of the case. The New York World, however, was able on the above date to present the first illustrated explanation of the operation. There show the respective attitudes of the boy and the dog (Fig. 5), where and how their bones are united (Fig. 3), how Johnnie Gethius' leg bone will appear if bone union has taken place after Yip has been taken away from him (Fig. 6), and how Johnnie's lengthened leg will appear, showing the piece of engrafted leg bone, (Fig. 5).

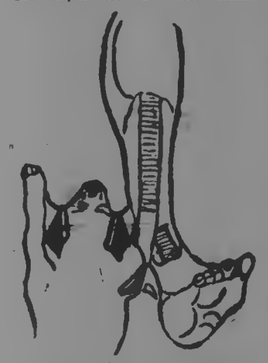

FIG. 3. POSITION OF THE WELDED BONES.

The time for actually ascertaining the failure or success of the experiment is now near at hand. If the removal of the plaster cast shows that bone union has been firmly completed and that Yip is actually an auxiliary of Johnnie's leg another operation will then be performed. Yip's leg bone will again be severed about an inch from the point of union with Johnnie's. This will not only free the dog from Johnnie, but will also leave an inch of her leg-bone as firmly attached to Johnnie's as it had always grown there or was originally a part of his tibia.

This is clearly represented in Fig. 4, the little piece of white at the lower extremity of the upper portion of Johnnie's leg, representing Yip's contribution to his anatomy.

Fig. 4 also shows the lower portion of Johnnie's leg, consisting of the pedal extremity of the leg bone. This bone is still alive and nourished by the arteries of the leg, but is now supposed to be bent on one side, as shown in both cuts, to permit the permanent union of the dog bone with the human shin-bone, and to make the curious elongation of the shin-bone perfectly consistent.

When Yip's foreleg has again been severed and he has finally been removed from Johnnie, it will be necessary to bring about the union of the lower piece of Johnnie's fibula bone with the upper portion, which will have been lengthened by the graft of the dog bone.

This will be simply a case of mending a fracture of the same species of bone as that with them, it is expected, have become so "humanized," if the expression is allowable that there will be no difficulty in persuading the foot part of the bone to again cling to its original, but now elongated tissue.

When the final union of bones shall have been accomplished, Johnnie's leg bone will then be one straight, solid, complete piece of bone tissue.

The fifth cut shows Johnnie's new leg with the elongated and straightened bone visible. The little white portion represents the dog-bone graft, which, by a long and tedious process, will have then been made a living portion of the human osseous tissue.

Certainly the idea is an ingenious one, and the successful termination of the operation will be a deserved triumph of the modern surgeon over the "newboner" of years ago.

The World thinks that the most difficult and intricate part of the operation has been apparently successful, so favorable have been the indications.

BABY IN AN INCUBATOR.

A Novel Experiment Being Tried in Cincinnati.

A wee bit of a 7 months baby, weighing between three and four pounds, is at the Cincinnati Hospital, being raised in an incubator.

The wee thing has no finger nails, its eyelids are open and every hour a drop or two of digested milk is dropped into its tiny mouth.

Chickens have had woolen rugs for mothers; ducks have been hatched by hens and alligator's eggs warmed to life in the sand, but incubating babyhood into successful existence has at least the merit of novelty.

The incubator looks like an unpainted family ice chest. It is thirty inches high, twenty inches wide and contains two compartments, an upper and lower.

The inside of the chest is lined with asbestos to prevent the effect of the radiating heat as well as to make it air-tight. In the lower compartment is a galvanized iron tank filled with water. The tank does not fit tightly into the chest, there being an inch space for the air to circulate. Holes in the bottom allow the escape of foul air, while on a shelf, resting on slats, that divide the two compartments, lays a basket containing the baby. The skin of the tiny thing is covered with an unctuous sebaceous matter. The bones of the head do not set closely together and the process of ossification is slowly going on.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Good Deeds Done.

The good deeds done by that unequalled family liniment, Hagyard's Yellow Oil, during the thirty years it has been held in ever increasing esteem by the public, would fill volumes. The new business of the SUN LIFE was the largest ever secured in the Company's history and was equalled by but one Canadian life company. The surplus accumulated during the THREE years of the current quinquennium far exceeds the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail to be highly satisfactory. The prosperity of the Sun Life is no doubt largely due to its issuing unconditional policies and paying its claims promptly. Canadians should also remember that by patronizing a home institution, which invests all its funds in the Dominion, they are benefiting themselves by reducing the rate of interest here, and are helping to build up our own cities rather than those of foreign states.

The Statement Localized.

At noon to-day Town Clerk Macdonald made an official statutory declaration of the results of the election in the presence of the largest assemblage of ratepayers ever before present on a similar occasion—5 men by actual count. At the proper moment Engineer James English sealed the statement with an authoritative "God Save the Queen."

Hood's Calendar.

Hood's calendar for 1891 is out and it is certainly a beautiful production of the lithographers' and printers' arts. The subject represents three children playing musical instruments, and the positions, expressions, colorings and general finish make a most charming picture. But to be appreciated it must be seen. Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla Calendar, or send six cents in stamps for one copy, or ten cents for two, to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

A Masquerade on Ice.

The young people are kept in mind of the grand fancy carnival at the skating rink Friday, Jan. 16th. The Foresters' intend to make it the biggest event of the kind ever held in Peterborough. Prizes to the value of a hundred dollars will be given, and a great variety of rich and novel costumes are being prepared for the occasion, on which the eye can feast without tiring. Don't forget the date, Friday, Jan 16th.

Mr. Wm. There were fears that the eye would be lost, but it is not now believed to be so serious.

The best local musical and elocutionary talent will assist. Admission 25 and 15 cents. 1d

A Learned Lecture.

Rev. Dr. Sexton's lecture on "God and Law in Creation," in the George street church Monday night, was well attended. Rev. Mr. Locke occupied the chair. Dr. Sexton's lecture was a clear confutation of the skeptic theory that the order of things observed in the universe was the result of law in nature. He proved that it was God's handiwork, that God was the main-spring and director of the universe, and that without Him order could not exist. At the close of the address a vote of thanks was moved by Rev. G. H. Davis and seconded by Dr. Fife.

Insulted and Insulted.

The dizzy dance is responsible for a great deal of harm sometimes. When the "b'hoys" get warmed up and the liquor they have been drinking begins to take effect, when the brain keeps pace with the heel in its giddy merry go-round, then decorum is liable to be thrown to the winds and motion and riot rule in its place. This is what occurred at a private party on Elm street New Year's eve, and it seems someone "slugged de fiddler." A police court case resulted, and this morning a young man was was fined $2 and costs for his share in the fracas. Out of respect to his parents no names are mentioned.

Curlinna.

An inter-rink match last night between Skips Dr. Boucher and Attrill, resulted in a victory for the former by six shots.

Another match is to be played Thursday between Lindsay and Peterborough. Skips Rutherford and Attrill go to Lindsay and Skips Ferguson and Ray play at home.

The district bonspiel for the tankard takes place here on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 19th and 20th. The following clubs will compete:—Millbrook, Lakefield, Bobcaygeon, Keene, Campbellford and Peterborough.

The Horticultural Society.

The public are reminded of the annual meeting of the Horticultural Society, which will be held in the council chamber on Thursday afternoon next at 4 o'clock. It is hoped that all interested in floriculture and allied subjects will be in attendance and keep the society up to the mark of progress it has reached the past year or two. Through the efforts of the society, Peterborough has become noted as having the finest park of its size in Ontario, and as the question of other parks, under the bequest of the late Mrs. Nicholls, will receive attention this summer, it is in order for all interested in the object of the society to become actively associated with its work.

Fire in Ashburnham.

Ashburnham had a bon-fire in commemoration of the election last night, and some one remarked that a vacant house close at hand on Brown street would make a good "warmin'." Within half an hour it was ablaze. There can be no doubt it was the work of an incendiary. Perhaps it was the work of boys who were skating on the creek running alongside the house and felt cold. The building was one of the oldest in Ashburnham. It was what is called a "strip" built house, and was owned by Mr. Wm. Graham. It had been unoccupied for some time. The town fire brigade went over and quenched the fire after the building had been pretty badly damaged. The house was worth probably $400.

Loveliness! Beauty! Captivation!

A Suggestive Headline for the Foresters' Carnival.

Loveliness in form, feature and fancy dress; beauty in bright, bewitching novelties of color and design; captivation in the superb costumes which will crowd the ice and embody a kaliedoscopic scene of gayety, animation and colour, to be witnessed nowhere else. That is the description of the carnival to be given by the Foresters Friday evening, Jan. 16th. The committee in charge are doing everything in their power to make the carnival a brilliant success. Visitors will more than receive value for their money, and for those who dress for the ice there are splendid inducements offered. Nearly $100 worth of prizes will be given away, for best fancy and comic costumes and several races. Full particulars are given on the posters, while the public can view the prizes at the Peterborough Bookstore, where they fill up one of the show windows. The prizes are the best that have been given for years and will doubtless draw out the "grand glacial aggregation of splendor and spectacular magnificence" which the posters mention. A "Guessing Prize" is given for which the public may try. Each ticket holder has a chance at guessing the number of tickets taken in at the door, and the two persons coming nearest the correct number will be given valuable first and second prizes.

The fire brigade band will be present and render choice music. Messrs. Long and Hooper will conduct the refreshment room.

The Foresters intend to make this carnival a grand success if ever there was one, and the public will find it worthy of their patronage.

Ashburnham Methodist Sunday School.

Cheering Report of the Past Year's Work.

The annual meeting of the officers and teachers of the Mark Street Methodist Sabbath School was held on Friday evening last, Jan. 2nd, for the purpose of electing officers for the year on which we have just entered. There was a large attendance and the interest taken was more marked than at any previous meeting in years past.

The Rev. A. C. Wilson, pastor of the church, occupied the chair. After devotional exercises he addressed those present, thanking them for their assistance in this great work of the church; the Sabbath school is the nursery in which the young are trained and in time become efficient, active church members. The pastor expressed his great pleasure at the progress made by the school the past year. The attendance had been largely increased. This is particularly noticeable in the young ladies' Bible class and also that of the young men. In the singing great improvement had been made. Much praise is due Mr. H. S. Armstrong, as leader, and to Miss Marietta Wilson, who so cheerfully presides over the organ. The Rev. Mr. Wilson also encouraged the teachers to labour on and not get discouraged if they did not see immediate success, and to remember the injunction, "Cast thy bread upon the waters and it shall return to thee after many days," also "Be not weary in well doing, for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not."

The secretary, Mr. W. J. Paterson, then presented his report for the past year. It was very full, clear and concise, each detail being clearly shown. It reflected great credit on our obliging and painstaking secretary. It showed the school was in a good condition financially, all our indebtedness having been met and a balance over in the treasurer's hands. We hope soon to be able to make an addition to our library, which is getting too small for the demand upon it.

Our worthy superintendent, Mr. H. S. Armstrong, having proved during the past year that he was in every way qualified for such a position, was unanimously re-elected, as were all the other officials and teachers.—Com

MAYOR.

COUNCILLORS.

WARD No. 1.—H. C. Winch, R. S. Davidson, T. Cahill.

WARD No. 2.—T. E. Bradburn, E. H. D. Hall, T. Kelly.

WARD No. 3.—W. H. Meldrum, W. H. Moore, A. Dawson.

WARD No. 4.—Jas. Kendry, R. M. Dennistoun, Wm. Langford.

This is the personnel of the Peterborough town council for 1891, and the EXAMINER congratulates them one and all upon their election. The old councillors may take it as a manifestation of public confidence and appreciation of their past labors; and the new ones as evidencing the popular belief in their abilities. May they all show by their course in the future that the public confidence has not been misplaced.

The elections on Monday were attended by more excitement than for many years back. Each candidate went in to win apparently more for the sake of "getting there" than upon the ground of any great public question. It seemed to be a personal contest throughout. There was a much larger vote polled than in previous municipal elections. Every ward showed an increase. The total number of votes cast on Monday was 3,796. Following are the figures:

WARD NUMBER ONE.

Cahill	292
Davidson	332
Giroux	170
Winch	351
	1245

WARD NUMBER TWO.

Ball	103
Bradburn	333
Hall	235
Kelly	247
	968

WARD NUMBER THREE.

Dawson	250
Meldrum	311
Moore	261
Rutherford	196
	1018

WARD NUMBER FOUR.

Dennistoun	191
Hartley	175
Kendry	200
Langford	179
	745

In No. 1 Ward Mr. Giroux found the fight a hard and futile one against the three old councillors, who appear to be "solid" with the ratepayers. In No. 2, Mr. Ball made a good showing considering that no canvass was made and that the single tax question is new and but little understood by the people. Mr. Bradburn, the "new blood," headed the poll. In No. 3 the popularity of the new candidate, Mr. Meldrum, was shown by the large majority he received over the others. He got 31 "plumpers." Mr. Rutherford, who has been in the council for a great many years, was considered to have held the honor long enough, and he was left out this time. No. 4 Ward loses a good councillor in Mr. Hartley, but his place will be well filled, no doubt, by Mr. Dennistoun.

The news of the result was eagerly sought after, and the EXAMINER'S extra, issued shortly after six o'clock, containing complete returns from the town and Ashburnham, was appreciated by the public.

Some members of the council met at the town buildings about eight o'clock, congratulated each other and talked over the election, but there was no public demonstration.

In Ashburnham.

The municipal fight across the river waxed warm on Monday and excitement ran high. The correct figures are:—

Adams	143
Calcutt	202
Craig	216
Throop	150
Tivey	133
Wand	154

Mr. Craig, one of the new candidates, headed the poll, and his friends built a rousing bonfire at the town hall corner in his honor. The defeated ones are Mr. F. Adams, one of the old council, and Mr. R. Tivey, a new aspirant for a seat at the council board. The Ashburnham council this year will be as follows:—

Reeve—John Burnham. Councillors.—J. T. Craig, H. Calcutt, W. Wand, J. Throop.

School Trustees.

In the south ward only was there a contest for school trusteeship, Mr. Wm. English receiving 231 votes and Mr. VanEvery 70. In the other wards elections were by acclamation as follow:—No. Two, W. H. Wrighton; No. Three, Dr. Burnham; No. Four, T. Rutherford.

Elections Elsewhere.

LAKEFIELD.—Reeve, W. H. Casement, by acclamation; for councillors—T. J. Lillicrap, 120; J. Richardson, 104; Jas. Moore, 98; John Hall, 97; Jas. Watson, 76; E. Sellers, 42. For school trustees—Dr. J. R. Fraser, 140; Levi Payne, 104; W. White, 91; W. H. Down, 61.

DUMMER.—For reeve—A. R. Kidd, 214; Kirk, 181. For deputy-reeve—Hawthorne, 246; Crowe, 150. For councillors (elected)—Doughty, 183; Moore, 152; Geo. Payne, jr., 148.

LINDSAY.—Thos. Walters was elected Mayor.

NORWOOD.—John Finlay, Reeve.

ASPHODEL.—Reeve, Moore, 227; Walsh, 204. Deputy reeve, Fitzpatrick, 232; Cameron, 179. Council re-elected by acclamation.

ENNISMORE.—Reeve—Crough, 95, O'Connor, 93. Councillors—P. Galvin, Jas. Murphy, Michael Ferdue, Samuel Killen.

Personal.

Mr. H. H. Smith and wife, of Winnipeg, are in town.

Mr. Vernon Halliday has returned to McGill College, Montreal.

Mr. W. C. Logan, who is at present studying at the Ann Arbor, Mich., College, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. Chas. Brennan, late of Schofield's drug store, has gone to Brooklyn, N. Y., to accept a position.

Miss Minnie Braden, of Calgary, N.W.T., is visiting at Mr. John Braden's, George street.

Miss Laura McMillan, of Lindsay, who has been visiting friends in town, returns home this evening.

News Nuggets.

—The schools open to-morrow.

—The police last night found the back door of a George street store open.

—The installation of Otonabee lodge officers is postponed until next Monday night.

—Elections of Separate school trustees and Ashburnham school trustees to-morrow.

—Master Harry B. Pope, a son of Street Inspector Pope, won a silver butter knife in the "Queen's" prize word competition.

—The regular School Board to be held to-night has been postponed until next Tuesday.

—"Listed," as the brokers say, at "100 Doses One Dollar," Hood's Sarsaparilla is always a fair equivalent for the price.

Sad Cases of Poisoning.

There have been so many shocking cases of poisoning lately that one almost dreads to pick up the morning paper any more; and yet the cases we hear of are few in number compared with those that never find their way into print. Thousands of persons are daily being slowly poisoned by their impure blood, which causes dyspepsia, sick headache, and a variety of ills, yet they never think of resorting to that greatest of all blood purifiers, Beecham's Pills. w24

Murdered and Mutilated.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—Another mysterious corpse has turned up here. The body of a well-dressed man was found in the River Marne, near Champigny Bridge, in the environs of Paris. The dead man was bound by a rope and bore a remarkable wound in the middle of the forehead formed by two deep cuts in the shape of a cross. It is surmised that the victim, after being thus wounded, was pinioned and thrown into the river. A judicial inquiry has been set on foot.

Not "Ollie" Morphy's Body.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 5.—It is now believed that the body found at Jackhead, Lake Winnipeg, some six or seven weeks ago, is really that of young Debeaujeau, who was drowned off the yacht Keewatin last fall and not young Morphy's, as is generally supposed. On the body found was a silver watch and Debeaujeau was known to have worn one.

Purify Your Blood

The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditary and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

A SHREWD ISRAELITE

BORROWS $9000 FROM HIS PROSPECTIVE FATHER-IN-LAW,

Swindles Sundry Montrealers Out of Many Thousands, Deserts His Intended Bride and Flees to New York, Where He is Captured.

MONTREAL, Jan. 6.—Sharp practices do not pay, as Jacob Rosenstein, an erstwhile merchant of St. Johns, Que., knows by this time, to his sorrow. Rosenstein, who is only 27 years of age, started out a few years ago as a pedlar with a team and wagon. He prospered in business and two years ago opened a store for peddlers' supplies in St. Johns. He did a large business and up to last week had about 40 men selling goods for him throughout the country. He bought most of his goods in this city and was one of the heaviest buyers in notions, tinware and small drygoods, in fact anything a farmer's wife would buy or trade for.

Last Friday two of the Montreal creditors thought there was something wrong and employed Messrs. John A. Gross and Silas H. Carpenter, the managers of the Canadian Secret Service agency, to investigate the matter. Mr. Gross immediately left for St. Johns, and found that Rosenstein had already skipped out. Mr. Gross seized the stock that was in the store, and has now two of his officers in charge, while two more were sent instantly to scour the country and capture the stock in the different peddlers' possession. Mr. Carpenter, Mr. Gross's partner, went to St. Johns, and the only clue he could get was that Rosenstein had checked his baggage to New York on Thursday night, and had left on the train going there himself. There were no photographs of the man to be had, so he had to depend on a meagre description of Rosenstein's personal appearance. This did not deter Mr. Carpenter, however, as he left on the Delaware & Hudson for New York on Saturday. He arrived there on Sunday morning at 7 o'clock and by 4 o'clock the same day (Sunday) Mr. Gross received a telegram from his partner (Mr. Carpenter) that the defaulter was arrested and lodged in Mulberry-street police headquarters to await the arrival of the warrant for his extradition.

The merchants, who had retained Messrs. Gross & Carpenter, secured the services of the law firm of Messrs. Chapleau, Hall, Nichols & Brown, a warrant was sworn out on the charge of obtaining money and goods under false pretences and Mr. Albert J. Brown left for New York last evening with the warrant in his possession. Thereare 15 firms in the city involved and the amount that Rosenstein attempted to defraud them of ranges between $12,000 and $15,000 for the whole.

Rosenstein was to have been married last Sunday to a prominent Hebrew lady of Montreal, but instead of being married he is now in jail awaiting extradition for his attempt to defraud his creditors. At a recent ball a handsome pair of diamond earrings adorned the lady's organ of hearing, the latest gift from her lover. The father happy in the wise choice of his daughter, indulged to his heart's content in praise of the character and business capacity of his intended son-in-law. He introduced him to wholesale merchants in this city, made his credit good, placed such implicit confidence in him that upon application for a loan of $1400—which he deemed necessary to tide over a transient embarrassment due to his inability to collect outstanding accounts—he willingly advanced that sum to assist, as he thought one of the family. Meantime the affectionate lover paid semi-weekly visits to his fiance and creditors and duly gained favor with the latter, who trusted him to the extent of $9000.

SUNDAY IN PINE RIDGE

THE FRIGHTENED INHABITANTS HURRIED TO THE STOCKADES.

Momentarily Fearing an Attack From the Hostile Indians—The Enemy's Camp to be Bombarded and its Occupants Shot Down Without Quarter—A Graphic Recital.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan 6.—A special from Pine Ridge says everything now points to a battle between the hostile and friendly Indians who desire to leave the hostile camp and come to the agency. Red Cloud has signified his desire to return to the agency, but he is nearly blind and no one will volunteer to lead him in, for the brutes threaten death to the first person that attempts to desert the hostile band. The older Indians want to come in, but the young bucks insist on fighting. The cordon of troops is drawing tighter around the hostiles. The hostiles are now on guard night and day. Fires are being burned at night to prevent anyone from escaping from their camps. General Miles has sent a peace commission to the hostiles. If they still refuse to come in their camp will be bombarded. Machine and shell guns are being placed on all sides of the camp for this purpose. General Miles is fast becoming impatient, and if the Indians do not obey the order to come in he will attack them.

Sunday at Pine Ridge.

PINE RIDGE, Jan. 6.—Sunday night will never be forgotten by anyone who spent it at Pine Ridge. The Sabbath had opened bright and clear. The church bells rang and the three pastors had crowded houses. In the afternoon toward 3 o'clock it was noticed the squaw-men and half-breeds were excited and hurried from one point to another with guns in their hands. Instantly every one was on the alert and running down the ravines. It was found half-a-dozen squaws had been given the tip to skip, that a party of war bucks had visited the camp of friendlies, so-called, who are camped within a mile of the agency and urged them to help massacre all the agency. The Indians have always been permitted to come in, and during the day and evening to wander around the agency at will carrying guns. The plan was to gather in the town late in the evening and at a given signal for each Indian to pick out his man and kill him. Finally the half-breeds informed certain Indians the scheme was known and told the bucks to light out or the soldiers would make it warm for them. In an hour there was not an Indian in camp except the uniformed scouts and police. A battle is expected every day with the Indians and it will be one of the hardest in the annals of Indian warfare. The troops have the Indians surrounded on the east and west and north and an attack will drive them into the agency, where the main battle must be fought. The enemy number over 4000 men, women and children, with half that many to attack us in the rear. The scene as the town moved into the stronger buildings was one of indescribable confusion, as men with guns in their hands and the grim look of war in their faces escorted crowd after crowd of frightened women and weeping children to the apologies for strongholds. No one wants to see a repetition of the scene.

THE SIOUX'S LAST STAND.

Prospect of the Greatest Battle in Indian Annals.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, Jan. 5 (via Rushville, Neb.).—The last desperate stand of the hostile Sioux will be made in a few days, unless all signs fail. They are camped between 12 and 15 miles north of here 1600 strong and well armed. A courier from there to-day says there is no doubt about their intentions to fight. These Indians are principally from Rosebud, and comprise the bands of Kicking Bear, Short Bull, Two Strikes, Little Wound and Big Road. My private advices are to the effect that 300 of them have gone crazy over the ghost dance, and have forced their brethren to assume this warlike attitude.

Gen. Miles made a last effort for peace last night. He sent a letter by a relative of one of the sub-chiefs saying that all would be forgiven if they came. It was torn to pieces and word returned that they were prepared to die as Big Foot's band had died, and if the soldiers were ready to fight they had better make an attack. The General undoubtedly knew what would be the result of such a move before he made it. The conciliatory move is said to be part of President Harrison's plan to end the war without further bloodshed. From an inside source I learn that Capt. Taylor, chief of scouts, will go out tomorrow with his men and some friendly Indians to test the desire of hostilities for war. They will be aided by a part of the Seventh Cavalry under Gen. Brooke. The outposts will be attacked and if successful it is expected that many weak-kneed followers of Two Strike and Kicking Bear will run to the agency.

Breastworks have been thrown up on the highest elevations surrounding the agency, which indicate the seriousness of the situation. There is no telling what a day will bring forth. A report from the hostile camp says Red Cloud will make a desperate effort to break away and get back to the agency. The situation is very critical. If a battle is fought it will be the greatest in the annals of Indian warfare. Buffalo Bill is expected here to-morrow.

An Actress Attempts Suicide.

BUTTE, Mont., Jan. 6.—Clyde Raymond, an actress at the Comique Theatre, took the leading role last night in an emotional drama in which she used a revolver.

When the curtain was rung down on the last act she turned to her friend, said "Good night and good-by," placed the muzzle of the weapon to her left side and fired. As she pulled the trigger some one jostled against her, causing the ball to miss her breast and lodge in her arm, making a painful but not serious wound. Miss Raymond says she will make a success of the job the next time.

'Twill Be a Great Gathering of Ball Men.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—There will be a great gathering of baseball men from all over the country in this city next week.

The meetings of the National League and the American Association are officially called for Jan. 24, but special meetings and conferences will be held several days before that date and will continue probably a day or two later. The club owners have much hard work before them. There will also be a meeting of the League and Association Conference Committees to settle up the remaining Players' League tangles.

PARNELL AND O'BRIEN.

IN CLOSE CONFERENCE AT BOULOGNE TILL MIDNIGHT.

The Outcome of the Confab Anxiously Looked for—Severe Snowstorm in North Germany—Railroad Trains Snowed Up in All Directions.

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER, Jan. 6.—Mr. Parnell had a consultation with Mr. O'Brien immediately after his arrival here. The consultation lasted two hours. The other members of Parliament in the party were then invited to join the conference and the whole party remained in deep consultation with closed doors until nearly midnight, when Messrs. Redmond and Gill emerged from the conference room. They said to reporters: The consultation between Mr. Parnell and Mr. O'Brien is still proceeding, and will be continued to-morrow. The outcome of the conference is awaited with intense interest.

The Funds are Dwindling.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—It is stated that the funds of the Irish Parliamentary party now in the hands of Munroe & Co., the Paris bankers, amount to only £8400, of which £1200 is in cash and the remainder in United States 4 per cent. bonds. These funds were formerly deposited in the sole name of the late Joseph G. Bigger. The executors of Mr. Bigger's estate have renounced the custody of money, and it is said Munroe & Co. are prepared to pay over the funds to Messrs. Dillon, J. F. Xavier O'Brien and Clancy when they have come to an agreement.

SALISBURY CONSIDERING.

Why the British Fleet in the North Pacific Ocean Was Not Augmented.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The Press Association says: Lord Salisbury is considering the 40-page despatch received from Mr. Blaine Dec. 30, the latest despatch received from Washington. It does not contain a definite acceptance of Salisbury's proposals for arbitration on the main question, that of the right of the British sealers to catch seals in Behring Sea. Mr. Blaine discusses only the subsidiary point: Arbitration on the time of closing the sealing. The Press Association adds that Mr. Blaine has not replied to Sir Julian Pauncefote's note of June last in which the latter says Her Majesty's Government must hold the Government of the United States responsible for the consequences arising from acts of interference with British vessels contrary to the principles of international law. The Press Association also states that no preparations have been made to augment the British fleet in the North Pacific Ocean, as such a step might be regarded as a menace.

Scotch Railway Strike.

GLASGOW, Jan. 6.—The strikers practically abstained from violence throughout the night, but this morning they mustered at an early hour about the dormitory at Coatbridge, occupied by non-union men who have been employed in place of strikers. After pelting the building with stones the rioters made a rush forward and stormed it in the most approved fashion. The police on duty at that spot made a gallant defence, using their batons freely and charging the strikers in spite of showers of stones hurled at them on all sides. During the conflict a number of police and a still greater number of the strikers were more or less seriously injured. The rioters were finally repulsed.

Serious rioting was resumed to-day at Coatbridge, nine miles from here on the Monkland Canal, the chief centre of the iron manufacture.

An English Mansion Burned.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Lord Lymington's mansion, Hurtsbourne Park, Whitchurch, Hants, and the contents of his priceless library, together with some most valuable works of art, have been destroyed by fire. Lord Lymington is member of Parliament for North Devonshire. The fire had burned itself out by 8 o'clock this morning. Owing to the heavy snowfalls the roads in the region about Huntsbourne Park were almost impassable, and the fire brigade which answered the alarm were delayed in reaching the scene, and after their arrival it was found that their coming was well nigh useless because of scarcity of water. The plate stored in the house and a number of valuable books were saved. The paintings which adorned the mansion, including one by Raphael, were burned. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Snowstorm in Germany.

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—A snowstorm, phenomenal in its severity, prevails throughout North Germany. Reports from various sections show the rails are blocked on all the northern lines, and in many instances trains are embedded in the snow, causing considerable suffering to travelers.

An express train from Berlin to Aix-la-Chappelle is snowbound near Magdeburg. A train on the Berlin Central Railway is also stuck in the snow. On all the railways in Mecklenburg and Brunswick traffic is more or less impeded by the snow.

To Renew the Campaign.

DUBLIN, Jan. 6.—It is announced Parnell will address a meeting of his supporters at Limerick on Sunday next.

It is expected large crowds will come from all the adjacent counties to hear Parnell speak in Limerick Sunday next. It is believed the speech will be of a most important character and that the meeting may become historic.

M. Ferry Challenged.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—M. Ducret has challenged M. Ferry to fight a duel. The challenge is the result of a letter which Ferry wrote to [illegible]

A Guelph Man Killed.

GUELPH, Jan. 6.—J. S. Laughlin has received intelligence from San Antonio of the death of his brother Abraham, conductor on the San Antonio & Arkansas Railway. He was injured in a wreck and died on the next day. Apparently he was unconscious from the time of the accident until his death, as the writer of the letter to his brother only learned of the relationship through letters found in the pockets of the deceased. He was about 24 years of age, and was at one time connected with Bell's organ factory.

Railway Bonus Defeated.

LEAMINGTON, Jan. 6.—A bylaw submitted to the ratepayers of the township of Mersea yesterday, asking for a bonus of $50 in aid of the Lake Erie, Essex & Detroit Railroad, was defeated by a majority of 92.

Dropped Dead From Apoplexy.

HASTINGS, Jan. 6.—John Lennox, an old resident of Percy township, dropped dead in the Clarendon House here to-day at noon. The cause of death is supposed to be apoplexy.

In the Hands of a Receiver.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 6.—The Atlantic and Danville Railroad Company has been placed in the hands of a receiver on the application of B. Newgass & Co., bankers of London, who hold a judgment against the road for $362,830. It is alleged the road is insolvent. Bateman & Co., who failed recently in New York, were interested in this road.

Killed on a Handcar.

COSHOCTON, Ohio, Jan. 6.—A Pan Handle passenger train to-night, a mile from here, ran into two handcars containing 22 workmen. John Curran and Robert Davis of Steubenville were instantly killed; Silas Burgess of Allegheny was fatally injured. The other men saved themselves by jumping.

Muskoka Petition Dismissed.

BRACEBRIDGE, Jan. 6.—The hearing of the Muskoka election trial and cross-petition came on before Justices Falconbridge and McLennan to-day. Mr. Ross for the petitioner stated that the evidence not being considered sufficient they had decided to withdraw the case, which was accordingly dismissed with costs to the petitioner. The cross-petition was also withdrawn.

A MISSING ENGLISHMAN.

His Mysterious Disappearance Causes Talk—Known to Have Had $3000.

WALLACETOWN, Jan. 6.—An Englishman named Wadsworth, near here, has mysteriously disappeared. He is said to have had $3000 with him. He was desirous of buying a farm. He stopped with a man named Hardy. Suddenly Wadsworth disappeared, and Hardy's son spread the report that the Englishman had chloroformed him on a certain night and robbed him of $3500. He made no attempt to catch the thief, however, and the neighbors began to whisper that there was something wrong, and suspicion attached itself to young Hardy. He has since disappeared, but no move is being made to hunt up either Wadsworth or Hardy.

THEY STARVED TO DEATH.

Mrs. Clifton, a Kansas Woman, and Her Five Children Perish for Lack of Food.

STOCKTON, Kan., Jan. 6.—From Farmington, in the northern part of this (Rooks) county, comes a tale of destitution which is unparalleled in this section. Four years ago John Clifton died and left his widow with five children to carry on the fight. Year after year the crops failed and the poor woman was obliged to sell off her stock, head after head, until at last there was none left.

This year finished the fight, and when the recent blizzard came it found the house with neither fuel nor food. The house was located in the Blue Hills and four miles from the nearest neighbor. A neighbor was passing the place yesterday, and seeing no sign of life entered the house, where he found the dead bodies of Mrs. Clifton and three of her children, while the other two were in the last agonies of death.

They had starved to death. Prompt attention was given to the living, but there is little hope for their recovery.

WATERLOO REGISTRARSHIP.

Large Damages Asked of The Berlin News for Alleged Libel.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—Registrar McDougall caused a notice to be served on Peter Moyer, the publisher, a short time ago, complaining of certain alleged false, malicious and defamatory articles which appeared in that paper demanding a retraction and apology. As Peter is apparently not in an apologizing mood a writ of summons, in which large damages are claimed, was served to-day upon Mr. Moyer. A second writ will, it is said, be issued against the same publisher in a few days at the instance of the registrar, who has retained leading counsel and will prosecute the action to the fullest extent, accepting no apology from the newspaper.

LIVELY LONDON RUNAWAY.

Police Patrol Wagon and Hearse Collide with Disastrous Results.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The police patrol team ran away this afternoon while bringing a prisoner from the southern part of the city and collided with Stephenson's hearse, throwing the occupants of the patrol and Mr. Stephenson to the ground. P. C. H. Pope's foot caught in the gearing and he was dragged along the ground. When the horses were brought to a standstill and Pope released he was found to be so seriously injured that his recovery is doubtful.

P. C. James Hobbins was badly shaken up. The prisoner escaped with a slight cut on the head.

QUEENS AND COMMONERS.

The Queen's Prospective Journey to France—The Conservatives Ready For the Coming Election.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The Queen is to leave Windsor Castle on Tuesday, March 24, accompanied by Princess Beatrice and Prince Henry of Battenberg. The royal party will proceed from Windsor Castle to Portsmouth harbor, and are to embark there for Cherbourg in the royal yacht Victoria and Albert. The Queen will travel direct from Cherbourg to Florence by way of Mount Cenis tunnel, Geneva and Pisa, arriving there on the evening of Thursday, March 26.

As the five levees which the Prince of Wales held in St. James' Palace last year were so inconveniently crowded it is probable that two additional levees will be held by the Duke of Clarence for the Queen and that only two, or perhaps three, will be held by the Prince of Wales himself, one of which is to be fixed for a day during the last of next month, directly after the Prince has returned from Cannes. The Queen will not hold levees this year, and if there are any special male presentations they are to be made at a drawing-room.

The great majority of the Conservatives are fully prepared for a general election in March; but it is not likely after all to take place until November, possibly not till the spring of 1892. The cabinet is anxious to carry through the tithes, the Irish land purchase and the employers' liability bills, as well as certain reforms in the local government act, before they take the ticklish measure of the local Irish government bill for a fresh reading. On this and some other popular measures they propose to appeal to the country in the autumn, if possible. November is the probable date, but March, 1892, is mentioned in case of a delay occurring, which is not anticipated.

I hear that Dr. Walsh and Dr. Croke have addressed a private appeal to Parnell, urging him to retire. They state that in their opinion this act of self-sacrifice is absolutely necessary in the interest of the country, and they hold out to him some prospect of some future reward if he takes their advice.

The journalists who went to Boulogne to see William O'Brien were much amused by the airs which the weeping patriot gave himself. Bismarck himself could not have assumed more lofty mysterious attitudes. He went about as if he carried the fortunes of nations in his hand.

The report of Lady Randolph Churchill's severe illness alarmed all her friends very much. Telegrams poured in to inquire how she was. Though not quite strong, Lady Churchill was able to take her boys to the pantomime, and to leave on a visit to Baron Hirsch the very day it was reported that the gravity of her condition made it necessary to send for Lord Randolph, the fact being that Lady Randolph had suffered from a severe chill, which kept her in bed and on the sofa; but which was only tiresome—never dangerous.

By the death of Lady Taylor the world loses one of the most brilliant, witty and sympathetic women of the Victorian era. Her father, first Lord Monteagle, though he was once Chancellor of the Exchequer in a famous administration, will be best remembered perhaps as the friend of all the great literary men of his day. In her Lord Tennyson loses a friend of 30 years. Lady Taylor said more witty things in a week than Samuel Rogers [illegible] time. EDMUND YATES.

The Dream of His Life.

MONTREAL, Jan. 6.—At noon to-day a hundred teachers of the night schools met at the Government office and presented Premier Marcier with an address thanking him for what he had done for the working classes in giving them night schools. The Premier replied saying that extending education to the working classes had been one of the dreams of his life.

Industrial Conference.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 6.—General Master Workman Powderly has issued a circular letter to the industrial organizations of the United States, asking their co-operation in a national reform industrial conference to be held in Washington, Feb. 25, March 25 or July 29, the date to be fixed by vote. The conference is to formulate "a political platform such as [illegible] could favor at the polls."

Ask Your Friends

Who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla what they think of it, and the reply will be positive in its favor. One has been cured of indigestion and dyspepsia, another finds it indispensible for sick headache, others report remarkable cures of scrofula, salt rheum, etc. Truly, the best advertising which Hood's Sarsaparilla receives is the hearty endorsement of its army of friends.

Coasting Down Hill.

Chief Roszel wishes the newspapers to warn the boys against riding down hill on the public streets. The practice is contrary to law, and besides a dangerous one. Tuesday afternoon a "bob" loaded with boys came down the hill at the west end of Sherbrooke street, ran into a horse and cutter, threw the occupant, a lady, out on the road, smashed the vehicle, and caused the horse to run away. It is remarkable that none of the boys were hurt. The police have caught several crowds of children at this proscribed sport, and warned them not to repeat the offence. The boys and girls had better be warned in time to avoid troublesome consequences.

Put it down on your calends Friday evening, January 16th, will present the most splendid and brilliant carnival spectacle ever seen in town. 1d

The Retiring Treasurer.

At a special meeting of the Executive Committee of St. Andrew's Society, held on Tuesday evening, 6th inst., Mr. Chas. Cameron, on behalf of their bard, Mr. William Telford, presented the Society with a cabinet size photograph of himself. Mr. Cameron made a few appropriate remarks expressive of the pleasure it afforded him of making the presentation, and also of the kind thoughtfulness which prompted the bard to confer the gift. The photograph is handsomely mounted and framed, and is to be hung in the Society's hall, at the bard's special request, between the portraits of "Tootsie's darling poet," Robert Burns, and that of Mr. Blake, formerly of Peterborough, but now of San Francisco, a highly favored friend of bard Telford's, in compliance with the wish expressed in the following lines which accompany the gift:

"Please hang me in this loved, favored spot:
Between John Elder and our darling Burns,
That I may view a genius or true Scot,
Which ever way my head or weak eye turns.
W. T."

After congratulatory remarks from a number of the members, the following resolution was submitted and carried unanimously:

"That the members of the St. Andrew's Society highly appreciate and esteem the kind thoughtfulness of our veteran bard, Mr. William Telford, in presenting us with a life-like portrait of himself, as a personal token of his continued interest in our behalf, and that the thanks of this meeting, for this highly-prized New Year's gift, be conveyed to Mr. Telford, and placed upon our records, accompanied with the earnest hope that his life may yet be spared for many years to honour us as our bard."

The secretary was requested to forward to Mr. Telford a copy of the above resolution.

December Weather Lore.

(BY MR. THOS. TELFORD.)

We are now down to the last month of the year, which in many cases has been an eventful one, both in regard to the many who have been called to their last home, and the great scientific improvement made in what result will be a question of the future to decide. The past month has been remarkable for the sudden changes of weather. It came in with snow and a low temperature, changing often from zero to mild and from mild to zero during the month, making it one of the most changeable and also one of the severest Decembers on record; the thermometer being at or below zero nine mornings—the 25th at sunrise 8° below, and at 10 p.m. again at 10° below, being the coldest throughout. Snow fell on 21 days to the depth of 17½ inches. The depth of snow would be about the average, but the number of days exceed the average. The rainfall is almost nil—one day, and that only 15-100 of an inch, which is not equalled in former Decembers. Fog on one day, and the mean temperature of the month only 15 7-31°. On the 28th three weather dogs stood sentry around the sun, the one facing the north-east being indented on the out side, the side from which the storm generally comes, as it did on this occasion. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, respectively, namely, north 4 days, north-west 10 days, north-east 5 days, south-west 3 days, west 4 days, south 2 days, and south-east 3 days.

South Monaghan.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A school meeting of school section No. 5 was held on Wednesday, Dec. 31st. Business was transacted in a satisfactory manner, Mr. Thos. Donaldson going out and Mr. David Wood elected in his place. Mr. Donaldson in the past has served the section faithfully and has executed business pertaining to the school in a skilful way. The present trustees are Mr. John Mouncey, Mr. David Wood and Mr. Robt. Lang, of Centreville. The former two live very close together, but Mr. Lang, who is a far-seeing gentleman, will be of valuable services in their consultations.

Accident No. One.—Mr. David Wood lately met with a painful accident. He was chopping in the woods and, while felling a tree, the axe slipped, cutting the right foot severely. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Accident No. Two.—Last week at Mr. John Mouncey's a slight affair took place, his straw stack being blown over by the wind and enveloping two of his cows. It took considerable time to get them liberated.

Accident No. Three.—Fraserville—Mr. Fred Goodfellow met with a sad accident lately. He was attending to a horse, which kicked him in the face, injuring him severely. We tender him our deepest sympathy.

Purchase.—Last week Mr. Thos. Donaldson and Mr. W. H. Hutchinson purchased a first class Jersey bull at Mr. Noble Brown's sale, Centennent. We wish the above gentlemen every success with their new enterprise.

Visiting.—Mr. J. A. Might, of Toronto, is visiting his friends here now. We believe he has a special attraction not far from home.

Runaway.—On Friday night last a runaway took place—Mr. Thos. Hutchin's rig. The horse turned into Mr. Thos. Donaldson's, taking refuge behind the barn.

Your correspondent is happy to note that his suggestion has been answered about a correspondent at Baillieboro. We hope to hear from him often.

Home Again.—Your readers will be pleased to hear that Miss Anna Fair, who used to teach at school section No. 5, is home visiting her friends in this vicinity.

Centreville.—Your correspondent was driving through here after night lately and noticed a light in the new store. Was it a night visitor or was it the new coming merchant?

New Church at Baillieboro.

A Handsome Anglican Edifice Dedicated and Opened.

The new English church at Baillieboro has been formally dedicated and opened for service. It is a handsome and commodious edifice, situated on the corner of Mr. Lucas' property, and cost about $4,500. The basement is of dressed stone and the superstructure of white brick. The building is 52½x32½ feet in dimensions, and has a handsome tower on the south-west corner, in which swings a bell presented by Mr. T. W. McCamus. The interior is prettily finished. The ceiling is V joint, oiled and varnished. The seating capacity of the church is 200. The chancel is raised, 20x22½ in dimensions, and the vestry at the south end is 12x18 feet. There is an entrance 12x18 feet. The windows are of stained glass, but are not all in yet, as it is expected some memorial windows are to be put in. In the basement are furnaces of the Gurney make.

The gentlemen who were connected with the work are well pleased with the result. The building committee was composed of Messrs. Geo. L. Fair, R. H. Wood, Samuel Smithson, Robert Lang, Jos. Clarke, J. W. Lucas, annd T. W. McCamus, the two last named being particularly deserving of credit. They give the highest praise to the contractor, Mr. A. Rutherford, of Peterborough, who performed his work carefully and conscientiously, and gave every satisfaction. Mr. J. E. Belcher, architect, also shares in the credit.

The new church was dedicated on Sunday by Rev. Mr. Farncombe, of Newcastle, and Rev. Rural Dean Allen, of Millbrook, assisted by Rev. W. C. Allen. Rev. Mr. Rooney, of Perrytown, was also present. Two largely attended services were held, and the Millbrook choir assisted. The collections amounted to $80.

Tuesday evening a tea was given by the ladies of the parish, which was so successful that over $100 was realized. It was intended to have the entertainment in the basement, but on account of the large attendance it had to be held up stairs. Rev. Rural Dean Allen occupied the chair. Among those present were Rev. Mr. Burgess, of Bethany, an old assistant some years ago. A number of young people from Peterborough attended the entertainment. A varied and interesting programme was rendered. Addresses were delivered by Rev. F. C. Powell, of Belleville; Rev. H. Burgess, Bethany; Rev. R. Rooney, Perrytown. The Millbrook choir sang "Glorious is Thy Name, O God," sacred songs were given by Mr. Anderson, of Millbrook, and recitations by Misses Annie and Becca Fair. The entertainment brought the dedicatory proceedings to a most successful close. The Anglicans of Baillieboro are to be congratulated upon having such a fine church and enjoyment of the prosperity which evidently attends them.

Powder Mill Explosion.

A powder mill explosion affects the country for miles round, but dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, headache, loss of appetite and debility, affect humanity the world over. Purity Your Blood

The importance of having the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditet and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, we eat, or the food we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

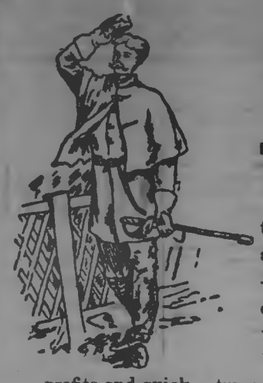
GRATITUDE AND GREETING.



TO THE PUBLIC:

We wish the public generally, health, wealth and prosperity, and take advantage of this season to express our heartfelt and cordial thanks, for the liberal patronage bestowed on us year after year. We have every reason to feel proud of our success—a success which we owe to two sources—the generosity and discrimination of the public, and to the fact that we have made ourselves worthy of public patronage and support. We have been, and are still anxious to make money; but we aim, while so doing, to give the public the benefit, instead of grinding the last cent of profit out of our goods. We buy them cheap—cut down the price to the narrowest margin of profit, and by big sales—by "small profits and quick returns"—we live and let live. And still we keep up that policy. This is the season when all the world gives gifts and our great gift to the people is, the Grandest Bargains in clothing ever offered to the public—$40,000 worth of First-class Goods, at prices so low, that paying for them seems a mere formality. We strive to be practical philantropists; we give the public the benefit of buying at Genuine Bargains. We prefer to make ten dollars in ten sales at low prices, to making ten dollars, at cent per cent profits, by one sale. In the first case, we benefit our customers and make friends of them; in the other case—well, we don't—but other dealers do grind the last cent out of him, and they never see his face again. Now we see our customers often. When they come once they come again. We cordially invite the public to visit our place at once, and secure the Great Bargains we are offering. In the meantime, we beg to wish our customers, present and prospective, and the public generally

A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

SHEEP IN CANADA.

An Excellent Plea for Their More Extensive Breeding.

Sheep breeding with us has not received the attention it deserves. We have one of the healthiest climates in the world for the breeding and feeding of sheep, and an immunity from diseases that has only to be mentioned to excite the envy of the British shepherd. We have, however, during the winter months to provide house-room and fodder for the flock, and this undoubtedly is the great reason why our flocks are so small. Few farmers keep more than a score of breeding ewes, many have less than ten, though that is a common number, and a great many farmers have none at all. There are no large flocks and no shepherds. It is not likely that the system at present pursued will be much changed, but we wish to point out to those not keeping sheep that they are a desirable addition to the live stock of the farm, and to those keeping but a few, that there is room for a much larger number, and if well kept, that they will be found to be fairly profitable. In the summer a few sheep will pick up a lot of odd pasture about lanes and fence corners that would otherwise be wasted. They need little care or attention except to see that they have a change of run now and then, that they have access to water, and that the burs are carefully cut in all the fields where they go. They will stay out longer than cattle in the fall, and when brought into winter quarters can be put up in much less expensive buildings than other live stock. They should have a yard where they can run by themselves, and to which neither cattle, horses, nor pigs should have access. The ewes will require close and careful attention at lambing time, and extra food till the grass comes, unless the owner has them late enough to lamb on the grass. Early lambs are considered more desirable and bring better prices. Then comes the washing and shearing. The price of wool has for many years been very low as compared with the very high prices obtained during the American war. For the past few years the price for ordinary long wool has been from 18c. to 20c. to the grower for washed, and from 11c. to 13½c. for unwashed wool. This year, in some cases, a shade more has been paid, and the buyers have sold quicker and made more money than for years past. The bulk of the Ontario clip is still long combing wool, and while more of this is used by the home trade than was consumed ten years ago (by the new use to which long combing wool is being put), yet the great bulk of it has to be exported and can not be used profitably by the Canadian manufacturer. Of late years many Down crosses have been tried and a greater quantity of short wool grown. This is all used in the country, but the difference in price paid to the grower has seldom been enough to make up the lighter weights of the fleece. Pure Southdown has freely sold at 25c. the past year, and the coarser Down grades at from 22c. to 23c. This will likely be maintained, as English wools can not be laid down for less money. The price of wool is kept down by the enormous quantities now brought from Australia, New Zealand, the Cape, and South America. Large quantities from Australia and New Zealand being quite as long in the staple and much finer than Canada fleece. While the amount may not be large, the money coming from the clip is always welcome to the farmer. Next comes the lambs. Early bred lambs find good prices in our cities. The price of lambs has been going up gradually and steadily. Fairly good ones bring from $4.50 to $4.90 during the season, from local butchers. The bulk of our surplus lambs have, for many years, gone to the States, mostly by way of Buffalo. The returns for last year, as given to the customs, averaged $3 per head. This seems to be rather under the mark. Farmers who buy up lambs during the early fall and winter, and keep them till Christmas, make much more than this price. There will be an increased demand next year for good shipping lambs to the States. The British market has also been tried with lambs and with success. Our export sheep to Britain last year were valued at $6.30 per head. With such prospects for mutton, farmers should therefore keep more and better sheep. For the British market, quality is needed to bring the best price. The same is true in regard to the lamb market in the States. Keep sheep. Keep good sheep. They pay better than wheat or barley.—D. McCrae, Guelph, in Live Stock Journal.

The Milking Competitions.

The result of the milking competition held during the Central Canada exhibition in September last has just been made known. The Holsteins owned by Mr. Joseph Foote, of Oxford Mills, Ont., taking first prize, a gold medal presented by Sheriff Biggar, and the Jerseys owned by Mr. W. A. Reburn, of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, take the second prize, the silver medal presented by the association.

There were four herds of five cows each entered, their being in addition to the prize winners Guernseys owned by Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, of St. Anne de Bellevue, and Ayrshires owned by Mr. Drummond, of Petite Cote, Montreal.

On September 25 each herd was milked twice under the supervision of Mr. William Rodden, of Plantagenet, and the milk handed to Dominion Analyst Macfarlane and Prof. Robertson of the experimental farm. These gentlemen have made their award on the following principles: The butter fat was valued at 18 cents per lb. and other solids at 2½ cents per lb., with a percentage to be added for the length of the milking period. The result was as follows:

Holsteins, total value		$1.29
Jerseys,	"	1.19
Guernseys	"	1.10
Ayrshires,	"	1.00

The Ayrshire cow Viola III. gave the largest quantity of milk at one milking, viz.: 19.9 lbs., the Holstein Othello III being next, with 19.4 lbs. The richest milk was given by the Guernsey cow Rosanne, with 8.48 per cent. of butter fat. For milk yield, however, was but poor, being 6 lbs. in the morning and 5.85 lbs. at night.

A Rabbit-Proof Fence.

The Australian colony of Queensland is building a rabbit-proof fence along its border as a means of protection against the rabbit nuisance. Last year 233 miles of fence were built making 305 of the 618 required. The total cost, so far, is a little over $40,000. The fencing proves to be a complete protection against the quadruped, but not against evil-minded persons who bring them in from infected localities.

Kemmler's Death Instantaneous—Microscopical Examination of the Executed Man's Blood—The Effect of Electricity on the Blood Illustrated.

Henry L. Tolman, of Chicago, made a microscopic examination of the blood of Kemmler, who was recently executed by electricity, and the results are given in the Tribune of that city, as follows:

"The first cut, No. 1, shows the blood in its normal connection. Both the specimens of blood were taken from Kemmler after he was dead. But the one showing the normal blood was taken from the leg, and that showing the effect of the current was taken from the forehead. The electric shock was applied so as to pass through the whole length of the spine from the cerebellum to the sacrum, and seems not to have affected the lower limbs, at least the blood from the leg appears perfectly natural, while that from the head is noticeably altered. The blood corpuscles where they have felt the effect of the electricity are shrunken about 30 per cent, are much denser in character and show a strong tendency to stick together. In fact, on the whole slide which came to photograph I could not find one spot where the corpuscles were separated and distinct, as represented in cut No. 1. Another characteristic is that many of these corpuscles are completely destroyed, struck by lightning literally and smashed to pieces. Sometimes a part of the outline of the original corpuscle can be seen; at others the debris consists of little irregular specks or shreds, and it is only a matter of inference that they were once portions of the red blood disks. In a few places it can be seen that these shreds are corpuscles which have been twisted and are lying on their side, showing a kind of dumb-bell shape. It is rare that a normal corpuscle can be found on the slide of the blood from the head, indicating the terrible force of the current.

"Dr. Fell is firmly of the opinion that Kemmler's death was instantaneous, and that the evidences of breathing, etc., after the first shock were only due to muscular compression, which is frequently seen in all animals after a sudden and violent death. The condition of the blood also confirms this view, for the force which effected such a radical change in an instant must have been almost inconceivably great.

"In a microscopical way also these slides are exceedingly interesting on account of the opportunity they afford to study the interior structure of the corpuscles. If not always an easy thing to smash or open a little speck less than one thirty-two-hundredths of an inch in diameter and one twelve-thousandths of an inch thick, but here are hundreds of them all ready for study. It is not easy to measure fairly the blood corpuscles from the pathological specimens, because there are so few of them perfectly round, but as far as I have ascertained, the work not being completed, they are only about one four-thousandths of an inch in diameter, while the normal blood is a little less than one thirty-two-hundredths of an inch. Taken altogether, these slides afford a valuable opportunity to ascertain the effect of electricity and to confirm the belief that it can be made to be instantaneously deadly. A nerve current takes about one-ninetieth of a second to travel from the head to the foot, while an electric shock traveling perhaps 100,000 miles a second would kill long before the victim knew what struck him, or even that he had been struck at all."

Good Deeds Done.

The good deeds done by that unequalled family liniment, Hagyard's Yellow Oil, during the thirty years it has been held in ever increasing esteem by the public, would fill volumes. The new business of the SUN LIFE was the largest ever secured in its Company's history and was equalled by but one Canadian life company. The surplus accumulated during the THREE years of the current quinquennium far exceeds the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail to be highly satisfactory. The prosperity of the Sun Life is no doubt largely due to its liberal unconditional policies and paying its claims promptly. Canadians should also remember that by patronizing a Home Institution, which invests all its funds in the Dominion, they are benefitting themselves by reducing the rate of interest here, and are helping to build up our own cities rather than those of foreign states.

OUR BUILDING RECORD.

Detailed List of New Buildings Erected in 1890.

The Expenditure Foots up to $171,900—Ashburnham's Share of the Record.

The EXAMINER'S annual list of the result of the building operations of the year is presented at a much later date than usual. The building season, owing to fine weather, was much more protracted than usual, and there was no end to the building industry of 1890, except the end of the year itself. In fact a good deal of building was brought to a standstill by severe frosts, and it is probable that the next season's building operations will be marked by the activity of the closing month of the past season. Last year the total amount spent in building fell somewhat short of the figures of 1889, but not so decidedly as to mark a loss of faith on the part of citizens as to the future of the town so much as the supply of a demand, and not a building boom, speculative in its nature. The following is as complete a list as could be obtained—any omission that may exist is entirely inadvertent:

St. John's Sunday-School.

The Annual Entertainment Held by the Scholars Very Successful.

The annual entertainment in connection with St. John's Sunday-school was held Tuesday evening. The school-room was tastily decorated with evergreens, mottoes and Union Jacks, the handiwork of the scholars. There were about 250 pupils and a goodly number of parents and elders present. Mr. Brondrette, the superintendent, conducted the proceedings. Shortly after seven o'clock the following programme was begun:

Song.....Beautiful Star of Bethlehem

Piano solo	Miss D Bell
Kindergarten song	Infant class
Report of Rector on Sunday-school work.
Recitation	N. Pratt

Recitation	Mr A. McNeil's children
Exhibition of drill by the Misses Petit, of Montreal, under the direction of Miss Linn	Miss A. Armstrong

The kindergarten song was special y deserving of notice. The girls who took part were Maud Rush, B. Rush, A. McKee, M. Appleby, H. McNeil, Olive Eagleton, Daisy Mills, B. Budden, V. Foot, A. Brundrette, M. Long and A. Long. The children were in charge of Misses L Davidson and M. McFarlane of the public school kindergarten department. The performance of the little ones reflected the highest credit upon themselves and their instructor. The drill by the Misses Petit was also excellent.

The Sunday school is indebted to Mr. Roy for his admirable stereoptican views which formed a most attractive feature of the entertainment.

The entertainment concluded with the distribution of prizes, books being awarded to those pupils who had been specially diligent and punctual in attendance. Each child also got an orange and bag of sweets. A special prize of a gold dollar, awarded by Mr. H. Rush for reciting the catechism, was won by Jas. Mellor.

Dreadful Psoriasis.

Covering Entire Body with White Scales. Suffering Fearful. Cured by Cuticura.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, now clear across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes and my physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scales fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and bleed and very flaky, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. MRS. ELISA KELLY,

WHY HICKSON RETIRED

THE TRUE INWARDNESS OF SIR JOSEPH'S WITHDRAWAL.

Harrassed by London Directors who Knew Nothing Concerning the Management of the Railway but who Nevertheless Thought they Did.

DETROIT, Jan. 7.—An Ottawa despatch to The Evening News says: Various conjectures have been made in regard to the cause of Sir Joseph Hickson's retirement from the general managership of the Grand Trunk Railway, and many believe that political intrigues were at the bottom of the trouble. A few years ago when the Canadian Pacific Company applied to the Dominion Government and Parliament for an advance of $30,000,000 to help it out of financial difficulty, Sir Joseph, on behalf of his company, protested against the proposal. He said it would be grossly unfair to subsidize with vast sums of public money a railway company that was building lines which would compete with and take traffic from roads like the Grand Trunk and others built with private capital—that in fact the Grand Trunk would be taxed to provide money for its rival. Sir Joseph even issued a manifesto against the proposed government loan to the C.P.R., and intimated that his company would fight the party in power to the death. Lord Claude Hamilton, a director of the Grand Trunk, a member of the British House of Commons, a son of the Earl of Aberdeen, and brother of the First Lord of the Admiralty, also visited Canada about the same time. His brother-in-law, Lord Lansdowne, was the Governor-General. Lord Claude also, in public interviews, denounced the favoritism shown to the C.P.R. by the Government as iniquitous. But when the general election came on the Grand Trunk showed no preference for one party over the other, and it was stated that influence had been exerted in England which caused Sir Joseph Hickson to remain neutral. He did not like it, however, and his feelings have been further harassed by complaints from the very men who caused him to keep out of the political fights, that he is in a measure responsible for the hostile policy of the Government towards the Grand Trunk.

To-day Hon. Richard W. Scott, senator, and a leading railway lawyer, who was a member of the Dominion Government for some years, was asked his opinions regarding the causes of Sir Joseph's retirement. "What I am surprised at," he said, "is that he did not throw up the position long ago. The manager of a great American railway system who has to take instructions from a board of old fogy directors sitting in London occupies a most humiliating position. Mr. C. J. Brydges, who was Sir Joseph's predecessor, found it so, and he threw up the general managership to accept the position of general superintendent of the Intercolonial at a much smaller salary. Sir Joseph has been hampered in every way. He has been obliged to wait for weeks, perhaps months, for advice from his chiefs in England on occasions when prompt, even instantaneous, action was necessary for the protection and furtherance of the company's interests. It is absurd to have a road like the Grand Trunk controlled by men who know nothing of the ways of business on this side of the Atlantic. If other roads have sometimes got ahead of the Grand Trunk the fault has not been Hickson's. Smith, Brown and Robinson of London have some money to invest, and they buy Grand Trunk stock. They get themselves elected directors and then must have a say about how the railroad should be run, though they have never seen Canada or the United States and know nothing about the sharp competition in railway business here. They want dividends earned, forgetting that it is often necessary to forego a year's dividend for the purpose of making ample provision for future profits. The English directorate has been a great millstone around the neck of the Grand Trunk Railway. Sir Joseph says his eyesight is failing. That is probably true. But I have good reason to know that the prime cause of his retirement was the annoying way in which his plans for extending and conserving the business of the road were scattered with by the Board of Directors in London."

Crushed by the Brake Rod.

SARNIA, Jan. 7.—John Spian, employed as a brakeman on the construction train at the excavation for the approach to the tunnel, fell off the train at the dumping ground to shift the switch, and in trying to jump on the last car while the train was moving missed his hold and fell. The brake rod of the car caught his left leg and crushed it in a terrible manner from below the knee almost to the thigh. He was taken to his home, but never rallied and died on Monday night. He was a resident of Point Edward, unmarried and 25 years of age.

Bold Daylight Robbery.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The stock yards district was the morning again the scene of a daring robbery. Two masked men entered the saloon of James Murphy at Winter-Root-streets and tortured the proprietor until revealing the combination of the safe. That secured they took $ and left Murphy bound hand and foot. Murphy recently fell heir to $50,000 and the robbers evidently hoped to get it.

A Train Runs Amuck.

ST JOHNSBURY, Vt., Jan. 7.—A mixed train on the Ogdensburg & Lake Champlain road broke apart on the steep grade at North Concord to-night and four freight cars and one passenger car came 12 miles to St. Johnsbury at a frightful speed. When the St. Johnsbury depot was reached the train dashed into loaded freight cars with a terrible crash, making kindling wood of everything. The passengers jumped from the train at North Concord, leaving the runaway train with nobody on board. The engineer had to cross the highway a dozen times on the trip.

To Elect a New Leader.

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER, Jan. 7.—An authorized statement has been issued by the Irish leaders who have been present at the conference here. They announced that the conference terminated to-day, and both parties interested have resolved that the proceedings should be regarded as of a confidential nature. It is understood, however, that the exchange of views that has taken place has led to the hope that a peaceful settlement of the matter in dispute will ensue. An arrangement satisfactory to all seems to have been arrived at. The exact nature of this arrangement is, it is claimed, that Justin McCarthy should resign the chairmanship of the party, and that a full meeting of the party be called to elect a new leader. The retirement of the Parnellites in the event of a new leader is tantamount to a reunion of the party and will be entirely satisfactory to Parnell.

Advices from Boulogne say Mr. O'Brien at his own request has been empowered to ask Mr. McCarthy to retire from the chairmanship of the anti-Parnell section of the Irish party in favor of John Dillon or, if Mr. O'Brien prefers, in favor of himself. Mr. O'Brien announces that his conferences with Mr. Parnell are finished. The negotiations with Mr. McCarthy will follow.

A conference of the Irish members was held to-day at the Grand and Liberal Club. News received from Boulogne in regard to the conference there between the Irish leaders was satisfactory both to the McCarthyites and the members of the club. A majority of the National Liberals express themselves as having no fear of the McCarthyites agreeing to any line of action tending to weaken the alliance between the Irish Party and the Gladstonians.

Mr. Gladstone is understood to have secretly approved the plan decided upon at the conference between Parnell and O'Brien, and the Parnellites are said to be pledged to abandon Parnell if he proves insincere in the pledges given.

John Dillon has cabled from New York his approval of Parnell's temporary retirement from the chairmanship of the Irish party in favor of Mr. O'Brien.

The Glasgow Strike.

GLASGOW, Jan. 7.—The provost of Glasgow has convened a public meeting for Friday to consider the best means of reaching a settlement of the strike difficulties.

Mr. Baird, M.P., a director of the North British Railway Company, addressing a meeting of his electors to-day, declared that the directors were ready to discuss the matter of grievances with the old servants. He pleaded for a suspension of judgment upon the company, the task of reconciling the interests of the shareholders with those of the public and the men being an exceedingly difficult one.

Two of the Duellists Wounded.

MADRID, Jan. 7.—A duel has been fought between Senor Canalejas, formerly Minister of Justice, and the son of Senor Martos, ex-President of the Chamber of Deputies. Senor Canalejas received a slight wound.

JASSY, Roumania, Jan. 7.—Prince Eugene Ghika and M. Sermontoff, secretary of the Russian Consulate, fought a duel here to-day with pistols. The prince was slightly wounded. The duel was due to an insulting reference made by the prince to the post [illegible] of whom the Russian secretary is a descendant.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 8.—James J. Corbett of California was matched last night to fight Peter Jackson for $10,000. His manager, Charles Steinzell, arrived to-day and will remain until after the Dempsey-Fitzsimmons fight.

It is stated Corbett's match with Slavin before the Olympic Club of this city is off on account of Slavin's illness.

A SENSATION AT TOULON

THE MAYOR OF THE CITY LOCKED UP IN JAIL.

Accused By His Mistress, the Wife of a French Naval Captain, With Having Procured a Criminal Operation Upon Her—Many Other Arrests Follow.

TOULON, Jan. 7.—The trial of M. Fouroux, mayor of this city, charged with being a party to a conspiracy to procure a criminal operation upon his mistress, Mme. Jonquieres, wife of Capt. Jonquieres of the French navy, and daughter-in-law of Admiral Jonquieres, is in progress at Draguignan. Also implicated in the affair are Mme. Laure a midwife, arrested at the same time as Mme. Jonquieres the day the mayor was arrested, and Mme. Audibert, the divorced wife of a Toulon lawyer, who is said to have acted as go-between for Fouroux and Mme. Jonquieres. Mme. Jonquieres is a beautiful creole and a sister-in-law of Admiral Coulombeaud. Fouroux is a retired captain of the French navy. The operation is alleged to have been performed on the eve of Capt. Jonquieres' return from a long cruise. The whole affair has created considerable comment, owing to the high standing of the parties involved and also because of the action taken in the case by the French Government. On Oct 31 Fouroux tried to obtain his release on bail, but his application was denied. The ministry then blamed the local procureur for proceeding in the matter without consulting them. Several minor officials concerned in the mayor's arrest were dismissed and others resigned. Fouroux was suspended pending the result of the trial. The mayor on his examination Nov. 7 insisted that although aware of the operation being performed he was not a party to it.

Refused Money. She Confessed.

During the proceedings to-day the prosecution attempted to show that the intimacy between the mayor and Mme. Jonquieres ceased two months previous to the former's arrest and that Mme. Jonquieres went to Paris. From that city it is claimed she wrote to Fouroux for money. He refused to furnish any and it is asserted she, in her anger, wrote to the procureur at Toulon about the illegal operation. The evidence taken to-day also tended to show that Mme. Jonquieres, during her husband's absence, was on the most intimate terms with Fouroux. The prosecution introduced evidence which seemed to show Mme. Audibert introduced Fouroux to Mme. Laure, the midwife, and the latter performed the operation. After the operation Mme. Jonquieres and Fouroux are said to have dropped the remains of the child, enclosed in a jar, into the sea.

To Save Her Lover's Life.

Mme. Jonquieres testified that, long previous to writing to the procureur, she had resolved to confess her sin to her husband. She became determined to take this step when she found herself enciente, but, she added, after a dreadful scene between Fouroux and herself, she consented, with a view to saving him from her husband's anger, to have the operation performed.

Mme. Laure, the midwife, was called. She denied she had performed a criminal operation upon Mme. Jonquieres, and said she had treated her solely with drugs. She had pretended to perform an operation, and had frightened Mme. Jonquieres into believing she had really used instruments.

THE IRON CHANCELLOR.

True Version As to What Caused the Disagreement With the Young Emperor.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—The Hallesche Zeitung claims the origin of the dispute between the Emperor and Prince Bismarck is as follows: Dr. Simson, president of the Leipsic Tribunal, is said to have emphatically represented to the Emperor in January, 1889, the danger to German prestige if the prosecution of Prof. Geffcken for high treason continued. Dr. Simson protested against the efforts attributed to Bismarck to influence the public against the professor, thereby the doctor claimed exercising pressure upon the supreme tribunal decision. The public prosecutor has served upon Geffcken an indictment for high treason in connection with the publication of portions of the late Emperor Frederick's diary. The voluminous indictment traced the entire working life of Geffcken in trying to prove that he had been a persistent enemy of German unity.

TO EXTRADITE YEREX.

The Government Detective and a Bank Representative to go After Him.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 7.—Magistrate Flint has called the authorities at Bremen, Germany, that the proper officers would proceed in a few days with the papers to extradite Chester Yerex, the hull-less oat swindler. Detective Murray will be sent to Germany and is here preparing the necessary papers. The detective will be accompanied by C. M. Stock, manager of the Bank of Commerce here for the purpose of identifying the prisoner. Yerex had originally intended to goto Mexico but changed his mind when he reached New York and sailed for Germany. He did not know at the time that an extradition treaty existed between the two countries. It is believed that he proposed to carry on the hull-less oats business in Germany on an extensive scale. His operations in Western Ontario covered a more extensive field than was at first generally supposed. He is supposed to have victims in Guelph, Lucan and London. In the latter city he defrauded an uncle out of $1800. The loss will ruin him.

CATTLE EXPORTERS.

Give Evidence Before the Government Commission at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—To-day's session of the Cattle Investigation Commission was devoted to hearing the evidence of the Toronto cattle exporters. The delegation consisted of Ald. G. F. Frankland, A. J. Thompson, H. A. Mullins, Andrew W. Aikens and Robert Dunn.

They coincided in their views with the opinions of the other cattle men and recommended a variety of improvements, such as increased space, ventilation, better inspection and better facilities for shipping at this port. Mr. Aikens, G. Bliss of Compton and Senator Cochrane also gave evidence of a similar nature. Mr. A. Briens, for 15 years a cattle foreman, complained bitterly of the treatment the men received and demanded for them better food, beds and accommodation.

Mr. Plimsoll made a statement affirming that the investigation had done good; that if the cattle were not so badly treated, as he had supposed, the men were worse off. He ridiculed the idea of annexation.

The counsel for the exporters began to examine Mr. Plimsoll, but he refused to answer any questions.

Mr. F. X. Perrault here began to question Mr. Plimsoll, when he replied: "I do not come here to answer to you. I answer to the people of England."

Quite a scene ensued, Mr. Perrault claiming that Canada had not received fair play and that Mr. Plimsoll had done this country an injustice.

Mr. Plimsoll leaves for Toronto to-morrow.

New African Governors.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent says: It appears settled that Emin Pasha is to be Governor of the western portion of German East Africa, including the lake territory, and Herr Von Soden to be Governor over the remainder. Baron Wissman will probably retire or be sent to settle affairs in West Africa. He is displeased because he was not appointed head of the Colonial Department.

Two Palaces in Flames.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—A wing of the royal palace at Bayreuth was destroyed by fire today. Many valuable documents and oil paintings have been burned. A fire broke out in the palace of the Princess Frederick Charles on the Wilhelm plats early this morning. The flames were first discovered near the bedroom of Her Serene Highness. She gave immediate orders, and by her coolness and presence of mind prevented a catastrophe.

Anarchists Convicted by Wholesale.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The trial of a number of Anarchists at Casale, Italy, which has been attracting much interest, has resulted in 31 of the prisoners being convicted. One of them was sentenced to 30 years' imprisonment and the others to terms ranging from two to 17 years.

Killed by a Snow Plow.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The driver of a steam plow which was engaged in clearing away snow from the railway tracks at Craiova, Roumania, becoming temporarily blinded by the flying snow, allowed the plow to dash into the midst of a gang of laborers, several of whom were killed and others injured.

The Newfoundland Question.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Daily News, discussing the Newfoundland question, says: "In the immediate crisis the wounded feelings of the Newfoundlanders ought in every practicable manner to be consulted. Diplomatic propriety would be observed in the views and wishes of the people of Newfoundland were conveyed through the Foreign Office to M. Ribot and M. de Freycinet."

A Satisfactory Treaty.

LISBON, Jan. 7.—A treaty satisfactory to England and Portugal upon the African question has been nearly concluded. It will be submitted to the Cortes before the signatures are attached.

A Noble Pervert.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Tablet is authorized to state that the Hon. William Gibson, eldest son of Lord Ashbourne, has been received into the Roman Catholic Church by the Rev W. D. Strappini, S.J., at Oxford.

$6000 Already Subscribed.

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—In answer to the appeal made by the Earl of Zetland, Viceroy of Ireland, and Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary, asking assistance for the suffering poor of Ireland over £6000 has already been received by Mr. Balfour.

Killed by a Falling Tree.

COLBORNE, Jan. 7.—James Brown of Colborne was struck on the head by a falling tree, near Centreton, and instantly killed.

Solicitor-General Clarke Speaks.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Sir Edward Clarke, Solicitor-General, speaking at Plymouth to-night, said, with reference to the Behring Sea dispute, that Lord Salisbury was only asserting a doctrine laid down by the United States Government years ago—namely, that no nation could claim sovereignty over the open sea. "Hostilities between England and the United States," said Sir Edward, "would shock the conscience of the world; and even the contemplation of such hostilities would be an outrage upon civilization and humanity. It is to be hoped that Lord Salisbury's offer will be accepted. But if an English vessel is seized on the high seas and violence is used toward British subjects, one fatal half hour would put it beyond the power of the two countries to settle the difficult, by arbitration."

Lymphomania.

Dr. Austin Flint has a valuable paper in The Forum for January on Koch's lymph treatment. Statistics show that about ten per cent. of recorded deaths at all ages, and from all causes, are due to pulmonary consumption. In England, for the 50 years immediately preceding the adoption of vaccination, which occurred about the year 1800, small pox contributed about ten per cent. to the total of deaths from all causes. In 1887 the proportion of deaths from small pox was one-tenth of one per cent. Consumption is primarily due to a deposit of tuberculous matter in the lungs. The deposition of tuberculous matter, its softening, and its discharge by expectoration, constitute the first stage. When cavities are formed the disease is said to be in its second stage. Of course these two stages may co-exist, either in different parts of the same lung or in the two lungs. The results of treatment by Koch can best be given in his own words:—

"Patients under treatment for the first stage of phthisis (consumption) were freed from every symptom of disease and might be pronounced cured; patients with cavities not yet too highly developed improved considerably and were almost cured; and only in those whose lungs contained many large cavities could no improvement be proved. Objectively, even in these cases the expectoration decreases and the subjective condition improved. These experiments lead me to suppose that phthisis in the beginning can be cured with certainty by this remedy. This statement requires limitation in so far as no conclusive experiments can possibly be brought forward at present to prove whether the cure is lasting."

Dr. Flint, who has the utmost confidence in Koch's statements, thinks that if consumption can be cured in the primary stages, it may be cured at later stages by supplementing the lymph treatment with other remedial agencies. He also believes that other curative lymphs will be discovered in the near future, and that typhoid, diphtheria, scarlet fever and measles will thus be promptly arrested. In fact lymph treatment, in his opinion, is likely to effect a complete revolution in medicine.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The first of January entertainment furnished by Mr. A. W. Struthers of Toronto, under the auspices of the Presbyterian church here, proved one of the most instructive and impressing entertainments ever held here, being repeated the second night. If it pleases as well accordingly, at Peterborough, as no doubt it will, Peterborough people have a treat in store. It is none of the common school house order or magic lantern side shows.

The municipal elections were of an exciting nature in the township, more particularly between Deputy-Reeve W. Adams and Mr. Switzer, the latter being elected by 149 majority. The result is as follows:—Reeve—Thos. H. McQuade; deputy-reeve—Mr. Switzer; councillors—Messrs. Groves, Ford and Scully. Omemee—Reeve—Dr Cornwall; councillors—J. Parsons, J. T. Beatty, Jos. Beatty and Thos. Stephenson.

Mr. Jackson of Peterborough paid a flying visit here last week and about completed the sale of a couple of pianos.

A new principal for the Omemee High School is advertised for.

The summer entertainment to be held in Mason's church, Emily, promises to attract a large crowd from Peterborough and other places, being situated in the east side of Emily—about nine miles from Peterborough.

North Smith.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The annual tea under the auspices of Wesley church of this place was held on Christmas eve last. Tea was served from 4:30 to 7 p.m., during which time the public was freely entertained by the ladies, who are well practised in the culinary art, as was shown by the ample spread of sweetmeats and pastry. Shortly after 7 o'clock a literary and musical entertainment of no mean character was entered upon. Through the kindness of Rev. Mr. Burns, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference, we were favored with a song his genial face and hearing his kind and instructive words on "The Working Power of a Church. This, with several readings, recitations, etc., were instersperse with fine vocal selections by the choir and others. The Miss Patterson's gave a fine duet entitled "Angels of Jesus." Miss Kindred sang with a fine voice "The Song of the Steeple." Miss Nicholl's rendering of "A Home by the Sea" was given with much feeling; and Miss Ida Nicholl sang that beautiful poem "Where is Heaven?" We would not forget to make mention of two juvenile choruses, one sang by Miss Kindred's music class, the other by two little girls and two boys. A happy and joyous evening was closed by the choir singing "Nearer Home." Proceeds of tea $15.

Westwood.

At the close of the Westwood school the pupils presented their teacher, Miss Katie Ryan, with a handsome album valued at $14 and address expressing deep regret at the teacher's departure. The address was signed on behalf of the school by Maggie Comstock, Nellie Walsh, Laura Caldwell, James Sharp, Albert Graham and Mary Slade.

Birdsall's school section, in Asphodel, has again suffered by fire on New Year's morning, in the burning of the building used by them for school purposes. It is only a few weeks since (on the 16th ult.) a similar calamity befel them, and, from the frequency of the fires (the late one being the third time), there is reason to believe that they were not accidental.

House Treatment of Disease by Electricity.

Every day one hears of some wonderful cure of disease achieved by Electricity. It is coming more into use of late and is now used by many physicians as the greatest remedy in many forms of disease. Until recently the one objection to this form of treatment was the expense attached to it, but the inventions of Mr. C. H Dorenwend, of Toronto, has simplified matters and it is now an easy accomplishment to treat oneself intelligently and at but small cost. Mr. Dorenwend's inventions consist of a Belt having a battery of a number of cells and suitable attachments to apply the current. The Battery supplies a current of electricity that can be regulated at will; it is conveyed from the battery by conductors to the diseased parts. The whole contrivance is exceedingly well planned, and any person of ordinary intelligence can operate it with ease. It is nature's first remedy for all forms of nervous and muscular disease, and all afflicted persons should take advantage of the opportunity offered by C. H. Dorenwend of procuring suitable appliances. Mr. D will be at the Grand Central Hotel on Thursday and Friday, Jan. 22 and 23, and will have a full line of Belts and Attachments with him. His stay is limited, as he has many places to visit.

Just Now

All are laying in their little store of luxuries, so I wish to call their attention to my immense stock of Liquors. I have a very fine Port Wine, well aged, which I am running off very cheap. Fine Ginger Wine. Natives, from the finest Concord Grapes. Some special lines of very old Pork, which may be considered high in price, but when the age is taken into consideration, it appears low. I may speak the same of Brandy, Cherry, Whisky, Gin, Claret, Rum, Old Tom, Sherry, J Bull. My stock of Liquors not only being the largest, is considered the most complete of any in town. My bottled Goods consist of Clubs, Gooderham & Worts, Imperial, Old Tunes, White Wheat, Hennessy, Martell, James's, Liquors of all kinds, etc., etc. W. J. MORROW 340 George street. dw

A HUMAN SACRIFICE.

A Young Indian Boy Killed to Secure Favor from the Gods.

EDMONTON, Jan. 7.—The skeleton of an Indian boy, 8 years of age, who last June went with his father, whose name is Blueborn, on a hunting expedition to Beaver Hills, has been found near Fort Saskatchewan. The skeleton was in a standing position, with arms stretched out and wrists tied to two trees. From circumstances surrounding the affair it is supposed the child, who one day was sent to camp by his father and never reached there, had been offered up as a sacrifice to have good luck in hunting by some Indians in the locality, in the same way that they are in the habit of leaving pieces of cloth or trinkets as offerings to secure favors of their gods.

THE HAMILTON COLLISION.

The First of a Series of Actions Against the Grand Trunk.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The first of a series of important cases is now on trial before Judge Grinnell, in which Isaac B. Hanna, deceased, is the plaintiff and the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada is defendant. April 26, 1889, a passenger train of the defendant became derailed near Hamilton, Ont., and many passengers were killed and injured. Growing out of this accident nine suits were brought in this county, and similar actions were instituted in Detroit, Toronto and New York city. Much interest is manifested in the outcome of the first case. The railroad is defending against the charge of negligence. While the derailing of the train is admitted, the company contends that it was one of those unaccountable accidents that will happen with the highest diligence. It is claimed that the switches were perfectly set, and just how the mishap occurred it was impossible to state. The rails are said to have been sound and in their proper place after the accident. In the present case the usual $5000 damages are claimed, and the case will take up a week or more.

PERISHED IN THE BLIZZARD.

Pitiful Tales of Suffering and Loss of Life in Kansas.

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 7.—John Brooks, a farmer of Logan county, left home the day before the great blizzard and got as far as Russell Springs. Realizing the scarcity of provisions against cold and hunger at his home he tried to go back to his family, but no trains were running. He reached home on Sunday. During his absence his wife tried to reach her nearest neighbor, a distance of four miles, but succumbed on the road and was found in an insensible condition and nearly frozen, while the babe she carried in her arms was frozen to death. The wife, it is feared, will die from the effects of exposure.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Jan. 7.—Three small children of M. G. Bell, a farmer of Barber County, strayed from home on New Year's Day and got lost in the snow. A search was made and other dead bodies have been found. They had frozen to death.

Purify Your Blood

The importance of having the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditted and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

GRATITUDE AND GREETING.

TO THE PUBLIC:

We wish the public generally, health, wealth and prosperity, and take advantage of this season to express our heartfelt and cordial thanks, for the liberal patronage bestowed on us year after year. We have every reason to feel proud of our success—a success which we owe to two sources—the generosity and discrimination of the public, and to the fact that we have made ourselves worthy of public patronage and support. We have been, and are still anxious to make money; but we aim, while so doing, to give the public the benefit, instead of grinding the last cent of profit out of our goods. We buy them cheap—cut down the price to the narrowest margin of profit, and by big sales—by "s all profits and quick returns"—we live and let live. And still we keep up that policy. This is the season when all the world gives gifts and our great gift to the people is, the Grandest Bargains in clothing ever offered to the public—$40,000 worth of First-class Goods, at prices so low, that paying for them seems a mere formality. We strive to be practical philantropists; we give the public the benefit of buying at Genuine Bargains. We prefer to make ten dollars in ten sales at low prices, to making ten dollars, at cent per cent profits, by one sale. In the first case, we benefit our customers and make friends of them; in the other case—well, we don't—but other dealers do grind the last cent out of him, and they never see his face again. Now we see our customers often. When they come once they come again. We cordially invite the public to visit our place at once, and secure the Great Bargains we are offering. In the meantime, we beg to wish our customers, present and prospective, and the public generally

A REMARKABLE CAREER

COL. FORRESTER, ONCE COMMANDER IN A CHINESE ARMY.

Formerly an American Sailor. Then a Trader and Speculator. Now a Tavern Keeper in the Wilderness—A Romantic Escape from Execution by Fire

There is an obscure hamlet in British Columbia called Sicamous. It stands beside the Great Shuswap Lake, in the heart of the Gold Rangs, at the entrance to the Spallumsheen mining district, amid tall mountains and heavy forest. Game is abundant there, and fish are alleged to climb into the boats in their anxiety to get out of the wet. To accommodate the infrequent hunter, angler, trader, or prospector a little board house one and a half stories high has been built in Sicamous. Its landlord is a tall, weather-worn man whose grave face and long, white beard make him an object of remark whenever he appears outside of his bailiwick. The little company of hunters, Indians, and Chinamen, who form the populace of this village, probably do not know that "the Colonel," as they call him, was once a man of wealth and consequence, and that he has gone through the pleasures and perils of half a dozen ordinary experiences in his three-score years and five, for he seldom speaks of himself, and it requires tact and persistence to draw him out. Edward Forrester, for that is his name, was one of the predecessors of Chinese Gordon in command of the imperial Chinese armies, and, had he chosen, the honors that fell to Gordon might have been his.

In the capacity of second mate of a whaler, Col. Forrester, then a young man who had recently left his home in Maine, found himself off the Japanese coast one morning later in the same day, on shore, alone; for a trouble that had been growing for months ripened at last into mutiny, and he was left, a stranger in a foreign land, with few belongings, ignorant of the ways and language of the people, certain only that they were ill disposed toward foreigners. At the first village he entered he was arrested and flung into prison, where he had to stay for some time, but as no conspiracy or evil intent could be proved against him, and as the Perry treaty had meanwhile been ratified, he was allowed his liberty, and even permitted to engage in trade. He drifted about from place to place, established a little commerce, returned to America, speculated successfully, and made a fortune; but the roving disposition in him was too strong to allow him to sit down and enjoy it. So, after the lapse of a few years, he was on the seas again. He went back to Japan and succeeded in losing all his money.

Sailing for China in 1859 he landed there in time to get into a fresh assortment of troubles and successes, for the Tai Ping rebellion was just breaking out when he reached Shanghai. Gen. Ward and Major Burgevine, also Americans, were in that city at the time, and these three men gathered a Falstaff army of native and foreign riffraff about them—sailors, idlers, runaways, ne-er-do-wells, and Malays—and offered their services to the wealthy Shanghai merchants, who were in terror at the prospect of being plundered by the revolutionists. The offer was gladly accepted, the merchants arming and equipping this little band with the understanding that they should share, equally with the Americans, the gains of war. This regiment was the nucleus of the imperial force that loyal Chinamen named "the Ever Victorious Army" and that the Tai-Pings called "the Foreign Devils." For a year or two there was some pretty hard fighting, and the Ever Victorious did not always have the best of it.

After the capture of Sing-Poo by Ward he wished to follow up his advantage, so he left Forrester in its intrenchments to hold the place while he pursued the enemy. The garrison was insufficient, and when another wing of the rebel army appeared before the town Forrester was in sore distress. He could establish no communication with Ward and the best he could do was to make a desperate "bluff." By aid of the Quartermaster's stores that had been left in his charge he succeeded in arraying all his prisoners in his own uniforms, allied them on a field with his own men, and making as great a show of strength as possible, he admitted a flag of truce from the Tai-Pings, in a hope that they would be impressed by his preparations for defence. They were; but only enough to make their own plans the more carefully, for after a brief delay the town was besieged. The slenderness of his commissariat, and the fear that a revolt of his prisoners might be attempted, induced Col. Forrester to violate the rules of civilized warfare—if warfare deserves to be called civilized. He shot some of his captives.

At this juncture Ward appeared with a relieving force, but he could not get into the city, and the only service he could render was to protect the retreat of the garrison. The rebels, who were over the walls before the evacuation was complete, captured several men including Forrester, and chased the relieving force to the British ships that were approaching the scene of strife. The discovery of bullet marks on the inside of the works led to a surmise of the massacre, and Forrester was thrown into a wretched prison, confined in a small room without bedding or even clothes, his wrists tied with cord, his ankles encircled by gyves that were chained to the floor.

The son of a Tai-Ping General visited the prisoner each day, attended by his tutor. He was only thirteen or fourteen years old, and it was a boyish thoughtlessness rather than malice that prompted him to take from his mouth the metal pipe he was smoking and press the bowl of it to the naked chest of the prisoner. Stung by the scorch and the insult, Forrester drove a clenched fist into the face of his tormentor, hurling him into a corner of the room. The boy scrambled to his feet, and picking a rusty cannon ball out of some rubbish he flung it with all his strength at the enchained man, felling him to the floor and inflicting injuries that affected him for months. At this point the tutor interfered and led away the boy, who at once reported the affair to his father, and without form of trial Forrester was doomed to die. The manner of his death was the device of a fiend. He was to be coated in oil, papers were to be pinned to his bare flesh, the papers were to be set on fire, and as the flames enveloped him boys armed with old horse pistols were to be allowed to shoot at him.

Next day he was led out to suffer this horrible execution, but after he had been bound to a post, the lad who had caused the trouble sprang forward and flung his arms about Forrester's neck. Everybody supposed this to be the prelude to some new outrage, when, to the amazement alike of captive and captors, the boy broke into a passionate speech, declaring that he alone was at fault, that he had insulted and tortured the prisoner, disrespecting his helplessness, that his tutor had brought him to a sense of his wrongdoing, and that if Forrester was to die he would die with him. The immediate effect of this Pocahontas-like episode was to enrage the Tai-Ping leaders. He had seated himself near the stake that he might enjoy with better relish screams and writhings of the hapless American, and meantime he was regaling himself with hot tea. As soon as the purport of his son's interference became manifest, one lowered the cup from his lips as he was about to drink it, and flung its contents in the boy's face; but the lad did not quit his embrace of the captive, and still appealed against the perpetration of this act of cruelty.

By gaining delay the boy gained sympathy, and at last Forrester was returned to his prison with a promise that his execution would be deferred for a day or two. Before the time for his death had been fixed, emmisaries from the imperial forces arrived and offered large ransom in muskets and powder for his release. It was several weeks before these overtures were accepted. Cupidity outweighed revenge at last, however, and Forrester was liberated after he had been starved almost to a skeleton and had been forced to march naked to Chapu, loaded with supplies for his enemies, as a pack animal. He made his way to the port where the British squadron was lying—for England had found that "British interests" required her to assist the Emperor, and Forrester was welcomed by Admiral Hope with the news that he, Forrester, had been chosen as leader of the imperial forces. He declined the honor, and after Major Burgevine was killed from the place it was again offered to Forrester, and again refused. His friend Ward had been killed, he was tired and war worn, he had had enough of peril and suffering. Major Burgevine, a soldier of fortune, transferred his allegiance to the Tai-Pings, was captured, released on parole, and drowned—purposely, it is thought—and the place that Forrester refused passed to the hands of Gen. Gordon, who accomplished for the Ever Victorious Army a real success.

The next heard of Forrester was that he was a track hand on one of the railroads in the Western States. The man who might have commanded the army of an empire, was living in tents and "shacks" and faring on pork and hard tack. He saved enough out of his meagre wages to buy a gun and an outfit and set out for the Northern wilderness, for reports of gold discoveries there had been noised about, and he brought up at Sicamous. There he "anchored" and there, in the enjoyment of nature's beauties, of many things that minister to his tastes, of a sure though modest income, he has found peace and rest after the buffetings of a stormy life.

The new business of the SUN LIFE was the largest ever secured in the Company's history and was equalled by but one Canadian life company. The surplus accumulated during the THREE years of the current quinquennium far exceeds the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to policy-holders cannot fail to be highly satisfactory. The prosperity of the Sun Life is no doubt largely due to its liberal unconditional policies and payjoy its claims promptly. Canadians should also remember that by patronizing a Home Institution, which invests all its funds in the Dominion, they are benefiting themselves by retaining the rate of interest here, and are helping to build up our own cities rather than those of foreign states.

Tolled His Own Knell.

In Montreal yesterday a man and his wife were entering a church to hear mass when the tongue of the bell fell striking him in the head, killing him instantly. A Farewell Meeting.

The General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. received a letter this morning from Mr. F. G. Saunders, an outgoing missionary to China, saying that it is probable that there will be a farewell meeting in Peterborough on Monday evening of the China Inland Mission party of five or six which sails from Vancouver the latter part of this month.

Fire Brigade Officers.

The annual meeting of the Fire Brigade was held Tuesday night, and after the election of officers supper was set up by the newly-elected officers at the Sovereign House. Those officers were elected:—J. D. Craig, Assistant Chief; J. Haggart, First Lieut.; J. Hay, Second Lieut.; J. H. Yelland, Secretary; C. Rutherford, Treasurer.

Social Reform Demonstration.

A great Social Reform "Demonstration" will be held at the Salvation Army barracks Tuesday next, January 13th, when Commissioner Adams will speak of the success of the Social Reform branch of the Army work. The Commissioner will be accompanied by several prominent Canadian staff officers. There will also be a banquet in connection with the Demonstration.

The "Gentlemen's Matinee."

In Monday's issue of the EXAMINER was printed a list of horses eligible to enter the Daly matinee to be held on Little Lake. By pure inadvertence our equine editor omitted the mention of the following fleet-footed flyers: Robert Landy's bay horse, Alex. Elliott's bay mare, and Alex. Paterson's brown stallion. Sporting gentlemen, in selecting their favorites from the field, will please include in it the above three names.

Curling for the Cup.

The third of a series of six matches for the Lindsay-Peterborough Cup is being played here to-day. At 3.45 p.m. the score stood: Rutherford's (Peterborough) rink 15
McMillan's (Lindsay) rink. 11
Attrill's (Peterborough) rink. 13
Favelle's (Lindsay) rink. 8

The Second "Smoker."

The second smoking concert was held in the Olympic Club rooms last night, and, though the attendance was not as large as at the previous one, fully as enjoyable a time was spent. The amusements were kept going without cessation. The orchestra was present and played several of their finest selections, Mr. Umpleby gave piano music, and Mr. R. M. Roy clever exhibitions of ledgerdemain, in which line he is an artist. Refreshments were also served, and altogether a jolly evening was enjoyed by everyone.

A Powerful Petition.

There are ten thousand persons in Peterborough, and you can get ten thousand signatures to an urgent petition to the people, to not, for their own sakes, for the sakes of their children, forget that the grand masquerade carnival under the auspices of the Canadian Order of Foresters on Friday evening, Jan. 16th, is to be one of the most superbly successful and attractive ever given in Peterborough. The attraction to the public is a magnificent spectacle, worth miles of travel to see, and to makers the splendid array of valuable prizes, now on view at the Peterborough Bookstore—in the northern window. Think of all these things in connection with the carnival. 1d

Ashburnham School Contest.

Reproach has been laid upon Ashburnham that it is behind the time in electing its school trustees, separately from the municipal elections; but what it makes up in slowness in this respect it makes up in vim in the way of conducting the elections. The school trustee contest yesterday was a most lively one, equal in exciting effort to the municipal elections on Monday. The following is the result of the polling:

Frank Adams	107
Peter Glover	101
John T. Wright	105
Joseph B. Craig	92
Leonard Dobbin	76
David Pickey	76

The three first are elected or rather re-elected for they were the retiring members of last year's Board.

W. C. T. U. Topics.

The first meeting in the new year of the W. C. T. U. was well attended. The subject of scientific temperance instruction in the schools was discussed and plans laid for active work. Mrs. Hawkins, College-st., is the new superintendent of this department. A gentleman visitor from Ashburnham was received and addressed the meeting on a matter of public interest in temperance work. The Relief Committee report Mrs. Huff, 344 Charlotte street, as needing work. Mrs. Huff would be glad to do laundry work and mending for gentlemen at her own house, and the ladies recommend her to all those needing such work done. An open letter containing New Year greetings and suggestions for work was received from the Provincial President, Mrs. Cavers, of Galt.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The board of directors held their monthly meeting last evening. Mr. Early, president, occupied the chair. Interesting reports were received from the Devotional, Invitation and Membership committees; also from rescue brigade and general secretary, of the work for the past month, which were considered very satisfactory. A large amount of business was transacted. Arrangements were completed for annual meeting on Friday evening, when the financial statement will be made and reports of the work of the past year will be given by the chairmen of the various committee and general secretary. Election of officers and directors for 1891 will take place. All active members have a vote, and we trust they will all be present. The anniversary meeting will take place on Thursday evening, 15th inst., when a very profitable evening will be spent. Rev. Wm. Patterson, Toronto, has kindly consented to come and give an address. Suitable and appropriate musical programme will be rendered. Every effort will be made to make this the most successful anniversary yet held. We have a glad surprise for our friends, so don't miss it.

The periodicals for 1891 will be sold at the rooms on Friday evening.

We thank Mr. Russell Everett for a set of parlour croquet, and Mr. Ed. Courtney for paper fyles.

THE LADIES' AUXILIARY.

A special meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary was held yesterday afternoon. The attendance was good. Mrs. H. S. Griffin presided. After transacting important business, it was resolved to make an effort to place a piano in our rooms, and to further this end it was agreed to hold a promenade concert on Thursday evening, 29th January, the proceeds to go to a piano fund. We are satisfied our citizens will second the efforts towards this end. Further particulars will be given later.

We hope to see a large number of our active members present at the annual meeting on Friday evening. Election of officers and directors will take place.

The anniversary meeting will be held on Thursday evening next, and promises to be a profitable meeting. Rev. Wm. Patterson, Cooke's Church, Toronto, will give an address, and Mr. John Miller is getting up a special programme of music. We hope to see a large attendance.

Shot Dead.

A Former Resident of Hastings County the Victim.

Telegraphic despatches have brought the news of the murder of Michael Downey at Ewen, Mich. The deceased is a brother of Mrs. James Gibson, Campbellford, who, with her husband, went away to the home of the deceased as soon as they learned of the occurrence, and returned on Tuesday.

The man who committed the dead is supposed to be Joseph Rossi, formerly of Halston, Tyendinaga township. From what can be learned at present, Downey was talking with two men on the street when Rossi was seen to come out of a saloon, and, going to a hardware store, he purchased a revolver. It seems he had a quarrel with a man some time previous to this, and, on returning after dark where the three men stood, he mistook Downey for the man and fired and killed him on the spot.

Rossi left Hastings county and went to Michigan, where he assumed the name of Joseph Thomas, to escape detection for the crime of biting off a man's nose during a drunken quarrel in Belleville four years ago. He was an English emigrant, and was brought to this country several years ago and adopted by a farmer residing near Halston post office.

A late despatch from Saginaw says: "One of the most heartrendering scenes witnessed for many years in this city was that which occurred in a home on James street, in which the news was suddenly broken to Mrs. Michael Downey, of the cold-blooded murder of her husband at Ewen. The expression of mental agony and the agonized shrieks of the devoted wife cannot be forgotten, and were blended with the pitable cries of her four little ones, the eldest a child of ten. At the time of the tragedy the deceased was on his way home to spend New Year's day with his family, an affectionate letter with money inclosure preceding the sad intelligence by a few days.—Campbellford Herald.

The Veterans of 1837-'38.

They Prefer Money to Medals and Cash to Candy.

Mr. Geo. Merrill, of Belleville, who is interesting himself in the procuring of a substantial recognition of the services of the veterans of 1837-'38, thus writes to the Belleville Ontario:

"In the course of a month or more the battle will be fought in the House of Commons, at Ottawa, over the old veterans' claims for services rendered the British Government in Canada over 50 years ago. For the past four or five months many have been corresponding with me, and many have called on me, in reference to a settlement of these long neglected claims. Some propose that I should petition the Queen, our most gracious Majesty, beloved not only in Canada, but loved and respected throughout the civilized world, as the best Queen and ruler of a great nation in the world;

Praying for our most gracious Majesty Queen Victoria to order medals struck for the veterans of 1837 and '38, believing this would satisfy them, and create a general feeling of loyalty and a national spirit of pride in the rising generations in Canada.

I have communicated with hundreds of old veterans here and in the Dominion and find they are all averse to any such settlement of their claims.

One veteran says he could not in any provision store here purchase 50 cents worth of bread or meat for one of these medals. He says the medal will be accepted with thanks if accompanied by full pay for their services and losses sustained during the rebellion. He says if the old veterans are to be treated as children the Government should send old Santa Claus around and give each one a stick of candy to suck till the medals are forthcoming. If fifty three years of loyalty are to be paid off with a 25-cent medal, he thinks Canadian and British loyalty is a very cheap article, destined in the early future of this country to be like the greenbacks of '67—far below par in the market and not likely to create a spirit of loyalty in Canada.

This is the general feeling of hundreds of the old veterans with whom I have conversed and corresponded.

Many of them have referred to the soldiers of the United States, saying, "these men are promptly and liberally paid for their services, while here they would starve to death under the Union Jack, if not sustained by the charity of friends."

The Post Office.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly let me have space in your paper to voice what in my opinion is a great inconvenience, or to use a stronger term, a nuisance to the public in general. Why cannot we have a proper entrance to the lobby of the post office? One little narrow door available little when there are about twenty outside waiting to get in, and about the same number inside awaiting their exit. Two cannot walk in abreast of each other, so the unfortunate who is waiting to get out has, nine times out of ten, to wait until every to in or else chance somebody out in order to make his escape. This cannot be done without a semblance of ill-manners, and in case the incomer is a lady is of course out of the question. This could be greatly remedied by making them both swinging doors and self-closing, even if the two north doors could not be used as true inlets and outlets. I think that I am not only voicing my own, but an unanimousness felt more or less by all visitors to the post office. I hope this can be remedied without threatening to turn out the Government, but let us have a decent entrance to our post office at any cost. Thanking you Mr. Editor for so much space, I am sir,

Yours respectfully,
ANTI-CRUSH.

Population and Poverty.

Theoretical political economy has just now been remarkably verified in the investigation of the abandonment of farms in Maine. One of the principal theories of political economy is that after a certain density of population is reached, density of population and poverty increase together. The reason for this is that when a new country is being populated the inhabitants select the best land, and hence are able to raise a large quantity of raw materials with a very small amount of labor. Moreover, as only the best land is in demand, and there is plenty even of that, good land can be had at a low price, and hence every one must pay his laborers high wages or they will go off and and get farms for themselves. But as population becomes more dense, more land is required to supply it with food and raw materials; consequently poorer land must be taken up and less can be raised for each person employed. Again, a laborer cannot do as well if he works for himself on a farm of his own, consequently wages fall and the prices of food and raw materials go up. When, however, population diminishes in density the poorer land is abandoned, the per capita production of raw materials increases, wages rise and the price of food goes down. This seems to have been the course of events in Maine. In may districts the population is diminishing and farms are being abandoned, and investigation proves that poverty diminishes as farms are abandoned.—Brooklyn Citizen.

SIR PHILIP MILLER, the great English horticulturist, writing in 1740, says: "The best method to have cabbages good is to procure fresh seed from abroad every year, for it is apt to degenerate in England in a few years."

The above is a simple illustration of the fact that the best seeds will rapidly degenerate under unfavorable conditions. The wise will take heed, therefore, and buy their seeds of D. M. Ferry & Co., Windsor, Ont., whose world wide reputation as the best and most reliable, as well as the most extensive seed growers and dealers, is due to the fact that they take advantage of every circumstance of climate, soil, methods of culture, selection of seed-plants, etc., to procure the best possible seeds and keep them up to that high standard.

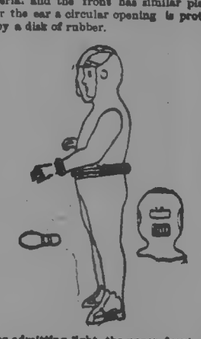
PROOF AGAINST CONTAGION.

A Novel Suit for Doctors, Something Like a Diver's—The Wearer Pumps the Air.

An "aseptic suit" for the protection of physicians and others against contagion while attending persons with contagious diseases, has been invented by Dr. J. L. Rollins of Auburn, Cal. It is to be worn over the ordinary clothing so as to entirely cover the wearer, and is almost entirely impervious, such parts as may admit air consisting of germ proof material. It has mechanism for supplying filtered air for respiration, facilities for using the stethoscope and the laryngoscope, and removable gloves. The suit, which is preferably of rubber, is in two parts, brought together at the waist by clamped flanges. In the crown of the head piece are two perforated metallic plates for holding a wad of germ proof material and the front has similar plates. Near the ear a circular opening is protected by a disk of rubber.



For admitting light the upper front part of the head piece has a glass-covered opening. The trousers and boots are in one piece. In the feet are bellows, protected by germ-proof material, that are worked by a treading motion, maintaining an upward current of air and driving out vitiated air through the head piece. For a woman a skirt, instead of trousers, may be provided.

The suit may be carried in a convenient casing to within safe limits of a case of contagious disease, then adjusted and the patient visited, the exterior being disinfected after removal.

The Fate of Three Brothers.

PLATTSBURG, N.Y., Jan. 7.—John Rooney, a farmer living a few miles north of here, went into the barn while smoking late last night, and being under the influence of liquor lay down to sleep. A spark from his pipe set fire to the structure and it was totally destroyed. Rooney's body was found in the ruins burned to a crisp. A few years ago Rooney's father died, leaving $14,000 to be divided between John and two brothers. One has since been frozen to death while intoxicated, another was killed in a runaway accident and John's fate completes the destruction of the family.

Sudden Death at St. Catharines.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Jan. 8.—The public was shocked to learn this morning of the sudden death of Frank Stinson. About 10 o'clock he was sitting in the parlor with his family and remarked that he was feeling remarkably well. Shortly afterward deceased was taken with a choking spell, and passed away in a few minutes. The deceased was born in County Cavan, Ireland, in 1832, and came to St. Catharines in 1846 and started a distillery—he largest at that time in this district—and ever since he has been connected with the liquor business.

An Insurance Agent Skips.

GUELPH, Jan. 8.—Charles Cottis, insurance agent, and for years public school trustee for St. James' Ward, has left the city for Buffalo under a financial cloud. For some time back his habits have been rather irregular and he has had a pretty hard fight financially. It is understood that he owes about $300 to the Royal Insurance Company, and that he had also funds of Wellington Encampment, I.O.O.F., to a similar or somewhat larger amount. He also leaves sundry debts.

Suicide of Professor Carpenter.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Prof. William Lant Carpenter committed suicide on Tuesday at his residence, 36 Craven Park, Harlesden, one of the suburbs of London. As he did not come down to breakfast his son, Harold Carpenter, went to his father's bedroom and found him lying across the bed with blood flowing from his mouth. In his hand was an old-fashioned five-chambered revolver, one of the chambers of which had recently been discharged. Appearances pointed to the conclusion that he had placed the weapon in his mouth and fired the contents up through the roof of his mouth into the brain. Prof. Carpenter, who was well known in the scientific world, was a mechanical engineer by profession and was in the 50th year of his age.

The Gilbert Islands.

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—The Post announces that the German Government has decided to establish a port of entry at Jaluitsteland, one of the Marshall group in the Pacific Ocean. The Post denies reports coming from San Francisco in regard to the annexation of the Gilbert Islands by Germany.

The Farmers Get There.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 8.—E. T. Champlin, the Alliance candidate, was to-day elected Speaker of the House by 72 votes to 41 for Searle, Republican. Stivers, the Democratic candidate, withdrew in Champlin's favor.

Will Conduct Things as Usual.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 8. It is announced that notwithstanding the new School Act, Roman Catholics will hold the annual election of school trustees as usual on Feb. 4.

THE LOSS OF THE POLLUX.

SLOWLY STARVING TO DEATH IN MID-OCEAN.

The Bread and Water Having All Given Out the Crew are Reduced to Canned Meat and Have an Allowance of But 7 Ounces a Day.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The steamer State of Nevada, from Glasgow, brought to this port the officers and crew of the British steamer Pollux. The Pollux encountered a series of gales and was in a sinking condition when the crew were taken off in mid-ocean by the State of Nevada. The Pollux was bound from Rouen for Philadelphia.

The Pollux was 48 days out from Rouen when the State of Nevada fell in with her. Her rudder was gone and the vessel had sprung a bad leak. The Pollux only had provisions for an ordinary voyage when she left Rouen. These became exhausted, and all suffered terribly from hunger. For 29 days they had nothing but canned meat to eat. This disappeared so rapidly that during the last seven days previous to their rescue but seven ounces of meat per day were allowed to each man. They had no water nor bread. The coal gave out long before they were rescued and the men also suffered greatly from cold. One of the Pollux's firemen was washed overboard and lost. The Pollux was a steel screw schooner-rigged ship of 1443 tons. She was owned at Dundee.

A GIRL KING.

Strange Decision as to the Title of the New Ruler of Holland.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The British Parliament has made for it in the past the claim that it could do anything excepting convert a woman into a man. This has heretofore been accepted as the solitary unattainable and unaccomplishable feat to that august body. It has remained for the High Court of Amsterdam to do what no other body of human beings has reliably done before. And the High Court has done it by deciding that all officials and public servants shall take their oath of allegiance not to Queen Wilhelmina, but to King Wilhelmina. This extraordinary and physically revolutionary decision has caused a small cyclone of indignation. The women are all up in arms, and denounce the act as an outrage and another blow at a long-suffering sex. The press has taken up the cry and calls sad attention to the lack of common sense in the thing, and talks with frightful plainness about the density of lawmakers who cannot tell a woman from a man, or a shirt from a smock. But the High Court is made up of independent and phlegmatic Dutchmen, who now, having passed the law, are not disposed to rescind it, and the chances of the lady being recognized officially as such are very meagre.

Buried on the Day Set for Her Wedding.

NAUVOO, Ill., Jan. 8.—Miss Kate Kramer, a suicide, was buried here this afternoon at 2 o'clock. It was to have been her wedding day. On Dec. 30 Frederick Bagnor, aged 31, of Nauvoo, procured a license to marry Miss Kate Kramer, aged 24; to-day County Clerk Scott at Carthage received the marriage license by mail with the blank lines used by the officiating minister or justice unfilled. W. D. Hibbard, an attorney at Nauvoo, returned the marriage license, upon the back of which he had written the following doggerel:

To Mr. John F. Scott, County Clerk. Dear Sir: The prospective bride took strychnine and died, and since she "cut that caper" Fred don't need this paper. He told me to return it, and tell you to burn it. Yours etc., W. D. HIBBARD.

Miss Kramer told her friends that she was going to poison herself and that she wished to die and be buried on her wedding day. She procured a quantity of strychnine Sunday morning and took 50 grains of the poison, dying in terrible agony within an hour. A post mortem examination showed that her death resulted from strychnine. Miss Kramer had been despondent, and her parents took poison away from her on various occasions. She has been in this country only six months, and some people think she left a lover in Switzerland. The funeral occurred this afternoon at the hour of the prospective wedding.

Fatal Accident in a California Mine.

SAN ANDREAS, Cal., Jan. 8.—An accident occurred about noon in the north shaft of the Utica Mine at Angels' Camp, which resulted in the death of 10 or 12 men. The skip with the miners aboard was coming up for dinner. When within 150 feet of the top of the shaft, the cable parted at the reel, letting the men skip and 100 feet of cable fall to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of 450 feet. The names of some of those killed are Joseph Carter, William Case, Daniel Dennison, Thomas Conovich, John Demaris, David McCann, P. Trupich and J. Brisbano, four of whom are married and have families. The bodies were fearfully mutilated. It is only little over a year ago that a cave-in occurred in the same mine, burying 16 men, and the slow work of recovering their bodies had nearly been accomplished when this second disaster took place.

Snowstorm in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 8.—The severest snowstorm of the season raged all day, and continued to-night all over Kansas and in Northwestern Missouri. The snow is now six to ten inches deep. A high wind has drifted it so as to seriously impede railway travel. Freight service on many roads in Kansas has been abandoned, and the passenger trains on roads through the northern half of the state are badly delayed.

Earthquake in Spain.

MADRID, Jan. 8.—A furious gale prevails along the coast of Valencia and several wrecks are already reported. At Granada yesterday a violent earthquake shock was experienced. For a short time considerable alarm prevailed. People rushed from their houses into the streets, fearing the houses would fall in.

A Georgia Tragedy.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 8.—Mrs. Peters and her daughter were murdered, robbed and burned to death in Cordele last night. The robbers were seen running away from the house.

A London Policeman Killed.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Police Constable William Pope succumbed last night to his injuries, received on Tuesday afternoon by the running away of the patrol team.

Has Swelled to $10,000.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Salfourly fund for the distressed poor in Ireland now amounts to £10,000. Many contributions of clothing have also been received.

THE NEWS OF EUROPE.

FIRES RAGING IN LYONS, PARIS AND GERMANY.

Riotous Scotch Strikers Felt Workmen With Stones—The Police Charge the Mob and Many of the Ringleaders Are Arrested—Shocking Tragedy in Essex.

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—A despatch from Pillau says the immense petroleum stores there have taken fire and there is a great conflagration. All efforts to quench the flames have proved fruitless.

Pillau is a seaport of Germany in the Province of Prussia on the Baltic. It is the port of Konigsberg for large vessels, a fortress, a favorite watering place and one of the most important Prussian seaports.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—A pianoforte warehouse in the Boulevard-St.-Martin is burning. Four stories have already been gutted and it seems likely several other buildings will be destroyed. Great damage has already been done.

The general offices of the Paris, Lyons & Mediterranean Railway Co. in Lyons are on fire and the flames are spreading rapidly, the firemen being hampered by scarcity of water.

PLEADING FOR BREAD.

The Cry of the Evicted Glasgow Strikers as They Fought the Police.

GLASGOW, Jan. 8.—A largely-increased police force was on hand to-day at Coat Bridge, a large iron centre nine miles from here, to suppress any serious outbreak of the evicted railroad strikers. It was thought that the appearance of the authorities would have a tendency to put a damper on the mob, but ere long the police had their hands full. The dormitory where are sheltered a large number of non-union men was assaulted with brickbats and large stones.

The police charged on the strikers with batons high in the air, and were also met with a fusilade of bricks, stones and clubs in the hands of the mob. The police succeeded, after a desperate struggle, in forcing the crowd back, but were charged upon five minutes later by a much larger band of strikers, who hissed and cursed in a frightful manner. "We want bread or blood," they yelled, fighting like fiends. Six policemen and twice as many strikers received wounds that will probably incapacitate them for work for some time. The police fear more trouble to-morrow.

The railway directors have repeatedly announced that the strike was over, and that traffic upon all lines had been resumed. These statements were believed at first, but now it seems that the utterances of the officials were not correct. In and about this neighborhood there are still 8000 men on strike, and in spite of the statements made by the companies' representatives the freight traffic is not being improved. The strikers are continually receiving financial and moral support from trade unions throughout Great Britain. The general public is longing for some kind of a settlement.

The officials of the Caledonian Railroad in a manifesto issued this morning promised to consider the grievances of the strikers who would promptly resume work. A number of engine drivers and firemen returned to work. The deserters from the ranks of the strikers were hooted at and pelted with stones by the strikers. The police charged the strikers and arrested six ringleaders. The captured men were taken to a police station, followed by a mob of howling men, women and children. The prisoners will be charged with riotous conduct. It is thought the magistrates will deal severely with them.

The directors of the North British Railway Co. have announced that their efforts to effect an arrangement with the strikers have proven fruitless. The announcement has increased the feeling of bitterness among the strikers.

A Terrible Time in Toulon.

TOULON, Jan. 8.—An ex-German officer, who formerly served in a Bavarian regiment of the line, and who is now attached to the German army reserve, owned a flourishing grocery store in this city. Up to yesterday the groceryman had conducted his business with the assistance of French employes. Tuesday night the officer engaged a German assistant. This action so enraged the French grocery clerks that they left the store vowing vengeance. A howling mob soon assembled in front of the store. Hooting and yelling were indulged in, the noise being intermixed with cries, "A bas les Prussiens!" Just as stones were commencing to fly thickly into the store a strong force of police appeared and charged the mob. The crowd was with difficulty dispersed by the police, who made several arrests. The German's grocery trade is, of course, ruined by the anti-German onslaught made upon his premises, and he is preparing to sell out.

Her Majesty's Donations to the Poor.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Her majesty the Queen, has made large donations to those of Windsor who are not well off. This takes the form of beef and coals, and during the holidays which have just passed, joints of beef, of from three to seven pounds weight, have been distributed, the size varying in accordance with the number of those who constitute the family. The total weight of those joints was a ton and a half. The other half of the gift, consisting of coal, is delivered at the houses of the recipients, so many sacks per family, and in this way some 60 tons have been distributed. The money value of these two items for Windsor alone is $1500. Baron Rothschild has a curious fancy in regard to his New Year's presents. He has a special regard for the drivers of the omnibuses and the cabmen who are doomed to sit exposed to the inclemency of the weather, all subject to all the atmospheric changes, on the top of these cumbersome vehicles, wrapped round in thick rugs. The baron lives in Piccadilly, and hundreds of busses pass his door every day, bound for the western portions of the city as well as the suburbs. He accordingly selects these busmen for the exhibition of his generosity, and he sends a brace of pheasants to each of them, who is thus enabled to enjoy a delicacy which would otherwise be quite beyond his means. In this way he distributes about a thousand birds.

Dr. Schliemann's Bequests.

ATHENS, Jan. 8.—Dr. Schliemann left his property to be divided among his relatives, including £4000 to his first wife's heirs. The sum of £800 is left to Prof. Virchow. The palace at Athens, with all its collections and library, excepting only the Trojan vessels which are intended for Berlin, are bequeathed to the widow.

Have Been Reinstated.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The 200 clerks in the postal saving-banks suspended for refusing to work overtime have apologized and have been reinstated.

MGR. LABELLE'S FUNERAL.

The Apostle of Colonization Buried in Vestments of Purple and White.

ST. JEROME, Que., Jan. 8.—Few have ever witnessed a more touching scene than that which was presented this morning here in the church of which Mgr. Labelle, the departed apostle of colonization was so long the cure, and from which edifice the funeral took place. Men of all grades crowded the church. A special train from Montreal carried a thousand passengers to attend the funeral. Several members of both Dominion and Local Houses of Parliament were also present. The dead priest was dressed in his vestments of purple and white as a member of the Vatican household. Mgr. Duhamel officiated and Mgr. Moreau sang the absolute at the cemetery chapel where the remains were interred. The pallbearers were Hon. J. A. Chapleau, Hon. H. Mercier, Hon. George Duhamel, Hon. Wilfred Prevost, Mayors Leclerc and Demontigny of the village and parish respectively, and Messrs. Paquine and Joseph Champagne representing the Fabrique. Hon. Mr. Mercier stated that the Government will head a subscription to erect a monument to the late cure here in St. Jerome.

THE NATIONALIST TRAIN.

Cannot be Moved so Long as There is an Engine at Both Ends.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Daily News says it is a pity that Mr. O'Brien cannot devote his talent and enthusiasm with Home Rulers here instead of wasting them in Boulogne. He has no more authority to propose the resignation of Mr. McCarthy than he has to propose the abdication of the Queen. Mr. Parnell has been lawfully deposed and Mr. McCarthy has been lawfully elected. The question is settled and cannot be reopened during the present session. Mr. Parnell, moreover, has committed political suicide and his return to his former post now or at any other time is impossible.

The Standard says the present reticence of the two Irish parties is a sign that an energetic attempt is being made to patch up the quarrel, both sides realising the difficulty of moving the National train with an engine at each end. The probable result of the conference of the Irish leaders will be a renewal of the Parnell regime after a short retirement.

Shocking Tragedy in Essex.

LEEDS, Eng., Jan. 8.—A terrible tragedy has been discovered in Salcot, Essex, a village between the estuaries of the Blackwater and the Colne. The victim is a farmer named Joseph Leatherdale, who for many years has lived in a lonely homestead with his nephew, Arthur Leatherdale, aged 17. On Saturday last the old farmer mysteriously disappeared, and Mr. Charles Smith, farmer, asked Arthur Leatherdale to go with them to Vine Cottage, the residence of the deceased. To this he readily consented, and the house was searched. On entering the kitchen the searchers noticed a cupboard beneath the stairs barricaded with a wooden bench, and on removing the bench they found the body of the murdered man, the head being thrust beneath the stairs and the legs doubled over against each corner of the cupboard. The head was tied up in a sack, which was saturated with blood, and a halter was twisted around the neck. At the nape of the neck was a deep wound, evidently caused by a gun shot delivered at close quarters, and the farmer's grey hairs were drenched with blood, spots of which appeared to have been removed from the stairs and parlor doorstep. The hair at the bottom of the neck was singed, evidently by gunpowder, and two guns were found in the kitchen. A number of percussion caps, fitting one of the guns, were found on the prisoner, who, when charged with the crime, replied, "I was here when he was shot. I helped to put him in the cupboard. There were four or five of us. I shall not split. I will take it all myself." The inquiry was adjourned until Tuesday next.

The Koch Lymph Not What it is Cracked Up to Be.

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—Prof. Virchow delivered a lecture before the Berlin Medical Society, giving the results of 21 post mortem examinations made on bodies of patients who died after being treated with lymph according to the Koch method. Prof. Virchow declared the injection of the lymph increased the bacilli in the body and caused them to infiltrate to portions of the body previously unaffected, thus virtually generating a new affection. The Professor also said the lymph invariably causes intense hyperæmia in various parts of the body and endangers the life of the patient. It had not been clearly proved that the lymph would destroy tuberculous tissue, add it was dangerous to operate on weak patients. He declared much patient experimenting with the lymph was still necessary to establish a clear judgment of its remedial value.

Chinese Justice.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—A Shanghai despatch says that the Chinese Imperial authorities, at the instance of the foreign ministers, are bringing to justice the murderers of Christians in Shechuen. The ringleader had both his ears cut off and was exposed in a cage for three days without food, when he died.

The French Proposals.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Chronicle says it hopes Lord Salisbury will not consent to the renewal of the modus vivendi with France which is so obnoxious to Newfoundland. It declares the French proposals are impracticable and that the present state of affairs in France does not promise hopefully for settlement of the difficult problem.

A Blizzard on the Adriatic.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—At Fiume and Trieste on the Adriatic the storm wages with unabated severity. In both cities all the theatres and other places of amusement are closed and the street cars have stopped running. The blizzard is so fierce that it is dangerous to venture out. Traffic is at a complete standstill and the streets are almost totally deserted.

Cholera in Syria.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The official returns give 1878 as the number of deaths from cholera within the past three months in the vilayet of Aleppo, 1182 in that of Syria, and 53 in that of Adana. But the actual mortality is probably much greater than the official statement of it, and hence the anxiety being displayed by the French Committee of Public Health as regards the communication maintained by Marseilles and Bordeaux with the parts mentioned.

Dublin's Big Death Rate.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The cold and raw weather is responsible for an alarming increase in the death rate in most European cities. One of the most startling reports on this subject comes from Dublin, where the number of deaths during the past week reached the phenomenal proportion of 40 6-10 in 1000. The majority of the deaths were from pulmonary complaints.

Royalty to Wed.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The marriage of the Princess Christian's daughter Louise to Prince Aribert of Anhalt will be celebrated during the month of July, in the private chapel of Windsor Castle.

Another Betrothal.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 8.—The betrothal of the Grand Duchess Xenia, daughter of the Czar, to her cousin, the Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch, is announced. The marriage will be celebrated on the return of the Grand Duke from his tour of the east.

Strolling Actors Charged With Murder.

GENEVA, Jan. 8.—Four strolling actors were arrested here to-day, charged with murdering a woman whose mutilated body was found recently at Noubrochock. The woman was criminally assaulted and then killed.

Is He a British Spy?

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 8.—Mozambique advices say the Portuguese there have arrested an American named Moore on suspicion of being a British spy. The United States consul has demanded a full enquiry.

A Little Dance All to Themselves.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 8.—Indians on the reserve about nine miles southeast of Deloraine are now engaged in dancing, with the exception of three bucks, who are working as usual. The reserve is only a small one and is mainly composed of refugees from the United States. There are probably not over a dozen dancing.

O'Brien Denies It.

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER, Jan. 8.—Mr. McCarthy and Mr. Sexton are expected here to-morrow. Mr. O'Brien denies that Parnell has agreed to retire and that he (O'Brien) is to replace McCarthy as leader of the Irish party.

Scott Act Defeated.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Jan. 8.—The Scott Act election took place to-day and resulted in the defeat of the act by majority of 14.

Personal Liberty vs. Personal Slavery.

We are all free American citizens, enjoying our personal liberty; but most of us are in physical slavery, suffering from Scrofula, salt rheum or some other form of impure blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great blood purifier which destroys the seeds of disease, gives health and perfect physical liberty.

THE SAULT RAILWAY ROUTE.

THE following from the Montreal Witness in reference to the importance and advantage of the Sault Ste. Marie route from the west to the sea is of particular interest to this district as being connected with the proposed Lake Ontario, Peterborough and Sault Ste. Marie railway:

The railway companies connecting the West with the sea by way of Chicago have already found that the natural advantages of the newly opened Sault Ste. Marie route are such that they cannot compete with it except at a reduction in rates which would be ruinous to them. Nothing less than such a state of affairs could have produced the conference between the Western roads and the Eastern trunk lines which is to take place in New York this week, with the object of either forcing the Canadian Pacific to increase its rates, via the Sault line, or of arranging for a division between the Eastern and Western systems of the reductions which the less successful competition on the part of the Chicago roads will entail. At the present time the Sault line rates are from six to fifteen cents less than those charged by the Chicago lines.

A City Founded on Iron.

The mineral resources of Michigan, though great, are probably not greater than those of Ontario, and we can therefore look at what has been done there as affording a fairly good indication of what may be done here. Mr. Walter R. Nursey, a former resident of Canada, is the author of a pamphlet describing the city and port of Escanaba, the rise and growth of which are mainly due to the development of the iron mines of Michigan. The reader of this pamphlet is astounded to find that a city whose name he has perhaps heard for the first time is, in tonnage, one of the four great seaports of the world, surpassed in this respect only by London, Liverpool and New York, and that it claims the honor of being the iron port of the world. Mr. Nursey compares this claim with that of Bilbad, the most important shipping point of the Iberian peninsula of Spain. In 1889 there were shipped from Bilbad 3,000,000 tons of iron ore; from Escanaba 3,003,632 tons, and the present season will probably show an output of 3,300,000 tons for seven months. Again, it is said that the world's production of iron ore in 1889 was 54,000,000 tons, and that of this the Lake Superior district produced one-eighth. Three quarters of this, that is to say, more than one-eleventh of the world's product was shipped from the port of Escanaba. Five years since it was practically a village in the wilderness; to-day it has a population of 5,000, three newspapers, schools, churches, a retail trade estimated at three million dollars a year, a wholesale trade, including iron ore, pig iron, lumber and coal estimated at twenty-five millions, and a lumber output of 120,000,000 feet. It is probable that the writer of this pamphlet does not over-estimate the mineral wealth of Michigan, the part it has played in the prosperity of the State, and the possibilities of still greater prosperity. In 1889 the total shipment of ore from 70 mines in Michigan were 5,829,828 tons. The Chapin mine alone is producing from 600,000 to 800,000 tons a year, and, according to a recent survey, it has at the present rate of production enough ore to last thirty years. Every year the iron-producing ranges are enlarged in area by the discovery of fresh ore beds. The ores, too, are said to be as rich as those of Sweden and the purest in the world. But great as is the mineral wealth of Michigan, it is probably equalled if not surpassed by that of Ontario. We have not only great deposits of iron, but a supply of nickel which for all practical purposes may be regarded as inexhaustible; and the two ores are complementary to one another, each enhancing the value of the other, for it is a combination of the two metals which forms nickel steel. The industry of manufacturing nickel steel is as yet in its infancy, but the growth has already been rapid and promises to be prodigious. Only the expensiveness of the metal has hitherto prevented it from coming largely into use in the arts and manufactures. Its value has for some time been recognized. Its strength, as indicated by breaking and twisting tests, is far greater than the strength of steel; its lightness and strength combined make it a most desirable material for marine engines, ships, bridges and other great works. The tests made in the American navy show how well adapted it is for the armoring of ships, and the British Government is now making similar tests. The only objection which has been made to its use is on the score of expense and this objection is no longer formidable since the discovery of the immense deposits of nickel in Ontario, while the cost likely to be still further diminished by the invention of new modes of separating the nickel from the copper with which it is found and of fusing it with steel. One of these, it is said, will make it possible to use nickel steel for every purpose for which steel is now used, including such heavy pieces of work as armor plate, bridge, iron and steel rails. The nickel mines in the neighborhood of Sudbury already employ nearly 1,000 men. There is excellent reason to believe that the people of Ontario will receive not only the profit of mining the ore, but the profit of all the processes required for the manufacture of nickel steel; and this, not by the clumsy and risky expedient of putting an export duty on nickel ore, but by virtue of the great natural advantages which we possess for manufacturing the metal.

House Treatment of Disease by Electricity.

Every day one hears of some wonderful cure of disease achieved by Electricity. It is coming more into use of late and is now used by many physicians as the greatest remedy in many forms of disease. Until recently the one objection to this form of treatment was the expense attached to it, but the inventions of Mr. C. H. Dorenwend, of Toronto, has simplified matters and it is now an easy accomplishment to treat oneself intelligently and at but small cost. Mr. Dorenwend's inventions consist of a Belt having a battery of a number of cells and suitable attachments to apply the current. The Battery supplies a current of electricity that can be regulated at will; it is conveyed from the battery by conductors to the diseased parts. The whole contrivance is exceedingly well planned, and any person of ordinary intelligence can operate it with ease. It is nature's first remedy for all forms of nervous and muscular disease, and all afflicted persons should take advantage of the opportunity offered by C. H. Dorenwend of procuring suitable appliances. Mr. D. will be at the Grand Central Hotel on Thursday and Friday, Jan. 22 and 23, and will have a full line of Belts and Attachments with him. His stay is limited, as he has many places to visit.

Just Now

All are laying in their little store of luxuries, so I wish to call their attention to my immense stock of Liquors. I have a very fine Port Wine, well aged, which I am running off very cheap. Fine Ginger Wine. Natives, from the finest Concord Grapes. Some special lines of very old Port, which may be considered high in price, but when the age is taken into consideration, it appears low. I may speak the same of Brandy, Cherry, Whisky, Gin, Claret, Rum, Old Tom, Sherry, J. Ball. My stock of Liquors not only being the largest, is considered the most complete of any in town. My bottled Goods consist of Clubs, Gooderham & Worts, Imperial, Old Times, White Wheat, Hennessy, Martell, Jamieson's. Liquors of all kinds, etc., etc. W. J. MORROW 340 George street. dw

RED CLOUD SURRENDERS.

He Folds His Tent and Silently Steals Away From the Hostiles.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, Jan. 8.—Gen. Miles has received an official report that Lieut. Edward Casey, Company "H," 22d Infantry, has been killed by the hostiles. The young officer had gone too near the hostile camp when he was fired on and shot through the head. The body of Jesse Miller, who was murdered by the hostiles north of the agency on White Clay Creek, was brought in yesterday. The body was horribly mutilated.

Last night General Brooke sent out a detachment under Lieut. Getty to recover the remains of Lieut. Casey. The body was found stripped, but not mutilated. It was borne to Quinicha, whence it will be sent to Fort Keogh, Montana. Red Cloud came into the agency this morning and General Miles has appointed an hour to hold a conference with him. The old man slipped out of the hostile camp last night and with his wife walked 16 miles to this place. General Miles is hopeful his example will be followed by others. Colonel Mason, inspector-general of the Department of Dakota Fifth Infantry, and Colonel Baldwin are ascertaining all the facts relative to the fight on Wounded Knee Creek. No charges have been made against Colonel Forsythe for his conduct in that engagement, nor has he been placed under arrest.

The Murder of Lieut. Casey.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, Jan. 8.—Yankton Charley, one of Buffalo Bill's men now employed as scout here, brings particulars of the murder of Lieut. Casey yesterday. Casey had started to visit the hostiles to induce the chiefs to come in to talk with Gen. Brooke. He passed a small band of Ogallalas, who were butchering, and proceeded further, followed, however, by two of the Indians, who appeared friendly. He was shortly afterwards met by Pete Richards, son-in-law of Red Cloud, who had been sent by the latter to warn him not to approach nearer the hostiles, because it was dangerous. Casey said he would ride to the top of a little knoll, whence he could get a view of the hostile camp. Richards dissuaded him and he and Casey turned around and departed. Just then Richards heard a shot and, turning back, saw Casey fall from his horse. The bullet passed through Casey's head. The shot was fired by the younger of the two Ogallalas, who had followed Casey. Richards would have shot the murderer, but his cartridges did not fit his gun.

Lieutenant Casey was a brother of General Thomas L. Casey, the chief of engineers of the army.

SUSPECTED MURDER.

Mysterious Death of a Septuagenarian at Seaforth.

SEAFORTH, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Bailey Lupton, aged 70 years, who has been a resident of Egmondville, adjoining Seaforth, for a number of years, was found lying on the floor of her house to-day with life extinct. Fears of foul play are entertained, as her husband, being under the influence of liquor yesterday and to-day, is unable to tell a very straight story. The old couple were comfortably well off and have no family. A post mortem will be held to-night.

VICTORIA CARBOLIC SALVE is a wonderful healing compound for cuts, wounds, bruises, burns, scalds, boils, piles, pimples, etc. dw

Purity of the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditary and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. Your blood is nothing more conclusively than the proven positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

The Dorenwend Electric Belt is provided with a battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of electricity. It can be felt and can be regulated at will by the wearer while the belt is on the body. It is a light contrivance and can be worn at any time without the least inconvenience. It is the only Electric Belt in the world that follows out the true principles of electrical science. It has been examined and pronounced by experts and authorities to be the most practical and efficient method of bodily application yet invented.

THE DORENWEND ELECTRIC FOOT BATTERY cures Cramps, Rheumatism, Defective Circulation, Cold Feet, &c. This is the only insole in the world provided with a battery, consequently it is the only one producing a current. All others are simply soles of felt with pieces of zinc and copper fastened to them.

Be Careful.—If you are an afflicted one and are contemplating electrical treatment, see what you are getting before you invest. There are many humbugs in the country.

Remember every Dorenwend Belt is guaranteed, and will accomplish all as a curative that electricity can. The current in all Dorenwend appliances can be distinctly felt, and can be regulated to weak and strong degrees. They are the "World's Best," and their equal cannot be found. Now is the time to procure one. Call anyway and examine them, and get a copy of Book on Home Treatment.

At Grand Central Hotel, on Thursday and Friday, January 22 and 23.

THE KNOCK OUT BLOW.

THE WHY AND THE WHEREFORE EXPLAINED BY AN EXPERT.

The Workings of the Force of a Blow Delivered on the Vital Parts—Various Blows Pictorially Illustrated and Their Effects Explained.

"How is a man knocked out?" is a question often asked, says the New York Sun. Good fighters know what portions of their anatomy they must defend in order to avoid being put to sleep, but few know the "inside" reasons why a blow on this or that point will send a man into the land of unconsciousness. It is a simple thing when you know it, like everything else, and to know it it isn't necessary to go through the operation with your own person; in fact, an experience of that kind alone will give you no more information than you have now. The cause and effect, as explained by Dr. Philip E. Doulin, Coroner's physician, who has made the study of shock one of rare interest, and who has delivered lectures on that and relative subjects before the Medico-Legal and other societies, are something like this:

There are two divisions of nerves that every man has concealed about his person. One is the cerebro-spinal, and the other is sympathetic. The first named is called that of animal life, because it influences the physical actions of man. It finds its harbor along the spine and in the brain, and influences one to make this, that, or the other action, such as a step forward or the lifting of a hand. It is the main division, because it directly compels the brain to act, and, without the action of the brain, there is no life worth talking about. The other is the ruler of the organs and blood vessels, and is known as the organic division. It has a close connection with the former division, through departments or "little brains," that may be said to nest along the spine, and, upon due encouragement, communicate with the other, send the shock up along the spinal column and thus affect the brain.

In the animal life division, sleepfulness, or coma, is produced by a blow on or about the head. A "trap on the jaw" sends a shock to the brain which causes a rattling and a jumble that for the time being, or possibly permanently, bring about lifelessness by concussion.

ON THE POINT OF THE JAW.

The blow to produce that effect may be delivered on the jawbone, whether near the chin, under or behind the ear, or anywhere near the base of the brain.

THE BLOW BEHIND THE EAR.

It doesn't require a Hercules to deliver it either, so long as it fetches up in the right spot. Neither are bare knuckles nor skin gloves essential. On the contrary, the man wearing boxing gloves can do the act more successfully, for the reason that when he lands he can cover a greater surface of vulnerable space with the comparatively brand expanse that the mitten presents than with the natural uncovered hand. This is easily shown by the record of John L. Sullivan who went about the country knocking people out in three or four rounds, several a week, in public exhibitions, where only the "pillows," or four-ounce gloves, were permitted by the authorities to be used.

Before Sullivan opened up his knocking-out career it was seldom that the putting of a man to sleep was heard of. This is doubtless due to the fact that in former years London prize ring rules governed most battles. In these wrestling is permitted, and rounds are often quickly ended by a throw of one of the contestants to the ground, before there is much opportunity for stand-off, square hitting, as there is under Queensberry rules, under which John L. made his name.

ON THE JUGULAR VEIN.

There is also the blow on the neck, or jugular vein, that will bring about coma. This blow is delivered on the arteries of the neck, and drives the blood up into the brain in such a way as to create a havoc equal to the effect of the communication by way of the jaw. It is more or less of a case of swamp, in which the brain is overpowered by the flood and jar, and drops out of the performance of its normal functions.

THE HEART BLOW.

In the organic division, a blow over the heart will do the same work. In this case the force that lands on the body is carried in to the heart, and instantaneously is spread to the "little brains" alongside the spinal column, and thence to the brain. The result is the same in each case. The causes are intricate in their workings, but the facts, as above stated, will give a general idea of how a man is knocked out.

Found Dead by His Wife.

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 7.—Mr. Hillman, Albert-street, had been complaining during the night. About 12 o'clock noon yesterday Mrs. Hillman had occasion to go up town, and on her return she was horrified to find her husband dead. Heart trouble was the direct cause of death. Deceased was 72 years old.

JOE COBURN'S LAST FIGHT.

It Was With Disease and the Veteran Pugilist Battled till Death.

Joe Coburn, the old time pugilist, died of consumption at New York on the 6th Dec. Twenty-five years ago Coburn, then thirty years old, was the leading pugilist of America. Born in Ireland, he grew up in New York where he was a bricklayer before he was known as a professional prize fighter. He was regarded as a coming champion when in his first fight of note he defeated Awful Gardner, one of the cleverest men of his day, in six rounds. His first fight under London prize ring rules was with Ned Price, now a well-known criminal lawyer of New York. The battle, which took place at Still Pond, Md., lasted 2 hours and 35 minutes, ending in a draw on account of darkness. Both men were confined to their rooms for two weeks from the terrible punishment they received. In 1858 Coburn whipped Harry Gribbin in half an hour for $1,000 a side. Hen Winkles, a western crack, was next beaten by Joe for $1,000 a side in 18 minutes. Coburn was then matched to fight Mike McCool, the terror of the Mississippi, for $2,500 a side and the championship of America. He defeated McCool in one hour and ten minutes. Coburn escaped without a scratch. Patsy Flynn came over from England in 1857 and challenged Coburn for $1,000 a side. The fight occurred in a room and Patsy lasted just two minutes and a half. A short time after this Coburn whipped Con Fitzgerald, New Yorker, in two blows. His next important match was in England, with Jem Mace, for $5,000 a side and the championship of the world. Before making the match, however, the Mace party pitted Joe Goss, Tom Allen and Bill Ryall against Joe to see what he could do. He bested them all. Coburn tossed for choice of the battle ground with Mace, which was to be held within 600 miles of London. Coburn won the toss, and he selected the county in which he was born. There was no fight. Mace forfeited $1,000, and Coburn returned to America. He challenged the Englishman repeatedly without being able to draw into a fight. Mace emigrated to America and opened a saloon in New York. A friend of Coburn's bet him $50 one day that he would not dare to go to Mace's saloon and punch him in the face. Coburn promptly accepted the wager. Coburn met Mace and tried to draw him on to fight, but Mace declined, Coburn finally called him a cur and then blacked his eye by a blow of his fist. Mace could do nothing after this but challenge Coburn. Joe was only too glad to meet his old rival and a match was speedily arranged. They met at Port Dover, Can. After fighting 75 minutes and neither having struck a blow the sheriff and a posse of deputies appeared and ordered them off Canadian soil. The referee ordered the men to meet at the Reade House, Erie, Pa., at 5 o'clock the following morning. Coburn arriving at the hotel went to Mace's room and offered to fight him then and there. Mace refused to do anything but what the referee ordered. The referee then named Kansas City as the place of fighting. Coburn declined, as it was a violation of the rules, which called for the battle ground to be within 500 miles of New York. The men were again matched for $5,000 a side and the championship. The battle took place at Bay City, Miss., in the latter part of 1873 and during a terrible rainstorm. After fighting three hours and a half, a greater part of the time up to their knees in mud the referee called the fight a draw. This was his last important battle.

Mr. J. H. Hourigan, after using Wilson's Wild Cherry in his family for eight years, writes us that it has never failed to cure coughs, colds, whooping cough or bronchitis. Be wise, profit by the experience of others, and use Wilson's Wild Cherry when afflicted with any such trouble. Sold by all druggists. dw

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in a peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam Balsam for coughs and colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The Large Bottles are 50c, and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

Powder Mill Explosion.

A powder mill explosion affects the country for miles round, but dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, headache, loss of appetite and debility, affect humanity the world over. The editor of the Mitchell Recorder states that he was cured of biliousness, liver trouble and sick headache, by Burdock Blood Bitters. Is it not worth trying on such evidence? 2wld

The surplus accumulated during the THREE years of the current quinquennium far exceeds the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail to be highly satisfactory. The prosperity of the Sun Life is no doubt largely due to its issuing unconditional policies and paying its claims promptly. Canadians should also remember that by patronizing a Home institution, which invests all its funds in the Dominion, they are benefiting themselves by reducing the rate of interest here, and are helping to build up our own cities rather than those of foreign states.

It was given in Mr. Webb's best style and was illustrated with sketches of the various stopping places between England and India.

The Cobourg Railway Bonus.

On Monday last the bylaw to aid the Cobourg, Northumberland & Pacific Railway Co., by granting thereto the sum of $30,000 by way of bonus was carried by a practically unanimous vote of the property owners of the town of Cobourg, the majority being 468 and the local vote only 480. Simultaneously the bylaw to aid the C. N. & P. R. Co., by granting the sum of $10,000, was carried in Haldimand township by a majority of 139 —348 to 209. Counting subsidies and bonuses the promotors of the boom claim to have $176,000 to squander on a line to take business and life from Cobourg.

We Can Beat Bobcaygeon.

At the Bobcaygeon fancy dress carnival on New Year's night there were fifty-six merry maskers, a splendid showing for our northern neighbors. But at the carnival under the auspices of the Foresters on Jan. 16th the number of maskers with costumes grave and gay, grotesque and gorgeous, will be at the very least three times that figure. Don't neglect to make arrangements to attend this carnival. If you go as a spectator you will see one of the most gorgeous spectacular displays, the biggest thing on ice, ever presented here. If you go as a masker you stand a chance to win one of the many magnificent prizes offered for competition. The prizes are now on view in the north en show window of the Peterborough Bookstore, and, specious as it is, there is far from room enough left to dance a cotillion. 1d

Ashburnham's Banquet.

The Capital of Desire Does Its Duty—A Delightful Evening at the Bennett House—The Municipal Election Contest Peacefully and Joyously Concluded—All Hard Feelings Swallowed with Mine Host Bennett's Banquet.

There was a sound of revelry by night
And Desire's capital had gathered then,
Her beauty and her her chivalry, and bright
The lamps shone o'er fair women and brave men.

A thousand hearts beat happily and when—Mr. David Pilkey took the chair at the banquet spread at the Bennett House, a splendid evening's enjoyment began, a number of the residents of Peterborough and Ashburnham being present there last night, the occasion arising out of the recent elections. There were about forty guests—the friends of the several candidates—and this number would have been much greater had not the supper been largely of an impromptu affair, thus preventing larger invitation. Impromptu it was, however, "mine host" Mr. S. Bennett was equal to the occasion, and the elegant spread he provided has seldom been surpassed in any hotel in the district. After the substantial viands, which tempted and then satisfied the appetite, had been disposed of, the feast of reason and the flow of eloquence and enjoyment began. The toast list was presided over by Mr. David Pilkey, who occupied the chair, Mr. C. Brownlee filling the vice chair.

The toast list was opened with the singing of the National Anthem. "The Queen" was, of course, royally as well as loyally honored. "Our Commercial Interests" brought very pleasant speeches from Mr. J. C. Gallivan and Mr. Charles Moore. "Our Agricultural interests were duly acknowledged by Mr. J. J. Bennett and Mr. Jas. Cumming. At this stage Mr. Harry Neil introduced the pathetic song "I'm Getting to be a Big Boy Now." "Our Manufacturing Industries" brought speeches from Messrs. Neil and Crane, and Capt. Claire Calcutt gave a song. Mr. S. McElroy enjoyed a monopoly of "Our Railroads", and Mr. J. T. Craig upheld the responsibility of "Our Municipality." Mr. Wm. H. Gould favored the company with a song. "The Army and Navy" was duly acknowledged by Lieut G W. Bennett and Capt. Claire Calcutt. "The Ladies" extracted gallant and eloquent speeches from Messrs. Harry Neil and Alex. Patterson. In response to "Our Lumbering Industries" Mr. H. Thompson upheld his end of the stick. The toast list ended with the appropriate song by Mr. Gould "Barney Come Home," and a very enjoyable evening was brought to a close.

A "Royal" Entertainment.

A Poor Audience Witnesses a Rich Entertainment.

If the audience at the Opera House last night is any index of the popular sympathy with the prosperity and progress of one of the most aggressive and effective temperance organizations of the age, then the temperance sentiment of the town has been greatly overrated. There was a very small attendance at the entertainment given under the auspices of the Royal Templars. The affair had been well advertised, prices were low, and the entertainment a first-class one. The general programme consisted of two piano-forte solos given with great spirit by Mr. Umpleby, two beautifully sung solos by Mrs. W. Daly, and a charming recitation by Miss Gorman. But the chief feature of the evening's entertainment was the magnificent stereopticon entertainment of Mr. R. M. Roy. He first took the spectator by land from London to Rome, showing splendidly displayed, clear-cut pictures of the chief public buildings and scenes to be met with in an over-Alp journey. The quality of the pictures was worthy of all praise and they have never been surpassed by any professional stereopticon. Then the journey from Niagara Falls to Quebec was full of interest, the personal knowledge of most of the audience enabling them to testify to the fidelity of the reproductions. Many magnificent views of the falls were shown, of Toronto and Peterborough. The local scenes were beautiful and correct, and a credit both to Mr. Roy's camera, his taste and his manipulating skill. The exhibition closed with a splendid series of local views, including one of "Hotel West Lake," north country, and any number of camping and hunting scenes, in which the familiar figures and faces of well-known sportsmen, magnified to the size of fish-stories, gave especial delight to the juvenile portion of the spectators. Mr. Roy gives a capital exhibition, and if the public had any approximate idea of the delight experienced by those who witnessed his exhibition last night, the hall would have been crowded.

Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society.

The Annual Meeting—Reports Presented—Election of Officers.

The thirtieth annual meeting of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society was held in the Council Chamber on Thursday afternoon at four p.m. There were present: Mr. J. H. Roper, president in the chair, and Rev. V. Clementi, Mr. James Stevenson, Dr. Burnham, Mr. T. A. Hay, Mr. F. J. Lewis, treasurer, Mr. P. Henry, secretary, and Mr. Robt. Pope.

The annual report of the directors was read and adopted, as follows:—

To the Members of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society:

GENTLEMEN,—The Directors beg to submit the following report:

The past year has been one of the most successful that we have experienced for a number of years. Our annual show was better patronized by the public than ever before and though the number of exhibits was less than in the previous year, still there was more interest manifested in the display, both by the members and the general public.

We are pleased to state also that the appearance of the Court House Park has been greatly improved during the past season under the management of Mr. Frank Mason.

As far as the finances of the society are concerned, we may say that we are certainly well pleased with the substantial progress made during the past twelve months. At the beginning of the year our total indebtedness amounted to about $220, and we have reduced it down to about $50, which is mostly made up by outstanding accounts, and this account we expect to wipe out during the coming year. The treasurer's report is herewith submitted.

P. HENRY, Secretary. J. H. ROPER, President.

The treasurer's report was submitted as follows:

Curling for the Cup.

Peterborough Takes the Trick.

The third of a series of six matches in the contest for the Peterborough-Lindsay challenge cup was played here to-day, with the satisfactory result of giving the rinks at the Peterborough end of the competition a majority of five shots. Both home rinks led the play from the start, and at no time were they overtaken. The following is the result here:—

Geo. Edmison,	T. Saddler,
J. B. Bantland,	W. H. Simpson,
S. Clegg,	J. M. Knowlson,
T. Rutherford, sk...22	John McMillan, sk...18

AT LINDSAY.

At Lindsay the Peterborough stones "got their" in good shape also, as the following score shows:—

Scientific Notes.

Soundings in the Black Sea show that beyond a depath of 600 feet the water is so impregnated with sulphuretted hydrogen gas emanating from decaying animal and vegetable matter that living organisms are not found there.

Dr. Hannah Longshore, the famous Philadelphia physician, always eats a ripe, not cooked, juicy apple with her breakfast. She slices it thinly into a dish and covers it with fine sugar, claiming that, in this form, it assimilates with her food.

The rotoscope performs a service for the public that is not generally known. But for the rotoscope portrait photography would not to-day be much in advance of the pictures made 40 years ago. Then negatives had to be made dense enough to obliterate freckles, wrinkles and other defects appearing on the face of the average human being.

The telephone has played an important part in the naval manoeuvres of the Swedish fleet. There is a telephonic post on board each vessel and, when lying at anchor, they can telephone to one another by means of insulated conductors, which are run down the anchor chains and submerged. In Sweden trading vessels arriving in dock are quickly connected by telephone to the nearest exchange.

A flower has been discovered in South America which is only visible when the wind blows. The shrub belongs to the cactus family and is about three feet high. The stem is covered with dead, warty-looking lumps in calm weather; these lumps, however, need but a slight breeze to make them unfold large flowers of a creamy white, which close and appear as dead as soon as the wind subsides.

Recent researches by European bacteriologists have discovered the germ cause of diphtheria, and have also revealed one fact respecting its origin which is of the greatest importance, namely, that cows frequently suffer from this disease, and that the germs may pass from the system of the cow into the milk and thus be communicated to human beings. This is another important reason for the cooking of milk.

TIED ON A "FLUKE."

The Toronto-Buffalo Match not yet Completed—To be Finished To-Day.

BUFFALO, Jan. 8.—The curling match today between the Buffalo and Toronto Caledonians for the Davis trophy resulted in a tie because of a "fluke." Toronto rink No. 3 left the game at the conclusion of the 18th "end," two of the players saying they must catch a train. It had been agreed to play 21 ends. The score of this rink was thrown out, making the standing 61 apiece. To-morrow morning two rinks of each club will decide the match. The visitors were banqueted at the Tift House to-night and an enjoyable time was had, the only regret being at the unsatisfactory conclusion of the game. The score:

Toronto rink No. 1—Thomas Robertson, George Duthie, W. D. McIntosh, W. Christie, skip 16.

Buffalo rink No. 1—D. Alinas, H. C. Frost, P. A. Vogt, P. Heinz, skip 25.

AN AMERICAN DIVORCE.

That Won't Go in the Toronto Police Court—Mrs. Armstrong's Case.

TORONTO, Jan 8.—Henry M. Armstrong, a paperhanger, was charged in the police court to-day with the non-support of his wife. He is a Canadian, who, about twenty years ago, married a Louisville, Ky., girl while living in that city. He returned to Canada with his wife, and when he proposed again living in the States she refused. He has since lived alone in the United States, and on May 10 last secured a divorce from her on the ground of desertion, and received the custody of their three children. The mother got hold of one of the children and this brought Armstrong back to Toronto, where he was immediately arrested on the above charge. He produced a copy of the divorce certificate, but the magistrate said he would pay no attention to it, save taking it as evidence that Armstrong did not intend to support her. The case was adjourned until Jan. 15, the magistrate advising the wife not to surrender the custody of her child without an order from the Canadian court.

A quiet wedding was celebrated in the Central Presbyterian Church, Stanley-crescent and Grosvenor-street, on Monday night. Dr. D. J. Gibb Wishart, who has taken up his residence opposite the church, was married to Miss Gunther, sister of the first Mrs. Wishart. Rev. John Neill was the officiating clergyman, assisted by Rev. Dr. McTavish and Rev. Mr. Wishart.

Last night about 8¼ two men, Charles Brownlow furniture dealer, Yonge-street, and Douglas Percy, 14 Lymes-place, while driving in a single cutter collided with a telegraph pole near Bloor-street and Avenue-road. The horse ran away. Brownlow was taken home, and Percy was removed to the hospital, where a number of scalp wounds were attended to. They are not serious.

McCarthy's Suit for $50,000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—White Hat McCarthy is suing S. W. and C. W. Parker, trustees of the Altonwood Stock Farm, for $50,000 damages. The suit is now being pressed in the Superior Court. McCarthy avers that he was induced by the Parkers to put his horses into the stock farm corporation. The consideration that he was to receive was one-half of the capital stock, 50 shares, and $50,000 in cash. He received one-half of the capital but only $5000 in cash. The matter was patched up, and it was agreed to sell the stock and pay McCarthy the cash as arranged originally. The sale took place at Madison Square Garden and McCarthy declares the horses were bid in by the Parkers at prices far below their value. He never received the cash, and brought this suit for an accounting and to have his rights protected. Counsel for the defence contended that McCarthy overestimated the value of the stock. McCarthy's charges were denied and a claim set up that the court had no jurisdiction in the matter, as the business was carried on in Westchester county. The court reserved decision.

30 FAMILIES HOMELESS.

MADE DESTITUTE BY A GREAT FIRE IN PARIS.

The Flames Started in the Rear of a Hatter's Shop and It is Not Known Whether all the Inmates of the House Escaped—The Loss $200,000.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—A fearful conflagration, which has rendered 30 families homeless and which may cause the loss of several lives, occurred at an early hour yesterday. A few minutes after midnight fire was discovered in the rear of a hatter's store, situated on the first floor of a crowded building of the Rue Verrerie.

An alarm of fire was soon echoing through the building, but the flames spread so rapidly that the horror-stricken occupants of the several floors had barely time to rush into the street in their night clothes. Those who made vain attempts to save a few of their most valuable belongings barely escaped with their lives, being driven out scorched and half suffocated by the flames and smoke, which spread in a very few minutes from the lower to the upper floors of the buildings. Several mothers with their younger children clasped in their arms joined in the rush of terrified people down the stairs of the burning building and were knocked down and in many instances trampled upon by those of the male and female lodgers who were unincumbered by children in arms.

One man distinguished himself by rushing, upon the first discovery of the fire, from floor to floor, knocking at all the doors of the sleeping-rooms and shouting that the house was on fire. There is little doubt that this man's action saved a number of lives. Pompiers, or the fire department, was upon the scene in reasonable time, considering the methods of the Paris fire department, but the fireman's efforts did not result in subduing the flames until three hours later, when two houses had been burned out and several others damaged by the conflagration.

When the fire was extinguished the firemen and policemen turned their attention to the crowds of people who had been rendered homeless by the flames. Many of them had sought and found refuge with their neighbors. But there were still a great number of poor people—men, women and children—who were sobbing, moaning and bewailing the loss of all their worldly possessions, as they crowded less than half clad in the neighboring doorways, huddled together in order to protect themselves from the cold.

The injured people were cared for at the nearest hospital, and it is feared that some of them may not survive their injuries. It is hoped, however, that no lives were lost, but this fact cannot be established until a careful count of the rescued people is made by the police, as several families are still searching for missing relatives. The general opinion, however, is that the missing ones will be found to have taken refuge in neighboring houses, and that they will be accounted for in due course of time.

It is suggested that a popular subscription should be started for the benefit of the thirty families, estimated to amount to at least one hundred people, who are thus deprived, in the middle of winter, of their furniture, clothing and other possessions.

As usual in such cases, the origin of the fire is unknown. It is popularly supposed to have originated through an overheated stove in the rear of the hatter's store. The amount of damage done has not yet been estimated by the police officials.

Violence by Strikers Feared at Bradford.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The trouble among the plush weavers and other mill hands employed by Lister & Co. of Bradford, who recently struck for an advance in their wages, is extending. The firm fears that the strikers may make an attack upon the mills, and has applied for protection to the authorities, who have detailed a strong force of police to guard the firm's property.

$350 from a Penny in the Slot.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—A jury has just awarded £70 damages to Compositor A. F. Woodward, who broke his arm last summer after putting his penny in the slot to try a public strength-testing machine, the spring of which gave way and broke his limb. The verdict is against the company that exhibits such unattended machines.

Died Dancing an Irish Jig.

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—The Burgomaster of the village of Engers, in Rhenish Prussia, telegraphs that Henry Schulider of New York, who had just married a farmer's daughter of Engers named Luyen Dickerin, died suddenly dancing an Irish jig there, while on a visit to his wife's parents. Heart failure was the cause of his death.

WINNIPEG.

Ghost Dancers and the Mounted Police—Murder or Suicide?

WINNIPEG, Jan. 9.—Telegrams received from the sheriff of Battineau, North Dakota to-day saying: Indians are armed and holding war dances and threatening settlers on Dakota side of line. They are on a reservation in Turtle Mountain. Please send mounted police at once. They must be taken care of at once." The reserve is only four miles north of the international boundary and is inhabited by Sioux refugees who fled from Minnesota after the massacre in '62. They only number 25 or 30 braves. Major McGibbon of the Mounted Police, who is stationed at Morden, has been communicated with, and Commissioner Herchmer is somewhere in the southwest making arrangements to watch these dancing Indians.

A recent arrival at Rat Portage from Rainy River says a man named Carruthers, who was in charge of Fotheringham's mill, has been either murdered or committed suicide. He was found in his house with a bullet in his head, and it is said his wife was in the house at the time of the occurrence.

Winnipeg Siftings has suspended publication.

Buffalo Defeats Toronto.

BUFFALO, Jan. 9.—It was an exciting struggle this afternoon at the Ellicott-street Rink between the Buffalo and Toronto Curling Clubs for the possession of the Thomson-Scovills medal, but the Bisonic brithers proved the winners by a small margin.

A Londoner Asphyxiated.

JACKSON, Mich., Jan. 8.—C. W. Henderson, aged 28, clerk in Bennett & Son's dry-goods store, was found dead in bed this afternoon, having been asphyxiated by water gas. He went to bed last night and turned on both burners of the water gas stove. He did not light one of them and gas escaped all night. His parents live in London, Ont.

SANK IN THE CHANNEL.

LOSS OF A BRITISH BARK WITH ALL HER CREW.

Massacres in New Guinea—Villages Looted and Scores of People Killed—Trouble in East Africa—English Residents in a Critical Condition—Mayor Sent to Gaol.

BRISBANE, Australia, Jan. 9.—Advices from New Guinea say the Tugaree, the head hunting tribe of the island, attacked a village and, during the raid, massacred 40 inhabitants and looted a large number of residences. The tribe threaten to attack some villages near the government post, held under command of Magistrate Cameron, who has charge of the western district. A force of armed constables has been sent to the assistance of Cameron, who has received order to act on the defensive.

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—The Berliner Tageblatt has received information from East Africa that the natives of Lamu have risen against the settlers, having been incited by Bakari, the deposed Sultan of Vitu. The British Consul has asked the Sultan of Zanzibar to send troops to the scene, as the position of the English inhabitants is very critical.

A MAYOR SENT TO JAIL.

End of the Sensational Toulon Case with Verdicts of Guilty.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—At Draguignon to-day at the trial of Ex-Mayor Fouroux of Toulon for conspiracy to procure a criminal operation upon his mistress, Mme. Jonquieres, counsel for Mme. Jonquieres demanded that she be acquitted of all responsibility for the crime. He said his client had yielded herself to the operation, because terrified at the threats of Fouroux, who alone should be held responsible for it. Mme. Jonquieres was now a wife without a home and had already been punished enough for her transgression.

During the day a serious tumult was created by the rough efforts of a crowd outside to enter the already crowded courtroom. Several women were trampled under foot and more or less seriously injured.

The jury, after debating nearly three hours, found all the accused guilty. The court then sentenced Laure to three years, Mme. Jonquieres to two years and Mme. Audibert to one year and six months imprisonment. Mayor Fouroux was sentenced to solitary imprisonment for five years. The sentences created a profound impression on the immense crowd in court. The prisoners were unmoved.

The Queen Subscribes $900.

DUBLIN, Jan. 9.—The relief fund raised in response to the recent declaration issued by the Viceroy and Chief Secretary Balfour concerning the condition of the poor in western Ireland now reaches £14,000. Among the latest contributions are £400 by Queen Victoria and £100 by Chancellor of the Exchequer Goschen.

CORK, Jan. 9.—While a meeting of the Board of Guardians of Clonakilty was in progress to-day a mob of about 100 laborers from the seacoast neighborhood suddenly broke in on the board. Heedless of remonstrances and of the show of resistance made by the police the laborers insisted upon having a hearing. The guardians finally consented to listen to the spokesman of the party. The latter said that they and their families were literally starving, and that they had individually not been able to earn a shilling in six months. They demanded work and told the guardians that they were driven to desperation by the suffering they and their families endured. The guardians promised to do their utmost to relieve the distress, but the means of the guardians are limited.

Dr. Koch Experimenting With a Cure For Two Virulent Infectious Diseases.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Now that the excitement concerning the lymph is subsiding and enquiries are made merely concerning the results, physicians are being aroused by the remarks of the famous English surgeon, Sir Josheph Lister, which recently appeared in The London Lancet: "Through Koch's great kindness I had the opportunity of penetrating into the arcana of the Hygienic Institute of Berlin, where I saw most beautiful researches carried on in that institution, of which Koch is the inspiring genius. I am not at liberty to mention details, but there can be no harm in my saying this much, that I saw in the case of two of the most virulent infectious diseases to which man is liable the course of the otherwise deadly disease cut short in the animals on which the experiments were performed, by the injection of a small quantity of a material perfectly constant in character, an inorganic chemical substance, as easily obtained as any article in the materia medica. Not only this, but by means of the same substance these animals were rendered incapable of taking the disease, and under the most potent inoculations perfect immunity was conferred upon them. I suspect that before many weeks have passed the world will be startled by the disclosure of these facts if they can be applied to man, although our experience of the different behavior of Koch's fluid in guinea pigs and in the human subject makes this a matter of uncertainty until tested by experiment. But if they can be applied to man the world will be astonished and the beneficence of these researches will be recognized everywhere. It is nothing but the fear that by publishing now the specific proof of preparing this material he might do infinite harm instead of good, that prevents him from making it known, and I must say that the carping criticism against Koch, on account of what is spoken of as a 'secret remedy,' has only exposed from absolute ignorance of the beautiful character of the man."

Another Collision in the British Channel Last Night.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The steamer Middleport and an unknown foreign brig collided to-night in the middle of the Channel. The brig was badly damaged and it is believed she went down with all hands.

The Cause of Death.

QUEBEC, Jan. 9.—Henri Chayori, a spruce gum gatherer, was found frozen to death in the woods near St. Theophile, Beauce. It appears that he left his companions to follow up a caribou, and that he was not seen afterwards until his dead body was found on the ice of the River du Loup.

Shot Himself in the Head.

HALIFAX, Jan. 9.—A 10-year-old son of Mrs. Mackenzie, proprietress of the Windsor Hotel, New Glasgow, accidentally shot himself in the left temple to-day, inflicting a terrible wound. The doctors have little hope of its recovery.

WRAPPED IN SNOW.

FROM JOHN O'GROAT'S HOUSE TO LAND'S END.

Many Women Trampled in Endeavoring to Secure Admission to a Court-room—The Glasgow Strike—The Queen Subscribes $900 to Relieve Irish Distress.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—It is now the seventh week of the prevalence of frost throughout the United Kingdom with no signs of abatement of the severity of the weather. From John O'Groat's house to Land's End the country is wrapped in snow and lands and streams are ice-bound. Even a number of tidal-rivers are frozen fast. For duration of the frost period this is the greatest winter of the century, and in point of severity the winters of 1813 and 1814 alone exceeded it. Fairs were then held on the ice on the Thames, Severn, Tyne and Tweed.

The Thames below Richmond remains partially frozen and is covered with ice floes which impede navigation. Above Teddington the ice on the Thames is eight inches thick. Carriers' vans can traverse the river's frozen surface from Sutton Court to Abingdon. Skaters have a free stretch for many miles above and below Oxford. Numerous deaths have resulted from the extreme cold, several of them at the very gates of workhouses, where groups of poor people were waiting for shelter.

Midland newspapers declare that thousands of persons in that region are in a condition of semi-starvation, many laborers being compulsorily idle without fires or food. Mayors of cities with the aid of local boards are directing an organised distribution of bread and coal and starting relief kitchens, still they fail to reach a host of cases of distress. Numerous instances occur of coroners' inquests on the bodies of people found dead in bed where the verdict is that death resulted from cold and hunger.

In every country on the Continent there is suffering because of the severe weather. The coasts of Belgium, Holland and North Germany are blocked with ice. In the Scheldt River navigation is nearly at a standstill on account of the ice.

At the North German port of Cuxhaven 20 steamships are icebound. Pilots there are unable to communicate with vessels on account of the ice floes thus making the harbor inaccessible.

Several vessels were struck by immense masses of floating ice and their hulls were so badly damaged that the boats rapidly filled with water and sank. In every instance the crews were saved with difficulty. A number of steamers are drifting helplessly between Ottendorf and Brunsbuttel. They have lost their anchors and have been considerably damaged by floating ice. At Hamburg navigation is greatly impeded by immense blocks of ice, which fill the river. The board of navigation is making every effort to keep the river open, and is employing three of the strongest tugs as ice breakers. Many vessels have also been damaged here by the ice, but no serious accidents yet reported.

At Antwerp 10,000 workmen have been thrown out of employment, owing to the unusually severe weather. The misery thus caused among the poorer classes is widespread and intense. The use of dynamite is about to be tried to break the ice at Copenhagen, where several steamers lie icebound. At many ports tugs are actively trying to break the ice, but not with much success. The Ceresund is full of ice floes.

The harbors of Lubeck, Stettin and Swinemunds, in Germany, are all inaccessible on account of the ice, and no open water is visible. There is much snow at these places. In Berlin the temperature is at 16 degrees Fahrenheit. The horse railway is snow blocked, and the mails, usually conveyed by its trains, are now transported in sleighs.

All Bavaria is covered with snow and in the country between the Danube and the Alps the snow is 18 inches deep. In certain localities along the Rhine snow drifts are piled in some spots 17 feet high, threatening inundations when they thaw.

In northern Italy snow began to fall Wednesday and did not cease till to-day. The inhabitants of that region are suffering acutely, such weather being entirely unknown to them, and it is feared numbers of people have perished in the storm. At Mantua, Turin and Milan railway trains are much delayed on account of the heavy snowfall.

Despatches from Vienna say communication with points south of that city is greatly impeded and most trains partially suspended.

A telegram from Madrid reports heavy snowfalls in Spain and says communication with all the provinces of Spain is difficult. It also reports intensely cold weather in Valencia, where orange groves have been swept by the storm, entailing heavy losses.

At Marseilles the hospitals are gorged with sufferers from various affections caused by cold weather. More snow has fallen to-day in Marseilles. Dock laborers there have lit along the quays great fires at which to warm themselves.

A violent storm, accompanied by hail and snow, extending a long distance inland, is reported from the seaport of Algiers in North Africa. Nothing like such severity of weather was ever known in that region before.

Advices from Paris say the Seine is blocked with ice near Rouen and the Saone is frozen above Lyons. At Arras and Nimes much suffering exists and a number of persons have been frozen to death. Near the village of Fourmies in the department of Nord three children were caught in a raging snowstorm in a wood and all perished.

Mutiny on Shipboard.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 9.—The American ship Indiana which sailed Jan. 7 from Barrow for New York has put into Holyhead. Her crew mutinied and fought among themselves. Several men were severely wounded with knives.

Took a Favorable Turn.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The Press Association announces that the Behring Sea negotiations between Great Britain and the United States have taken a favorable turn.

Cabinet Crisis Imminent.

LISBON, Jan. 9.—A cabinet crisis is imminent and it is stated there is a probability that the new cabinet will be completely composed of the members of the Progressist party.

1,000,000 Francs Damage.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The fire in the pianoforte warehouse in the Boulevard St. Martin last night caused a loss of 1,000,000 francs. Several persons were injured.

Fighting Among Themselves.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, Jan. 9.—Gen. Miles says: "At last accounts the Indians were fighting among themselves. The camp was a pandemonium. There was no head to the hostiles. The desperadoes were destroying their own people."

Sudden Death in Erin.

Killed by the Cars.

THE GLASGOW STRIKE.

Employee Complains of Overwork—A Series of Accidents.

GLASGOW, Jan. 9.—While a coal train on the Caledonian Railway was descending an incline into St. Rollox station yesterday the brakes were not applied in time and the cars ran past the stopping place and dashed into a freight train. The driver and stoker of the coal train were raw hands who had been engaged to fill the places of men on strike. They jumped before the collision occurred and escaped. The station-master, who was coaching them, remained at his post and was fatally injured.

John Burns, the labor agitator, addressed a public meeting at Perth yesterday. He accused the leading Scotch papers of misleading the public in regard to the strike. He said that despite the glowing accounts published, the railroad companies were in a bad way, and if the men remained firm they would soon have the shareholders as well as the public on their side. He intended to bring about such a deadlock of traffic on the roads that he would compel the companies to surrender. He urged the wives and sweethearts of the strikers to follow the example set by the women who distinguished themselves on the occasion of the great strike of London dockers, and prevent blacklegs from securing the places of their husbands and lovers. Resolutions were adopted calling upon the companies to abandon their position and accede to the strikers' demands.

The Scotch railway companies have been making strenuous efforts to obtain men from other parts of the kingdom to take the places of the strikers on those lines, but they have found the task a difficult one. To-day they shipped a batch of 450 men from Liverpool to Glasgow, but the recruits are hardly better than tramps and most of them are likely to desert and find the disemployed Scotchmen in a mood to fight. It has been impossible to get regular railway men to go to Scotland and take the place of the strikers.

GLASGOW, Jan. 9.—The employes of the several railroads complain bitterly of the exhaustion and fatigue they are forced to endure as a result of the long battle against the strikers. Some of them claim to have been compelled to remain on duty for 30 hours out of 24, and then, in the case of those who sleep in dormitories under police protection, the rest they get can hardly be said to be invigorating or refreshing. The veteran guards or conductors upon the various lines have been instructed, in order to avert accidents, to travel in the engine cabs, beside the new engineers, in order to show the latter the road and to explain the significance of the different signals. On the other hand, the officers or policemen are acting as conductors, and considerable confusion and delay in ticket collecting thereby results, to the intense annoyance of the general public, who are heartily tired of the strike in all its aspects.

The hopes of the strikers were considerably raised to-day by a speech recently delivered from Dundee, in which to the effect that John Burns, the Socialist leader, had during the day made a fervid address on behalf of the Scotch Railway strikers to an assemblage composed of their own class of laborers. The latter were wrought to such a pitch of enthusiasm by Burns' address that they almost unanimously agreed to go out on strike if such action upon their part was found to be necessary in order to bring about a settlement of the railroad disputes.

In the Glasgow district there is considerable distress caused by the strike among the poorer classes of the population, and their suffering increases day by day. It is not only the families of the strikers who are suffering—the latter may be said to form a small minority of those affected—but the stoppage of the many factories, etc., now idle through lack of fuel, has thrown thousands of people out of employment, though they are in no way directly concerned in the struggle going on between the railroad companies and their employes. To say that the poorer classes are heartily worn out and driven to despair by the labor troubles of Glasgow and its neighborhood is only touching lightly upon the sentiments they are experiencing.

Dillon Sails For Paris.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—John Dillon, the Irish envoy, was escorted to the steamer La Gascogne to-night by prominent local Irishmen and sails for France to-morrow. Mr. Dillon said: "Difficulties have arisen in the negotiations between Mr. Parnell and Mr. O'Brien, and I have been call d upon to commit myself to a definite opinion on points in debate. I find it impossible at this distance to pass upon these points. I am utterly in the dark on a number of vital questions and have therefore decided to go to France with Mr. O'Brien's full approval and also with that of my colleagues." Mr. Dillon said there was but one hope of saving the Home Rule movement and that was under an arrangement by which the Irish party could be reunited.

Didn't Know It Was Loaded.

MILTON, Jan. 9.—Daniel Ford, druggist of New York, who has been visiting his relatives here, was cleaning a revolver, which had been left loaded for seven years and was rusty. His cousin had first, as he supposed, emptied it, but believing it only a five shooter had left two chambers loaded and when Mr. Ford was in the act of taking the pistol apart it went off. The bullet penetrated his left thigh making a serious wound.

Killed by a Train.

LINDSAY, Jan. 9.—The team and wagon of Mr. Samuel Cornell of Owaneco was struck by the O.M. railway north-bound express, killing the team and destroying the wagon. The team was being driven by Mr. Cornell's son, George, who was thrown from the wagon just before it was struck.

Mistook Poison for Gin.

UXBRIDGE, Jan. 8.—John Trick, a former resident of Uxbridge, who was in partnership with the late W. Crawford in the livery business here, died at Morden, Man., from the effects of a dose of poison taken unintentionally. It appears that he had a bottle of poison to kill vermin and a bottle of gin. He reached for the gin during the night and by mistake got the poison. He lingered in terrible agony for two days before he died.

It Thawed All Right.

AMHERST, Mass., Jan. 8.—The fireman of an asbestos mine in Pelham this morning placed a hecla powder cartridge in the oven of J. R. Powell's house, where he boarded, to warm. The cartridge exploded, blowing the stove to pieces, smashing all the windows in the house and setting it on fire. Mrs. J. R. Powell had both legs crushed, one leg being torn off. Mrs. N. Powell, her daughter-in-law, was badly injured.

THE FRIEND OF THE FARMER.

The farmers complain that in the protection of public interests, the interests of all classes are consulted but those of the farmer. This may be true in respect of some governments, and its very truth points a moral. It indicates that it is time that farmers should begin to be the friends of themselves. As a class, the farmers themselves acknowledge that they do not work together harmoniously for the protection and promotion of their special interests—they fail to agree upon any line of common action, they suffer themselves to be divided by the designing, and to be used, in too many cases, as instruments in the hands of these same designing men. If the agriculturists of this country would unite solidly and act in unison there is no reasonable advantage they could not get from their legislators. In the recent United States elections the farmers presented a formidable front and they made their influence felt in deciding the result It is not only in political legislative matters that the great mass of our farmers fail to be friends to themselves A farmer is hostile to his own interests when he fails to take every opportunity for fitting himself for the most profitable and successful pursuit of his calling; if he does not seek to keep pace with the spirit of advancement that marks every department of science, art and industry. Nothing can be successfully done these days by the same methods that were the best half a century ago. This applies to farming as much as to any other industry. The conditions of climate, the conditions of growth, the conditions of soil, the conditions of markets and many other things require that the farmer should toil with his head as well as his hands. In the early days of this country hard work was about all that was required to bring successful results. In the present day the farmer who does not work with his brain as well as his hand courts disaster and failure. In view of the self-evident nature of these truths, it is simply astonishing that more of our farmers do not take more general advantage of the opportunities presented for improving their condition by improving their knowledge of the best means of carrying on farming with success. Among the best available means is that presented by the Farmers' Institutes now held at frequent intervals in every part of the country. Here the farmer comes in contact with others who have achieved success in their business, and the secret of his success is at the service of all who attend the meeting. This exchange of experience and of successful method, presents a valuable chance for learning. The men who attend these Institutes are good teachers, because they have learned their lesson in the great school of experience. They are amongst our most successful farmers who have made farming a success; who can afford to snap their fingers at the money-lenders, who make their farms supply their wants with a margin for a rainy day. The coming meetings of the Farmers' Institutes to be held in the East and West Ridings—in the West, at Peterborough, next Monday and Tuesday, and in the East at Norwood on Jan. 14th, and at Keene on Jan 15th—should be attended by every farmer who can make the visit possible. Let the farmer be a true friend to himself, and it will not be long before he can command the friendship of others, of whose lack so many are now loud in complaint.

The Dominion Finances.

Our Ottawa correspondent sends this morning a summary of the public accounts of the Dominion for the fiscal year which ended on June 30. The receipts from customs and excise taxation were very large. The customs taxes alone yielded $23,968,000, or three times the amount ($8,273,000) paid in 1869, and nearly twice as much as that ($12,900,000) paid in 1879, when the high tariff went into force. It will not be pretended by anyone that the growth of the population or the capacity of the people to pay has kept step with this extraordinary increase. These taxes, large as they are, do not tell the whole truth about the burdens imposed by the N P Apart from what is collected at the ports on foreign goods, the consumer has to pay an unknown but manifestly an enormous tribute to the manufacturers in whose interests protective duties are levied. This unseen contribution far exceeds that paid into the Government coffers. The revenue from excise last year amounted to $7,618,000, over double the sum obtained in 1870, and $7,300 000 more than the revenue in 1879. Since 1880, that is since we embraced the notion that prosperity is to be secured through high taxation, the country has secured in customs and excise duties alone close upon $300,000,000. If to this truly astronomical figure the amount paid to protected manufacturers to enable them to run their factories could be added, the grand total would help us to account in part for the pinched and impoverished condition of agriculture and other natural industries at the present time.

The Ministerial papers blew their horns lustily a few months ago over the highly satisfactory condition of the finances as evidenced by the existence of a large surplus for 1890. When the Liberals were in office Sir Charles Tupper rebuked Sir Richard Cartwright for proposing on one occasion to have a modest surplus of half a million. The proper place, he said, for surplus funds was the taxpayer's pocket. That sound view has been abandoned, and the true perfection of finance, so we are told now, is to squeeze as much as possible from the people, though the usual result is that the money thus diverted from the channels of trade is squandered on undertakings, like the Nova Scotia railroads, designed to benefit the dominant party rather than to promote the general good. Mr. Foster also boasted of an unusually large surplus last summer, and Government supporters had begun to dress up their various schemes for absorbing it when a bolt fell from the blue. The McKinley tariff and the financial cyclone in England and the United States, occupied with the rapid withdrawal of deposits from the Government savings banks, conspired to produce an unlooked-for stringency at Ottawa. Since then, if our correspondent is rightly informed, Mr. Foster and his assistants have had to borrow a good deal in various ways; and unfortunately the decline in the monthly trade returns shows that the worst is not over. A country which has launched out upon a swollen and inflated expenditure always finds it hard to retrench when retrenchment has become necessary. In our case the difficulty is increased by the fact that for years the Government has been teaching the people to look to it for assistance and relief in good times and in bad times, until, as the treasurer of Quebec remarked not long ago, the old self-reliance of the individual and of the community has well nigh disappeared.—Globe.

Four Classes of Men and Women.

Four classes of men and women agree unanimously that Paine's Celery Compound is what they require when afflicted with any of the troubles now so prevalent in this and other lands.

THE RICH have found that the worry and bustle of business and high living, have brought on nervousness, headache, irritability, moroseness and dyspepsia. They agree that no remedy can banish these terrible troubles like Paine's Celery Compound.

THE POOR have found that when overwrought, tired, used up, sleepless and nervous, that Paine's Celery Compound will renew their strength and vigor, give them an appetite, sound sleep and rest, and can make them as firm as a rock.

THE OLD, when weakened with the wear and tear of infirmities and the overwork of a long life, find that Paine's Celery Compound can strengthen and build them up, and free them from the feelings of their infirmities, and adds years of peace and joy to their lives.

THE YOUNG, who have any nervous tendencies, find that they are made strong and braced up for any department of work, and that Paine's Celery Compound gives great elasticity to overtaxed nerves. Young people by its use are made robust and healthy, and are soon built up with increased flesh, bone and muscle.

God Save The Queen.

The absorbing topic of the day is a Free Trip around the World offered by "The Home Fascinator" Pub. Co., to the person sending the largest number of words constructed from letters contained in the sentence "God Save the Queen," and found in either Webster's or Worcester's Dictionary. The publishers have arranged with the C.P.R. General Pass Agent, Mr. D. McNicholl, for the trip by their new palatial steamer, leaving on its famous globe circling excursion on March 15th next. Also in order of merit, additional prizes of: A free trip to Florida; Silver Tea Sets, Sewing Machines, Lady's or Gent's 14k. Gold Watch, etc. Everyone whose list contains not less than twenty-five words will receive a prize. House Treatment of Disease by Electricity.

Every day one hears of some wonderful cure of disease achieved by Electricity. It is coming more into use of late and is now used by many physicians as the greatest remedy in many forms of disease. Until recently the one objection to this form of treatment was the expense attached to it, but the inventions of Mr. C. H. Dorenwend, of Toronto, has simplified matters and it is now an easy accomplishment to treat oneself intelligently and at but small cost. Mr. Dorenwend's inventions consist of a Belt having a battery of a number of cells and suitable attachments to apply the current. The Battery supplies a current of electricity that can be regulated at will; it is conveyed from the battery by conductors to the diseased parts. The whole contrivance is exceedingly well planned, and any person of ordinary intelligence can operate it with ease. It is nature's first remedy for all forms of nervous and muscular disease, and all afflicted persons should take advantage of the opportunity offered by C. H. Dorenwend of procuring suitable appliances. Mr. D. will be at the Grand Central Hotel on Thursday and Friday, Jan. 22 and 23, and will have a full line of Belts and Attachments with him. His stay is limited, as he has many places to visit.

The Population of Peterborough

Purify Your Blood

The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditted and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

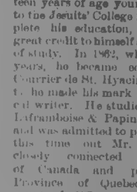
PORTRAIT OF THE MEN WHO GUIDE ITS POLITICAL DESTINIES.

Lieutenant Governor Angers—Sketches of the Political Careers of Hon. Honore Mercier, Premier of the Province, and of His Colleagues in the New Cabinet.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR ANGERS.—Hon. Auguste Real Angers is 52 years of age. He is a Canadian by birth, studied at Nicolet College and was admitted to the Bar in 1860. He was elected to represent Montmorency in 1874 in the Local Assembly, and in autumn of the same year entered the de Boucherville Cabinet. Next year he became Attorney General and Leader of the Government in the Assembly. In 1875 he was defeated in Montmorency by 12 votes, but in 1880 was elected to the House of Commons for the same constituency, and after sitting one session was made a judge of the Superior Court. He was appointed Lieutenant Governor of the Province, October 20, 1887, a position which he fills with honor to himself and satisfaction to all who are brought into official or social contact with him.

THE PREMIER AND HIS NEW CABINET.

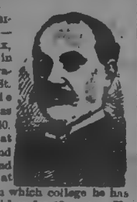
HON. PREMIER MERCIER, M. P. P.—Hon. Honore Mercier, Premier of the Province of Quebec, was born at St. Athanase in the county of Iberville, Oct. 15, 1840. His father was a farmer, and though not wealthy, provided faithfully for the wants of a large household and at the same time gave his children a liberal education. When fourteen years of age young Mercier was sent to the Jesuits' College in Montreal to complete his education, which he did with great credit to himself after a brilliant course of study. In 1862, when aged twenty-two years, he became editor-in-chief of The Courrier de St. Hyacinthe, in which capacity he made his mark as a trenchant political writer. He studied law in the office of Laframboise & Papineau at St. Hyacinthe and was admitted to practice in 1863. From this time out Mr. Mercier has been closely connected with the politics of Canada and particularly of the Province of Quebec. In 1866, on account of differences of opinion with his business associates on Confederation, he retired permanently from The Courrier de St. Hyacinthe and to a large extent kept aloof from politics until 1871, when the New Brunswick school question led to the formation of the Parti National. He aided in the election of Hon. F. Langelier in Bagot county in that year and at the general election in 1873 was elected to the Dominion Parliament for Rouville. In the session of 1873 he took an active part in the debate on the New Brunswick school question, in support of the ground taken by Hon. John Costigan. At the Dominion election of 1874 he retired from Rouville in favor of Mr. Cheval, but in 1878 he contested St. Hyacinthe for the Legislative Assembly, but was defeated by Mr. Tellier, the Conservative candidate, by six votes. In the following year he carried the seat and in 1879 was called by Hon. Mr. Joly to fill the seat in the Provincial Government vacant by the death of Hon. Mr. Bachaud, Provincial Treasurer, and returning to St. Hyacinthe was re-elected by 307 majority. He went out with the Joly Ministry in the autumn of 1879. In 1883 Hon. Mr. Joly resigned the leadership of the Opposition, which position Mr. Mercier was unanimously chosen to fill on motion of Mr. Joly himself. At the general elections in October, 1886, he and his party carried a majority of the Assembly seats, and in January, 1887, the Taillon Ministry, having been defeated by a majority of nine on a test vote, resigned and Mr. Mercier became Premier of Quebec. Since then he has carried on the Government of the Province. At the general election of the present year, 1890, he carried the Province by a sweeping majority. In private life the Premier of Quebec is an entertaining conversationalist and a genial companion. He has been twice married, first to Le[illegible]dine Bélivin, of St Hyacinthe, who died leaving one daughter, and then to Virginie St. Denis, also of St. Hyacinthe. Madame Mercier is a distinguished member of French [illegible] society and fittingly adorns the prominent position to which she has been called by the side of her eminent husband.



HON. JOSEPH SHEHYN, M. P. P.—Hon. Joseph Shehyn, Provincial Treasurer, was born in the City of Quebec in 1839. He was educated at Quebec Seminary and entering commercial life rose rapidly to wealth and distinction. He is not a brilliant man in the ordinary acceptance of the term; his talents are of the solid order and he is regarded as an eminently safe man for the position which he fills. He was first elected for Quebec East to the Legislative Assembly in 1873; re-elected for the same division in 1878, and by acclamation at the general election of 1881, 1886 and 1890, his opponents recognising that opposition would be futile. He has held the office of Provincial Treasurer since January 1887. In social life he is highly esteemed, and Mrs. Shehyn is recognized as one of the leaders of Quebec society, much of the brilliancy being due to her graceful influence and example.

HON PIERRE GARNEAU, C. M. L. C.—Hon. Pierre Garneau Commissioner of Public Works, belongs to the mercantile profession. He was born at Cap Santé May 8, 1823. His whole life since his boyhood has been identified with the history and business of Quebec. He has filled the position of Mayor of Quebec for several years. In March, 1875, he was elected to the Legislative Assembly for Quebec county and re-elected at the general election of 1875. He was defeated in 1878 and elected by acclamation in 1881, and again defeated in 1886. In September 1874 he was appointed Commissioner of Agriculture and Public Works, and afterwards held the portfolio of Crown Lands. He went out with the DeBoucherville Ministry in 1878. In 1887 he was appointed to the Legislative Council and became Commissioner of Crown Lands in the Mercier Administration and now holds the portfolio of Public Works. He occupies a prominent position in Quebec social life and is highly esteemed personally by men of all parties.

HON. GEORGE DUHAMEL, M. P. P.—Hon. George Duhamel, Commissioner of Crown Lands, was born at Berthier, January 1, 1838, [illegible] educated at the College of Mariaville. He is an esteemed member of the legal profession. His entry into political life dates from 14, 1868, when he was elected for Iberville to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. A. L. Demers. He became Solicitor General in Mr. Mercier's administration January 20, 1887, and subsequently became Commissioner of Crown Lands, in which position he has proved himself a clear-headed and painstaking departmental officer. He was married in 1868 to Miss M. C. A. Dugas, daughter of the late Dr. Adolphe Dugas, a prominent patriot of 1837-38.



HON. JOSEPH ROBIDOUX, Q. C., M. P. P.—Hon. Joseph Robidoux, Attorney General in the Mercier administration, is a native of St. Philippe, Laprairie County, where he was born March 10, 1840. He was educated at Montreal College and the Jesuits' College, and graduated in law at McGill University in which college he has been professor of civil law for 12 years. He was called to the Bar in 1866. He entered political life March 26, 1884, when he was elected to the Legislative Assembly for Chateauguay County. He was re-elected for the same constituency in 1886, and at the general election this year. He became Attorney-General in July last.

HON. CHAS. LANGELIER, M. P. P.—Hon. Charles Langelier, Provincial Secretary, is a lawyer by profession and was called to the Bar in 1875. He is a brother of Hon. F. C. S. Langelier, M. P. for Quebec Centre. He sat in the Quebec Legislature for Montmorency from 1878 to 1881, but was defeated at the general election in the latter year. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the same seat at the Dominion general election of 1882, and at the Provincial general election for Bellechasse in 1886. He was elected to the Dominion Parliament for Montmorency in 1887, which seat he resigned in order to become a candidate for that constituency for the Provincial Assembly, and was elected. Shortly afterwards he was called to the Cabinet to fill the office he now holds.

HON. D. A. ROSS, M. L. C.—Hon. David Alexander Ross is a member of the Cabinet without portfolio. He was born in Quebec, has spent his whole life in that city and has in many ways been identified with its business, social and political history. He was called to the bar of Lower Canada in 1848 and made a Queen Counsel in 1873. In 1878 he was elected to the Legislature for Quebec county, but retired in 1881. In 1878 he became Attorney General in Hon. Mr. Joly's administration, and resigned with the Ministry in 1879. In 1887 he was appointed to the Legislative Council and became a member of Mr. Mercier's Cabinet without portfolio. In politics he is a Liberal and in religion a Presbyterian, and is now 71 years of age.

HON. ARTHUR BOYER.—Hon. Arthur Boyer is also a member of the Cabinet without portfolio, having been appointed thereto since the last session of the Local Parliament. He is a native of Montreal and was first elected to represent Jacques Cartier when the sitting member, Hon. J. A. Mousseau, resigned January, 1884. He was re-elected at the general election in the present year for the same constituency, defeating Hon. L. O. Taillon, Leader of the Opposition.—Condensed from Montreal Herald.

A powder mill explosion affects the country for miles round, but dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, headache, loss of appetite and debility, affect humanity the world over. To encourage a taste for the study of Canadian History, and to interest every intelligent girl and boy in the "Young Peoples" Department of one popular family magazine, the Publishers of THE QUEEN, offer valuable rewards to those making the best average each quarter in THE QUEEN'S National History School.

THE REWARDS.—The one making the best average in answering the following questions in Canadian History will be given one of THE QUEEN'S handsome prizes, (She [illegible]) value $125.00. The one making the second best average will be rewarded with a first-class Safety Bicycle or Tricycle, value $75.00. The one making the third best average, will be rewarded with their choice of either a fine Breech-loading English Shot Gun, or Elegant Silk Dress Pattern, value $40.00. The one making the fourth best average, will be rewarded with a first-class Kodak, Photographic Camera, value $30.00. Each of the next five making the best averages, will be rewarded with a Coin Silver watch of elegant design, and first-class time-keeper, value $10.00. Each of the next fifty making the best averages, will be rewarded with either a girl's or boy's, A 1. Pocket Knife, containing four blades of the best Sheffield steel, value $1.50 each. If more than one correct answer is received, the one bearing the earliest postmark will be awarded the leading prize, the others following in order of merit.

THE QUESTIONS.—The beautiful month of September. A deep, wide, rapid flowing river, whose bank on the North is high, steep, and rocky. Perched upon a point of this high bank, is a city surrounded by walls, and defended by a brave army under a brave general.

Fleets of war-ships have for months held the river below and vainly sought to force the surrender of the city. One dark night soldiers from the ships scramble up the steep bank, and with their General, gain the plain above. The morning light reveals to the garrison of the city, its enemy ready for attack. A fierce battle ensues. The generals of both armies die from wounds received. The city is captured. 1. Give the names of the river, city and generals. 2. What nations were represented by the two armies? 3. Which army formed the garrison of the city? 4. By what name is the fierce battle known? 5. In what year did these things happen? 6. What was the result of the capture of the city?

The answers to the above questions must be accompanied by $1.00 for a year's subscription to THE QUEEN. The Young People's Department of THE QUEEN, is devoted solely to entertaining and instructing the youth of Canada. The popularity of "Uncle Joe," who has charge of this Department is demonstrated by the fact that he receives daily, from sixty to one hundred letters and puzzles for publication from young people residing in all parts of the globe.

SPECIAL DAILY PRIZE.—Each day during this Competition, either a First-class Stem Winding Nickel Watch, a good time keeper, or an Elegant Silver Dessert Set, (Cream and Sugar) value $3.00, will be awarded to the person from whom the first correct answers to above questions are received at THE QUEEN office, and opened, for that day.

The history of our Country should interest every loyal Canadian. If you are a little rusty on this subject, take down your old school history, study up and join THE QUEEN'S "National History School."

The distribution of rewards will be in the hands of disinterested persons, and decisions will be based on the correctness of the answers. Competitors can use their own language in wording their answers.

Answers may be sent in any time before April 10th, but as postmarks may count in awarding the leading prizes, it is better to send as early as possible. No correction can be made after your answers are mailed.

Every one answering the entire six question correctly, will receive a present.

If you have never seen a copy of THE QUEEN, send four 3c. stamps for a late number containing full particulars of all THE QUEEN'S Competitions, and letters from persons who have received over $10,000 in prizes during the past year. We intend distributing prizes to the value of $25,000 during 1891.

Our National History Competition is entirely separate and distinct from any other Contest offered by THE QUEEN, and all communications concerning it, must be addressed

The new business of the SUN LIFE was the largest ever secured in the Company's history and was equalled by but one Canadian life company. The surplus accumulated during the THREE years at the current quinquennium far exceeds the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail to be highly satisfactory. The prosperity of the Sun Life is no doubt largely due to its issuing unconditional policies and paying the claims promptly. Canadians should also remember that by patronizing a Home Institution, which invests all its funds in the Dominion, they are benefitting themselves by reducing the rate of interest here, and are helping to build up our own cities rather than those of foreign states.

PETERBOROUGH, Jan. 10.—The thermometer rose from 12° above zero last night to 20° this morning, and the second morning of white frost. Look out for a storm which will probably end with rain.

Nebulous Stars.

The Lakefield Chronicle says:—"The Star Concert Company of Peterborough announced a concert in the town hall on New Year's night, but failed to materialize till a late hour. On their arrival they found that the small audience which had assembled had dispersed, the hall in darkness, and the door locked."

The Dangers of Racing.

Thursday last two young men named Robeborough and McCaskey, of Smith, were racing along the road on their way home, and in turning a bend near Nassau collided with a woodsleigh driven by J. H. Northey, one of whose horses was injured. They will have to pay damages or figure in a police court case.

An Important Centenary.

John Wesley died about ten o'clock in the morning, March 2, 1791. That was a notable day, and its one hundredth anniversary will be generally observed throughout the church which Wesley founded. Chicago Methodists are planning an anniversary in the great Auditorium in that city. To make the occasion memorable, committees have been appointed under the auspices of the Chicago Social Union. A prominent local Methodist asks if it would not be a good idea for Peterborough Methodists to begin considering the matter in time.

A Chance to Economize.

It may seem rather early to order a Spring Suit, but look at the inducements. A quarter or 25 per cent. off every piece of goods in stock, and an extra discount for cash, is what H. LeBrun & Co., of the City Clothing Store, are offering from now up to February. The same rule holds good with ready-made clothing, underwear, etc. No larger or better stock of reliable goods to select from can be found in Ontario. If you do not require anything made up at present buy the cloth, secure the discount and have the clothes made later on Think it over. 2d1w

A correspondent writes:—Mr. J. H. Pallin, our genial and worthy postmaster and blacksmith, on Monday last, Jan. 5th, took off, sharpened and put on sixty-one horseshoes besides doing $1.25 worth of other work, in ten hours. He would like to know if it can be beaten.

The Late Archdeacon Wilson.

The Venerable John Wilson, M. A., Archdeacon of Peterborough, and for fifty years rector of St. George's Church, Grafton, died at the rectory there Thursday evening at five o'clock, at the advanced age of 84 years. The funeral will take place from St. George's Church, Grafton, on Monday next, the 12th instant, at 2 o'clock p.m. The officiating clergymen will be Rev. W. E. Cooper, rector of Grafton, and Rev. Dr. Bethune, of Port Hope Trinity College.

Magnificent Scenes.

The stereopticon entertainment to be given by Mr. A. W. Struthers, of Toronto, is pronounced by all who have seen it to be one of the most beautiful and refined to be seen upon canvas. Rev. Dr. Parker, in speaking of it after it had been given in Broadway Tabernacle, Toronto, said the pictorial and verbal temperance lessons were alone worth the admission fee. Do not fail being at the George street Methodist church on Tuesday evening next, Jan. 13, 1891. Tickets, only 20 cents for adults, and 10 cents for children. 1d

A Peterborough Minister Remembered.

The Mallorytown correspondent of the Brockville Recorder has the following in reference to Rev. J. J. Wright, well-known in Peterborough:—"Rev. J. J. Wright, of the Presbyterian church on this circuit, has been the recipient of beautifully bound copies of the complete works of Burns and Fielding from his congregation at Mallorytown. His Lyn Bible class also remembered him with a Christmas greeting in the form of a very handsome pair of seal gauntlets. Mr. Wright has very large congregations at Cainstown, Lyn and Mallorytown."

Wedding Bells at Norwood.

Tuesday forenoon an interesting social event took place at the new Methodist Church, Norwood, says the Register. The Rev. J. S. Clarke performed the ceremony that united in marriage Thos. Harry Pearce, son of J. B. Pearce, Esq., and Margaret Ann, eldest daughter of the late Walter Renwick. The bride was supported by her sister, Miss Carrie Renwick, and Miss Blanche Pearce, and Mr. J. Jory and Mr. R. Pearce officiated as groomsmen. After the ceremony Mr. Pearce's residence was crowded with guests assembled to do honor to this occasion and partake of the exceptionally excellent wedding breakfast provided. The table was most artistically and tastefully laid, and the repast was in every respect worthy of the event. After refreshments the happy couple were escorted to the station, where they took the 12.10 express for Ottawa and other points east on a wedding tour. This being the first marriage in the new church the trustees made the bride the recipient of a beautiful and costly bible.

Annual Meeting of the Y.M.C.A.—A Most Encouraging Report All Along the Line—An Unusual Financial Statement—The Balance on the Right Side.

The annual meeting of the Y.M.C.A. was held at their rooms Friday night. There was a good attendance. The chair was occupied by the president, Mr. J. G. Early.

After the usual devotional exercises the business of the meeting was entered upon.

Mr. R. J. Colville, the general secretary, presented a most elaborate and complete report, bristling with encouragement. This report is a too valuable and comprehensive one to condense, therefore, not having space for it in to-day's columns, it will be printed on Monday.

These followed other reports.

Mr. A. Hamilton presented the report of the Invitation Committee and the Membership Committee and Rescue Brigade.

Mr. R. J. Kidd reported on behalf of the junior branch.

Mr. Isaac Richardson reported for the Devotional Committee.

Mr. J. W. Bennet presented the very encouraging financial report, showing a substantial balance on the right side of the ledger, and all indebtedness wiped out.

An Exciting Ox-hibition.

Our Country Cousins Coming to the Carnival.

As naturally to be expected, the coming Carnival under the auspices of Court Peterborough, Foresters, is attracting wide attention. The most elaborate preparations are being made for the occasion, and it is expected there will be a great rush of outsiders. This morning the secretary received a cablegram from a friend at Nogey's Creek stating that a deputation would arrive in town this evening to make hotel arrangements for the accommodation of the crowds of visitors that would arrive in town from that region on Friday, the 16th. The deputation, which will make the journey by ox-team, in a specially equipped sleigh of a construction peculiar to the north country—a cross between a punt and a section of a brush fence—will come in by the Mud Lake road, and call at Charlotte street, where the services of the veteran Nimrod of that region will be secured to guide the cavalcade around town. The principal streets will be paraded, and our citizens will be treated to the unusual spectacle of an ox-team on our streets. Look out for the cavalcade, which will turn the corner of George and Charlotte streets at 8 o'clock sharp to-night. And don't forget to pay particular attention to the inscription that will be displayed on the sleigh.

Two Score Years of Happiness.

Former Peterborough Residents Celebrate Their Fortieth Wedding Anniversary.

The following is taken from the Gazette, Creston, Iowa, of a few days ago:—"On Dec. 5th a happy party of elderly people gathered at the residence of Mr. Geo. Tully, of Adams county, Ia. It was in honour of the fortieth anniversary of their wedded life. They being away on a visit, on their arrival were greeted by about sixty of their friends and neighbours. It being such a surprise they were very much astonished and bewildered, but soon regained their composure and entertained their guests in a royal style. When the guests had departed there were found many visible tokens of good will, both from the family and neighbours. Mr. Tully was presented with a reclining chair and Mrs. Tully with a gold watch from the family; also a willow rocker, decorated fruit dish, water set, set of spatugs, water pitcher, and plush lap robe, presented by the guests. Besides the immediate members of the family the following is a list of those who highly enjoyed that social occasion:—Rev. and Mrs. Black, Rev. and Mrs. Hinkhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs Babb, Mr. and Mrs. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Estley, Mr. and Mrs. David McFee, Mr. and Mrs. James McFee, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Seybold, Mr. and Mrs. Porter."

A Lesson in Geography.

The Thorough and Sensible Way in Which the German Child is Taught.

Mr. H. Boyesen, writing of educational reform in Germany, is of the opinion that the Germans are disposed to overeducate their children; that they pay too little attention to the development of the body and too much to that of the mind. Making due allowance for this tendency he finds much that is admirable in instruction of the primary and secondary German school and relates some of his experiences in the best schools of Berlin.

He one day obtained a permit to be present at the lesson in geography in the lowest class, the sexta. The pupils were all boys about 8 or 9 years old. This was the second or third lesson of the school year, and accordingly very elementary. The teacher, a man, called upon a small boy and asked him pleasantly where he lived. The boy replied that he lived in in Ritter Strasse.

"Where in Ritter Strasse?" asked the teacher.

"No. 171."

"Mark on the blackboard the place where your house is. Right. Now, when you started for school this morning, in what direction did you walk?"

The little boy looked for a moment perplexed, and the teacher said: "Did you walk north, south, east or west?"

"I don't know."

"Then let us try to find out. Was the sun shining when you started for home?"

"Yes."

"Did you have the sun behind you or in front of you, or on your right or left hand?"

"For a while I had it in front of me."

"In what direction did you walk?"

"Toward the east."

"Right. And how long did you walk toward the east? Or did you continue to walk toward the east all the time?"

"No, only until I turned the corner of Prinzen Strasse."

"How long was that?"

"About five minutes."

"Put down the corner of Prinzen Strasse on the blackboard and bear in mind that the direction from your house was eastward and the distance was as far as you walked in five minutes. In what direction did you walk after having turned the corner?"

And so on. The boy was made to describe and then to delineate his course, and then another boy was taken. There was a constant appeal to the boy's intelligence and experience. The first boy had been made to draw a correct map of the way he went to school. The second boy, who lived in a different part of the city, was made to do the same thing, fitting his lines and distances correctly to those of the first. A third, fourth and fifth pupil were called up and required to do the same, and in the end the blackboard exhibited a rough but fairly correct map of a considerable part of the city of Berlin.—Christian Union.

COUNTERFEITERS CAUGHT.

A Gang of Counterfeiters Cleverly Nabbed and Jailed at Windsor.

DETROIT, Jan. 9.—One of the cleverest pieces of detective work ever done by United States secret service officers culminated last evening in the arrest of eight persons on a charge of counterfeiting. Three months ago Ben Davis was arrested for passing a counterfeit silver dollar. He stated to United States Marshal Van Buren that he received the coin at a restaurant in Jefferson-avenue, Detroit, kept by John and Edwin Stinson. Thomas Turnbull, a boarder at Stinson's, who was hunted up, told the officer that he had known the Stinsons for 20 years, and that the boys—who ran the restaurant together with their father and brothers in Canada—had been manufacturing counterfeit money during the entire period of his acquaintance with them. On Dec. 6 Turnbull took an officer down to St. Clair siding, about 36 miles east of Windsor, and introduced him to John Stinson, the father of the boys, as an old-time crook and a man who could assist the family in passing their spurious coin. The detectives made arrangements with Edwin Stinson to deliver 80 counterfeit silver dollars at a certain Detroit saloon. On Wednesday night Mulhall and Turnbull decoyed Edwin Stinson to Detroit to deliver the counterfeit dollars. He was arrested and is now held in this city. The officers then returned to Canada, armed with information given by Edwin Stinson and accompanied by Inspector O'Leary of the Dominion police, and visited the Stinson farm and arrested John Stinson, the old man, together with his two sons, William and James, Mrs. Dooley, their housekeeper, and a man named Thomas Stoddard, all of whom are now locked up in Windsor. A search of the farm premises revealed a large quantity of counterfeit United States coin of various denominations, molds, tools, etc., buried in the barnyard. The entire outfit was seized and is now in the hands of the Canadian police. It was found that a pattern-maker named Fisher, living in Detroit, made the molds for the Stinsons, and was arrested. Capt. Abbott has received instructions from the chief of the secret service at Washington to turn over the Canadian prisoners to the Dominion authorities to be prosecuted under the Canadian law.

Emma Abbott to Be Cremated.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 9.—It is expected that the body of Emma Abbott, who died in Salt Lake City on Monday, will be brought to Pittsburg to be cremated. Three years ago while in Pittsburg Miss Abbott visited the Pittsburg Crematory, which had just been completed. Picking up a tiny piece of bone Miss Abbott remarked as she left the place after an hour's stay: "If I may have this I shall have it mounted in a pin and wear it as a sort of Trappist emblem, a memento mori, you know, and besides it will remind me of my resolution."

"What resolution?" was asked. "I have definitely determined to do what I have said I would do before. When I die I shall be cremated. If it can be managed I shall be cremated right here in Pittsburg."

The persons in charge of the crematory will give no information, but it is believed they have been instructed to have the retort in readiness.

Does Experience Count?

It does, in every line of business, and especially in compounding and preparing medicines. This is illustrated in the great superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla over other preparations, as shown by the remarkable cures it has accomplished.

The head of the firm of C. I. Hood & Co. is a thoroughly competent and experienced pharmacist, having devoted his whole life to the study and actual preparation of medicines. He is also a member of the Massachusetts and American Pharmaceutical Associations, and continues actively devoted to supervising the preparation of and managing the business connected with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hence the superiority and peculiar merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is built upon the most substantial foundation. In its preparation there is represented all the knowledge which modern research in medical science has developed, combined with long experience, brain-work and experiment. It is only necessary to give this medicine a fair trial to realize its great curative value.

Dreadful Psoriasis.

Covering Entire Body with White Scales. Suffering Fearful. Cured by Cuticura.

My disease spontaneously first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes and my physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered all of my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scales fell off every day, and would be all over my bed, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After suffering many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I used one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and as to my eyesight. MRS. TWO STEAMERS SINK IN THE FIRTH OF FORTH.

Twelve Members of the Crew of the Bear Drowned—The Severe Weather in England—Many Fatal Accidents Reported From Various European Points.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The steamer Britannia from Leith came into collision with the steamer Bear from Grangemouth in the Firth of Forth, Scotland, at an early hour this morning. The Bear sank immediately, her crew having no time to launch a boat or make any effort whatever to save themselves. Of the 14 men on board the Bear 12 went down with the vessel. The two others were rescued by a boat from the Britannia. After the collision the Britannia, which was badly damaged, transferred her 45 passengers to the steamer Thames, and was then taken in tow by that vessel, the steamers proceeding slowly in the direction of Leith. They had not gone far, however, before the hawser connecting the two vessels was snapped asunder, and before another line could be carried to the damaged vessel she gave a terrific plunge and sank beneath the waves. Fortunately the crew had put on life belts after the collision with the Bear and all, with the exception of the chief engineer, managed to keep afloat until they were picked up by boats from the steamer Thames. The chief engineer went down with the vessel and nothing was seen of him again.

The Remarkable Weather in Europe.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—A peculiarity of the weather is that in the north of Scotland comparatively mild weather prevails. In Aberdeen there have only been 9 frosty mornings, against 29 in London, in the last month. At Sunburgh Head, in the Shetlands, there has only been one frosty morning in the same period. Even Bodo, Norway, has only had half of the frosty mornings that London has had.

In Paris the temperature stands at 32. The cold wave extends to the Mediterranean. Advices from Tunis say that the hills are snowclad.

Two express trains bound for Trieste are snowed up, and it is not known whether or not relief has been sent to the passengers. At Klagenfurth, in Austria, a freight train has been buried out of sight by an avalanche. The Bora wind continues to blow, and Trieste the wheels of the locomotives freeze to the rails, and the population of the city is helpless as far as getting supplies is concerned.

An avenue lined with green fir trees placed in tubs on the ice has been laid out across the frozen Danube just outside Nussdorf, to delight the Viennese. Snow is still falling in Vienna. Six thousand men are employed in clearing the streets of snow.

Increased Bank Dividends.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—During the week there was a fair demand for discount, which was quoted at 2⅝ for three months and 2¼ for short. Money was abundant. This was partly owing to the distribution of the quarterly dividends on consols and India stocks. The influx of gold into the Bank of England during the week amounted to £178,000. There are no signs of a movement of gold to France through the new loan Silver was especially firm yesterday. The belief grows that free coinage in the United States will ultimately prevail. Rupee paper gained 1½. The dividends declared by leading banks show in no instance a decrease and in most cases they have increased.

These signs of all around financial soundness and prosperity had a good effect upon the stock exchange, and although speculative business is at a low ebb a daily increase of investment dealings is reported. In every department the tone is becoming firm under the growing current of healthy public business. The rise in consols for the week was ⅛, while the best colonial securities advanced ¼. Foreign governments steady, with the exception of Chilian bonds, which dropped 6½ per cent.

Murder Will Out.

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—A murder trial very sensational in its character, is likely before long to occupy the time of the Berlin court. In September, 1887, a municipal night watchman named Braun was mysteriously murdered, and his body was hung up on a tree with his own belt in the neighborhood of Elizabeth Kirche. It was proved at the time that the murder had been undoubtedly committed by persons who had attempted to enter the church for the purpose of robbery. Two notorious characters, a man and his wife named Heintze, were arrested, but were subsequently liberated for want of evidence. The police, however, have continuously kept an eye on the suspects and this week they have again been arrested, fresh evidence having been obtained. The murder of Braun has for the last three years been the chief mystery in point of celebrity in the criminal annals of Berlin.

The Murder of Dr. Reinsch.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 11.—Further particulars have been received here concerning the murder of Dr. Robert Reinsch, the German naturalist, whose body was discovered some days ago, about eight miles from Canea. It appears that the deceased gentleman was a citizen of Eisleben, in Prussia. He had been visiting Benghasi and had proceeded thence to Crete. Taking up his quarters at Canea, he was making a series of excursions from that place into the surrounding country, traveling without any escort, and it was in the course of one of these expeditions that he was murdered. It is not even known whether the crime was committed by Christians or Musulmans.

Children Burned to Death.

FUNDAM, Jan. 11.—An accident resulting in the death of four children took place here to-day. A married couple who were going on a visit to Berlin confided their four young children to the care of a nurse girl. At 9 o'clock the girl was induced to go out with a soldier, who was her lover, and she left the children alone, taking the precaution to place the lamp on top of the stove so that it might be out of the children's reach.

Half an hour after the girl had gone out a passer-by, perceiving the window curtains to be afire, ran into the house and found the children burned almost to cinders. The nurse and the soldier have been arrested.

A Procession of Elephants.

CALCUTTA, Jan. 11.—The Czarewitch, who is making a tour of the east, has arrived at Jeypoor. He received a grand reception. The authorities showed him every mark of respect and a procession of elephants was held in his honor.

THE STRIKE IN SCOTLAND.

AFFAIRS GROWING MORE SERIOUS WITH THE RAILWAYS.

The Large Number of Accidents Helps to Strengthen the Public Sympathy With the Strikers—As Many People as Possible Refrain from Making Journeys.

GLASGOW, Jan. 11.—The strike situation in Scotland continues to grow more serious. The large number of accidents occurring helps to strengthen the public sympathy with the strikers, as the companies are censured for endangering the lives of their patrons by employing inefficient men instead of taking their trustworthy servants back at fair wages. As many people as possible refrain from making journeys during the continuance of the trouble. The condition of mind of those who are compelled to travel may be inferred from an incident occurring Saturday on the Caledonian Railway. The train halted suddenly for some purpose, and the nervous passengers, immediately coming to the conclusion that an accident was imminent, threw open the doors and windows and began jumping from the cars. Before the train hands could allay the panic the coaches had been completely vacated, men, women and chilren having joined in the stampede. Several persons were quite badly bruised by contact with the frozen ground.

Sullivan Will Visit Australia.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Champion Fugilist and Actor John L. Sullivan has long been anxious to visit Australia. Arrangements have been made whereby he will soon appear in dramatic performances in Melbourne and thence make a tour of the country. The contracts were signed at the Hoffman House yesterday by Duncan B. Harrison and the Messrs. McMahon of Her Majesty's Opera House, Melbourne. The party will sail from San Francisco next June.

Two Boys Drowned.

BRONTE, Jan. 11.—While skating on Lake Ontario about two miles from Bronte, Saturday afternoon, two boys named James Joyce and H. Elsmore Smith, aged 13 and 16 years respectively, were drowned by breaking through the ice. Both lads resided with their parents in this village.

A Serious Fall.

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 11.—While engaged in superintending the work of rebuilding the burned steamer Isaac May, at Port Robinson, Friday, Captain Alex. Milligan fell from the bow deck to the dock breaking three ribs and sustaining internal injuries.

A Strange Incident.

BRANTFORD, Jan. 11.—A strange and painful incident occurred to William McGillivray, a typo employed in The Expositor office. The first "take" of news handed him to set was a telegraphic despatch stating that his brother had been burned to death at Midland.

Found Dead in a Chair.

CHATSWORTH, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Walker Carson died suddenly at the family residence, a little south of this place. She was left sitting in her chair and when next seen was found dead on the floor, having fallen on her face. She was 95 years old and was one of the oldest residents of this section.

Two New Cunarders Ordered.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 11.—The Cunard Steamship Company has contracted for the building of two large fast steamers of 12,000 tons each, which will make the voyage between New York and Queenstown in five days and eight hours, and New York and Liverpool under six days at a speed of 23 knots an hour. The ships are to be built on the Clyde, to cost $2,000,000 each, and be ready in 1892.

Found Dead in Bed.

PICKERING, Jan. 11.—Deborah Crruthers, relict of the late William Kinton, was found dead in her house Friday evening. She walked several miles the previous day to visit friends, and returned in her usual good health. She was aged 83 years old.

Nihilist Padlewski Captured.

MADRID, Jan. 11.—Padlewski, the Nihilist and all got murderer of Gen. Sherkoff at Paris, has been captured at Olot, about 30 miles from Gerona, on the Fluvia.

PARNELL AT LIMERICK.

HE AGAIN ATTACKS THE OLD MAN ELOQUENT.

And Produces Documents With a View of Proving that Gladstone's Statement of the Hawarden Conference was Incorrect—Gladstone Writes Another Letter.

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—Mr. Parnell left here for Limerick in the afternoon. Before starting he made an address to a large crowd of people gathered upon the platform of the railroad station. He said that he would do nothing to imperil the success of the movement to secure Irish independence, but on the contrary would do everything possible to further the Irish cause. He declared he would stand by the position he had assumed in the committee-room of the House of Commons when he announced that he was willing to sacrifice himself provided he saw the Irish cause safe.

At the most of the places at which the train conveying Parnell stopped on the way to Limerick there were friendly deputations waiting to receive him. When the train arrived at Limerick Junction Parnell made a short speech. He said he had heard cheers given for O'Brien. Well, he also would call for cheers for O'Brien—and long might he live to soothe and heal animosities and, if possible, restore union to their ranks.

At Limerick Parnell received a most enthusiastic reception. The mayor headed the committee waiting to receive him. Upon arriving at his hotel Parnell made a speech to the crowd.

The Long-Expected Speech.

LIMERICK, Jan. 11.—Fully 30,000 persons assembled here to-day to greet Mr. Parnell, thousands coming from the adjoining counties. In response to addresses Mr. Parnell made a long speech. He held that Mr. Gladstone had caused the present trouble by issuing a mandatory letter demanding that the Irish members depose their leader. Referring to Mr. Gladstone's denial of the accuracy of his statements regarding the interview at Hawarden, Mr. Parnell declared that he could now confirm their truth by a letter written March 18, only 3 months after the interview, when the matter was fresh in his mind, when even his bitterest enemy could not say he had any reason to misrepresent or suppress the truth. The letter was sent to Cecil Rhodes, Premier of the Cape of Good Hope, an adherent of the cause of Home Rule. It stated that Mr. Gladstone and his colleagues had been considering fully the question of the retention of the Irish members at Westminster, and that Mr. Gladstone had told him that the retention of 33 members in the Imperial Parliament had finally been considered best for all purposes. Mr. Parnell here read the letter to prove that the statement he sent to Mr. Rhodes corresponded with assertions in his manifesto which Mr. Gladstone had contradicted. He then proceeded to say that Mr. Gladstone pointed to his own public declarations, but it was difficult to make anything out of these. Mr. Gladstone possessing a marvelous faculty of placing a different interpretation on any statement other than that placed upon it by opponents. Mr. O'Brien, to whom he (Parnell) had communicated an outline of the Hawarden conversation, had a remembrance absolutely identical with his own regarding Mr. Gladstone's proposal as to the number of members of parliament. Another important fact yet unrevealed Mr. Parnell said he would now publish. Twenty-four hours before he issued his manifesto he saw Mr. McCarthy, to whom he told what he intended to do, and gave an outline of the statement he was preparing to issue as a manifesto. Mr. McCarthy, he had reason to know, placed his intentions before Mr. Gladstone. [Hisses.] Mr. McCarthy also communicated to him Mr. Gladstone's observations upon the outline of the manifesto and there was no reference whatever then made by Mr. Gladstone against the manifesto on the ground of breach of confidence. [Cries of "Hear, hear."]

Touching the present position of the land question, Mr. Parnell said he thought the action of the Liberals toward the land bill proposed by the Government was foolish, and that it showed that the Liberals had no genuine land policy. The leaders of the party in order to conciliate the radical section had abandoned the idea of a peasant proprietor and land purchase, and in order to conciliate the Whigs they had refused to entertain a proposal for a reduction of rents by means of amendments to the Land Act of 1881, or by conferring upon the future Irish Parliament the power to deal with the question. It was therefore perfectly useless for the Liberals to talk about Home Rule at all, because Home Rule so restricted, instead of being a source of strength, prosperity, peace and freedom for the country would in reality be a sham, landing them in hotter water than they were in at present. Whatever might be the motives of Irish members of Parliament who opposed him it was certain that they were not in a position by their knowledge of these affairs to sit in judgment on him or to pretend to express the opinion of the country. It was ever to be regretted that their blind haste to obey their new leaders had impelled them to press forward to a decision in the committee-room, as if the minutes were golden. Many of them must wish that they had paused at that time instead of sending misleading cable despatches across the Atlantic. [Hear, hear.] He wished that they had paused to await the return of Mr. O'Brien—[cheers]—whose advice and judgment would have been esteemed and respected by him, as it would have been compulsory for them. [Cheers.] Perhaps they might soon be able to say that it was better late than never. [Cries of "Hear, hear" and cheers.] Mr. Parnell said that he could not forecast the result of the present negotiations without a breach of confidence. He thought, however, that Mr. O'Brien would not object to his saying that so far the negotiations had resulted in an agreement, and that they fully recognised that future steps will have to be taken by other men upon whom a very great responsibility will rest if Mr. O'Brien and himself are not again able to resume negotiations with an assured hope of success. [Cheers.]

As for himself he only asked them to believe that he had not been actuated by the contemptible and paltry motives attributed to him. As soon as the future of the Irish question was assured he would cheerfully retire from the leadership of the Irish party. [Cries of "No, no."] He should scarcely be asked to lead the party composed as it was at present. [Hear, hear.] He believed the future would vindicate him fully, but he certainly would never seek vindication beyond the voice of the Irish people. [Cheers.]

WHAT GLADSTONE SAYS.

The McCarthy Party, He Says, Vindicates Itself by Rejecting Parnell.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Mr. Gladstone has written a letter to Mr. Furness, the Liberal candidate for Hartlepool to succeed the late Thomas Richardson. Mr. Gladstone says: "The Irish Parliamentary party has vindicated itself by putting an end to the leadership of Mr. Parnell, and has felt us prepared to pursue, as heretofore, our duty in denouncing unequal laws and the odious system of coercion adopted by the Government as a permanent law. The Liberal gains of seats have been substantially repeated during the last 4 years. This means that union has for the first time been effected between the British and Irish, and shows that the people aimed to close the controversy our opponents seek to indefinitely prolong, at the cost of the national reputation and of imperial treasure, and amid thanksgivingable discord.

"The people of Ireland have put their trust in the people of Great Britain to deliver them from bad laws, made worse by a harsh, insulting administration. It rests on each constituency, as the occasion offers, for us to show our appreciation that her confidence is not reposed in vain.

"The views of the Liberals on general legislation were expressed at a recent meeting of the Federation. They show that the party longs for the time when the Irish question will be settled and when fuller opportunity will be afforded to other questions. Still, the time will come, and we ought to supply a sample of our practical intentions by a bill clearing away obstacles hindering qualified voters from coming to register, and limiting on the register every single citizen to a single vote."

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER, Jan. 11.—After supper last night Messrs. McCarthy, Sexton and Condon held a long conference with Mr. O'Brien. The conference lasted until 4 o'clock in the morning and was exceedingly animated. Their conference was resumed this morning and this afternoon Messrs. McCarthy, Sexton and Condon returned to Folkestone. Previous to leaving Boulogne Mr. McCarthy, in spite of repeated requests, refused to make any statement to the newspaper representatives present on the landing-stage. Both Mr. McCarthy and Mr. Sexton, however, expressed the hope that all will soon be settled.

For Restoring Grattan's Parliament.

KILKENNY, Jan. 11.—The Mitchelstown Board of Guardians have received an invitation from Mr. Power of Kilkenny to attend the Loyal National Home Rule Convention of magistrates, grand jurors and public boards, summoned to meet in Dublin, in order to re-establish the movement of O'Connell and Butt. The convention, it is announced, will be a thoroughly loyal and national meeting, having the ultimate object of restoring Grattan's Parliament.

The Archbishop's Dog.

ARMAGH, Jan. 11.—The most Rev. Michael Logue, Archbishop of the diocese of Armagh and Primate of all Ireland, replying to an address of welcome on his return from Rome declared that the bishops and priests of Ireland would have nothing to do with any compromise in regard to Mr. Parnell's retirement until he married Mrs. O'Shea and he defied Mr. Parnell and his followers to carry on the agitation against the clergy.

Swelling the Balfour Relief Fund.

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—The Lord-Lieutenant-Balfour relief fund now amounts to £15,000. The state of destitution in which the poor people of some parts of Ireland are living can be judged by the fact that to-day representatives of more than 100 families living in the Cloyne District waited upon the Board of Guardians and earnestly begged for assistance. They said that for some time they had been starving, and had been living almost entirely upon turnips.

A WARRIOR JAILED.

Capt. Kennedy, of Riel Rebellion Notoriety, Charged with Larceny.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 11.—Capt. James Kennedy, who gained notoriety at the outbreak of the Riel rebellion by starting towards Manitoba with a Gatling gun to help the Indians, with the purpose of making an alliance with the Fenians and declaring war against England, has been arrested on a charge of larceny, preferred by J. B. Hammond.

Hammond came here from Winnipeg, and after wandering about town for several hours fell in with Kennedy. The captain took him in tow and the two proceeded to invest Hammond's current cy at various dispensaries of liquid refreshment. Hammond awoke from a nap to find himself in a saloon in lower town, and minus his money.

A Defaulter Missing.

THOROLD, Jan. 11.—A gay young man named Sidney Hoch, who for the past year has been bookkeeper in the Thorold Casket Factory, is missing. Notwithstanding that Mr. Hoch was surrounded by all the emblems of death, it appears he was a happy mortal, despising the grave and revelling in the gay and festive bowl. He is a defaulter to the extent of several hundred dollars. Robert Harrow, a basket-maker, is also missing.

There's Wool on the Top of His Head.

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 11.—An old colored man named Hall, who came here many years ago from slaveryland and squatted on a section of what is now the pleasure ground, has recently shown remarkable rejuvenation, though over 90 years of age, having become the possessor of an entire set of perfect teeth, and a new crop of wool where for years he has been completely bald.

The Old Man's Birthday.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—To-day was the anniversary of Sir John Macdonald's 77th birthday. The festival occurring on Sunday the Old Man was not flooded with cables and personal well-wishes, but he received stacks of congratulatory telegrams.

An Irish Murder.

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—The Irish police claim that they are in possession of facts tracing the murder of Bridget Flanagan in County Clare last October to certain organizers of the League in that county. The young woman was shot dead while in bed by parties who probably mistook the sleeping form for that of her father, who occupied an evicted tenant's farm.

Frozen to Death Two Miles From Home.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—A farmer named Fabian Auger at Lascroix Lake was returning home from church in a sleigh with his wife and several children. After riding a part of the way he decided to walk the rest of the journey, telling his wife to drive, on as he had quite a piece to go. He failed to reach home and next morning a messenger was despatched to hunt up Auger. The body of the missing man was found frozen stiff in the middle of the road two miles from home.

LIMERICK, Jan. 11.—A man named C. Campbell started from Rathbun in a state of intoxication for Cos Hill, but only went a short distance when he lay down on the railway track, and when picked up some time after his feet were frozen stiff; his hands and face were badly frozen. His feet will have to be amputated.

Cable Flashes.

An express train bound north from London came into collision yesterday morning with a freight train near Preston, Lancaster, 32 miles northeast of Liverpool. The fireman of the express was instantly killed and several passengers were injured.

Herr von Puttkamer, formerly Imperial German Minister of Justice, is suffering from a gunshot wound in the face. He was hunting in the forests of Silesia when he received the injury referred to. It was caused by the accidental discharge of a fowling piece. Herr von Puttkamer's injuries are not considered dangerous.

If Your House is on Fire.

You put water on the burning timbers, not on the smoke. And if you have catarrh you should attack the disease in the blood, not in your nose. Remove the impure cause, and the local effect subsides. To do this, take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, which radically and permanently cures catarrh. It also strengthens the nerves. Be sure to get only Hood's Sarsaparilla.

THE TALKING MACHINE.

Development of the Telephone System in Canada.

Interview with the President and Ontario Manager of the Bell Telephone Company — Extensions Made During the Past Year — Cost of Laying Underground Wires in Toronto—Operations of the Company in Other Cities—Opposition from Other Organizations, and How it is Met.

From the Toronto Mail.

The telephone has so adapted itself to the requirements of social and commercial life, but is yet so imperfectly understood by most people, that any facts in regard to it will be of universal interest. The invention has been so recently applied to the practical uses of man and the development of the system of communication has been so rapid that its magnitude, or even its importance, is not generally comprehended. The spread of the telephone system over Canada has been the work of a single decade, and it is truly wonderful what has been accomplished in so short a time. Few places there are of any commercial importance but are already included in its circuits, and those that are not in connection feel their isolation from the commercial world, and most of them are eagerly seeking to obtain its advantages. The rapid development of the telephone system in this country is in accord with the energy and enterprise which has characterized other commercial interests of young Canada since she assumed the dignity of a united Dominion. We have to-day a system of telephone communication unsurpassed by any country in the world. In fact there are few countries, if any, where tele instrument has come into such general use for public and private purposes.

The Bell Telephone Company has manifested an abiding interest in the future of Canada by investing an immense capital, aggregating over $2,200,000, in trunk lines and exchange services. That they have kept abreast of the progress of discovery in this branch of science has been shown in the constant improvement of their instruments, the office appliances, and their mode of construction. It is amazing the perfection to which in a few years their system of communication has been brought. Some interesting facts in regard to the telephone were obtained tee other day by a representative of the Mail in an interview with Mr. C. F. Sise, president of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, and Mr. Hugh C. Baker, manager of the Ontario department, who were stopping at the Queen's. Messrs. Sise and Baker were quite willing to give full information in regard to the operations of the company, and displayed that interest in the public welfare which has everywhere made their company popular.

A VAST SYSTEM.

Mr. Sise stated that the telephone system operated by the company now reaches 350 cities, towns and villages. The company, contrary to the general impression, is purely a Canadian organization and independent of American control. Its lines stretch from Quebec in the east as far west as Calgary, British Columbia and the Maritime Provinces are operated by sub-companies with whom the Bell Company operates in conjunction where intercommunication is desired. Connections will shortly be made which will enable a subscriber in Toronto to hold conversation with anyone with whom he may have business in New York or Boston.

In reply to the interrogation as to what extensions had been made during the past season, Mr. Baker said:—"The trunk extension that is of most interest to the people of Toronto is that from Lindsay to Uxbridge and Orillia, intended not only to serve the points en route, but to relieve the pressure of business on the line north from Toronto to Barrie. As this city, being the metropolis of the province, is interested in the development of every means of communication, it may also be of interest to note that in the Province of Ontario we have constructed during the year 1890 new lines between the following points:—From Hamilton to Guelph; from Hamilton to Jarvis; from Paisley to Port Elgin and Southampton; from St. Thomas to Port Stanley, giving an excellent connection with London and points east and west; from Walkerton to Teeswater; from Norwich to Brantford; and an additional line from Richmond Hill to Newmarket. Equal attention has been given to other Provinces. The company has constructed a metallic circuit from Quebec to Montreal and from Montreal to Ottawa—which means that one can now talk from Ottawa to Quebec, 350 miles; a metallic from Montreal to Sherbrooke, with cables across the St. Lawrence and Richelieu rivers; metallic from Montreal to St. John's, and a single wire 40 miles further to Freighsburg; metallics from Montreal to St. Ann's and Montreal to Dorval. In addition single wires have been constructed between the following points:—Cornwall to Morrisburg, Three Rivers to Quebec; additional wire Sherbrooke to Coaticook, also connected with trunk line system from Danville to Nicolet Falls and French Village; Hawkesbury to L'Origeal and Vankleek Hill, and from Knowlton to Bolton Centre. All the above wires are copper."

EXPENDITURE IN TORONTO.

"Does this represent the chief expenditure of the company?"

"Not by any means," replied Mr. Sise. "While an extended trunk line system is of great importance in a commercial sense, it does not represent the largest item in the expenditure of a telephone company. It may surprise your readers to learn that the Bell Telephone Company has now work laid out in the city of Toronto alone which will entail an expenditure of $300,000."

"We have commenced," added Mr. Baker, "the erection of an absolutely fire-proof building on Temperance street, under the supervision of Messrs. Darling & Curry for our chief city exchange. This building will contain an operating room 46x85 feet, and, in the completeness and efficacy of its arrangements will not be surpassed by any telephone exchange in the world. All the wires coming into it will be underground, and all circuits will be metallic. That is, there will be a return wire from each subscriber's instrument, so that when the system is complete no disturbing sounds will be heard to interfere with conversations, and every subscriber will be in a position to speak to places at any distance that it is possible to converse with by telephone; to New York or Boston for instance if they care to. This building will be fitted up for the accommodation of 5,000 subscribers. We have also leased from the Imperial Bank the two top flats of their building corner of Yonge and Bloor streets, and are fitting them up for at least 2,500 subscribers. All wires into the building will be also underground. Then we have our Parkdale Exchange in full running order, having all wires west of Bathurst street terminating there. This office will accommodate 1,000 more. You will observe that we have faith in the future of Toronto, as these offices will furnish facilities for at least 8,500 subscribers. The balance, and the most important part of the expenditure, in fact five-sixths of it, is in connection with the underground work now being done her."

COST OF UNDERGROUND WIRES.

"You seem to be making an effort to meet the popular demand for underground wires."

"Yes, so far as we possibly can; but the people scarcely realize that the immense cost of this work makes underground cables impossible except in a limited area where rates charged are sufficient to pay interest on the cost. We are steadily moving in this direction in the east e of the city, and will proceed as experience demonstrates its practicability. The territory we are supplying with the underground system is one mile long and a half-mile wide; stretching from the bay to the first street north of Queen, and from Spadina avenue to George street. The cable used contains one hundred wires, which under the new system will serve fifty subscribers. It costs laid down in Toronto one dollar a foot. At present the expense to lay underground conduits for what is a small route of subscribers, say 300, and connecting them with the necessary cables, is about $48,000 a mile, and the cost of heavier work for a large number of subscribers in one district runs upon high as $60,000 a mile. This means, in addition to the outlay, an abandonment of all existing plant, not only on the streets, but in our central offices, as the whole switching apparatus for the new system will necessarily be new and of later pattern. We are making interesting investigations in this direction with the hope of discovering some cheaper system. A solution will certainly be discovered, and in anticipation of this all our new offices are being equipped for underground work. The conduits in which the cables are laid are of southern pine, imported for the purpose. In the preparation of these conduits they go through a process by which all the sap is extracted in a vacuum, and subsequently dead oil of coal tar is pumped into the wood at such a pressure as to guarantee the insertion of sixteen pounds of coal tar to the square foot. After being creosoted it is estimated that the life of the conduits is about thirty years. We are putting down an underground cable to the Board of Trade building. This contains fifty wires, and in future we will put similar cables into all large buildings in the city which contain 50 subscribers or more. These will be temporarily connected with our present exchange, but will have all facilities for connection with our new office, as previously stated. Our staff in Toronto consists of one hundred operators, and 75 other employees. The calls will average about 50,000 a day, or about twelve per subscriber."

EXTENSIONS IN OTHER CITIES.

"How about other cities in the Dominion?"

Mr. Sise—We are pressing work with equal vigour at all points. For instance, in Montreal the company has recently completed a fine building on St. Catharine street, for our uptown exchange, at a cost of $56,000. Our business in Montreal requires four exchanges. The constantly increasing demand for our instruments all over the country has compelled us to arrange for adding to the factory force from 120 to 250 men. For this purpose we are now building a factory in that city which, with equipment, will cost $150,000, and this we hope to have completed in May next, ready for next season's operations.

"Your manufacturing, then, is done in Canada?"

"Yes, ours is a purely Canadian company, and all the advantages arising from the operations of such an extensive concern are given to the Canadian people. We are not, as has been represented, a branch of the American Bell Company, and have no interest in or profits from that organization, though we have the friendliest relations with them, and owe them a great deal for advice and assistance. Our whole interests as a company are in and with the Dominion, and we stake our future with the people amongst whom we are doing business."

"How about your headquarters at Hamilton?"

Mr. Baker—There we are also putting up a new fireproof building with all the latest improvements, including provision for underground work in future in case we find it can be done successfully and at a profit. We are always rebuilding some exchanges. The entire construction is in the latest style, and every place is receiving the same attention as rapidly as our large force and constantly improving facilities will allow.

OPPOSITION COMPANIES.

"You are not, then, disposed to curtail operations in prospect of opposition?"

Mr. Sise—Our policy is to give our subscribers the best facilities possible at charges which will give us a fair margin. The telephone business is so little understood by the general public that people have been victimized by individuals who wish to dispose of cheaper wares at a large profit, and resort to misrepresentations of the profits of the business in order to accomplish their purpose. We have heard of these parties offering assurances of a profit of more than double as much as we make ourselves at charges considerably less than ours. A statement of the financial operations of the Bell Telephone Co. for seven years shows that they have paid dividends averaging a little less than 9½ per cent. per annum, and this is certified as correct by Philip S. Ross, auditor, of Montreal. Mr. Ross also certifies to another important point, that the stock of this company has never been watered nor distributed as a bonus to any person or corporation, but has always been sold at par. The only inference to be drawn is that these gentlemen who make promises of such large profits must be a great deal cleverer than the officials of the Bell company, or that they are withholding or misrepresenting the facts. This is a matter in which the public is interested. If the Bell company, with the whole of Canada for its field, with no opposition to speak of, and charging rates fixed by themselves, has not been able to realize larger profits than it has, there should not be much encouragement to capitalists to invest money in an opposition company which proposes to do business at half the rates.

"What is the policy of your company in meeting opposition?"

Mr. SISE.—This has been demonstrated very fully at two points. In Montreal we established a cut rate and we are adding annually almost as many subscribers as the opposition has altogether after three years' work, and have now about 4,500 subscribers. Of course the business in that city is being operated at a loss, but we are already doing five-sixths of the telephone business there, and it is only a question of time when the whole people will see the advantage of one telephone system established on a paying basis. At Peterborough we are now supplying instruments free of charge to kill opposition. This we could not do in a large city, as the demand would be beyond the capacity of any exchange we could establish. Our position in short is this, that as the shareholders of the company have invested their capital and educated the people in the use of the telephone, supplying the public demand at the lowest possible rate, they will protect their property at any cost. No opposition company will be bought out as a premium to others, but it will in every case be fought out on the lines already stated as long as the opposition lasts.

COMPARISONS OF RATES.

"How does your rate compare with those charged in other countries?"

Mr. Baker—We can say that the Bell Telephone Company of Canada has supplied the cheapest telephone system in the world, and this should be some claim to the confidence and support of the people of this country. Let me give you the rates in a few places compiled not long since:—Baltimore, $100, Boston $120, Buffalo $70 and upwards, Chicago $125, Cleveland $180, Rochester $64, Washington $100, Brooklyn $120, Cincinnati $100, Kansas City $72, Louisville $72 to $96, Milwaukee $60 and $100, New Orleans $96, Philadelphia $120, Pittsburg $84 and over, St. Louis $100, Toronto $30 to $50. Not many of these places have more subscribers than Toronto, and many of them fewer. Opposition may come in Toronto, but no telephone company could establish a business in this city with an outlay of less than half a million dollars. It would be impossible to pay any dividend on this amount as a charge less than the rates we now have, or without an extended trunk line system. At cut rates it would simply mean the loss of the entire investment within a few years, while the subscribers would suffer all the effects of a demoralised service, and would have to pay more for their telephones, as experience shows that they must use and pay for two telephones instead of one, in order to reach all the subscribers in the city. There are probably not twenty-five subscribers in Montreal to the opposition company who have had their Bell telephone instruments removed on that account. I cannot see that opposition would be of the slightest benefit to anybody, or that there is the shadow of an excuse for an an attempt to establish such a thing here, as the rates are low, and the Bell Company is constanly spending money to improve the service.

DIFFICULTIES IN TORONTO.

It is very difficult to perfect the work in a city the size of Toronto, where the use of the telephone is so enormous and the effects of electric light induction are so bad, but I am sure that no city in the world will have better service when the improvements we now have in hand are completed. Of course, after all has been said and done by the City Council, and the stand they have taken on the subject of putting the wires underground and the way in which their wishes have been met by this company, which has undertaken, without in any way being forced to do it, to make an expenditure in this direction amounting to over a quarter of a million of dollars within the next three years, it would be ridiculous to suppose that any new company would be allowed to put up poles. At the rates now charged here an entire underground system would be utterly out of the question, and the only way to accomplish the desired end of burying the wires is to do it gradually as the business increases, and the methods of getting rid of the wires are improved. At present we do not by any means know how best to do it, and a great deal of money has been and is being spent in endeavoring to find out. As far as the subscribers go, we can safely say that they would find an opposition company as expensive nuisance, even if they succeeded by this means in forcing the Bell Telephone Company to do business below cost.

Purify your Blood

The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditad and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing so exclusively more positive than the power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

The Dorenwend Electric Belt is provided with a battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of electricity. It can be felt and can be regulated at will by the wearer while the belt is on the body. It is a light contrivance and can be worn at any time without the least inconvenience. It is the only Electric Belt in the world that follows out the true principles of electrical science. It has been examined and pronounced by experts and authorities to be the most practical and efficient method of bodily application yet invented.

"THE DORENWEND ELECTRIC FOOT BATTERY cures Cramps, Rheumatism, Defective Circulation, Cold Feet, &c. This is the only insole in the world provided with a battery, consequently it is the only one producing a current. All others are simply soles of felt with pieces of zinc and copper fastened to them.

Be Careful.—If you are an afflicted one and are contemplating electrical treatment, see what you are getting before you invest. There are many humbugs in the country.

Remember every Dorenwend Belt is guaranteed, and will accomplish all as a curative that electricity can. The current in all Dorenwend appliances can be distinctly felt, and can be regulated to weak and strong degrees. They are the "World's Best," and their equal cannot be found. Now is the time to procure one. Call anyway and examine them, and get a copy of Book on Home Treatment.

SIR JOHN AT HOME.

IT IS NOW TIME TO CELEBRATE THE PREMIER'S BIRTHDAY.

The Genial, Hospitable Master of Earnscliffe—Some Personal Gossip about the Chieftain—His Taste in Literature—Unstudied Tributes to Him from Two Sources.

On Sunday, Jan. 11, Sir Jno. Macdonald opened his eyes on the beginning of his 77th year. It is a convenient time, therefore, to take a peep at the man who, for the last forty years, has occupied so large a space on the stage of public affairs. In the columns of so that the editor assigns to me it would be impossible to give any valuable disquisition on the life-history attached to Canada's greatest name, and therefore all that is attempted to-day is to jot down a few trifles which only become interesting as belonging to the youthful old gentleman who is premier of the Dominion. I confess that I have given many hours to cogitation, aiming to discover the secret of his remarkable and contagious success as a builder of nations and manager of men. I could, if called upon, give the conclusions I have come to, but they would doubtless clash with those of every other man who has given the matter any thought. My friend, Mr. Blakeley Hall, the New York Sun's roving commissioner has had the opportunity of encountering an unusual number of both in Europe and America. Sir John Macdonald is among the number that have been subjected to his journalistic inquisition. The old man left a profound impression on the newspaper man, and Mr. Hall speaking afterwards about it said that he intended some day to 'write up' his impressions of what constituted a leader of men in democratic communities. His interview with Sir John Macdonald had added, said, one more item of testimony to the correctness of his views on the subject. Asked what his doctrine was, he replied:

"All the leaders of men with whom I have come in contact, and whose power is based on the will of the majority of their countrymen, have been chiefly distinguished by being devilish good fellows."

This, according to Mr. Hall's deduction, is the secret of obtaining dominion over the hearts of men, and is certainly a pleasanter way of commanding the love of your fellows than by sending them to Siberia or administering the knout to their sisters or other female relatives.

Be that as it may certainly any person who called at Earnscliffe last New Year's day and met the Premier, not as the chief of a belligerent political party, but as the genial, hospitable, witty head, of a generous household, would heartily agree with Mr. Hall's classification of him.

SIR JOHN'S HOME.

Earnscliffe is much improved in the last 18 months. During one summer's holidays the workmen got at it and materially enlarged its borders. The house is perched on the banks of the river Ottawa, the greater part of the ground consisting of a precipitous descent to the riparian right of way along the river's margin. The back and front of the house offer a remarkable contrast. The front plot of ground is as level as a billiard table laid out in sward and flower beds; the rear is rocky enough and uncanny enough to remind its owner, if he has ever seen them, of his ancestral Sutherlandshire hills. Topping the limestone cliffs is a fence on which is displayed a remarkably large sign-board by which shantymen are warned in English and French—(shewing his partiality to the dual language system) not to "mub" their rafts and booms on his fence. It is indeed an old romantic and out-of-the-way home, the latter quality being doubtless a better recommendation to the chieftain than the others. Not that his spirit does not respond even after seventy years attrition with a very hard world to those secret springs of our being to which imagination is hand-maiden. Indeed, judging by what I know of his reading, I must think that this very wise, very shrewd, very practical statesman has not allowed to die within him the sentimental element that preserves youth and gives even old age a jest. Sir John is an omnivorous reader. He dips into all kinds of literature. His time being very much occupied in running this country, he must needs at an alarming rate. He has acquired this art to perfection, and I am told, after an hour's dalliance with a volume he can often tell more about what is new in it than the man who devotes a day or more to its perusal. I repeat he has a most catholic taste in letters, ranging from Rider Haggard's "King Solomon's Mines" to Cardinal Newman's "Dream of Gerontius." Just here let me add that the Premier holds the "Dream" in high esteem, and recommends the reading of it to his friends, and if those who peruse this column desire a literary treat and at the same time to ascertain what the Premier considers good poetry let them invest, if they have not already done so, twenty-five or thirty cents in purchasing the little epic which, the story goes, was rescued from the great churchman's waste-basket by a judicious friend.

SKIM THROUGH BOOKS

Let is be whispered in the softest voice that the Conservative chieftain reads in bed. If he has an interesting book he likes to have a look at it for the few moments that prelude his interview with that classic personage whom we know as Morpheus. Moreover as a still further reason why he cannot be held up as a model for good little boys at Sunday school, let it be still more softly murmured, that he does not practice that early to bed early to rise precept, which neglect has not hindered him, however, from being fairly healthy, moderately wealthy and uncommonly wise.

A DAY'S LABOUR.

His duties are divided between two offices He has one at Earnscliffe, and every morning Mr. Joseph Pope, his private secretary, attends there and prepares for him a bunch of letters which beats in bulk the post-man's Xmas morning offering even to the most fortunate of my readers. But before this redundant mail is considered audience is given to various persons. Very often one of his ministers has an engagement with him, when some weighty matter of state is discussed. Having dismissed these in waiting, he repairs to Mr. Pope and his correspondence. When that has been disposed of they take a cab and occasionally a street car in deference probably to Mr. McMullen, to the office of the minister of railways in the west block. Here he remains until council meets, generally at 3 or 4 o'clock. If there is no meeting of council he remains in the office till between five and six, when he returns home to dinner. He is and always has been a light eater and many ascribe the present perfection of his physical and mental powers to this abstemiousness.

The evening is spent in the society of friends or in reading and—shall we say, occasionally in planning plans by which his opponents shall be covered with irretrievable confusion. His manners in his own house I cannot better describe than by quoting the phrase of a young gentleman, a distant relative of Sir John's, who sometimes has the pleasure of breaking bread with him: "He is a dear old chap," this young gentleman says, and with this unstudied testimony to his power of winning the hearts of young beaux as well as of old worldlings let me conclude this birthday memoir.

JOHN A. EWAN.

Three Hundred Foreigners Killed by Natives.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Herbert L. Rand of Carthage, Ill., recently appointed American Consul to the Caroline Islands, is in this city on his way to the scene of his duties. He has just received letters from his brother, who has been a missionary in the islands for 16 years, giving the account of outrages committed by natives. In their revolt against the Spaniards the natives have killed 300 foreigners, including 190 Spanish soldiers. They have looted and burned the houses of all missionaries at Ponapi. The Rev. Mr. Rand lost his library, worth $1000, and all his personal and household effects. The missionaries have now been transferred to a neighboring island for safety, but the natives of the whole group are excited and more massacres are feared.

"Prof." Hogan Not Dead.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—"Professor" Hogan, the aeronaut, who was supposed to have been lost about two years ago, 12 miles off Sandy Hook, is, from all indications, yet alive awaiting an opportunity to return to the world in a manner that will be of financial advantage to himself. He sailed away in an airship of his own construction nearly two years ago and was last seen by a passing vessel slowly descending to the ocean. The fact that Mrs. Hogan has been absent for three months at a time from her home and that she is cheerful at all times regarding her husband gives color to the story.

Arctic Weather in Europe.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 9.—The coast of Belgium, notably in the neighborhood of Ostend to Blankenbergha, presents a remarkable appearance. Large blocks of ice are washed about the shore and many vessels are forced by the ice to remain in port. The fishermen are suffering severely. Few of the fishing boats put to sea and the crews of those able to do so tell startling tales of the hardships the fishermen have endured. The coast presents a spectacle the like of which the oldest inhabitants say has not been seen in years, if ever before.

Good Deeds Done.

The good deeds done by that unequalled family liniment, Hagyard's Yellow Oil, during the thirty years it has been held in ever increasing esteem by the public, would fill volumes. We cannot here enumerate all its qualities, but that it can be relied on as a cure for croup, coughs, colds, sore throat and all pains, goes without saying. 2wld

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam Balsam for coughs and colds does, is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The Large Bottles are 50c. and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

Experentia Docet.

Mr. J. H. Hourigan, after using Wilson's Wild Cherry in his family for eight years, writes us that it has never failed to cure coughs, colds, whooping cough or bronchitis. Be wise, profit by the experience of others, and use Wilson's Wild Cherry when afflicted with any such trouble. Sold by all druggists. dw

Powder Mill Explosion.

A powder mill explosion affects the country for miles round, but dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, headache, loss of appetite and debility, affect humanity the world over. The editor of the Mitchell Recorder states that he was cured of biliousness, liver trouble and sick headache, by Burdock Blood Bitters. Is it not worth trying on such evidence? 2wld

The three important outlets of disease are the skin, bowels and kidneys. See that they perform their functions properly and use Burdock Blood Bitters to insure this proper action. 3wld

ONCE USED, always used. This is a fact as regards Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Rose from its wonderful efficiency in curing chapped hands and making the skin soft and smooth. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 639

The new business of the SUN LIFE was the largest ever secured in the Company's history and was equalled by but one Canadian life company. The surplus accumulated during the THREE years of the current quinquennium far exceeds the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail to be highly satisfactory. The prosperity of the Sun Life is no doubt largely due to its issuing unconditional policies and paying its claims promptly. Canadians should also remember that by patronizing a Home Institution, which invests all its funds in the Dominion, they are benefiting themselves by reducing the rate of interest here, and are helping to build up our own cities rather than those of foreign states.

An Exciting Exhibition.

The streets rang with the blare of trumpets Saturday night announcing the arrival of the deputation from Kringle's Cross-roads to attend the carnival next Friday. The chariot was drawn by a yoke of oxen, heralded by half a dozen torch bearers, and contained a few choice samples of the representative men from that distant district. The cavalcade created considerable commotion the streets, and succeeded in pretty well advertising the carnival.

LINDSAY, Jan. 10.—The Lindsay Curling Club will be again represented at the Winnipeg bonspiel, which opens in that city on February 3rd, by the following rink: J. A. Beckwell, Fred Keswick, J. A. McMillan, jr., J. D. Flavelle, skip.

A Decisive Day.

Friday, Jan. 16th, will be a day long to be remembered in Peterborough, whether the tempest howl or the sun shine brightly, or blizzard bite or blow, the day will close in a blaze of glory. Why? Because the 16th is the date of the Foresters' Great Ice Carnival and Masquerade Demonstration. The finest collection of masquerade misery ever massed under one roof. Magnificent costumes, electric lights, beautiful belles, rainbart skaters, entrancing music—altogether a captivating conglomeration of unexampled excellence of enjoyment. Splendid and sumptuous prizes for competition—one hundred dollars worth of prizes to be won. Don't forget the date, Jan. 16th, Friday night. Fire Brigade Band on hand all the evening.

Mr. Alex. Craig's Delightful "Send-off."

Mr. Alex. B. Craig, who has for many years been chief clerk of the Rossin House Hotel, has resigned that position and intends removing to the United States, is well known in Peterborough, where he made many friends during his residence here. His popularity was as great in Toronto as it was here, and the occasion of his departure was very pleasantly marked. He was met by a large deputation of his friends in Toronto, and others gathered from all points in the Dominion—from Montreal to Medicine Hat—and presented with a splendid gold watch and diamond pin, valued at $400. Mr. Craig, in returning thanks, said, though going to the United States he would always remain a Canadian in spirit. Others of the guests made short addresses complimentary to Mr. Craig, whose parting hours will certainly send to strengthen his pleasant recollections of his Canadian home.

Rev. Father Huntingdon.

Rev. J. O. S. Huntingdon, who is expected to visit Peterborough soon in the interest of the Single Tax system, is one of the remarkable men of the age, is a son of Bishop Huntingdon of New York, and as a pulpit orator he has few equals. He is a regularly ordained priest of the Episcopal Church in the United States, but has resigned all chance of the most promising ecclesiastical preferment in order to leave himself free to throw his whole energies into evangelistic work in New York city, to this end joining a society called the "Order of the Holy Cross." From this comes his title of "Father." He has no parochial charge, but goes all over the United States holding missions. He is particularly the friend and champion of the down-trodden and oppressed. He uses every legitimate means to reach the hearts of the masses, and his advocacy of the social reform represented by the single tax platform, is merely an incident in his life. He has thrown his energies into that as a means of reaching the masses and elevating their physical well-being as a mechanism of reaching their minds and hearts with the Gospel message. Rev. Mr. Huntingdon's visit to Peterborough will arouse interest among all classes, and our readers will be daily supplied with information respecting his coming to town.

Church Chimes.

The George Street Church Sunday School Anniversary—Other Notes.

Another milestone in the onward march of progress of the George Street Sunday School was marked by the anniversary services Sunday. The school is the largest in town, and as such its anniversary is of considerable importance. Special sermons were preached morning and evening by Rev. A. M. Phillips, B.D., of Toronto, whose apt similes, fluent style and earnest utterances combined to make the addresses both impressive and interesting. The EXAMINER regrets that lack of space prevents any extended reference to the excellent sermons. In the afternoon a children's meeting was held, the pupils to the number of about 600 occupying the auditorium. There was also a good attendance of elders. Mr. H. S. Griffin, superintendent, presided. After singing and prayer, and a responsive reading, addresses were delivered by Rev. S. J. Shorey and Rev. Mr. Phillips. Rev. Mr. Locke, pastor, was also present at all the services during the day. At the evening service the large choir rendered a fine new anthem, and Mr. Bowman sang a solo. The anniversary is to be continued by an entertainment Tuesday evening in the school room.

At St. Peter's Cathedral Sunday first mass and vespers were celebrated by Rev. Father Scollard, a newly-ordained priest. Rev. Father Nevin read a lengthy encyclical from the Pope regarding the African slave trade, and calling upon Christians to assist in establishing missions near the slave centres of the dark continent. In the absence of Miss Ealand Miss K. Hurley presided at the organ.

The congregation of the Murray street Baptist church have been highly edified by the thoughtful, eloquent and instructive sermons they have listened to the last two Sundays from Rev. Dr. Goodspeed, of McMaster Hall, Toronto. While here on Sunday last he was the guest of Miss Edwards, and the Sunday previous of Dr. Scott.

Rev. J. W. McMillan preached in St. Andrew's church Sunday, morning and evening. The annual meeting of the congregation will be held Friday night.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The consecration meeting Sabbath morning led by Mr. John Kennedy, was a season of blessing.

The Gospel and song service last evening was attended by large number. The hall was filled. Mr. F. G. Saunders gave a stirring address, which will not be forgotten, and will bear fruit for the Lord.

Bible class Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.

Anniversary meeting Thursday evening in St. Paul's Presbyterian church. Rev. Wm. Patterson will give an address.

Saunders, who has been accepted for mission service, will give a farewell address. All are invited. No collection.

A YEAR IN THE Y.M.C.A.

Annual Report of the General Secretary.

The Year Closed Free of Debt—Review of all the Departments—A Gratifying Report of the Year's Progress.

Following is the annual report of the Y.M.C.A. as presented by General Secretary Colville at the annual meeting Friday night:

To the President, Board of Directors and members of the Peterborough Young Men's Christian Association:

In presenting a resume of the year's work, we can truly say with the Psalmist, "The Lord hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad." At the beginning of our year we were deep in the mire of debt and the future did not present any redeeming features to inspire us. Our motto for the past year was: "At Jesus' feet," and His precious words, "Come unto Me all ye that labour and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." We took and appropriated them, trying also on the promise, Phil., iv, 19: "My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus," and He has done far more for us than what we could ask or think, and to Him be all the glory for the glorious victories gained. This has been the most eventful year the Association has ever had, both spiritually and financially. Throughout the year there has been a continual revival, and every month precious souls have accepted Christ, and we have been able to close the year free from debt, which, we believe, in the first time this has been done since the Association was organized. This has been the result of the liberality of our citizens and young men, God's blessing, and faithful work of Messrs. J. W. Bennet, G. M. Roger, R. J. Kidd and our president, Mr. Early. I will not dwell on the financial aspect of our work, for that will be submitted to you by Mr. J. W. Bennet, the indefatigable chairman of the Finance Committee.

OUR MEMBERSHIP

a year ago was reported at 238, but a number of these had left town or neglected to pay their fees, so we received to cross those who had not paid their fees for the past year, and have only on our roll those whom we could count as members. Besides the exodus this past year has been very great from our town, in one month alone we transferred 10 members to other Associations. Our membership, therefore, now stands thus: Sustaining 86; active, 69; associate, 43; juniors, 56. Total, 250. We have erased and transferred to other Associations 112. 71 new members were received during the year. The is without doubt the greatest element of strength in the Association. We have about 40 who have served faithfully on our various committees, and the enthusiastic service rendered is the secret of the past success, and augurs well for the future of our work among young men. Four of our young men have left us this year to prepare themselves for missionary work, and Mr. F. G. Sanders leaves on Thursday next en route to China, as an accepted missionary in the "China Inland Mission."

The character of our work is distinctively a "work for young men and by young men," is largely preventive, and knowing that the inexperience of youth causes many to fall an easy prey to the subtle temptations presented, we seek to surround young men with helpful influences, and to supply healthful recreation and occupation for leisure hours by having the "Home" idea prominent in all our work and rooms, and it is gratifying to be able to say it is succeeding. The field of our labor, which is wide, has included a large number of strangers from other countries as well as Canada; these have been met with and dealt with according to their circumstances. Some have been directed to boarding houses, several have had employment got for them, others have been advised, counselled and helped financially; many of these have found a home in their loneliness and realized someone "cared for their soul," by the sympathy, friendship and health they have received.

THE READING ROOM

has been greatly used by the young fellows and many have found it a place of refuge from temptation, and thoroughly appreciated the privileges granted them. It is well stocked with all the leading periodicals published, and is absolutely free to every young man of good moral character.

OUR LIBRARY

is also used by the young men, but it is not as well furnished with the right stamp of books as we would desire, but are thankful for what our friends have given us and are willing to receive many more books of history, travel, etc., that would be helpful and beneficial to the young men. We are hoping we shall soon receive a donation of such books from friends who desire to see our boys read good wholesome literature which will make pure-thinking young men.

EDUCATIONALLY

we have been able through the kindness of Mr. Jolly to have a class in shorthand, which is doing good service. Our band, under the able leadership of Mr. John Miller, have a practice almost weekly, have gained in proficiency, and we are proud of them and their whole-souled leader. We speak a word for them, knowing the benefit the band is to our young men individually.

THE LADIES' AUXILIARY

deserve our warmest thanks for the home like appearance of our rooms, and they have crowned their precious efforts by placing the electric light in the reading room and parlor, also for their presence and bounteous provision, which has done much to contribute to the social life of our association. We know they feel repaid by the appreciation shown by the attendance of the young men at our receptions and New Year's "At Home," when over 300 called. We also thank the Y.P.S.C.E. of the Murray St. Baptist and St. Andrew's Presbyterian churches for the monthly receptions held, and we have the promise that the young people of the other churches will do likewise.

We have not been able to do what we would desire in the line of physical drill for want of room. Sergt.-Major Rundle gave us his services for some weeks, but owing to circumstances he had to discontinue for some time, but hopes to resume soon again. Our young men enjoyed the drill immensely. It makes us long for our new building, which will be equipped with all the requirements for developing our young men spiritually, mentally, socially and physically.

OUR JUNIOR BRANCH

is bright with promise. It was organized on Sept. 19th and has grown in numbers and interest. We have great hopes for these lads who are being trained in our work and will graduate into full members, and we are believing great spiritual results will flow from this fruitful field and our future workers will come from this source, so full of promise.

The spiritual work has been very encouraging, for God has been with us in all the services. This is the highest and chief of all our agencies, and to this all others bend. Our first aim is to awaken the young men to their lost condition without Christ and then to lead them to a knowledge of Jesus Christ as their personal Saviour. The following is a summary of our spiritual work:—

Young men's meeting Saturday night, 52; total attendance, 1,727; average, 33; consecration meeting Sabbath morning at 9 a.m., 52; total attendance, 452; average, 9. Personal purity meeting Sabbath afternoon at 4.15, 33; total attendance, 1,000; average, 30. Open air meeting Sabbath afternoon at 4.15, 13; total attendance, 3,650; average, 290. Gospel and song service Sabbath evening at 8.30, 49; total attendance, 4,364; average, 89. Bible class Tuesday evening, 51; total attendance, 528; average, 10. The rooms have been closed at 9.45, as far as possible, with family worship. Special meetings for men only, four services, attendance 1,445, average 365. Week of prayer, afternoon meetings for ladies, average attendance 20; week of prayer, evening evangelistic services for men only, average attendance 32. Signed the pledge, 29; professed to have accepted Christ, 60, and names sent to the pastors of the church of their choice.

The Protestant Home is visited and service held each Monday afternoon and Hospital is visited each Sabbath morning, and short services held, from which fruit has come and testimony has been borne to the worth of the work.

Your General Secretary attended the Provincial Convention at Brantford last Feb., and we held a District Conference here last April, which was well attended, and good results followed; also assisted Messrs. Cole and Frost at Lindsay, where some $700 was subscribed for the work there last October. Last May Mrs. Nicholls, who had always shown her appreciation of our work by her yearly subscription of $200, was called "Home", but "though dead, yet speaketh" by the munificent bequest of $30,000 for the erection and maintenance of an Association building, in which we trust we shall be able to hold our next annual meeting. We are hastening for and expecting to have a home which will prove a blessing forever to the young men of our growing and prosperous town. This noble gift of Mrs. Nicholls will be a memorial for her throughout the whole world.

We desire to thank the pastors of the various churches for their continued hearty co-operation, and citizens of all classes who have assisted our work by word and deed; and also to the press of our town for the many kindness shown to us personally, and their willingness, on all occasions, to help us by publishing items of interest to our work. For what has been accomplished we give God the glory, knowing that "except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it;" and in the words of our motto for 1891—"Go forward"

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Prizes for Prize Pupils.

The Best Boys of the Separate School Receive Their Reward.

The second annual presentation of prizes to successful candidates for entrance to the Collegiate Institute, took place at the Murray Street Separate School this forenoon. The record made by the Separate School pupils is most flattering. Of eleven candidates who wrote eight were successful, some of them passing with flying colors.

About eleven o'clock the prize pupils assembled in Principal Brick's room. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor made the presentations, and delivered a short address congratulating the boys on their success and encouraging them to continued diligence in their studies. The boys who passed the entrance examination are:

	Marks.
Joseph Butler	450
Fred Sullivan	447
Willie Casey	446
Eugene Flaherty	446
James Kelly	419
Thos Mahoney	414
Bruce Weatherhead	397
George Halpin	389

The first named received the Bishop's prize of a $10 gold piece; the second $5, presented by Rev. Father Radkins; the third and fourth, being equal, were awarded $2.50 each; the remainder receiving books for prizes.

Rev. Father Radkins was also present; besides Messrs. B. Sheehy, P. McNamara and Jno. Corkery, members of the Board. Mr. Brick, principal, spoke a few encouraging words to the pupils.

The Delsarte System.

A new system of training men and women in the art of human expression (not speech) is now spoken of; it is called the "Delsarte System."

Physical perfection of feature, form and limb are treated by this new art. It claims that physical culture is now the order of the day, and that in the attainment of this culture gymnastics is but one step. It claims to be the great field for putting actors, readers and orators in possession of the proper philosophy which will enable them to excel in their callings. The majority who now study it do on account of the graces it carries in ordinary life. To secure the benefits of this new system, those who are about to study it should be free from nervous ailments, healthy in body and sound in mind. They should have a perfect digestive organism, and be total strangers to dyspepsia and indigestion. It is a system wherein alone the healthy and robust can obtain benefit and perfection in the art. To those who wish this strong, robust and vigorous health necessary to pursue this new art, Paine's Celery Compound will most assuredly give it. No other remedy known to science will so completely restore the weak, nervous, irritable, sleepless and dyspeptic victim. Paine's Celery Compound is the great remedial agent for every man or woman to fit them for enjoying a pure, happy and vigorous life.

CAVED IN ON THE WORKMEN.

King Humbert Directs the Work of Removing Them.

ROME, Jan. 11.—The basement of a house a course of erection here suddenly collapsed to-day, burying three workmen in the ruins. King Humbert, hearing of the accident, hastened to the scene and directed the work of rescuing the entombed men. All three of the workmen were rescued. Two of them will live, but the third is in a critical condition. King Humbert was warmly cheered when he left the scene of the accident.

While a number of the officers of the garrison at Reggio were being entertained in the military riding school this morning the roof suddenly crashed in, hurling huge beams of wood and showers of tiles into the tanbark arena. When the troops, who were promptly called to the scene of the disaster, succeeded in removing the debris it was found that two officers were killed, six seriously injured and ten slightly injured. The accident is supposed to have been caused by the weight of the snow on the roof.

Child Marriages in India.

CALCUTTA, Jan. 11.—The Government has introduced in the Legislative Council the bill, so long talked of, raising the age of consent from 10 to 12 years. Sir Chunder Mitter, the Bengalese member, strongly opposed the change, contending that the Hindoo scriptures authorized marriage before 12 years of age. The same member asserted that the bill violated the Government's pledge to abstain from interference in the social or religious customs of the people, and that it would arouse popular opposition. The Viceroy of India, the Marquis of Lansdowne, denied that the bill affected the marriage laws, although it extended protection to married as well as to unmarried children.

York's New Archbishop.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Bishop of Peterborough has been appointed Archbishop of York.

The new archbishop is William Connor Magee, D.D., D.C.L., one of the most eloquent of the English prelates. It was he who startled the prohibitionists some years ago by his outspoken dictum: "I would rather see England free than sober." He was born in 1821, and appointed Bishop of Peterborough in 1868. His present salary is £4000; that of the archbishopric £10,000.

Seven of the Sisters Drowned.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—While a crowd of pleasure-seekers were skating on the Untersee at Constance to-day the ice broke under them and 40 of the party were immersed in the freezing waters. Despite the instant efforts of the numerous onlookers to aid the struggling victims seven of them were drawn under the ice and drowned. The city is plunged in mourning by the calamity.

Beseeching Emigrants.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—A circular is now being issued to steamship agents, putting in force the new system of bonuses for emigrants actually settling in Canada. It is too early yet to form an opinion on the prospective results, but it is thought likely to produce some increase during the coming season of emigration. The farmer delegates' report will probably be issued at the end of the month.

Panic on a Scotch Railway Train.

EDINBURGH, Jan. 11.—There was a dangerous railroad panic this morning at Musselburgh, about six miles from this city. A passenger train took the wrong switch and was thrown off the track. While the train was still in motion a number of women and children sprang shrieking out of the railway carriages, thereby causing others to follow their example. A number of persons were seriously injured, but no deaths are reported.

TWO DESTRUCTIVE FIRES

MONTREAL, OTTAWA AND BRIGHTON VISITED.

Wing of the Russell House Destroyed—The Angus Block in Montreal in Ruins—Many Pieces of Business in Brighton Wiped Out by the Flames.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—The new wing of the Russell House was gutted by fire to-night. It served as ample rooms for commercial travelers. The loss to the building will be $12,000, fully insured. Samples owned by travelers, valued at several thousand dollars, were nearly all destroyed by fire or damaged by water. The flames were discovered on the second floor shortly before 7 o'clock and spread with great rapidity. The entire fire brigade turned out, and after a hard fight got the flames under control about 9 o'clock.

F. P. Kelly, representing McMaster & Co., Toronto, was rescued by the firemen, who placed a ladder against the walls of the burning building. The firms who met with losses are:

Montreal—Cavenhill, Kinsock & Co., and Binmore, millinery; MacKay Bros., drygoods; John MacLean & Co., millinery; J. B. Rolland & Sons, stationery; Laforte, Fils & Co., Parisian novelties; Greene, Sons & Co., gents' furnishings.

Toronto—Copp, Clark & Co., stationers; McMaster & Co., fancy dry goods; Latham & Lowe, ready-made clothing.

MONTREAL, Jan. 12.—To-night at 7 o'clock a very serious fire broke out in the premises owned by R. B. Angus, 749 to 759 Craig-street, and damage to the amount of $125,000 was done. The building is completely ruined and the tenants, among whom were: The Chadwick Spool Company, Hughes & Stevenson, plumbers; Southam & Carey, ticket printers; Waters Brothers & Company, printers, lost everything. The loss will fall about equally on the owner and tenants, but it was well covered by insurance. The Western Assurance is the largest loser.

BRIGHTON, Jan. 12.—This evening about 7 o'clock fire was seen issuing through the roof of the Kelley House. The fire spread rapidly, burning the Nesbitt block, which was occupied by W. N. Davidson, clothier, Sam Nesbitt, grocer, then to Webb's block, in which W. W. Porte, jeweler, and Thomas Webb were doing business on the ground floor. The following had offices in the Webb and Nesbitt blocks: Lawyers Gordon and Nesbitt, Dentist D. W. Dulmage, Mechanics' Institute and societies A.O.U.W., Home Circle, Ancient Order of Foresters, Canadian Order of Oddfellows and the armory. To the south of the Webb block the offices of M. K. Lockwood, custom house officer; M. P. Ketchum, clerk of the Division Court and private banker; also John McGorman, shoemaker, and H. A. Roney, blacksmith; to the rear of the building there was a barn and several storehouses. The loss is roughly estimated to be between $50,000 and $40,000. The amount of insurance cannot be ascertained.

International Bricklayers Union.

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—The International Union of America began its 10th annual convention yesterday morning in Richmond Hall. The chair was taken by the president, John Heartz of Denver, Col. The other officers are: Vice-president, Andrew McCormack, Toronto; secretary, Thomas O'Dea, Cohoes, N.Y.; treasurer, Patrick Murray, Albany, N.Y.

Nearly 200 delegates from all parts of the American Union have already arrived. In the United States the union includes both bricklayers and masons, but in Canada only the bricklayers are affiliated. The local union, Ontario No. 2, has 700 members and is represented by Delegates J. Lucas (president), Andrew McCormack and J. J. Mahon. The convention will last about two weeks and is private.

President Heartz took the chair at 10½ and announced that Mayor Clarke, Mr. J. J. Davidson, president of the Board of Trade and other gentlemen were present to welcome the delegates to the city. As these gentlemen entered the delegates rose to their feet to greet them.

His Worship said the city appreciated the compliment paid it, for he believed this was the first time the convention had met outside the United States. He assured them that in Canada there were hearts as warm for the cause of organized labor as anywhere, and he believed that in Canada trades unions had as much progress as any other part of the world. He referred to the fact that he had been a member of the Typographical Union for 22 years, and in conclusion he welcomed the delegates to the city and wished them success in their deliberations.

President Heartz replied on behalf of the union. Ex-President A. Darrah of St. Louis moved and Delegate Campion of Cleveland, a former resident of Toronto, seconded a vote of thanks to the gentleman who had welcomed the members of the convention. Delegate James McDermott of Cincinnati spoke eloquently to the motion, which was carried with cheers and a standing vote. The representatives of the city then withdrew and the convention settled down to the preliminary business of receiving credentials and appointing committees.

In the afternoon the president read out the list of standing committees and the local committee was ordered to have it printed for the use of the delegates. The hours of the convention were fixed at from 9 to 12 in the morning and from 2 to 5 in the afternoon. The secretary read the announcement of the death of A. J. Macdonald of Pittsburg, one of the first presidents of the union, on Nov. 23. The convention adjourned until to-day out of respect to his memory.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The will of Emma Abbott, the opera singer, was filed for probate here to-day. The greater portion of the estate goes to relatives and friends. Nine churches, including Plymouth and the Brooklyn Tabernacle, receive $5000 each. The residue of the estate goes to half a dozen charitable institutions. The will directs that Miss Abbott's body be tested by electricity to ascertain if life is extinct and then to be cremated.

Hamilton Jottings.

HAMILTON, Jan. 12.—The body of Rev. W. H. Laird, pastor of the First Methodist Church, whose sudden death was announced yesterday, will be taken to Woodstock for interment to-morrow. Deceased was 56 years of age, and leaves a widow, three sons and one daughter. The latter is Mrs. Laidlaw of Woodstock. The eldest son, Fred C. Laird, is a publisher in Chicago; Henry W. Laird is the editor of The Port Hope Times.

DR. JOHN STEWART, a leading physician and who has been a resident of Kingston for half a century, died on Sunday in his 80th year. He was the founder of the Queen's Medical College.

BEHRING SEA DISPUTE.

LATEST PHASE OF THE MUCH-VEXED QUESTION.

The Supreme Court of the United States to be Asked to Decide the Territorial Jurisdiction of Uncle Sam in the Behring Sea.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The Behring Sea sealers controversy came up in the United States Supreme Court to-day on a motion, which has in view a judicial determination of the dispute between the United States and Great Britain over the seal fisheries. Joseph H. Choate, in behalf of Thomas Henry Cooper, owner and claimant of the British schooner W. P. Sayward, which was seized in the waters of Behring Sea by the revenue cutter Rush, petitioned the court for a writ of prohibition to be directed to the judge of the District Court of the United States in and for the territory of Alaska restraining him from proceeding with the condemnation and sale of the vessel. The object is to have the court take up and pass upon the question giving jurisdiction over these waters. The chief justice made an order giving the Attorney-General 20 days to file an answer to the brief of Mr. Choate, giving the reason if any why the petition should not be granted.

Mr. Choate was permitted to make a brief oral statement, though the court announced that it would not decide whether or not to grant the leave to file papers asking for a writ of prohibition until the Attorney-General had an opportunity to put in an answer showing why such leave should not be granted. In the course of his statement Mr. Choate said that, while it was to be presumed the United States would welcome the opportunity of having a decision by its own highest court on the subject of the territorial jurisdiction of the United States in Behring Sea, it was desired to give the United States at the outset full opportunity to be heard. It is understood the Attorney-General will oppose the motion asking leave to file the papers.

This movement on the part of the British Government appears not to have been expected by Mr. Blaine, and the Attorney-General was taken by surprise when the motion was made by Mr. Choate in the court to-day. The British Government has probably had the matter in contemplation for some time, but all parties concerned have conducted it with so much secrecy that only those interested in behalf of Her Britnanic Majesty have been aware of it. It was probably decided upon as far back as last spring, when the announcement was made that the negotiations between the United States and England were ended.

Nearing an End.

PINE RIDGE, Jan. 12.—Gen. Miles has written a letter to Buffalo Bill and Gen. Colby, both of the Nebraska National Guard, stating that all hostiles are within a mile and a half of the agency and nothing but an accident can prevent the re-establishment of peace. Gen. Miles says he also feels the State troops may now be withdrawn with safety. To-morrow the Indians promise to send a delegation of chiefs to talk with Gen. Miles. At this time everything seems favorable to a successful close of the war, unless factions within the hostiles should recommence their tribal quarrels.

Grouard, the scout, No Neck and Yankton Charley, all of whom spent last night among the hostiles, say the latter are still fighting among themselves, and it cannot be imagined how the hostiles and the others will be able to arrive at an amicable understanding.

The Baseball Men.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Baseball men are arriving by almost every train and a full delegation will be in attendance at the gathering to-morrow.

All the members of the Conference Committee, which meets to-morrow, are in town but Chris Von der Ahe of St. Louis. He is hourly expected.

The American Association men held a meeting here last night which lasted until this morning. They were at work on the report which they must make to the association Thursday. In regard to the report that the Rochester club had been sold Mr. Thurman said that everything in that direction would be fixed up to-morrow.

He is the Man.

MADRID, Jan. 12.—The Spanish Government has officially notified the French authorities of the arrest of Padlewski.

Padlewski said his health was shattered by continual fear of pursuit. Seliverskoff he declared was a tyrant who caused 2500 Poles to be sent to Siberia, and in killing him he had only avenged his family, his countrymen and his co-religionists. Padlewski is gentle and refined in manner.

Went Down 500 Feet to Death.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 13.—A freight train on the Maine Central Railroad, consisting of an engine, 21 freight cars and a caboose, when near Bomis station to-night, left the track and went down an embankment 500 feet. Two brakemen, Muir and Jarvis, went down with the train and were killed. The cars contained corn and grain and were smashed to pieces.

Three Indians Drowned.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Jan. 12.—Yesterday afternoon while Capt. George, chief of a tribe of Indians near here, was returning home in a canoe with another Indian and a squaw the men quarrelled and one of them cut the bottom out of the canoe with an oar. All three were drowned. The Indians were intoxicated.

Remarkable Death From Hydrophobia.

LEEDS, Jan. 11.—A verdict of death from hydrophobia was returned by a coroner's jury at Westminster yesterday, in the case of Grace Cutler, who was bitten by a dog in August, 1880, but felt no ill-effects until a week ago, when she was seized with violent pains, and died in agony last Wednesday. It was stated that no case had been recorded of death so long after the injury having been inflicted.

Lost 200,000 Roubles and Died.

MONTE CARLO, Jan. 11.—A Russian gentleman whose name the authorities decline to reveal blew his brains out here last night. A letter found upon the body contained the information that the writer had lost 800,000 roubles at the gambling tables and that being utterly ruined there was nothing for him to do but to take his own life.

GLADSTONE TO PARNELL.

THE FORMER SAYS PARNELL TOLD UNTRUTHS.

Shocking Suicide of a Bride a Who Had Been Deserted by Her Titled Husband—A Game of Chess in Which Royalty Will Act as Pawns.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—A despatch was sent to Mr. Gladstone to-day in regard to Parnell's statement in his Limerick speech that Mr. McCarthy communicated to the ex-premier the substance of Parnell's manifesto before it was published. In reply Mr. Gladstone telegraphs:

Mr. Parnell's assertion is untrue. Mr. McCarthy told me that he had a manifesto, but he did not describe its contents.

Mr. McCarthy authorizes a denial of the report that serious differences arose at the Boulogne conference. He says the statement that the McCarthyites demanded O'Brien's unqualified support of their leader and O'Brien repelled their demand, thus leaving a loophole for Parnell's return, is a pure invention.

Archbishop Walsh Replies.

DUBLIN, Jan. 12.—Archbishop Walsh has written a reply, which will appear in The Insuppressible to-morrow, to certain statements made by Parnell in his speech at Limerick Sunday. The Archbishop will endeavor to rebut the assertion made by Parnell that the opposition to him manifested by the bishops of Ireland was not based on moral grounds because if such was the case they had issued their manifesto too late. The archbishop's answer will be that before Parnell's re-election as leader of the Irish party he [Walsh] wrote to a number of prominent Parnallites advising that Parnell be retired if the charges of immorality brought against him were not disproved.

Archbishop Croke is Angry.

DUBLIN, Jan. 12.—Archbishop Croke has written to The Cork Herald resenting the imputation which Timothy Harrington cast on the Irish hierarchy in his speech at Limerick Saturday. The archbishop says: "For myself, I have been a Nationalist for 40 years and never found it necessary to simulate patriotism or traffic in it for emolument." The archbishop continuing said his venerable brethren might pass over Harrington's remarks unheeded, having perhaps more patience than he.

CHESS WITH LIVING PAWNS.

Princesses and Other Lady Aristocrats Will Make the "Moves."

LONDON, Jan. 12.—A great and highly novel game of chess will be played at the Royal Concert Hall, St. Leonard's, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

The pieces are to be represented by living people, among them being Lord and Lady Brassey, Lady Beatrice Capell, Hon. Reginald Capell, Baron Roemer and several others equally popular in society.

The entertainment is under the active patronage of Princess Christian, third daughter of the Queen; the Duchesses of Rutland, Argyle and Cleveland, and was organized to aid charitable work in an entertaining and attractive manner. The ladies have displayed much ingenuity in carrying out their project. The prevailing decorations and dresses are modelled on those of the Tudor period, and the entertainment promises to be very brilliant.

The Scotch Railway Strike.

GLASGOW, Jan. 12.—Another weak of the railroad strike has commenced, with no material change in the situation. The Caledonian Railroad is now fully manned with new men. The centres of the disaffection are at Edinburgh, Perth, Aberdeen, Stirling and Dundee. At Motherwell, Hamilton and Calmachie, where the men have been slowly reinstated upon accepting the terms of the railroad company, the strikers are giving the greatest trouble. At Motherwell a few of the new hands have deserted. The railroad officials intend to-day to make a temporary reduction of the passenger service so as to enable them to overtake the service. The position of the North British Railroad is still very bad, and it seems more than probable that this road will lose a considerable portion of its traffic, and that the Caledonian road will be the gainer by it.

Death Before Imprisonment.

CHATHAM, Eng., Jan. 12.—Daniel Millett, a sick berth attendant, aged 30, poisoned himself at the Naval Hospital. The evidence disclosed the fact that the deceased had been in a despondent state for a few days previously because he was afraid he would be imprisoned for smuggling spirits into the hospital. Yesterday he took enough strychnine to kill seven or eight men. He then called a patient, and requested him to take a note to the ward master. The note, which was addressed to the sick berth staff, was as follows:

"Just a few lines to inform you that rather than face a prison I will face death. It is my wish that there will not hold a post mortem on my body. Death will be due to poison caused by strychnine. Wishing you all a most happy New Year, I remain yours truly, DANIEL MILLETT."

He died before medical assistance could be procured. The jury returned a verdict of suicide whilst in a state of temporary insanity.

A Persecuted Doctor.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—Barbara Pfister, the woman in the village of Wattenheim (Rhenish Bavaria) who was said to present on her hands and feet the stigmata of the Crucifixion, refused to allow Dr. Zahn, the district physician, to witness the wonder at the time of the occurrence. He thereupon declared the whole thing to be a fraud. In consequence of this advice Dr. Zahn has been compelled to place himself under police protection in order to escape the rage of the peasants.

The Differences Merely Financial.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—The Figaro announces that the political difficulty which existed between O'Brien and Parnell has been settled, and that the only remaining thing between them is of a financial nature. Mr. O'Brien, it appears, is convinced that Mr. Parnell's prestige in the United States is not lessened and that the subscription of the Irish-Americans will always be for their old leader.

A Soldier's Excuse.

SPANDAU, Prussia, Jan. 12.—Two young soldiers, belonging to the army reserve, who refused to attend reserve drill, and demanded their discharge from the army, have been condemned to 34 days' imprisonment in a fortress. As an excuse for their conduct the quote the sixth commandment: "Thou shalt not kill."

Expelled by the Shah.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Shah of Persia has expelled from his dominions Sheikh Jamsheldin, anglophobist. The Sheikh was compelled to proceed to the Turkish frontier, accompanied by a powerful Persian escort.

Went Down 500 Feet to Death

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 12.—A freight train on the Maine Central Railroad, consisting of an engine, 21 freight cars and a caboose, when near Bomis station to-night, left the track and went down an embankment 500 feet. Two brakemen, Muir and Jarvis, went down with the train and were killed. The cars contained corn and grain and were smashed to pieces.

Wanted—the Memo.

DUBLIN, Jan. 12.—The Irish Times and The Dublin Express call upon Gladstone to produce the memo of the Hawarden conference in order to prove the truth or falsity of Parnell's statements. Parnell has left Limerick for this city.

To Disclose the Secret.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—In the lower house of the Prussian Diet to-day Herr Miquel, Minister of Finance, announced that the secret of Prof. Koch's lymph would soon be published.

Escaped from the Lock-Up

PALMERSTON, Jan. 12.—William Standhouse broke into the butcher shop of Mr. Harry Lawrence here and took therefrom some pork beef and sausage. Standhouse was arrested and committed for trial, but managed to get out of the lock-up and is still at large.

A FAITHFUL WIFE'S SUICIDE.

Finding Herself Abandoned She Kills Herself About the Same Time as Her Husband Did.

NICE, Jan. 12.—The week's record of suicides at Monte Carlo includes that of a young and beautiful Roumanian wife, who died as good as she was beautiful. By name Madame Jeska Charikoff. Count Ivan has been hard pressed to raise sufficient funds to defray the expenses of the latter's recent visits to the Riviera, for Ivan, like many Russians, was an inveterate gambler, and found the excitement of the public rooms in Monte Carlo in abolishing the usual limits a tempting of quarrels very much to his liking.

But play was not his only amusement. On his way to and from St. Petersburg he had made detours that had enabled him to visit Bucharest, the gay capital of Roumania.

It was not long before he discovered that Bucharest contained an additional attraction in the person of Nadjeska Litolf, the youngest daughter of a large landed proprietor, whose beauty and many accomplishments had already brought all the eligible youth of Roumania to her feet.

In an evil hour she allowed herself to fall deeply in love with the newcomer, and it was not many days before she agreed to marry him.

The marriage occurred about the middle of November, just as Bucharest was donning its winter mantle of ermine, and the wedding festivities were celebrated to the music of sleigh bells as well as of cathedral chimes.

It was not to be expected that Count Ivan intended to eschew play even during his honeymoon, and the event proved that he could not, as a benedict, resist the temptations of the Casino any more successfully than he had done as a bachelor. The countess was aware that her husband was fond of play, as she had seen him gambling at Bucharest, but she was not prepared for the entire command over his whole being that the fatal passion had secured in comparison with which her own charms of mind and person were as nothing.

The denouement that might have been predicted from such a state of affairs was not long in coming. Before a fortnight had elapsed Nadjeska realized that she had been virtually abandoned. Between noon and the time the tables closed at midnight she only saw her husband at dinner hour.

It was on New Year's Eve that the Countess discovered that she had been abandoned. So far as ready money was concerned she was almost penniless, but she might have raised a considerable sum by selling her jewels. This she disliked to do, as she still hoped her husband would, after a short absence, return. It was Tuesday last, when having finally given up all hope, and too proud to call on her friends at home for help, she closed her unhappy career by taking poison.

Hardly was her body cold when the proprietor of the hotel received a telegram from St. Petersburg stating that Count Ivan had been run over by a railway train, and that on his pockets being searched a note was found giving his name, and stating that he had committed suicide, as he had lost 800,000 roubles and was entirely ruined, and pleading that a charitable silence might be preserved regarding his life.

THE DEMPSEY-FITZSIMMONS FIGHT.

Visitors Favor the American—Both Parties Are Wary.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12.—Dempsey arrived here this morning. Peter Jackson is also here. Kilrain and Muldoon are on their way. Fitzsimmons expects to enter the ring at 152 pounds. Those nearest him think he will win in 10 rounds, and a good deal of money at odds of 1 to 10 has been placed that way.

Most of the northern and western money here is for Dempsey, but his backers are chary of giving odds. Local speculators generally favor Fitzsimmons, but want odds. Some $30,000 has been placed in the hands of Bud Renaud to place any part of it Fitzsimmons at odds of 80 to 50. The mill will be under police protection and a cordon of blue coats will surround the ring.

McAuliffe announces that he will meet Carroll for a purse of $10,000.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12.—There was a fight at the rooms of the Audubon Athletic Association to-night between Doc O'Connell and Eddie Conley of Boston for a $1000 purse and the welterweight championship left vacant by the death of Paddy Duffy of Boston. In the first it was hammer and tongs. Conley had the best of the first round and after two rapid exchanges O'Connell was knocked down. He came up groggy from the severe punishment he had received and Conley, good and strong, seemed a winner barring accidents. In round three O'Connell looked better and landed on Conley three times. Conley's eye was cut and so was Doc's. The hits landed on each man so often that it was hard to note them. At the close of the round Conley looked winded and his opponent appeared to be getting fresher. The fighting went on for 9 rounds and both men were badly used up. Conley was knocked down and attempted to rise but his legs were gone and he was unable to respond. He was completely beaten.

Two Guelph Flour Mills Burned.

GUELPH, Jan. 13.—The Arkell grist mill, a wooden structure three miles from the city was burned to the stone foundation Saturday night. Everything was consumed and the machinery destroyed beyond use. The mill and plant belonged to William T. Haines and was worth from $6000 to $9000. The insurance is $1000. Robert Welsford, the lessee, had no insurance, and his loss will be from $300 to $400.

At 10 o'clock Sunday night fire was discovered in the rear part of Presant's flour mill and in an hour and a half everything was consumed except the stone walls. The loss on the building, machinery, stock, etc., will be in the neighborhood of $20,000, and the insurance about $13,000.

Fins on His Feet.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Billy Barber, sole owner of Barber's Raft, on Wolf's Pond, Sullivan county, N.Y., has a peculiar habit of going barefooted the year round, and it is said that he has never had on a pair of boots, shoes or socks. It is claimed that Barber was found on a raft up in "Old Sullivan" on a cold November day 38 years ago, when he was about 10 days old. Billy had not a particle of clothing on at that time, and how he came to be on the raft no one could ever find out. It has been suggested that, Jonah like, he was cast out upon the raft by a big pickerel. This looks almost plausible, for exposure has caused fin-like appendages to grow out of the sides of his pedal extremities just like the fins on a pickerel, and between the toes he is webbed somewhat like a duck.

United on the Other Shore.

JERSEY CITY, Jan. 12.—Charles Thielohe and his wife Augusta, each aged about 70, were found dead in their bedroom here today. They undoubtedly committed suicide, owing to their extreme destitution, by taking hydrate of chloral.

Baron Brukovitch, Nihilist, Driven to Despair by Poverty, Shoots Himself.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 12.—Only a dry crust of black bread on the window sill and a bare spring mattress on the floor showed to what dire straits Nicholas Brokovitch was driven when he sent a ball through his brain to-day from a revolver bought with the proceeds of the sale of his stove in his little garret room. A trunk full of books and papers revealed the fact that he was an exile from Russia and had at one time held the title of baron. These documents also showed that he was driven from his country because of his adherence to the doctrines of Nihilism. Manuscripts in the writing of the dead man showed that he was also a teacher of the doctrine. In his possession were papers showing that he had been convicted of attempted murder of the Czar and had escaped through the help of members of his order who were on guard at the prison.

FARMERS IN COUNCIL.

First Meeting of the West Riding Institute.

The Dairying Industry Assured—Clover Culture—Fruit Growing Exhaustively Discussed.

The first meeting of the West Riding Farmers' Institute was held at the Court House on Monday afternoon. There was a very fair attendance of farmers, the tempestuous weather to some extent preventing a larger. Mr. Dawson Kennedy occupied the chair, and introduced Prof. Dean as the first speaker.

DAIRYING AS AN INDUSTRY.

PROF. DEAN, of the Agricultural College, Guelph, referred to the small number present as the "cream of the farming community." His subject was "Dairying as an Industry for the Ontario Farmers." He prefaced his address with quotations from the report of the Bureau of Industries, showing by figures the increasing unprofitableness of grain production. The value as well as the yield has fallen off very sharply. Contrasting with this the figures for the dairying industry, he showed an encouraging increase both in quantity and value of money return realized. This especially applied to cheese; butter showed a little improvement, but not what was expected from the creamery system. A comparison further carried showed that, admitting that an acre should keep a cow, the average grain product was of the value of $16.07 while that for dairying was much greater per acre not to take into account the greater soil exhaustion from grain raising. Farmers should turn their attention more to breeding rich milking cows instead of bulk for beef. The value of milk also should be estimated, not by bulk, but by its richness of butter fat. The place to make good cheese is at the farm. Unless pure, well preserved milk were furnished to the factory first-class cheese could not be produced. Simple directions insisting on clean milking and instant straining were given. Pure food was necessary to produce first-class milk. Dairying had the advantage of enjoying an increasing demand, and the labor of a dairying farm is much lighter on man and beast. The speaker went on to show, by means of a diagram given below, that grain growing and exportation was very exhaustive on the plant food of the soil. Every thirty bushels of wheat sold at 90c. contained $6.25 worth of plant food. Every forty-five bushels of oats sold for $13.50 robbed the soil of $6.83 worth of plant food. One thousand pounds of milk sold for $20 contained only $1.07 worth of plant food, thus showing a net profit of $18.93. Every 1,000 pounds of beef sold at $60.00, contained $4.54 worth of plant food; every thousand pounds of live hogs, sold at $4.50, contained $3.10 worth of plant food. This shows that soil exhaustion was the least and the profit the most from dairy produce. The speaker went on to point out the profits of winter dairying, which would make a cow, productive and profitable a greater length of time and give the farmer profitable employment for the usually idle winter months. Prof. Dean, before taking his seat, urged all who were present, to become members of a Farmers' Institute, for the Ontario Government sent out free of charge to every member of an institute all reports of the Agricultural College, the experimental farm and of the Bureau of Industries.

The following is the table used by Prof. Dean:—

THE FARMERS IN CLOVER.

MR. FRAZER, of Simcoe county, gave an address upon the subject of clover. It was a crop very highly exhaustive of the soil, and he characterized it as a very proper industry, to go with milk producing, and if the ideal cow capable of producing 5,000 pounds of milk were every to be reached, clover would form an important element in her production. The speaker went on to point out the best manner of growing clover, mentioning spring wheat as the better crop to seed with. He also showed that clover, though a biennial plant, was to the farmer the most profitable when treated as an annual. Clover cut for seed, whether first or second crop should be cut early to avoid the midge. Clover cut for hay was the most valuable when cured in the cock, and not put in the barn sooner than two days after cutting.

The importance of clover as a fertilizer.—Alsike clover was not good for the farm. It was exhaustive of the soil, being a surface feeder, and was not so good for plowing under. Alsike did not send down a tap root, and the clover root was the most valuable of its fertilizing and soil opening qualities. A little timothy mixed with clover helped to make a "catch." He would sow ten pounds per acre, nine of clover and one of timothy.

Regarding a "catch" on light sandy soil, Mr. Kennedy told of the experience of a Durham farmer who ploughed the land in the fall, sowed buckwheat, allowed the crop to fall on the soil, and then sowed clover on this in the spring, and never failed in getting a good catch. Mr. Dempsey added that 100 pounds of nitrate of soda to the acre and a little land plaster would help the crop.

ORCHARDS.

Mr. P. C. DEMPSEY, of Prince Edward, gave an address upon orchard growing. The first step was to stir the soil deeply, especially the subsoil—to permit the roots to penetrate the soil. It was sure death to make a cistern and put a tree into it. The whole soil of the orchard should be loosened to a good depth. After the orchard is planted, great care should be taken to plough very shallow, especially near the trees, as the fibrous roots spread very fast. If enough fertiliser were used, a crop could be grown without injuring the trees. Cultivation of an orchard attracted moisture to the soil. Cultivated trees were a quarter larger in the same orchard and the same quality of tree than those not so treated. As to fertilizer, the best was barnyard manure, if it is available. The next best was ashes. Cultivate an orchard up to September, then put in any crop most convenient. This crop protects the soil and catches the leaves when they fall, to be turned under in the spring. Then cultivate till September and repeat the operation. Mr. Dempsey pruned in the winter, when there was no frost in the boughs, but there were no bad results from pruning as soon as the wood is ripe. Spring pruning gave an undue supply of of blossoms too abundant for forming good fruit. A clay loam was the best, but any soil if thoroughly cultivated and prepared, would produce good orchard land. The apples suitable for a climate as far north as this were, fall, Duchess of Oldenburg, Alexandria and Golden White, a Russian variety. Fall apples, if they did not meet a market, could be canned and profitably preserved. The Trenton, a seedling from the Golden Russet and fertilized by the Northern Spy, was a first-class dessert apple, a fair grower every year and immense bearer every alternate year. The Ben Davis would thrive well in this latitude—it is a great keeper, but is apt to bear too large and become small. This could be obviated by thinning out the fruit buds at pruning time.

MR. E. B. EDWARDS suggested that as this was a good apple growing district, it would be a good idea to establish a Fruit Grower's Association. The quality of the fruit grown in this district was of so good a quality as to make fruit growing profitable.

MR. DEMPSEY said the Canadian Horticulturist was the best paper on the subject published on the continent, and was published at the low rate of $1.00 per year.

Mr. Dempsey was submitted to a brisk fire of questions upon the question, and gave a large amount of miscellaneous information on the subject.

At the close of the session a large number of members renewed their membership.

The evening meeting was deferred.

"Twin roses by the zephyr blown apart,
Only to meet again more close, and share
The inward fragrance of each other's heart."

So Keats describes the lovers in "Isabella." Many lovers have been separated because the health of the lady in the case failed. No man finds attraction in a woman who is subject to nervous excitability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms, commonly attendant upon functional derangement and organic diseases peculiar to women.

The remedy for all such maladies is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. As a soothing and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. As an invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the uterine organs as well as to the whole system. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no sugar or syrup to derange digestion; a legitimate medicine, not a beverage.

For all displacements, as prolapsus, retroversion, anteversion and flexions, causing weak and aching back, bearing-down sensations, ulceration, unnatural discharges and kindred ailments, the "Favorite Prescription" is an unequaled remedy, and the only guaranteed one.

You only pay for the good you get in using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Purify Your Blood

The importance of purifying the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

EYRAUD AND BOMPARD

HOW FRENCH JUSTICE IS METED OUT IN SOME CASES.

Subjected to a Severe Inquisition—First Measured by the Police—Indicements that Read Like Novelettes The Gouffe-Eyraud-Bompard Case.

We publish herewith portraits of the principles in the most famous of recent criminal trials—that of Eyraud and Bompard—in Paris. The former, a man, is sentenced to death—his head will be chopped off by the guillotine; the latter, M'lle Bompard, aged 22, gets 20 years' imprisonment.

It was a remarkable trial for a remarkable crime. Criminal annals afford no parallel to this murder. An unsuspecting victim,

TOUSSAINT GOUFFE.

Murdered by Eyraud and Bompard.

Gouffe, was lured into the drawing-room of a siren, a noose slipped over his neck while he sat fondling her, a rope drawn by the concealed murderer—such is the story of the murder, planned and executed by two lovers for money.

Not less remarkable was the plea made to save the girl—the first time, we believe, hypnotism has been brought forward as a defence in a criminal court.

If, as the hypnotists maintained, a hypnotised person becomes an automaton, morally and physically, the defence is a good one. The subject is then an involuntary agent who simply executes the will of another, and is therefore irresponsible for what he does.

But there was no lack of French physicians to dispute the claim. Whatever the judges may have thought of the theory in general they did not accept it in this case. In finding Gabrielle Bompard guilty they found her responsible.

The Eyraud trial has called attention to the peculiar methods of French procedure in the prosecution of crime. It is a procedure wholly different from the course of justice in England and Canada, and forcibly illustrates the different characters of the French and English-speaking races, and their widely distinct development. The methods of criminal inquisition by torture, duress and menace were never popular in England and became obsolete long before their abolition by law. The idea of compelling a prisoner to accuse himself if abhorrent alike to British and Canadian ideas, and the law is careful to prevent a prisoner's confession from being used against him, if extracted through fear or promise of favor.

The prisoner arrested in France on a serious charge is first of all taken to the police office. There he is carefully measured, as well as photographed, the measuring and description including every detail that may lead to his positive identification. The French authorities have thus reduced the recognition of criminals to a most accurate and scientific basis. A photograph may be deceptive; but it is extremely improbable that both photograph and measurements will afterward deceive. The habitual offender may change the cut of his hair or the style of his whiskers; but he cannot increase his stature, or add to the length of a foot or a forearm. Although this system has been in use only a few years it has already produced valuable results in the identification of criminals such as pickpockets and swindlers, who would otherwise have escaped with the penalty for a first offense, or who might have evaded justice altogether, through a persistent assertion of innocence. The measurement of women is, of course, conducted by women, but with no less relentless accuracy than in the case of men. Gabrielle Bompard, when compelled to submit to the process, made quite a scene, and tried to bite the hand of the trim little female police agent who took her description. But another female agent was quietly called in, and Gabrielle was subdued more effectively than she had been, or claimed she had been, by the hypnotism of Eyraud or Garanger.

GABRIELLE BOMPARD.

Sentenced to 20 Years' Imprisonment

The prisoner, having been arrested and measured, is subjected to a preliminary inquiry by the police. Indeed, this often accompanies the measurement, a running fire of questions and comment being kept up during the process, calculated to elicit acknowledgments. For instance, while the captive has his right leg extended in obedience to orders, and has his mind concentrated on maintaining a proper equilibrium a question is fired at him intended to upset him mentally, and which by its very suddenness prevents him from having time to study a reply. If he fails to answer, his silence is set down to consciousness of guilt, and other interrogations rapidly follow, each more confusing, perhaps, than the one before. If he is in a frame of mind for confession, no time is wasted in obtaining it, verified with his signature. Of course, if the police are as successful as this, the subsequent proceedings are comparatively easy for the authorities, who then confine themselves to searching out the previous record of the criminal.

From the police, or rather while in their hands, the prisoner passes to the examining magistrate. He is a very different individual from the justice of a police court in Canada. He is in fact a sort of inquisitor, combining both judicial and detective functions and enacting on a lesser scale the role afterwards performed by the president of the assize. Not satisfied with listening to the charge and the proof accompanying it, he proceeds by a thorough questioning and cross-questioning, to elicit evidence himself, and he does this in a style that seems astonishing to a spectator with British ideas. The prisoner is asked as to his most secret thoughts and motives, in regard to matters perhaps, far apart from the subject of accusation.

"You came to Paris, Tuesday, eh!"

"Why did you come?"

"What business had you to loiter on the street?"

"On your way from early mass, eh! When did you attend mass before? Why did you run away from home if you are so religious? The police tell me, you sought to avoid conscription—was that the act of a patriotic citizen? Where did you get that scar?"

And thus the fire of interrogation goes on until the accused, heartsick and bewildered, has told everything, or at least enough to justify holding him for the higher court.

The public prosecutor now comes on the scene. In person, or through one of his deputies, he may have already intervened to assist and direct the work of the police; but at any rate he is virtually in charge of the prisoner after wards. His investigation is of the most complete and exacting character, and lacks only the instruments of physical torture to be equal to any inquisition of the middle ages. As before indicated, the essential distinction from Anglo-Canadian procedure is that the criminal himself is the key most played upon. In Canada, after an accused person has been arrested and held, he is imprisoned or bailed, as the case may be, and never sees the prosecuting officer except in open court, when he appears to plead to an indictment or to stand trial. Not so in France.

MICHAEL EYRAUD.

Sentenced to the Guillotine.

The prisoner is brought before the state prosecutor time after time, if one interview is not sufficient, and interrogated. An assistant is there to take down the replies, and witnesses to attest. There is no delicacy about the questions addressed to the defendant, and he is not permitted to have a counsel present to enable him to evade or repel them. Every query is a home thrust, sharpened by facts which have been ascertained by the examining magistrate, or which the police have been industriously gathering from everywhere. The instruments of crime are exposed before the prisoner; and even the skull of a victim, if the case is one of murder. All the surroundings are suggestive of the terror of law, and of the wisdom of propitiating it as far as may be by a full confession.

Mr. J. H. Hourigan, after using Wilson's Wild Cherry in his family for eight years, writes us that it has never failed to cure coughs, colds, whooping cough or bronchitis. Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam Balsam for coughs and colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The Large Bottles are 50c, and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

Powder Mill Explosion.

A powder mill explosion affects the country for miles round, but dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, headache, loss of appetite and debility, affect humanity the world over. The editor of the Mitchell Recorder states that he was cured of biliousness, liver trouble and sick headache, by Burdock Blood Bitters. Is it not worth trying on such evidence? 2wld

The new business of the SUN LIFE was the largest ever secured in the Company's history and was equalled by but one Canadian life company. The surplus accumulated during the THREE years of the current quinquennium far exceeds the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-holders cannot fail to be highly satisfactory. The prosperity of the Sun Life is no doubt largely due to its liberal unconditional policies and paying its claims promptly. Canadians should also remember that by patronizing a Home Institution, which invests all its funds in the Dominion, they are benefitting themselves by reducing the rate of interest here, as do are helping to build up our own cities rather than those of foreign states.

A "social reform" demonstration takes place at the Salvation Army barracks to-night, when Commissioner Adams will give an interesting talk upon that branch of the Army work. The commissioner arrived at noon to-day and was met at the station by the band and soldiers of the local corps and escorted up town. A banquet takes place this evening, after which the meeting will be held in the barracks.

No Trouble to Get in Now.

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good. One of the double doors leading to the lobby of the post office was broken to-day, and the mishap will likely result in the improvement of the entrance. This afternoon someone as yet unidentified broke the butts by clamping the door back against the foot brace, and the door fell off. It will be set up again to-night, and so arranged with the other door that both will be made to swing out and in, and during the day time left wide open. The outer vestibule doors will also be made to swing. This will give much freer access to the post office.

The Talk of the Town.

Friday, Jan. 16th, will be a day long to be remembered in Peterborough, whether the tempest howl or the sun shine brightly, or blizzard bite or blow, the day will close in a blaze of glory. Why? Because the 16th is the date of the Foresters' Great Ice Carnival and Masquerade Demonstration. The finest collection of masquerade mimicry ever massed under one roof. Magnificent costumes, electric lights, beautiful belles, stalwart skaters, entrancing music—altogether a captivating conglomeration of unexcelled excellence of enjoyment. Splendid and sumptuous prizes for competition—one hundred dollars worth of prizes to be won. Don't forget the date, Jan. 16th, Friday night. Fire Brigade Band on hand all the evening.

Missionary Meeting.

The farewell meeting held last evening in the Baptist church was well attended. Mr. R. J. Colville, General Secretary of the Y. M.C.A., presided. Rev. F. A. Steven and Mr. F. G. Saunders occupied seats on the platform. After the devotional exercises, Rev. F. A. Steven, who had spent seven and a half years in China and Burmah, gave a lengthy and deeply interesting address on the call for foreign missions, the needs of the field, and the work of the China Inland Mission. The address was full of strong appeal on behalf of China's millions. It was interspersed with touching incidents from personal knowledge, showing how the work tells on the life of the Chinese. At the conclusion of this impressive address Mr. Colville, on behalf of the Y.M.C.A., addressed a few heartfelt words of farewell, bearing testimony to Mr. Saunder's zeal as a Christian worker and conveying to him the assurance that he would be remembered by them in their prayers for his future success, concluding by presenting him on behalf of the Association with an honorary life membership. Mr. Saunders made a suitable reply, assuring all how much he appreciated the kindness shown him by all his friends in Peterborough. The meeting was then closed by singing "God be with you till we meet again." Rev. F. A. Steven spoke in the Chinese dress worn by missionaries. Many remained to say good bye to Mr. Saunders, and converse with Mr. Steven and examine many curiosities, etc., he had brought from the Flowery Kingdom. Much good will be the result of this meeting on the lives of those who work for the Lord Jesus in our town.—[COM.

After the installation ceremonies the brethren were entertained at luncheon by the Noble Grand, Bro. Chas. Huffman. Otonabee lodge enters upon the ninth year of its reassociated existence with most gratifying prospects. During the last term ten members were added to the large and active list of Oddfellows belonging to this lodge, and the financial condition has been so improved that Otonabee lodge has not now a cent of debt against it and is in thriving circumstances. Their suite of rooms are among the most complete and commodious in the Order in Canada, and their membership is constantly growing. In view of these facts the officers and members of the lodge have every reason to feel satisfied with their progress, and may justly look forward to still further advancement in the future.

The Villagers From the North Carry Off the Curling Championship.

The district championship goes to Lakefield this year. The plucky curlers from the north won the honor fairly and should feel proud of their victory. But perhaps Keene deserved to win more then any other club. They played three closely contested games, and were only defeated in the final by a narrow majority. Keene was beaten, but her representatives are good curlers and jolly good fellows.

The ice was in good condition and some good playing was witnessed by the bystanders. Mr. Geo. Brown was umpire.

The first draw was played Monday afternoon. Lakefield and Peterborough were easy winners, the former by 21 shots and the latter by 28. But the contest between Keene and Bobcaygeon was extremely close, Keene on the last end making 4 points and winning the match by a single shot. Following are the figures:

PETERBOROUGH DROPS OUT.

The greatest surprise of the season was when Keene defeated Peterborough in the second draw, and the home rinks are being mildly "roasted" for allowing the villagers to get around them so easily. The games attracted a large crowd. Keene got a big lead at the start; no doubt the Peterborough men expected a "snap" and did not get down to work in time. Though they pulled up well towards the end Keene retained its lead and won by five shots. Then the hilarious shouts of the victors filled the rink, and they whooped out their gladness most heartily, the crowd of spectators joining in, for it appears that they all sympathized with Keene, and looked upon Peterborough's defeat as a good joke. The Keene curlers are proud of their victory, and deserve credit for having defeated two of Peterborough's strongest rinks, composed almost entirely of skips. The scores were:—

THE FINAL.

The final struggle for the honor of representing this district at the Provincial bonspiel in Toronto was close and exciting enough. Not until the last stone was sent skimming over the ice was the result certain, and then the loud shouts of the Lakefielders announced their victory. Keene accepted defeat gracefully and won the cordial sympathy of every one. Following were the scores:

A VALEDICTORY MEETING.

Councillors A. Hall, Hartley and Rutherford Retire.

Closing Meeting of the Council of 1890—Wound up by an Oyster Supper—Another Industry Coming to Town—Thirty New Electric Lights Passed—Other Business Transacted.

The last session of the town council of 1890 was held Monday night, when three of the members attended their last meeting (for the present at least) and said farewell to their confreres. Every member was in his place. A "resolution of condolence" was passed to the retiring three, and at the invitation of councillor Adam Hall, who retires of his own free will from active aldermanic duties, the proceedings were terminated by an oyster supper at the Palace Restaurant. Mr. Hall was most heartily toasted. While in the council for several years past, he has been a most faithful and energetic worker, and perhaps no man ever more deserved the kind words spoken of him than Mr. Hall. The press representatives were also given an opportunity to return thanks for the customary grant which was passed to them, and altogether a happy, convivial evening was spent, tempered as it was by the reflection that three familiar faces would be missed from the council board in future.

THE COUNCIL MEETING.

A lengthy communication was read from the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co. stating that they had about concluded arrangements with the Perkins Co., of Grand Rapids, Mich., shingle machinery builders, to start a branch of their establishment in Peterborough, whose representative was here the two last days of December. The Perkins Co. employ from 125 to 140 men in that business close, and Mr. Perkins cannot see why there should not be as good a business worked up in Canada. The Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company proposed giving over to this new company their pattern shop, which can be extended as required, and building for themselves another brick storehouse on the opposite side of Reid street about 50x100, two stories high. They had been at great expense the last two years extending and adding to their premises, and in getting up this new industry, which will be called the "Perkins-Hamilton Co." They, therefore, asked the corporation to give it a bonus of $6,000 and exemption from taxes.

The communication was referred to the Manufacturers' Committee.

A communication was read from the Ontario Fire Protection Co., offering to sell the town a chemical engine for $2,500.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From the chairman of the Trent Valley Canal Committee, of the County of Simcoe, asking the council to appoint a deputation to go to Ottawa, and urge the completion of the canal on the Government. The Mayor with reference to the circular, said he understood there was a good chance of the canal being finished, as he believed the commissioners' report was favorable, and he thought it a good idea to send the deputation.—The communication was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. S. Atkinson applied for remission of dog tax, as the dog had been shot.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

Richard Coe asked the council to pay $2 a week for his board for six months at the Protestant Home.—Granted.

Street Inspector Pope presented his annual report showing a total of $11,734 88 expended on the streets last year, divided (for labor only) as follows: No. 1 ward, $1,437.06; No. 2, $1,489.98; No. 3, $790; No. 4, $1,228. The report will be published in a future issue of the EXAMINER.

A communication from John Bell, regarding a claim for damages by railway siding passing his property, was referred to the Finance Committee.

FINANCE REPORT.

Mr. Davidson presented the report of the Finance Committee recommending payment of the following accounts:—Thomas Irwin, $14.10; Fortye & Phelan, $47 44; C. P. R. Tel. Co., $2.89; Peterborough Light and Power Co., $10; Walter Stocker, $8; T. Fitzgerald, $3; Archie Moore, $7.50; J. E. Regarding the account of J. E. Noble & Co., the committee could not find any authority for ordering it. The communication of the G.T.R. was recommended to be referred to the town solicitor. The committee also recommended that the sum of $100 be given to the widow of the late Wm. Cumming in consideration of his long and faithful service for forty years.

The report was adopted.

THE BURDEN OF CHARITY.

Mr. A. Hall, chairman, read the report of the Charity Committee giving the amounts disbursed for charity during November, December and January to date, as follows:—No. One Ward, $121.00; No. Two Ward, $70 40; No. Three Ward $54.75; No. Four Ward, $50.50. Total $306.65.

The report was adopted, some discussion being aroused by the heavy charity expenditure.

RAISING THE GRADE.

Mr. A. Hall, chairman, read the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee as follows:—

Your committee beg to report that the saving to the ratepayers in insurance by the Underwriters' Association placing the town in Class A would be about $2,200 per annum. Your committee would therefore recommend the purchase of a chemical engine for the Fire Department.

There was some discussion. Mr. Hall followed the report with further figures, and Mr. E. H. D. Hall said there would be a saving in insurance. Messrs. Rutherford and Langford advised going slow, and Mr. Adam Dawson said he was informed that only the business part of the town would be effected. The report was referred back to the Committee, the chairman agreeing that that would be the better course, the report being simply for the purpose of bringing the matter up.

MISCELLANEOUS MOTIONS.

On motion of Mr. Kendry, seconded by Mr. Hartley, the taxes of Mrs. Newton, Wm. Hook and Mrs. Doris were remitted.

Mr. Moore moved, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, that the town solicitor be requested to prepare a bylaw, amending bylaw No. 397, relating to the removal of snow, so as to provide amongst other things that the snow be cleaned from sidewalks before nine o'clock a.m., and that the limit of the bylaw be between Aylmer street on the west, Brock street on the north, the north ride of Charlotte street on the south, and the eastern limit of the west half of lot 1, east of water street, on the east.

The resolution was adopted.

THE BUSINESS TAX.

Mr. DAVIDSON gave notice that at the next meeting he would introduce a bylaw substituting a business tax for the shops instead of the present system.—Carried.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson, that the usual grant be made to the reporters of the town papers for their valuable services to the ratepayers in reporting so fully the proceedings of council meetings.—Carried.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS AGAIN.

It was moved by Mr. A. Hall, seconded by Mr. Deeves, that the Electric Light and Power Co. be instructed to put up 25 electric lamps, also that the gas lamps on the streets be cut off with the exception of the seven gas lamps that burn from 12 o'clock till daylight; the electric lights to be put in the following places:—One each at the corners of the following places:—Dickson and Murray, College and McDonnel, Harvey and London, Water and Dublin, Water and Simcoe, Water and Charlotte, Water and McDonnel, Aylmer and King, Aylmer and Dalhousie, Aylmer and London, Aylmer and Smith, Bethune and Wolfe, Bethune and McDonnel, Stewart and London, Stewart and Simcoe, Stewart and King, Park and Paterson, McDonnel and Park, Park and Rose Accord, Park and Elm, Park and Weller, Park and Gilmour, Hunter and Queen, Bethune and Sherbrooke.

The representatives of the North Ward hotently objected to the report on the ground that their district was not fairly dealt with, and they pressed amendments for lamps at Mrs. J. F. Dennistoun's and Hilliard's mill; Mr. Kelly spoke up for No. Two Ward, and moved for a light at the corner of Simcoe and Reid streets, and Mr. Cahill put in a claim for two in No. One Ward, when Mr. E. H. D. Hall rose and said that all these amendments would result in upsetting the resolution; he proposed that a resolution be passed limiting the number to twenty-five lights, and leave it to the committee to place them.

Mr. CAHILL thought 25 not think twenty-five sufficient for the town.

Mr. HARTLEY did not think twenty-five sufficient for the town.

The Third Ward representatives were satisfied and wanted the original motion passed.

Mr. KELLY then moved in amendment that the matter be left in the hands of a special committee, composed of one member from each ward, Messrs. Langford, Moore, Hall and Cahill.

Mr. CAHILL then moved a compromise by granting one light for each of the three contending wards, but vigorous "no's" were uttered. Then he moved that the number of lamps be limited to twenty-five, and the placing of them be left in the hands of the next Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Several others spoke more or less excitedly, but the Mayor put an end to the discussion, when Mr. Rutherford got up and proposed that the whole matter be compromised by granting the 30 lights, by putting the amendments. The new lamps asked for, two in the north, one in No. 2, and two in No. 1, were then unanimously added to the report, and the resolution as amended was carried, a motion by Mr. Cahill to refer it back to the committee being lost. The finish was rather exciting; all the members were talking at once and Mayor Stevenson had hard work to restore any sort of order.

FAREWELL TO THE DEPARTING.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson, that this council before dispersing this evening desire to place on record their deep regret at the loss to the town of the valuable services of Messrs. Hall, Rutherford and Hartley, each of whom have discharged their duty to the corporation with ability, assiduity and integrity.

The resolution was carried by a standing vote.

Mr. Adam Hall said but little, but Mr. Rutherford spoke of his 17 years connection with the council and some of the reforms and improvements he had advocated, not receiving a single dollar for his efforts, which had always been conscientious and faithful. Mr. Hartley in his valedictory said he had done his best in the 10 years he had been in the council, and hoped the new council would be as economical and successful in the future as they had been in the past.

The council then adjourned.

Burns' Anniversary.

Prospect of Another Engagement of Miss Agnes Knox, the Talented Elocutionist and Reader, by our Local St. Andrew's Society.

The executive committee of St. Andrews' Society met on Monday evening as a committee of the whole, to hear the report of a sub-committee appointed to arrange for the celebration of Burns' birthday. The secretary read the report, recommending that the celebration take the form of a concert of a mixed character, for which they had the prospect of securing first-class talent. They found, however, that the Opera House had been previously engaged for the 26th of January, (Burns' birthday, 25th of January, falling this year on Sunday) by a travelling company, and that it would be impossible to have the concert take place on that night. They recommended, however, that in order to prevent any failure of the intention of the Society to do honour to the event, that the concert take place on Friday evening, Jan'y 23rd—that being the only open date nearest the event. For this date the committee could secure the services of Miss Agnes Knox, the talented dramatic reader who had scored such a highly gratifying success before a Peterborough audience last Easter. The were also negotiating with other first-class talent, which they were sanguine of securing, and which would make up a programme of unusual merit and attractiveness.

A resolution was passed, adopting the report, provided the committee were successful in securing the additional talent required not later than Wednesday evening, so as to prevent the possibility of any danger arising from a lack of time to properly advertise the event.

The sub-committee, who have the details of the concert in hand, is composed of the following members: The President and the three Vice-Presidents, Messrs. R. M. Roy, Dr. Carmichael, W. Battersby, W. Kirke, W. J. Munro, R. Hamilton, jr., and the Secretary.

Gratifying Report from the Young Provinces.

A gentlemen well known to the drug trade of Montreal and Toronto, and who has recently returned from a business trip in Manitoba, the Territories, and British Columbia, speaks of Paine's Celery Compound as follows: "In the Territories and British Columbia Paine's Celery Compound seems to be the great leading remedy with the people. When we take into consideration the fact that the majority of the best citizens and farmers are from the Provinces of Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, in which provinces so many worthless patents are sold, it shows that they have truly made a wise and sensible choice in the selection of the best and safest home medicine ever given to suffering humanity. Druggists throughout the North-west say that nothing gives such general satisfaction in cases of nervousness, headaches, general debility, imperfect digestion, liver and kidney troubles and dyspepsia, as Paine's Celery Compound."

This report should amply demonstrate the great value of this Compound, and the necessity of its use in every house where sickness prevails.

FARMERS IN COUNCIL.

The Second Day's Session—Breeding Stock for the Dairy—A Fair Attendance of Farmers.

TUESDAY, Jan. 13.—At the meeting this morning there was a good attendance of representative farmers.

PROF. DEAN gave an address on "Breeding stock for the Dairy." The key note of dairy stock breeding was: "Like produces like." The best of pedigreed stock would not bring good dairy stock if it were a kind better calculated for beef than milk. The bull was half the herd—selecting a bull with a pedigree for milk would be apt to bring good milkers. The milking breeds were the Ayrshires, Holstein, Guernsey and Jersey. In-and-in breeding should not be carried too far—heifer calves from a pure bred sire may be bred to the sire with good results. Large milking powers was artificial by breeding and feeding—and to keep it up, breeding and feeding should be followed. The aim should be to produce strong milkers with good quality of milk. Selected cows with these qualities should be bred to a sire of good strain—a good bull could be got by the farmers of a section clubbing. Cows, to keep up the milking habit, should be milked as near to calving as possible. Calves should be fed in milk for the first few weeks, then fed well to maturity. Heifers should come in at two or two and a half years. Test heifers, and weed out all those who do not come up to a high milk producing standard, as near as possible to 6,000 lbs a year. The greatest need of dairying farm is a better class of stock.

MR. JAS. STOTHART, of Smith, gave his experience in breeding Holstein grades for milk. It was very satisfactory, excellent milking stock being the result—the heifer being easily broken in.

MR. WM. COLLINS gave instances of Shorthorns being exceptional milkers.

SHEEP RAISING.

Mr. JOHN STOTHART read a paper on their "Care and Management." Reference was made to the double crop sheep produced in a year—wool and mutton. Sheep thrive better on short pasture than any other stock. Breed native sheep with large body, short legs and blocky carcass to Down ram and sell all lambs. Lambs should be dropped in March and April—and kept warm and well protected from the weather and, above all, kept dry. Ewes should be fed at lambing on milk producing food. Sheep should be wintered on pea straw, with a little meal.

Mr. R. E. BIRDSALL said that his experience had been that Cotswold and Leicester crosses were not hardy nor good mothers. He had found best results by crossing Downs with native ewes. Down grades were hardy and good mothers. He had found his Oxford Downs average two lambs each. His feed was about a pint of roots per day. Overfeeding roots caused still-born, or, if living, flabby lambs. Mr. John Stothart said sheep should be kept on a dry floor and bedded with sawdust.

The discussion was continued for some time and took a wide range.

MR. BLAINE INTERVIEWED

HE KNEW ALL ABOUT THE BEHRING SEA MOVE.

At Least That is What He Told a Reporter who Interviewed Him—Mr John Thompson Says the Action was Taken With Her Majesty's Advice.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—In an interview held with Secretary Blaine after the proceedings to-day in the Supreme Court, the Secretary said he had known for some time that judicial proceedings were in contemplation, though not aware of the precise form or direction they would take. He said:

"This is something that has been threatened for some time and of which I have been quite aware. It is therefore no surprise to me, as I had anticipated it. I have nothing whatever to say on the subject now. I shall probably have something to say officially later, and so I do not think it best to talk for publication at this time. You may say, however, that the department is not taken unawares.

"Do you care to say whether or not this case in the Supreme Court will have the effect of transferring the scene of the controversy from your department to the court?"

The secretary smiled a deep, meaning smile, and picked up a newspaper that lay on his desk.

"I would prefer to remain quiet on that subject just now," he said. "There will be something official to say later on. I can say that this is no coup on the part of the British Government in the least. Good morning!"

With Her Majesty's Approval.

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—Sir John Thompson, Minister of Justice, in an interview to-day said the application by the owners of the Canadian sealing vessel W. P. Sayward to the United States Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition was undertaken with the cooperation of the Canadian Government and the full approval of Her Majesty's Government. If the application is granted the United States can no longer attempt to exclude the vessels of other countries from Behring Sea.

COMINION MILLERS.

Grinding in Transit—A Central Buyer for the Association.

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—A special meeting of the Dominion Millers Association was held yesterday afternoon in the old Board of Trade rooms. The chair was taken by the president, Mr. J. C. Hay of Listowel.

The committee to wait upon the railways regarding grinding of Manitoba wheat in transit reported that they met the representatives of the Grand Trunk, when it was agreed that Manitoba wheat only should be ground in transit on these terms: Wheat must be billed from Point Edward on the mills for export. Mills off the main line pay in addition to 2 cents per hundred stop-off charges, ¼ cent per ton per mile for extra haulage, no charge less than $2 per car. The Canadian Pacific will concede the milling in transit arrangement on all rail grain to millers located on the direct line of transit to Montreal, but not to millers in Western Ontario. The most important business brought before the meeting was the appointment of a central wheat-buyer for the association. This resolution was passed:

1. That a central wheat buyer be employed by this association. 2. That the salary shall not exceed $2500 a year. 3. That a commission of ⅛ cent per bushel be paid by the miller on all car wheat purchased by him, and that no purchase all Ontario car wheat through the central buyer.

Hon. George E. Foster, Minister of Finance, under date Jan. 12, 1891, wrote to the association regarding trade with the West Indies. Accompanying the letter were statements showing (1) the imports of grain and grain products into British Guiana and the British West Indies from the United States and Canada; (2) a sample statement of the same on a steamer of the Quebec line from New York to Trinidad; (3) the export value of flour shipped during 1889 from the United States to the West Indies and British Guiana. Mr. Foster said that, considering Canada raises a surplus of wheat of at least as good a grade as that of the United States, and that her milling processes are just as good, while her seaports, open all the year round, lie towards the West Indies, which are at not very much, if any, greater distances from the source of supply in Canada than in the United States, there seems no good reason why this state of things should longer continue. The want of regular transportation facilities has been overcome by the establishment of a direct monthly line of steamships from St. John and Halifax.

To promote this trade Mr. Foster offered these suggestions: First, Canada must offer flour of at least equal grade and quality to that which now commands the market. Second, The flour offered must be guaranteed to keep for a period of about two months The common statement, which he could not find to be based on actual trial, is that Canadian flour will not keep in the West Indian climate long for practical men, like those in the association, to look into this and disprove the statement by actual experiment. The Jamaica exhibition affords a peculiarly convenient opportunity for doing so on a large scale. Third Flour must be placed in the hands of West Indian merchants at equal or lower prices than are now offered by the United States houses. Fourth, Men who understand the business should be sent to the Islands and by personal contact with the merchants introduce their wares and enquire into all the conditions of the trade. He hoped that the result of the deliberations of the association would result in an earnest attempt to take and keep for Canada a respectable portion of the large trade in flour which is now done mostly by the United States with those countries.

The statements submitted showed that the value of wheat and wheat flour exported by the United States to British Guiana and the West Indies for 1889 was $6,209,748. There was practically nothing sent from Canada.

A resolution was passed thanking Mr. Foster for the information conveyed respecting the West Indian trade.

Mr. R. Peplow gave notice that at the next regular meeting of the association he will move that applications be made for an act of incorporation of this association.

THEY CALLED IN DEATH.

TRAGIC DOUBLE SUICIDE OF A NEW YORK COUPLE.

Tired Awaiting the End and Too Old to Work They Took Poison Together and Passed Away—A Pathetic Letter Left by the Aged Husband.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The true story of the simultaneous death of Charles Thielcke and his wife Augusta will never be written. He was 70 years old and she not much younger. All that is definitely known is that yesterday about noon the neighbors, becoming alarmed at the continuance of the silence that had reigned for three days around the rooms of the old people, at No. 70 Thorn-street, Jersey City, called a policeman to break upon the doors. The policeman and the sightseers filed through a kitchen, where a fowl ready for roasting lay upon the dresser, close to a basket of potatoes and a few loaves of bread. The cooking stove was choked with ashes several days old. The sleeping room of the old people was in front, and Policeman Nevins hastened to raise the window shades. The midday sun revealed nothing horrible or revolting. Charles Thielcke and his wife Augusta were simply sleeping their last sleep. The old man wore a dressing-gown over a clean white shirt and black trousers. The rocking chair in which he was seated was tilted back, as if for comfort. Upon a bed on the opposite side of the table lay the body of Augusta Thielcke. The coverlid was drawn up to the shoulders, a black veil had been spread over the pallid features and the hands had been folded on the breast, showing that the husband had lived to perform these last sad offices for the wife. On the table beside the dead man's arm were a couple of wine glasses that had been drained of their contents until nothing remained save a thick, white sediment. County Physician Converce pronounced this sediment either strychnine or hydrate of chloral. The sleeping draught had been very potent.

Even facing death Charles Thielcke and wife asked no favors, and uttered no more than a passing complaint. The following letter, written in pencil by a trembling hand, is all the explanation they vouchsafed for their suicide:

"My last wish after our corpses are discovered. I desire that my body and that of my wife Augusta be buried together. Pray take note that we have met our fate by our own free will, as we want to shuffle off this mortal coil together. Will the authorities kindly find an undertaker who will bury us for the sake of the property we leave behind? Do not let us be separated in death. I cannot write more; the rheumatism in my hand pains me terribly. CHARLES THIELCKE.

The Struggle of Old Age.

This is all of their sorrow Charles and Augusta Thielcke saw fit to give to the world. It is known that they had no children and that most of their friends were either dead or had forgotten them. As old age came upon them, with its many infirmities, it was still necessary to toil to keep the wolf from the door. Their savings were encroached upon more and more as the rheumatism made the idle days more numerous and imperative in the case of the husband and breadwinner. So they resolved to die while it was still possible to leave enough behind them to afford a decent burial.

The courage required for such an act was tremendous. As I said above, the true story of this death will never be written. There was bread and to spare in that little household on Thursday night last. An examination of the old man's pockets revealed the presence of $30 in cash.

These resources, however, could only postpone the evil day, not avert it. The rheumatism was maddening in its pain that night. Mrs. Thielcke must have been in the kitchen preparing the simple dinner, as the fowl ready for cooking indicates. Before she could put it on the fire her husband called her and calmly said that the time had arrived for the execution of the plan over which they had talked so long.

The husband insisted that the wife must first drink of the fatal draught to avoid accident. She must not in any event be left alive after his own death. The condition of the wife's body shows that she died at least 24 hours before her courageous husband.

They then drew the curtains and Charles Thielcke mixed his wife's death potion. The agonies of their parting none will ever know. Death came quickly to the enfeebled frame of the old woman. Thielcke had taken this into consideration in his selection of a poison.

When all was over he covered up her face and went back to the rocking chair to die in his turn, but why he should have waited so long before drinking the poison himself is hard to comprehend. Perhaps his courage failed him at the last moment, or perhaps he even had a yearning to live and fight the battle of life a little longer unhampered by the spectacle of his aged wife's sufferings.

But he overcame all these temptations and carried out his original plan with firmness and deliberation. The face of the dead man was dignified and showed no marks of weakness of character. The white beard was trimmed to a point, and the forehead was ample and strong. In death Charles Thielcke looked like a philosopher, although in life he was nothing more than a humble leather worker.

The Dead.

W. R. Smith, a prominent sawyer of Portage la Prairie, who was recently appointed police magistrate, dropped dead last night while walking home from the town council meeting. He leaves a wife and several children.

A cable despatch from Paris announces the death of Baron Georges Eugene Haussmann, who was stricken with apoplexy Sunday evening while at dinner and died in a few hours. Baron Haussmann, one of the few remaining survivors of the last empire, was no ordinary man. Although by education and taste an architect, he was also a Frenchman, a patriot and a politician. As Prefect of the Department of the Seine (which includes Paris), an office to which he was appointed in 1853, he changed the face of Paris until dark and crooked streets, ugly buildings and filthy districts disappeared from the face of the city. Under Haussmann's management Paris changed from an overgrown village of gutter drains, street lamps and bad roads to a model city, in which all the streets were well paved and lighted, and with a system of sewers such as never before had been known in the world. The Emperor Napoleon III. held him in high esteem, and made him an officer of the Legion of Honor, a Senator and a member of the Academy of Fine Arts. Haussmann fell temporarily with the Empire, and went into retirement, but was recalled soon afterward and made director of the Credit Mobilier, in which position he did the new government much service, through his experience in business. A few years later he was elected a member of the Chamber of Deputies

THE EVICTED TENANTS

ARE SOLDIERS OF THE WAR AGAINST IRELAND.

Parnell Given a Rousing Reception by the National League at Dublin—He Accuses McCarthyites of Lying, Conspiracy and Billingsgate—$5000 Subscribed to the Fund.

DUBLIN, Jan. 13.—At the meeting of the National League here to-day Parnell was given an enthusiastic reception. He was repeatedly greeted with cheers and reiterated his statement that he had informed Justin McCarthy as to the chief features of his manifesto at least 24 hours before it was published. Mr. Parnell said conspiracy and lying were, next to billingsgate, the prominent feature of his opponents' resources and arguments. He said he had outlined to Mr. McCarthy what are known as the four points of his manifesto. Mr. McCarthy twice told him he had consulted with Mr. Gladstone on these points, once when they were alone and once in the presence of John Redmond. According to Parnell Mr. McCarthy said, "All I can say is, as I have already told you, that Mr. Gladstone intends to deny point blank all your statements, which," said Mr. Parnell, "showed that Mr. Gladstone was aware of the proposed points of the manifesto." Mr. Parnell announces that the subscriptions to the National League funds since the last meeting exceeded £5000, showing that the country is practically with him. Mr. Parnell warmly urged the claims of the evicted tenants, classing them as "soldiers of the war against landlordism."

McCarthy Tells the Whole Story.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Justin McCarthy, in a communication to The Daily News (Lib.), says: Messrs. Parnell and Redmond have attempted to contradict me with regard to communications with Mr. Gladstone. On that point I am not merely the best but the only authority. I did not inform Mr. Gladstone of the contents of Mr. Parnell's manifesto. I was asked to call on Mr. Gladstone to obtain assurance with regard to Home Rule. Mr. Gladstone acquainted me with his opinions, wishes and willingness on the subject. From what he told me I was able to express to Mr. Parnell my conviction that if his manifesto was published Mr. Gladstone would be in a position to give certain of its statements a flat contradiction. That's the whole story."

Redmond to the Rescue.

DUBLIN, Jan. 13.—John Redmond has authorized The Dublin Telegraph to state that the night before Mr. Parnell's manifesto was handed to the press it was read by Mr. McCarthy in the presence of Mr. Parnell, Mr. Leamy, Mr. Redmond, Mr. O'Kelly and himself. Mr. McCarthy then informed Mr. Parnell that Mr. Gladstone said that if it was published he would immediately contradict it and dispute Mr. Parnell's memory as to the Hawarden conversation. Mr. Redmond adds: "My recollection of the incident is wholly inconsistent with Mr. McCarthy's denial."

NINE PARISIANS DROWNED.

People Attempt to Cross on the Ice and are Drowned.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—A terrible accident, by which nine unfortunate persons lost their lives, occurred here to-day. The Seine, with the exception of the centre of the river, has been frozen over for some time. Yesterday the whole river was covered with ice, the middle of the stream being dangerously thin. A number of venturesome men and boys, utterly disregarding the warning cries of the police and of the crowds of people who were watching them, attempted to cross the Seine on the ice. Suddenly, with a long series of rumbling cracks, the ice gave way and precipitated a crowd of people into the water. Nine persons are known to have been drowned.

Not Drowned in the Kelpie's Flow.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Henry Irving, the actor, writes to The Times complaining of the statement that the play "Ravenswood" is a failure as without due grounds. "Ravenswood," he says, is still running at the Lyceum, although he varies the bill with tragedy and comedy in accordance with what appears to be the public desire. In a foot note the editor of The Times says that Mr. Irvings fails to mention the fact that "Ravenswood" is only placed on the boards once a week.

The Chilian Revolution.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Advices from Chili via Buenos Ayres confirm the statement of the Chilian minister here that only a portion of the Chilian fleet is in revolt and that the army continues loyal to the Government. The people are said to be unexcited. A state of siege has been proclaimed and the Government is taking energetic measures to repress the disturbance.

The Pope's Encyclical.

ROME, Jan. 13.—The Tribuna says the Pope has submitted proofs of his encyclical on the social question to several eminent European savants.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The Chins of Farther India made a raid on Pinthaw, a village of Burmah, Jan. 7, killing 8 persons and capturing 12. Troops are in pursuit.

BOMBAY, Jan. 13.—Over 200 houses have been burned here, and hundreds of families are homeless.

NOVA SCOTIA TIDES.

Immense Damage Occasioned Yesterday Along the Coast.

HALIFAX, Jan. 13.—Reports from Digby County state that the tides of yesterday were the highest ever known, and the damage done is estimated at over $10,000. At Bear River wharves were completely covered and the basement of stores flooded. At Plympton and Port Gilbertson, St. Mary's Bay, the height of the tides was something wonderful and hundreds of cords of wood ready for shipment to American markets were swept away. The bridges on the road between Brighton and Digby were carried away. At Weymouth bridge the damage caused by warehouses being flooded is estimated at $2000, large quantities of flour and meal being destroyed. The main street was covered by the tide and the schooner Grace Rice broke from her moorings and was secured with much difficulty. At Meteghan River, Church Point and other places below Weymouth serious loss was sustained from piling, cordwood and lumber being carried away from the wharves. At Freeport, Tureton and West Port the wharves were carried away by the strong tide and heavy sea and the roads gutted. The loss at those places will be about $5000.

DESERTED HIS AFFIANCED.

After All Arrangements Had Been Made for the Wedding.

GUELPH, Jan. 13.—For two years a young man named James Brady has been working at the J. B. Armstrong Mfg. Co. and boarding at the Union Hotel, and was engaged to marry one of the girls there, Mary Ryan, this week. She threw up her situation at the Union, while he had arranged, or said he had, as to the furniture. On Friday together they visited Our Lady's rectory and asked to have their names called on Sunday. On Saturday Brady started out to procure the stoves, but did not show up again, and enquiry revealed that he had drawn his back wages and that he had departed, leaving the girl in the lurch. The wedding was to have taken place to-day.

Charged with Bigamy.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 12.—Charles Brant, an Indian belonging to the Tyendinaga Reserve, was brought to the city on Saturday and placed in the county jail. It is alleged that on July 2 last he married at Trenton a young woman named Matilda McLeod, having at the same time a wife whom he married some 10 years ago. He is 38 years of age and his parents reside on the reserve. Brant says he

NEWFOUNDLAND'S TROUBLE.

Sir Charles Dilke Thinks the Colony will Take the Law in Their Own Hands.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—Sir Charles Dilke, who is at present residing in this city, in an interview to-day, published by L'Eclair, in regard to Newfoundland matters, says that he thought that, apart from the lobster question, the great difficulty lay in the impossibility to reconcile French treaty rights with the developments of Newfoundland. The entire territory belonged to the colony, yet they could not exercise the rights of sovereignty. The colonists, he said, unable to obtain a settlement of the matters in dispute, would some day certainly take the law in their own hands.

During the coming spring, according to Sir Charles Dilke, shots would probably be exchanged between the crews of the French ships and the colonists. It was essential, therefore, to immediately discover ground for an agreement.

Baron Lareinty of the Senate, during the course of an interview, stated that he had learned from M. Ribot, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, that the French Government had decided to accept territorial compensation only for the cession to Great Britain of the French shore of Newfoundland. M. Ribot refused to discuss the question of pecuniary indemnity and said that England had not offered France any territorial compensation for her rights on the Newfoundland coast.

M. Ribot, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has informed Lord Lytton, the British Ambassador, that France will not accept any compensation for her fishery rights in Newfoundland that she does not consider to be their full equivalent. Nothing of that nature had yet been offered her. It was for England to say what she can give. Money would not be accepted.

AN AWFUL AVALANCHE.

Seventeen Dead Bodies Removed From the Ruins—Many Injured Persons.

VIENNA, Jan. 13.—News has arrived here of a serious disaster which has occurred at Livno in Bosnia. An avalanche crashed down from the mountains near that place, destroying a number of houses, some of which were buried out of sight beneath the snow. As soon as rescuing parties could get to work the removal of the immense weight of snow was begun. The calamity is believed to have been an extremely fatal one, as already 17 dead bodies have been removed from the ruins. In addition to the dead a number of persons severely injured have been extricated from the ruins.

THE ANTI-SEMITIC LAWS.

The Czar Orders Their Suspension for Three Years.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The Times' Paris correspondent says: A friend from Russia informs me that on M. Nishnegradaiki, Russian Minister of Finance, representing that it was inexpedient to quarrel with the Jews because such a course would offend Jewish bankers, the Czar ordered the application of the anti-Semitic laws to be suspended for three years.

PADLEWSKI'S CAPTURE.

He Tells How He Eluded the Swarm of Detectives Set on His Track.

MADRID, Jan. 13.—It is stated that the man arrested, and said to be Padlewski, admits that he committed the murder, adding that it was for a "political object." He says that he failed in his plan to embark for the United States at Barcelona owing to the passport regulations being so strictly enforced at that port. Consequently, the prisoner says, he returned to Olot because he thought he would be safer there, owing to the absence of railway communication with that town. He claims that he was betrayed to the police by a customs officer who represented himself as being a member of a secret society. The prisoner is perfectly calm and collected.

During the course of an interview at Olot he described the journey from Dijon. He says that he entered Spain through Cebrero and from there went to Barcelona. Padlewski added that he remained a week in Barcelona, keeping himself in close hiding, and from that city he went to Saragossa and Madrid. He seems to have stopped but a few hours in this city and, fearing detection, he returned to Saragossa. From the latter city he went to Carthagena and Alicante, finally settling down at Olot. He also said that his health was shattered by the continual fear of pursuit which he experienced. He would not say who accompanied him to Dijon, but upon other subjects he was willing to talk without reserve.

The newspaper man who interviewed him was convinced that the latter is the man for whom the police have been hunting. In conversation the prisoner inspires the person who talks with him with a sentiment of sympathy instead of repulsion. He is gentle and refined in manner, and appears to have been impelled to commit the crime with which he is charged by patriotic exaltation and revolutionary sentiment combined.

COMMISSIONER ADAM BROWN.

He Will Leave This Evening For the Jamaica Exhibition.

HAMILTON, Jan. 13.—Adam Brown, M.P., honorary commissioner to the Jamaica exhibition, will leave for New York to-morrow evening, and will sail for Kingston, Jamaica, next Friday on the steamer Hondo, arriving at Kingston four or five days before the opening of the exhibition on Jan. 27. The commissioner changed his route at the last moment, as he formerly intended to go via Tampa, Fla. Mr. Brown has just received word from the superintendent of the Canadian section, stating that all the space allotted to the Canadian exhibits had been taken up, but that he was pressing for more space, which would probably be granted. The exhibits which should have gone on the steamer that was to have sailed from Halifax on Jan. 1, but which was cancelled, will be carried on the steamer that will leave Halifax on Thursday, and will reach Kingston in time to be placed in position. The superintendent will be waiting for these exhibits, and will have day and night gangs at work to take them from the steamers to the exhibition grounds. Mr. Brown is even yet in daily receipt of letters and telegrams from persons in various parts of the country who wish to send goods for exhibition, but it is too late now to attempt to enter any more.

Flung into the River with Chains.

DUBLIN, Jan. 13.—The dead body of a farmer named Daniel Coughlan was found yesterday in the River Arobeg, near Buttevant, in County Cork. The corpse was loaded with heavy irons, which were chained about the neck. The whole affair is at present shrouded in mystery and the police are making inquiries into the matter.

Collapse of An Ice House.

SARNIA, Jan. 13.—This evening while men were putting ice into the Hessers brewery, the floor holding the ice in the building gave away and the men went down with the ice and floor. William Jacques had an arm broken and was otherwise injured, George Tefft became fast in the ice, and besides injuries received suffered badly from cold before being rescued. It is impossible to tell yet how badly he is injured.

Farmers' Institute.

Afternoon Session.

TUESDAY, Jan. 13th.—There was a good attendance at the afternoon session. The first subject was taken up by PROF. DEAN, who spoke upon "Milk, its Composition and Production." He detailed the average composition of milk as follows: Water, 87.00 per cent.; fat, 3.75; casein, 3 50; albumen, 0.75; sugar, 4.09; ash, 0.70. The composition of butter was given as fat, 84 per cent.; curd, .02; salt, .03; water, .011. The functions of the various compounds of milk were pointed out. Experiments had been made showing that it was possible to feed cows so as milk could be produced at 1½ cents per quart. The necessity of good food and shelter, especially in the winter, were insisted upon. Milk was, he said, a product of nervous force, and the more quietly and kindly a cow was used, the better for milk production. It did not pay to depend upon pasture alone for milk food. Soiling crops were profitable, and, in succession, the speaker mentioned rye, clovers, peas, oats and corn as soiling crops. Corn for a soiling crop, should not be sown too thickly. Soiling crops should be fed in the barn, and thus the manure was saved, and the good practice of feeding a little concentrated food with the soiling crop followed. Ensilage was referred to. Plough in the fall for this crop. Mammoth Southern was good for this section. Planting corn in hills helped keep the ground clean. Keep the corn harrowed after sowing till it is about six inches high. Plant about a foot apart in the rows when sown that way. The more mature the corn at cutting, the better the results. The silo could be made of unmatched lumber, coated with petroleum, which preserved the lumber, and faced with building paper. Above all things make the silo strong. A silo could be built for 75 cents per ton capacity. Ensilage by itself was not a first class food—there should be a proper mixture of other food to make up the several heat producing, muscle-making and milk producing elements. A representative mixed ration that gave the highest results was as follows:—Hay 20 lbs., ensilage 50 lbs., corn meal 3 lbs., bran, 7 lbs. and oat meal seed 3 lbs. This was a ration which had succeeded with a highly scientific farmer, but a better average ration was clover by 15 lbs., oat straw 5 lbs., ensilage 40 lbs., linseed meal 3 lbs., bran 5 lbs. Another ration was clover hay 15 lbs., corn stalks 10 lbs., roots 50 lbs., bran 5 lbs., and linseed meal 5 lbs. The conditions to make milk production profitable were the best available cows, feed them properly, unite pasture and soiling in summer, and in winter feed with roots and meal as occasion requires.

The president, Mr. KENNEDY, said he had good results from mixing pea meal with the bran and straw food.

MR. ROBERT JACKSON found good results from a ration of clover hay, half a bushel of mangolds, carrots and turnips mixed, and three pints of barley meal. On a ration like this he had netted $257 from eight cows in six months. He fed four times a day, roots twice and clover twice a day. He attributed a large part of good results to his kind treatment of his stock. He did not think the silo would pay with clover at its present price.

MR. JOSEPH TENNUM gave his experience with the silo. He had built and filled it at 75 cents per ton.

MR. DAWSON KENNEDY introduced the subject of by reading a circular from the secretary of the Welland Farmers' Institute inclosing a petition praying that the act be so amended as to relieve all farm and garden produce from market tolls. Mr. Kennedy said if the market place in Peterborough were covered he would be willing to pay for the protection. The market was a meeting ground of common benefit to town and country. He decidedly objected to paying for benefits he did not receive.

MR. T. E. BELL enquired if the Town Council had power to collect ten cents toll for a single horse, and it was stated that the fee was only five cents.

MR. DEMPSEY said they had no market system in the United States, and both buyer and seller were at the mercy of the middlemen. Would it be wise to abolish the Canadian system?

MR. G. E. ELLIOTT called attention to the matter and

MR. STRATTON, M.P.P., said that two or three years ago the point was raised whether the council had the power to impose a fee such as was imposed on wood. He did not believe that the town had this power, and he had at that time backed up his opinion by a couple of police court cases and had paid the costs. He pointed out at that time the necessity of some concerted action to test this matter. He suggested that some farming representative should deal with the matter in the Legislature, and as far as he was concerned he was willing to do all he could to secure an amendment to the Act that would be equitable to both farmers and the people of the town, as he believed there was a measure of injustice in the Act, as it had been interpreted by municipal councils. He pointed out that the farmers did not show that unity of action to secure their rights such as other professions exercised.

MR. JOHN STOTHART pointed out that the county council was the proper body to look after the matter.

MR. E. B EDWARDS pointed out that the Act was used by the town of Peterborough, to fix tolls on all articles offered for sale on the market place provided, that no tolls were levied on articles offered for sale in any other part of the town.

MR. STRATTON suggested that the Institute should appoint a committee to deal with this and other similar matters. Their action would be taken with some definite object, and by authorized representatives of the farmers.

MR. KENNEDY thought the matter should be left to a committee of the Central Farmers' Institute.

MR. HILLIARD suggested a conference with the town council.

MR. T. E. BELL did not blame the town; he thought the Act should be amended.

MR. STRATTON thought that as Mr. Edwards had suggested, the farmers had not yet waited upon the town council to see if that body would modify its bylaw.

On motion of Mr. Davidson, seconded by Mr. John Stothart, the Institute endorsed the petition, and the petition was laid on the table for signatures.

Mr. Elliott moved, seconded by ——, that Messrs. Collins, John Stothart and J. A. Davidson be a committee to wait upon the Town Council with reference to the market by-law and to watch the interests of the farmer in connection with by-laws passed by the Town Council, and to report to this Institute any amendments desirable to be made.—Carried.

PRUNING.

MR. P. C. DEMPSY gave an address on "Pruning—Why, When and How." After giving the reasons for pruning—symmetry, opening up the branches to light and air, etc., a tree should be pruned so as to give full growth to the centre of the tree and thin out the outer branches. This prevents the large branches from being sun-scalded. He recommended pruning with shears at the end of a pole. For pruning the centre of the tree a light ladder should be used. Winter was the best time, for then farmers had most time. Prune as soon as the sap begins to rise in the tree. The speaker said he never saw such fine Waggoner apples as he had on his hotel table. He also referred to the apples in Mr. E. B. Edwards' cellar, and the fine quality of these showed that this district could grow apples that could not be grown in Peterborough. Large wounds made by cutting limbs should be painted over with grafting wax, composed of 4 lbs. of rosin, 1 lb. of bee's wax and 1 lb. of linseed oil, heated together. He objected to painting trees—it prevented transpiration. The apples he would recommend for this district were Duchess of Oldenburg, the Trenton, Fall Apples, Spitzenbergs could also be grown. The Ontario and the Ben Davis were good, the latter if not allowed to bear too profusely. The English remedy for black spot and all parisitic fruit fungi, was carbonate of copper in solution. The codlin moth could be destroyed by a spray with a garden engine, with a solution of Paris Green, ¼ lb to 60 or 70 gallons of water, at the time the apple is forming. The same spray and borer would be destroyed by soft soap dissolved in lye of wood ashes, the tree to be painted with it. Coal oil mixed with soft soap, one pint to a quart, would kill the bark louse. In pruning, when a small limb lies over a large one, cut the larger, the wound will heal much more easily than if the upper one is cut. Spraying with a weak solution of Paris Green would destroy the plum curculio. For this district the best plums were those that ripened earliest.

MR. FRAZER referred to a Beef Ring, a band of farmers arranging to provide for fresh beef during the summer. Arrangements were made to have an animal killed on the co-operation principle. In the fall each farmer pays for the amount he receives, and receives credit for what he puts in. In his county thirteen were 20 cattle killed and used by the farmers in a radius of 20 miles. Thus, farmers would have fresh meat all during the summer.

After a vote of thanks to the speakers who have given addresses the meeting adjourned.

The Liberal Convention.

The call for a Provincial convention of Liberals has been issued. The meeting is to be held in Toronto in February, the exact date yet to be fixed. Liberals everywhere should meet and appoint delegates. The occasion is an important one, some more so in the history of the Dominion of Canada. Choose good men, and choose them soon. Any information concerning the convention desired by those to take part in the selection of delegates will be promptly furnished. Address Mr. W. T. R. Preston, general secretary of the Ontario Reform Association, Reform Club, Toronto.

Purify Your Blood

The importance of purifying the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing conclusively more than the positive proven power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

Use these inventions and leave drugs and compounds alone. ELECTRICITY as applied by the DORENWEND Electric Belt and Attachments, will cure without medicine:—

RHEUMATISM

DYSPEPSIA
LIVER COMPLAINT
SPINAL DISEASE
LAME BACK
NERVOUS DEBILITY
VARICOCILI
IMPOTENCE
SEXUAL DECLINE

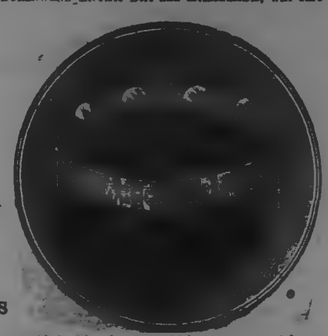
FEMALE COMPL'NTS



The Dorenwend Electric Belt is provided with a battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of electricity. It can be felt and can be regulated at will by the wearer while the belt is on the body. It is a light contrivance and can be worn at any time without the least inconvenience. It is the only Electric Belt in the world that follows out the true principles of electrical science. It has been examined and pronounced by experts and authorities to be the most practical and efficient method of bodily application yet invented.

THE DORENWEND ELECTRIC FOOT BATTERY cures Cramps, Rheumatism, Defective Circulation, Cold Feet, &c. This is the only insole in the world provided with a battery, consequently it is the only one producing a current. All others are simply soles of felt with pieces of zinc and copper fastened to them.

Be Careful.—If you are an afflicted one and are contemplating electrical treatment, see what you are getting before you invest. There are many humbugs in the country.

Remember every Dorenwend Belt is guaranteed, and will accomplish all as a curative that electricity can. The current in all Dorenwend appliances can be distinctly felt, and can be regulated to weak and strong degree. They are the "World's Best," and their equal cannot be found. Now is the time to procure one. Call anyway and examine them, and get a copy of Book on Home Treatment.

SCENES IN HONDURAS.

PRESIDENT BOGRAN'S BLOODY ACT AND CALLOUSNESS.

How General Longinus Sanchez and His Brave Followers Were Massacred—Influence of American Enterprise in the Republic on the Isthmus.

The Sanchez revolt in Honduras is at an end. General Longinus Sanchez, its leader, and nearly all his lieutenants are dead, the rebel army is broken and scattered, and the star of President Bogran shines brighter than ever. Sanchez was the commander of the army of the republic. A dashing soldier, a man of brilliant attainments and inordinately ambitious, he became the leading spirit of a cabal to wrest the army from the standard of Bogran and then use it as a weapon to drive the president from power. He perfected his plans early in the fall, massed his forces afound Tegucigalpi and struck the first blow by taking possession of a government garrison. Bogran, however, was equal to the emergency. He organized an army in a marvelously short space of time, and without waiting to perfect its discipline he took the field against Sanchez. The two forces met in several bloody battles. Sanchez was driven from one position to another; his soldiers were slaughtered without mercy, and at last he was forced to take shelter in the San Francisco barracks. Here he was surrounded by Bogran's villainous army. On the morning of the 15th Nov., Bogran opened fire on the beleagured garrison with all his batteries. Screaming shells were dropped into the stronghold with deadly precision, breach after breach was made in the adobe walls and then followed a charge and a hand to hand conflict, which raged fiercely till over two-thirds of the garrison's defenders were dead or dying. Sanchez knew that death awaited him and his men in any event, whether they fought or surrendered. So he kept his forces together and stubbornly resisted every charge until, at last, surrounded by overwhelming numbers, he was disarmed and made a prisoner. His officers gave up their swords and threw themselves on the mercy of Bogran, and were put in irons within an hour without even the formality of a trial, the prisoners, headed by Sanchez, were led to the principal square of the capital, lined up against an adobe wall and confronted by a company of powder begrimed soldiers. Bogran clad in full regimentals, looking grim and determined, stood behind the soldiers. He ordered the prisoners to be blindfolded. This was their death warrant, but not a man in the doomed line exhibited the slightest shade of fear. There was a long and painful pause, which was broken by a sharp command from the president to his soldiers. The latter raised their rifles, a roar of sound went echoing and re-echoing through the canons and valleys, and Sanchez and his men lay in the dust riddled with bullets. Bogran, without glancing at the bodies of the victims of his official wrath, turned on his heel and strode off in the direction of the palace, where a hearty dinner was awaiting him. The revolution was at an end. Its leaders were dead. Bogran again reigned supreme.

PRESIDENT BOGRAN.

Strangely enough, there was little or no sympathy expressed for the dead rebels. Sanchez's revolt was not a popular one, and the general was unable to awaken any enthusiasm among the masses. This was not so because Bogran is a popular idol, or because his dictatorship has resulted to the advantage of the country. The people were simply unwilling to become enthused or agitated, and when Bogran took the field against the pretender they waited patiently for the annihilation of one army or the other. Had Sanchez been successful and Bogran shot, he would have been hailed as the chief executive of the republic, and his reign would have gone on undisturbed until some soldier or politician as ambitious as himself sought his overthrow by force of arms.

The few Americans who have secured a foothold in the republic have made a great deal of money. The mines they have opened have all proved to be rich and seemingly inexhaustible, and to work them to their fullest capacity they have imported the costliest and most improved machinery from the United States. Perhaps the richest mine in the country is the Valenciana mine, six leagues distant from Tegucigalpa, and which is controlled by the San Juan de New York, Rosario & Honduras Company, an organization maintained by New York capitalists. The Valentine mining camp is the busiest place in Honduras, and it has for several years been the Mecca of the sons of prominent civil and military officials who want to learn something about the devices and means Americans employ to carry their gigantic schemes to success.

ISADOR SANCHEZ.

Young Isadore Sanchez, the only son of the unfortunate leader of the late rebellion, was a resident of the camp for many months, and worked patiently side by side with a young American amalgamator who had undertaken to teach him the mysteries of the business. Though he is a high-bred youth, who all his life has been surrounded by the luxuries and refinements of a good home, he was an apt pupil and did not seek to shirk manual labor whenever it was imposed on him. Young Sanchez has quit the camp and is now in Tegucigalpa. His father's terrible end was a sad blow to him, but he is not in a position to avenge it. Realizing that Bogran is all-powerful, and that resistance on his part would be worse than folly, he has said or done nothing to indicate his feelings. He is a bright lad, splendidly educated, and his father's followers are looking to him as a leader who may in the future help them to attain the ends to which they aspire.

ANOTHER WHARF COLLAPSE.

A Number of Longshoremen Killed up Victoria, British Columbia, Last Night.

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 14.—This afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock a terrible accident happened at Ocean Dock at the entrance to the harbor, resulting in the loss of several lives. A gang of men were employed discharging canned salmon from the steamer Danube, which arrived a few days ago from northern ports. Cases of salmon were being piled in a large shed at the end of the wharf, and about 3000 cases had been landed and piled up in addition to a quantity already stored in the shed, when suddenly the piles gave way and the heavy pieces of timber and flooring parted, precipitating men and salmon into the water. As speedily as possible gangs of men commenced taking out the jumbled heap of salmon cases, all broken and battered. In about five minutes the first body was recovered, that of James Kelly. One of the unfortunate men, was wedged between the salmon boxes with his head and shoulders out of the water, and he was rescued alive, but badly injured. He was removed to the hospital, but is not expected to live. Three other bodies were afterwards recovered, making the total loss of life four; Fox, married; Kelly, Tom Higgins and Bestell, all longshoremen and residents of Victoria. The injured man is a Swede named Charles Carl. Several narrow escapes are reported and the loss of life might have been much greater, as there were 13 men in the shed a few minutes before the catastrophe. Men were wheeling in trucks of salmon, and when the crash came trucks and contents disappeared, while the men barely escaped the fate of their comrades.

A Green-Haired Girl From Erin.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—A pretty Irish girl who arrived here yesterday on the White Star steamer Britannic set the employees of the Barge Office in a commotion. She was tall, well developed, rosy cheeked, blue eyed and cherry lipped, and a mass of wavy, sea green hair crowned her stately head. She was Emily Maud Higgins, 21 years old, of County Galway, Ireland, and she came here to get employment, not to pose as a museum freak. There is nothing peculiar about Miss Higgins except the shade of her hair. When she was very young it was of a sulphurous hue. At the back of her head her parents noticed that when she was standing in certain positions the hair had a greenish tint. As time rolled on another discovery was made. On a sunny, bright day Miss Higgins hair was always light. When it was foggy, frosty or rainy her hair always became darker and greener. When seen under the gas light the hair is of a nice chestnut. Father Cahill of the mission says that in Ireland there is an old tradition that any one who goes to the Lakes of Killarney and stands in a certain position just after midday will have hair of emerald hue. The color is caused by the reflection of the mountains on the lakes. The belief is held by everybody there.

Counterfeiters' Supplies Unearthed.

WINDSOR, Jan. 12.—Dominion Detective O'Leary has been scouting around the Stinson and Stoddard farms since the counterfeiters were arrested and has unearthed considerable important evidence. In the barnyard of the Stinson place he picked up several blocks of stovewood, each of which had been hollowed out and the opening plugged and covered over with manure. Drawing the plugs the detective found moulds, dies and other counterfeiting devices. At Stoddard's farm nothing of importance could be found until a hollow stump several rods from the house had been reached. There O'Leary found a turning lathe of superior quality pushed into the stump and covered up with dead leaves and other rubbish. The prisoners will probably be arraigned before the magistrate to-morrow.

There was a very large attendance, and the prospects of the church are exceedingly good. Mr. Parker comes from Peterborough, where he was greatly esteemed. He was educated at the Baptist College in Manchester, England, and came from the old country about six years ago, and settled at Simcoe, where he remained two or three years. About two years ago he accepted a call to Peterborough. He is comparatively a young man, and has proved himself the possessor of no mean ability as a preacher.

Resolution of Condolence.

At a meeting of the board of license commissioners of the East Riding of the County of Peterborough, held on Jan. 14th, 1891, the following resolution of condolence was offered and adopted:

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God by His divine and infinite wisdom to remove from our midst so suddenly and unexpectedly, our esteemed and beloved inspector, Wm. Darling, Esq.,

Resolved, that we, the members of the board of commissioners for the East Riding of the County of Peterborough, tender his wife and relatives our sincere sympathy in their sad bereavment which it has pleased the will of Divine Providence to inflict on them.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be given to his wife, and published in the Peterborough EXAMINER.

WM. MORRE, Chairman. J. M. DRUMMOND, Secretary.

Sunday-School Anniversary.

The anniversary of the George street Sunday-school was continued Tuesday night, when Mr. A. W. Struthers, of Toronto, gave his excellent views of scenes in the life of Christ. The entertainment took place in the church proper, which was filled, gallery and auditorium, with the pupils and their friends. The canvas was stretched across the organ loft, thus giving ample space to display the views at full size. After an organ overture by Mr. Seward, Mr. Struthers began his portion of the entertainment, consisting of magnificent colored views. Mr. Struthers has a fine instrument and excellent views. A pleasing feature of the entertainment was the singing behind the scenes of sacred songs appropriate to the illustrations. A solo was given by Mr. Bowman, a duet by Mrs. Seward and Mr. Bowman, and a quartette by Messrs. John and Alf. Miller, Bowman and Shelton. While Mr. Bowman was singing, the wind went out of the organ, but the break did not spoil the song. The entertainment was a gratifying success.

Rev. Father Huntingdon.

The people of this town will have an opportunity of hearing next Wednesday evening one of the greatest clergymen of the Church of England in America. The Rev. J. O.S. Huntington, commonly known as "Father Huntingdon" from his connection with the Order of the Holy Cross, will lecture upon the religious phase of the Single Tax in the opera house on that date, under the auspices of the Peterborough branch of the Single Tax Association. of Canada. He is the son of Bishop Huntingdon, of Central New York. He has given up all thought of the brilliant career that was open to him in devoting himself to the cause of the poor. In the slums of New York city—amongst the destitute, he has gone as a missionary, and from the darkness he has come back to implore the co-operation of those who know something of human happiness, in the work of relieving this infinite distress. Convinced that the cause of the evil lies at the door of selfishness and ineffectual legislation, he has adopted the Single Tax as a suitable remedy. He makes no charge whatever, but of course his expenses will be paid. Consequently no charge will be made at the door. A plate will be placed there for those who feel disposed to help in defraying the necessary expenditure. A number of seats will be reserved for ladies and their escorts.

A discussion as to overcrowding was ended by a resolution which Mr. Hamilton characterized as only a matter of justice to the ratepayers.

Dr. Burnham moved, seconded by Mr. Wrighton, that a fee of $2.50 per month be charged all pupils attending Mr. Smith's room, and $1.50 be charged pupils attending the other rooms of the public school.—Carried.

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. English, that A. Sperry be appointed janitor of the North Ward School, the question of salary being referred to the Committee on Appointments.—Carried.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The Proceedings at the Regular Meeting.

The Inspector's Gratifying Report—Lack of Accommodation for Pupils—The Prohibition Fee.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education, held on Tuesday evening, was attended by Mr. James Stevenson, chairman, and Dr. Burnham, Dr. Boucher, and Messrs. McKee, Deane, Ferguson, Hamilton, Kendry, Wrighton, English and Dumble. After routine was read as follows:

THE INSPECTOR'S REPORT

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of the Board of Education, Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—I herewith submit for your consideration my fifth semi-annual report on the condition of your public schools for the half year ending the 31st day of December, 1890.

ORDER.—The order in the various rooms so far as it came under my notice at the time of my visits, was very good, and the outside order both at the central and at the ward schools, was satisfactory.

CLASSIFICATION.—In future there will be but one entrance examination to the Institute each year, to be held at midsummer. This will necessitate some slight modification in the classification of the public schools, as the promotions must in future be made mainly but once a year, at the time of the entrance examinations in July. The first, second and junior fourth classes may remain as at present, but the third class will need to be divided into two grades, under separate teachers as far as possible. Something must also be done to relieve the overcrowded state of the senior fourth, or entrance class, under Mr. Wm. Smith. At present there are 70 in attendance in Mr. Smith's room, a number much too large for one teacher. As there are three junior fourth classes from which promotions are made into this room the difficulty is sure to increase. Just what is the best thing to do to overcome the difficulty is not clear to me, but it is a matter with which the board will have to deal, if not now, not later than next midsummer. In my opinion it would be wise to give the matter some attention at once, as it is scarcely possible that Mr. Smith can give such attention as an entrance class requires to the large number attending his room.

WORK OF THE TERM.—Of the whole the work in the public schools during the past half year, whether judged from inspection or from the promotion examinations, shows a decided improvement over that of any previous term since I have been connected with your schools. There is still room for improvement—very great improvement—in some departments of work, but your teachers, almost without exception, are working hard and, as a consequence, fairly good work is being done.

PROMOTION EXAMINATIONS.—Accompanying the report are the results of the promotion examinations from the various rooms, and also a set of the questions used at the examinations.

With a view of raising the grade of the work in your schools, I would suggest that honour certificates be presented by the board to all pupils who write for promotion examinations and who obtain a high percentage of the marks—say 66 per cent. of the total.

I shall reserve my remarks on the individual rooms for my annual report at midsummer.

Any one who cares to examine the tabulated results of the promotion examinations which accompany this report, will get a fair idea of the work done in each room.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

W. E. TILLEY,
Inspector of Schools, Peterborough.

Jan 13th, 1891.

A number of accounts were presented and referred to the Finance Committee.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

	On roll	Ave
Collegiate Institute	168	156

Mr. Stirling said that he had not sufficient seating accommodation in his school.

John Leahur's application for increase of salary was referred to the Committee on on Appointments.

Miss Jean Davidson's application for position as teacher was referred to the Committee on Appointments.

Rev. J. W. McCleary's application to have the board deal with the case of a girl who had passed the entrance examination, but had not the means to pay Collegiate Institute fees (he having become responsible for the first term), was granted and the girl allowed to attend without exaction of the usual fee.

Mr. Dumble, chairman, presented the following report:—

The Committee on Appointments beg leave to report, and recommend the following appointments:—Miss Rutherford, Miss McDonald, Miss Martin and Miss Bouckner on salaries of $250 each, to hold their positions on approval till midsummer.

That Miss Peters be appointed to the room recently taught by Miss Wrighton, who resigned, salary $275.

That Mr. W. R. Ratherford, B.A., of Toronto University, be appointed master of the first form in the Collegiate Institute at a salary of $900 per year.

Your committee are pleased to be able to say that Mr. Ratherford possesses certificates which show that in his university course he pursued a wide range of studies and obtained a brilliant record, taking high honours in several departments.

Your committee report that Mr. Ratherford is in attendance, occupying the lower west room in the small building and with a full first form of forty pupils.

RESCUE THE PERISHING.

The Noble Work Undertaken by the Salvation Army.

A Helping Hand Extended to Unfortunate Men and Women Who are Down in the Mire—What is Being Done to Ameliorate the Condition of Mankind.

If plain talk and a telling array of facts and figures have any power of conviction, the audience which attended the demonstration at the Salvation Army barracks last night ought to be firmly convinced of the success and good work of the social reform movement in connection with the Army. The details of the work were fully explained by the officers, and none who have the cause of downfallen humanity at heart but were touched by the pathetic appeal in behalf of this great movement, whose claims were so forcibly urged. No one could doubt that the Salvation Army was doing a noble work in rescuing degraded men and women from the gutters, reforming and converting them, and setting them upon their feet again as respectable and industrious citizens.

The meeting was what the Salvationists would call a "real good one." A supper was held from half-past five to half-past seven, and a street parade took place before the meeting began in the barracks, which was well filled by a sympathetic audience. There was also a great gathering of officers of this division. Tier upon tier of happy, smiling, singing, shouting, dancing, hand-clapping, volley-firing, handkerchief-waving, enthusiastic, consecrated, blood-and-fire soldiers occupied the platform; and when they sang, as only Salvationists know how to sing, with all their strength of lung and heart, drums, horns, tambourines and hands keeping accompaniment, the volume of sound was grand and inspiring, and such as would have delighted the Psalmist, who wrote, "Sing praises unto the Lord; shout aloud with gladness."

Commissioner Adams led the meeting, and his magnetic humor and vivacity seemed to pervade the atmosphere. The other staff officers were: Col. Young, Major Leighton, Staff-Capt. Bolton, and Staff-Capt. Batty, all of whom took part in the proceedings. Lieut. Lee, the colored singer, sang several times to the accompaniment of her own guitar and two concertinas played by staff officers.

Commissioner Adams' address was earnest, pointed and practical. He first touched upon for the improvement of the condition of the outcast population of the world, and said that no doubt some improvement could be made in it, but though people were continually finding fault with what the Salvation Army did they never pointed out a better way. The scheme was being developed, and already £90,000 of the one hundred thousand pounds required to begin the work had been subscribed. Major Smith, he said, had resigned because he could not have his own way in carrying out the project, but it was better that it is so, for when any man cannot work with the Army, he is better out of it. All General Booth asked in his scheme was that every man and woman should have the same chance as a cab horse. When a horse falls he is picked up, but when a man goes down, though perhaps through no fault of his, the world's policy is to kick him down still lower. The Salvation Army proposed to remedy this evil by raising every fallen man and woman up and placing them on their feet again. They proposed, then, to find work for the reformed ones, that they might earn their living, put a coat on their back, lead them to God, and make good citizens of them. This great scheme had a wide area; there would be a colony at home and a colony abroad. It was intended to undertake the cause of all those who cannot help themselves. A legal department was to be established to get the poor widow her rights and get justice for those under the heel of the oppressor. There would be a labor bureau, in which the Salvation Army would be the means of bringing employee and employe together and getting work for needy ones. They would champion the cause of the ex-convict and down-trodden harlot, who were once as good as anyone. The little street arab, whose mother died in drunkenness and who never had any friends, would also be cared for. In fact the Salvation Army recognized that every man and woman, however degraded and lost, was a human being and had a soul to save. Some of these poor unfortunate ones were really better than those who sat in high places, and if they would do well in the world. The Salvation Army proposed to place this opportunity in their way. In Canada this branch of the work was having remarkable success. They had now Rescue Homes for fallen women as in Toronto, Stratford, London, St. John's (N. B.) Halifax, Winnipeg and Victoria, in which there were some 45 women and 23 children; and eighty per cent of the cases last year had proven satisfactory. The Prison Gate Home was established for the ex-convict, who, with the world against him would be forced again into crime or beggary but for the Salvation Army, which gives him a chance of becoming an honest man again. In Toronto they had a Red Maria in opposition to the Black Maria. They had homes of this kind at Toronto, Kingston and Hamilton, with twenty men in them striving to do right for God and humanity. They had also one Children's Shelter Home for the poor little waifs.

GENERAL BOOTH'S GREAT SCHEME

"Billy" Down, an elderly man from the Prison Gate Home, gave his testimony. He had been converted through the Salvation Army. He was an old soldier and pensioner, had served in the Zulu war and in India and China, and was a drunkard for twenty-three years. When he came out of prison the Army people got hold of him and he was now respectable and sober. He described the manner of employing the men in the homes.

Other instances were given of the good results accruing from this work in the saving of men from death and destruction.

Staff-Capt. Bolton, who is connected with the Toronto Home, told some touching stories of a few of the inmates of the home who had been reformed through the instrumentality of the Salvation Army. He pointed out that, though the plan took a good deal of money to carry it out, it also cost money to support prisoners in the gaol, and it would be cheaper to give the money to the Army and let them reduce the number of prisoners by converting and making good citizens of them, thus paying so much a year for the support of gaols. Last year the Peterborough gaol cost $3,547.12, and he hoped the time would soon be when there would be a Prison Gate Home here.

The meeting closed with the taking of subscriptions and collections to aid the work.

Dreadful Psoriasis.

Covering Entire Body with White Scales. Suffering Fearful. Cured by Cuticura.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose and in a short time covering my face. It ran into my ears and my physician said I would lose my eyesight, it was so bad. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head, and other parts being the worst. The white scales fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was entirely cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel in my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and my health is my delight.

Yesterday we had a call from Mr. G. T. Fulford, of Fulford & Co., Brockville, proprietors of Nasal Balm, that well known standard remedy for catarrh and cold in the head. While chatting with Mr. Fulford he related to us the origin of Nasal Balm. He had been for years a sufferer from catarrh in its worst forms, and had spent hundreds of dollars and had consulted eminent physicians without obtaining a cure, or indeed without experiencing more than temporary relief. Mr. Fulford being an experienced chemist, at last decided to experiment in a case, and the result was the preparation now known as Nasal Balm. In his own case it removed every vestige of the disease. He then began selling the preparation in his drug store, and the universal satisfaction it gave those who used it, coupled with a feeling of gratefulness at his own cure, induced him to offer it for sale throughout the whole country for the benefit of the thousands of other sufferers from cold in the head and catarrh. That it has met the demand for a remedy of this kind and has given universal satisfaction Mr. Fulford says is attested by thousands of testimonials in the possession of his firm.

THE COMITY OF NATIONS.

A PECULIAR RESOLUTION IN THE U.S CONGRESS

Arising Out of the Action of Lord Salisbury With Respect to Behring Sea Matters—"In Derogation of the Dignity of the Government."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Mr. Enloe of Tennessee to-day introduced in the house a resolution declaring the conduct of Great Britain in filing a suggestion for determination of the sealer controversy by the United States Supreme Court is without precedent, prejudicial to the comity of nations and to the amicable conduct of international relations and in derogation of the dignity of the government and people of the United States. It also requests the President to communicate a copy of the resolution to the British Government if not in his judgment against the public interest.

To Interview Salisbury.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The Press Association announces that it is understood United States Minister Lincoln will have an interview with Lord Salisbury soon after his return to England and submit to the Premier communications regarding the Behring Sea controversy. The Association states it is improbable Salisbury will recede from his present position.

The Plaintiff Surprised.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Referring to Mr. Choate's motion in the United States Supreme Court regarding the condemnation of the Canadian sealer Sayward, libeled in Alaska, The Times says it is surprised that any American lawyer should question the jurisdiction of the tribunal which, in the days of Chief Justice Marshall, many held up to the admiration of the world. It adds: Here the judgment in the court will be read with respect. Its decision in favor of Mr. Blaine's contention would in no sense be binding upon us, and an adverse decision would put an end to Mr. Blaine's policy at a stroke.

The Eagle Screams Because He Felt One Pain.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—A Washington dispatch to The Herald says: It is understood the British minister [illegible] Lord Salisbury at once on the receipt of the official and popular ebullition caused by Sir John Thompson's application to the Supreme Court. In brief circles it is said that it would hardly surprise the judge of the court if before the two weeks' limit expired the consul for Great Britain should ask leave to dismiss the question of the Canadian Attorney-General. The disposition of President Harrison and Secretary Blaine is now authoritatively stated to be to permit the sentiment of the people of the United States to find utterance through Congress and the press before any diplomatic action is taken. They do not, in fact, believe that Lord Salisbury meant to be discourteous or in any manner offensive to this Government. They incline rather to the opinion that in the multitude of his official engagements he has committed an advertence which he will be among the first to regret, and the very first to repair, when he realizes the true character of his inconsiderate action.

If Lord Salisbury should promptly show a proper spirit toward the Government he has deeply offended, he will not find a feather's weight added to his position by anything done or omitted by the President or Secretary of State. What either house or both houses of congress may see proper to do is a matter the President cannot control. Already several influential members of congress representing both houses are considering how the matter can be made the subject of congressional action within the limits of official and international propriety. There is a disposition to let Democratic members of the legislative body take the lead of any such action in order to emphasize the solidarity of the country in the face of the gratuitous affront that Lord Salisbury has permitted the Canadian Cabinet to put upon the Government with his consent and participation.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

The House Prorogued Until the First of March—A General Election.

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—The next Official Gazette will contain a notice proroguing Parliament for 40 days from Jan. 19, which would extend to about March 1. The probabilities are, therefore, that the House will not meet until nearly the middle of March, the date of a general election coming first to be talked of here, although the Government have come to no definite decision. It may be said that although the House will be formally prorogued that is not to prevent it meeting earlier than the day to which it was prorogued. Generally about 30 days' notice is given, so that members at a distance may have an opportunity of attending.

What either house or both houses of congress may see proper to do is a matter the President cannot control. Already several influential members of congress representing both houses are considering how the matter can be made the subject of congressional action within the limits of official and international propriety. There is a disposition to let Democratic members of the legislative body take the lead of any such action in order to emphasize the solidarity of the country in the face of the gratuitous affront that Lord Salisbury has permitted the Canadian Cabinet to put upon the Government with his consent and participation.

Time was called promptly at 9.28 with Alex. Brewster, one of the best citizens of New Orleans, as referee; official timekeeper, Prof. John Duffy; master of ceremonies, Ex-Mayor J. V. Guillotte. The men came into the ring at 9.55. Dempsey offered to wager $1000, which was accepted by Major Frank McLaughlin, the sporting editor of the California Athletic Club, but the Olympic Club officials refused to allow the bet to go and it was called off.

ROUND 1—The men shook hands and advanced to the centre, Fitzsimmons from appearances outclassing Dempsey. The men sparred. Fitzsimmons led the left and landed. Jack landed right. Bob crowded him in a corner, clinched and broke. Bob followed Jack all over the ring. Bob landed a heavy right, Jack being on the defensive and running away. Jack led with left and missed. Jack led and landed on the stomach. Jack led and missed, led again and countered left. The round ended with honors about evenly divided.

ROUND 2—Bob came up cautiously and crowded Jack. Bob led and landed his right on Jack's head. Bob led and missed and then crowded Jack in the corner and missed. Jack led, and a right hand body blow was followed rapidly by exchanges. Fighting was even. Jack ran away. Jack led and missed. Bob landed his right and left on face and Jack ducked away. Bob landed his right on Jack's head, Jack ran away. A clinch and break-away followed. Jack landed on Bob's head. Jack ran away. Again a clinch and break-away followed. Jack landed on Bob's head. Bob landed his left on Jack's face. Jack landed his right on Bob's head. Bob crowded Jack. Jack led for the stomach and missed. Then followed a clinch and break-away. The round ended in Bob's favor although Jack got in his left on Fitzsimmons' nose.

ROUND 3—Men came up smiling. Jack ducked and ran away. Bob crowded Jack in the corner. Good nature marked the round. Bob ran away from a left. Jack was knocked down with a right, got up and ran away. Bob landed his left on Jack's face. Jack clinched to save himself from a fall, then ducked and ran away. Jack landed his left on Bob's neck. Jack was weak and fell [illegible]. This was Bob's round.

ROUND 4—Jack came up cautious, hit, and Bob ran away. Bob crowded Jack, again Bob followed Jack all over the ring. Jack ducked and got a right swing. Jack landed his right and left on Bob. Jack landed a vicious left in the stomach. Bob hit Jack with his right on the mouth. Bob followed Jack and hit him on the head; also on the nose with the left. There was a clinch and break-away, and Bob landed a terrible left and repeated the dose a moment later and followed, leading right and left twice in succession, and Jack ran away. Fitzsimmons landed a vicious left hand upper cut on Jack's stomach and Jack flew away. A clinch followed. This was Bob's round.

ROUND 5—Bob crowded, Jack feinted at his stomach and Jack ran away. Bob landed his left on Dempsey's nose and also landed a terrible right swing on Jack's neck. They sparred at long range and Bob pushed his glove on Jack's nose. Right and left swings and hooks were even, Jack showing up well. Clinching marked this round. Jack clinched to save himself. Jack landed his left in Bob's stomach and Bob landed his right on Dempsey's back and his left on his nose. Bob was good-natured and landed his left three times. Jack slipped to the ground in a clinch, Bob landed a terrible left. This was Bob's round.

ROUND 9—Bob crowded Jack and Jack clinched, Bob landed his right and missed the same. A moment later Jack ducked and ran away. Bob hit Jack all over the ring. Bob landed a terrible right swing and Jack was groggy. Bob landed a terrible left to Jack's right ear. Both landed on the stomach and Jack was fought into his corner and seemed to die hard. Bob landed his left and right and terrible left in Jack's stomach. Jack swung his right on Bob's neck, clinched and both hit and missed. Bob hit Jack with right in stomach.

ROUND 10—Bob crowded Jack and landed a right body blow, Jack feinted and Bob ducked. Bob landed a terrible right. Jack clinched and pulled Bob around the ring. Jack attempted to upper cut, but missed and clinched Bob around the legs. Bob landed three lefts and Jack nearly fell. Bob hit Jack a left in the nose and Jack ran away. Jack feinted and Bob landed a terrible right upper cut. Bob landed a left and sent Jack down. Bob punched Jack in the stomach and the gong saved Jack, who was down three times and very nearly out. Dempsey fought hard, but nature outclassed him.

ROUND 11—Bob crowded Jack and landed two lefts. Jack fell on the ropes. Bob landed a terrible left and Dempsey staggered. Dempsey led for the stomach and Bob jumped away. Bob landed two terrible lefts and knocked Jack down. He got up and was knocked down again. Bob let him gain wind and landed a terrible right and left. This was Bob's round. The towel was thrown from Jack's corner in token of defeat, but it didn't go. 'Twas to fool Fitzsimmons. Jack was down and as McAuliffe did not expect the gong he threw up the towel, but when the gong sounded he had one more chance and he said the "throw-up" did not go; Jack would try again.

Knocked Down as Fast as He Rose.

ROUND 12—Bob led right and left on Jack's head and punched Jack all over the ring. Jack upper cut but missed. Bob fought fair and landed left on stomach and face and knocked Jack down again. Bob swung right and again the Nonpareil went down. Jack was groggy. This was Bob's round and he was a duke, champion of middleweights.

ROUND 13—Bob went at Jack in his corner and punched him right and left, Jack clinched and Bob knocked him down. The Nonpareil lay like a log after 1 or 2 vain endeavors to rise and fight on. Three goings sounded the greatest of middleweight's career to slumber.

The Fight Lasted 49 Minutes—Jimmy Carroll's Osculatory Exercise.

The fight lasted 49 minutes. To-morrow's sun will shine on a new middleweight champion and his name is Robert Fitzsimmons. When Referee Brewster awarded the battle to Fitzsimmons Jimmy Carroll jumped at his protege and kissed him time and again. Dempsey was badly punished. A swollen face, cut lips and nose and a bad mark or two on his body were plainly visible. Fitzsimmons was not scratched. The Australian won in a walk. Dempsey is the hero of half a hundred battles. Fitzsimmons has an unbroken record of 17 wins.

The total attendance at the fight was 4500. The receipts were $30,000. The club's outlay includes the purse and $3000 for expenses. Dempsey before the fight was the favorite. Last night the sentiment veered around to Fitzsimmons, but when the latter to-day was found to be thin and wan Dempsey again became the favorite at 4 to 5.

There was talk this evening of unfairness, but it is believed the battle was perfectly fair.

The crowd included some of the most prominent bankers, business men, educators and city officials and sports in New Orleans.

The Fitzsimmons people were extremely anxious before the fight began. It is now said their man's overweight was two pounds, but the superfluous flesh was worked off just in time.

Jake Kilrain says Fitzsimmons is truly a wonder. He is as clever as they make them and his hitting power is immense. There never was a middleweight like him.

Mr. Muldoon, the wrestler, says Fitzsimmons is a whirlwind, a terrific hitter and two-handed fighter and a great general. I never saw as fair a fighter in my life. He should have been awarded the fight two rounds before.

When the fight was over Fitzsimmons was as full of fun as a colt. He sparred with Carroll and tapped him on the nose playfully. He spoke highly of Dempsey as a good game fighter.

Bob Fitzsimmons' Brilliant Ring Record in Australia and America.

In a recent talk at his training quarters at Bay St. Louis the hero of yesterday's fight tells of his doings as a prize-fighter. He said:

"My first appearance in the ring was at Jem Mace's amateur boxing tournament at Timaru, New Zealand, 10 years ago. Mace was making a tour through the colonies then. I succeeded in knocking out four men that night, winning the amateur championship of

New Zealand and a gold watch. The next year Mace visited us again and gave another tournament. I then knocked out five men in one night, maintaining my title of champion.

"After defeating [illegible], five men I put on the gloves with Herbert Slade; and to the surprise of everyone present I beat him. After stopping Slade, Mace said I were going to what up the other boys acquaintance with friendly spirit. We put on the gloves and shook hands and went about exhibiting to spar when we were greeted with such a storm of hisses that Mace thought it would be better to take off the gloves. The audience thought that I was trying to try to knock me out, when it came to my attempts to show me a few points in boxing. All of these bouts were fought under the Marquis of Queensberry rules.

"I next fought Arthur Cooper, under London prize ring rules, at Tipara, defeating him in three rounds. Then came my fights with Jack Murphy and Jim Crawford, both of which were fought under London prize ring rules. I defeated the former in four and the latter in three rounds, knocking them both out. After this I left New Zealand and went to Sydney, sparring for the first time there at Larry Foley's Athletic Hall, where I defeated Brimstead, a heavyweight, in two rounds. He weighed 170 pounds to my 146 pounds. The fact is I never fought at over 146 pounds until I came to the United States. I next defeated Jack Greentree, a middleweight, at Foley's, in three rounds. Dick Sandal, who after I left New Zealand, had got to be champion there, was the first one who wanted to meet me. I defeated him in four rounds. Then I defeated Bill Slavin, a brother of Frank Slavin. Bill is not the Slavin who was recently defeated by Joe Goddard's brother in Sydney, but an older brother and a considerably better man. I beated him in 7 rounds.

"I then fought Eagar, who recently fought a draw with Starlight, for colored middleweight champion of Australia. We fought for 20 rounds, Eagar weighing 154 pounds to my 146 on fight-ounce. I beat him in three rounds. I defeated Cooper, champion of Ballarat, in three rounds. My next battle of importance was with Dick Ellis, who was and is now considered a good one in Australia, he having fought three draws with Lang, the well-known Maori heavyweight, two battles being under London rules and one under Queensberry. Ellis weighed 176 pounds against my 148 pounds, but I beat him in three rounds just the same. I next fought Jim Hall, champion middleweight of Australia for the championship, defeating him in five rounds. Then I fought Starlight, the colored middleweight champion of Australia and champion of Queensland, or ring him out in nine rounds. My last fight in Australia was with Frog Watt, a heavyweight who used to exhibit through Australia advertising to knock any man out in four rounds. I knocked him out in two minutes.

"Coming to San Francisco I immediately got on a match with Bill McCarthy to fight at the California Athletic Club. I fought him with but very little training, as I had been in the country only 14 days when we met, knocking him out in 3 rounds. I could have finished him in three rounds, but wanted to give the club members a show of sparring for their money. My last fight up to date was with Arthur Upham. I defeated him in five rounds at the Audubon Club, New Orleans.

Something About the Vanquished.

Dempsey began his pugilistic career in 1883 only seven years ago, and during that time has won 51 battles, defeating the best men in the country in his class and some who were in a heavier class. This is a record second to none, and he will deserves the title of "Nonpareil." His last battle with the "Marine," when he was defeated in 33 rounds, is one that he will always regret, as he treated it too lightly and did not train for it as well as he might have done. Even as it was, it proved to be a chance blow that knocked him out, or he might have had the "Marine's" scalp dangling at his belt for the second time.

THE GIRL WILL DIE.

The Possible End of Leamington's Shocking Scandal.

LEAMINGTON, Jan. 14.—The graphic description of the Minnie Coultis scandal, terminating in an abortion, was true in every respect. Had Minnie been found his life would not have been worth living. Everything was ready for a tar-and-feather chapter, and then a rope ground his neck and over the nearest tree. After attending Sunday school and maintaining his lofty look he was driven to Stoney Point by one of his relatives. At Stoney Point he took the train east, and no word has been heard of him since. The girl whom the wretch ruined is again very ill at William Fromer's residence. Grave doubts are entertained of her ever recovering, as the relapse is most serious. No means will be spared to bring Minnie to justice.

Six Lives Paid the Penalty.

TROY, N.Y., Jan. 14.—At Split Rock quarry, six miles north of Westport on Lake Champlain, yesterday a loaded car on the tramway used in lowering the granite to the lake started down the steep incline. For some reason the man at the brake left his post and the car dashed down the grade at frightful speed. The car crashed into a group of persons, consisting of the two sons of Superintendent Robertson, aged 13 and 17 years, the engineer and three quarrymen. Both the Robertson boys, the engineer and one of the quarrymen were instantly killed.

Back From Berlin.

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—Two of the pilgrims from Toronto to the shrine of Koch have returned. Dr. J. D. Thorburn, the representative of the Toronto University Medical Society, and Dr. Fred Winnett arrived in town yesterday morning after a six weeks' stay in Berlin. Both were satisfied that the discovery will prove of inestimable value to sufferers from consumption of the lungs and throat, and tubercular joints. The lymph is also the best possible diagnostic for these diseases, being better than a stethoscope. If there is any trace of tuberculosis an injection of lymph will produce a characteristic reaction which is altogether different from any other and cannot be mistaken with any other. The lymph drives the bacilli to the surface and indicates consumption where perhaps it never was suspected before.

Alleged Fraud.

WINDSOR, Jan. 13.—Jeweler Mead has been locked up for attempting to defraud his creditors. They are Ellis & Co. and Taylor & Co., both manufacturing jewelers of Toronto. They accuse him of disposing of part of his stock before assigning. Mead's published assets are $1150 and his liabilities are $1350. The prisoner was released on $500 bail. He will be examined to-morrow.

Bond's Mission a Failure.

ST. JOHN'S, N.F., Jan. 13.—The visit of Colonial Secretary Bond to Washington to negotiate a reciprocity treaty with the United States resulted in a fiasco. Unless Americans can secure a monopoly of Newfoundland bait they will not open their markets to fish from that colony. If French and Canadian fishermen are to get free bait the same international privilege must be accorded to Americans.

Relieving the Distress.

COBE, Jan. 14.—The government officials in order to relieve the distress have opened works at Mimmyhead. Thousands of men and women of all ages are already employed there and steps are being taken to give work to many more. It is stated unless the government takes prompt action at Asahi is and the fearful scenes of 1846-7 are likely to be repeated.

One has been cured of indigestion and dyspepsia, another finds it indispensable for sick headache, others report remarkable cures of scrofula, salt rheum, etc. Truly, the best advertising which Hood's Sarsaparilla receives is the hearty endorsement of its army of friends.

EAST RIDING FARMERS.

Annual Meeting of East Peterborough Institute.

Sugar Beets—Care and Management of Horses—Clover Growing—Two-Rowed Barley.

The first annual meeting of the East Riding Farmers' Institute was held at Norwood Wednesday. There was a small attendance, but it comprised some of the best of the members of the farming community. The only subject treated at the morning session was Mr. Dempsy's subject—"Pruning—Why, When and How," the same that was presented at the West Riding meeting. One new statement was that with fruit-growing one acre could be made to keep a family.

The Afternoon Session.

There was a large attendance in the afternoon. Before the regular programme began the president referred to the tests made at the Agricultural College of sugar beets sent in from several parts of Ontario, and the result was that the beets grown in the Rice Lake and Cobourg district had shown the highest percentage of sugar—the Cobourg beets showing 13 per cent. The establishment of a factory in the neighbourhood of Harwood was spoken of. Only the smaller beets were required. The price given was about six cents per bushel, and the pulp was returned to the farmer.

Mr. Wm. COWAN, V.S., of Galt, spoke upon the subject, "The Care and Management of Horses." He began by pointing out that it had been brought against Ontario farmers that they did not turn their horses out in a finished condition, especially for the American and city markets, leaving the finishing to a middleman, thus depriving the farmer of a large profit. There were certain necessities in a good stable. The floors of a stable should always be kept dry and well drained. A stable should be built so that it could be well ventilated and lighted. Light was as necessary to a horse as to a plant, and a small window in front of a horse would not hurt his eyes. Horses required high stables, and then we would have a minimum of poll evil As to feeding, the rack should slope away from the face of the horse. A horse especially used for fast work should always be watered before feeding, and thus scouring would be avoided. It was a mistake to keep the rack full of hay. Give a horse what he could eat at one meal, and allow him to fast between meals. Do not give a horse more than he would eat. A pound of hay per day to 100 lbs. of flesh was a safe rule, both for hay and oats. There was great economy in cutting food and feeding it with bruised oats. Feeding clover too long brought on roaring and heaves. Farm horses would be more cheaply and better wintered by feeding cut feed with middling or bran. To give horse a fine coat they must have good grooming and be kept blanketed — without this thoroughly done there could not be a good finish put on a horse, especially in the winter. Great care should be taken to prevent scratches, by good grooming of horses with hairy legs. One prime requisite in keeping horses was to treat them kindly and gently. Harsh treatment caused nervous irritation, and an animal in that condition would not eat well. There should be the utmost regularity in feeding. With these remarks he left the subject to the meeting.

In answer to Mr. Ewing, of Warkworth, Dr. Cowan said that the stable floor should be built with a slight incline to the rear.

Mr. BLEZARD endorsed Dr. Cowan's remarks as to feeding horses only enough.

In answer to Mr. R. E. Birdsall, Dr. Cowan said that at the present cheap price of clover, and the high price of oats, it would pay to feed clover, cutting it and moistening it.

Mr. BLEZARD said he had found great benefit from cutting fodder for the horse fed in the busy season.

Mr. JAMES MOORE thought there was a great saving in cutting feed. Clover was good for working horses, but timothy was better for drivers. His experience in producing good horses was to feed them well—keep the colt growing from the mare to the market. He mentioned a colt he raised on this kind of feeding, that weighed 1482 lbs. at 18 months old, he was well fed, but only on plenty of ordinary feed, and fed carefully and judiciously. The horse mentioned was now 7 year sold, and without a blemish. At 4 years old he weighed 2100 lbs. The horse was "Young Lothair', well known in this district.

In answer to Mr. O'Reilly, Dr. Cowan recommended buckling a strap pretty tight around the horses neck to prevent cribbing, and in the stable sprinkle cayenne pepper on a bit of sheepskin nailed on the edge of the manger.

CLOVER GROWING AND CURING.

Mr. W. S. FRAZER, of Bradford, Simcoe county, repeated the paper on "Clover Culture" he gave at Peterborough. This paper brought out an interesting discussion, which widened out into a discussion on summer fallowing, etc.

TWO-ROWED BARLEY.

Mr. R. E. Birdsall read a paper on the "Growing Cultivation of Two-Rowed Barley." He said that the last two seasons had shown that two-rowed barley could be grown successfully—Carter's Prize Prolific being the most successful. Reports showed that one set of results brought crops averaging from 28 1/10 bushels per acre, and others 24½ bushels to the acre. This was about 4 bushels of an average more than six-rowed, and an average of two or three lbs. per bushel heavier. This represented a gain of over a million dollars increase to the Province of Ontario. His own experience showed a yield of 30 bushels to the acre, weighing 52 lbs. to the bushel. The yield in the east riding was about a third more than of the six-rowed. It should be sowed on thoroughly prepared soil. He did not doubt that it could be grown successfully for the English market.

Mr. Charles Nicholl, of Asphodel, sowed two bushels of two-rowed on an acre and a half, and had a yield of 37 bushels.

Dr. Cowan had tried samples of Carter's prize prolific and a sample of English malty barley but he had indifferent success on account of a gum frost. He had tried a ten bushel bag, and from an acre that had escaped drowning out he had raised 45 bushels. He did not know the weight. He thought if he had sowed earlier he would have had from 10 to 15 bushels more than the six-rowed would.

Mr. DEMPSEY said that Prof. Saunders, of the Dominion Experimental Farm, Ottawa, had hybridized the six-rowed and the two-rowed barley, producing a four-rowed variety.

Mr. EWING sowed two bushels of two-rowed, but he thought the land was too rich, as the straw fell, and his grain was a good sample. In the same he had grown six-rowed 45 bushels.

PIG FEEDING.

Mr. EWING gave a brief address on pig feeding. He started with pigs crossed of the Chester White and Berkshire, 6 weeks old at 24 lbs. He fed them $59.72 worth of feed and sold them for $70.30—a gain of $10.58, or counting original cost of pigs $21 66. He found the most profit from feeding bran and chop together. He did not feed high, but the pigs he had fed had paid him. The pigs were farrowed in March and killed in September. They averaged 185 lbs. As far as his experience went—"give me the high-grade Berkshire." He did not think a sow that got plenty of good green or succulent feed would eat her pigs.

Mr. BLEZARD had put 18 pigs in an orchard in clover, fed a little dry peas and these pigs had done wonderfully well, and he was satisfied that he had raised them cheaply, but he had no figures. He believed in the Berkshire—they had not rooted up a plant of clover.

Mr. R. E. BIRDSALL asked if there was any difference between the white pigs of the Improved Yorkshire and those having black spots, and Mr. Dempsy said there was no difference. The small Yorkshires was all ham, shoulder and chop. They were a very quiet hog, a thin-skinned, good quality, and prolific breeder.

MR. ADAM HUMPHRIES had a cross bred Yorkshire that bore two large litters a year. The half Berkshire did better with him with the Berkshire sow. He did not think his pork cost as much as Mr. Ewing's—he fed more grain.

Asphodel.

On the 22nd ult., a funeral cortege wended its way to the R. C. cemetery, Asphodel, conveying thereto the remains of one of the township's oldest settlers, Mrs. Mary Lynch, aged 77 years. The deceased was born in the County Mayo, Ireland, in 1813, and when but 17 years of age, with her parents came to New York, and where, three years later, she was married to her late husband, Edward Lynch, who died in September, 1764. After a residence of seven years in New York the family moved to Cold Springs, in Peterborough county, and there they remained 17 years, finally taking up a permanent abode in Asphodel. Seven sons, one daughter and thirty-seven grand children survive her. The pall bearers were six of the deceased's grand sons.—Star.

House Treatment of Disease by Electricity.

Every day one hears of some wonderful cure of disease achieved by Electricity. It is coming more into use of late and is now used by many physicians as the greatest remedy in many forms of disease. Until recently the one objection to this form of treatment was the expense attached to it, but the inventions of Mr. C. H. Dorenwend, of Toronto, has simplified matters and it is now an easy accomplishment to treat oneself intelligently and at but small cost. Mr. Dorenwend's inventions consist of a Belt having a battery of a number of cells and suitable attachments to apply the current. The Battery supplies a current of electricity that can be regulated at will; it is conveyed from the battery by conductors to the diseased parts. The whole contrivance is exceedingly well planned, and any person of ordinary intelligence can operate it with ease. It is nature's first remedy for all forms of nervous and muscular disease, and all afflicted persons should take advantage of the opportunity offered by C. H. Dorenwend of procuring suitable appliances. Mr. D. will be at the Grand Central Hotel on Thursday and Friday, Jan. 22 and 23, and will have a full line of Belts and Attachments with him. His stay is limited, as he has many places to visit.

Purify Your Blood

The importance of purifying the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

The Dorenwend Electric Belt is provided with a battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of electricity. It can be felt and can be regulated at will by the wearer while the belt is on the body. It is a light contrivance and can be worn at any time without the least inconvenience. It is the only Electric Belt in the world that follows out the true principles of electrical science. It has been examined and pronounced by experts and authorities to be the most practical and efficient method of bodily application yet invented.

THE DORENWEND ELECTRIC FOOT BATTERY cures Cramps, Rheumatism, Defective Circulation, Cold Feet, &c. This is the only insole in the world provided with a battery, consequently it is the only one producing a current. All others are simply soles of felt with pieces of zinc and copper fastened to them.

Be Careful.—If you are an afflicted one and are contemplating electrical treatment, see what you are getting before you invest. There are many humbugs in the country.

Remember every Dorenwend Belt is guaranteed, and will accomplish all as a curative that electricity can. The current in all Dorenwend appliances can be distinctly felt, and can be regulated to weak and strong degrees. They are the "World's Best," and their equal cannot be found. Now is the time to procure one. Call anyway and examine them, and get a copy of Book on Home Treatment.

THIS CANADA OF OURS.

THE LARGEST OF ALL THE BRITISH POSSESSIONS.

Nearly as Large as the Whole of Europe and Thirty Times as Large as Great Britain and Ireland—Interesting Statistics.

The area of the Dominion of Canada is estimated at 3,679,000 square miles, or, including its water surface, 3,519,000 square miles. It is the largest of all the British possessions, constituting 40 per cent. of the empire, the total area of which is over 8,000,000 square miles. Canada lacks only 237,000 square miles of being as large as the whole continent of Europe; it is nearly thirty times as large as Great Britain and Ireland, and is 500,000 square miles larger than the United States, exclusive of Alaska. Canada covers rather more than one-fourteenth part of the earth's surface, but contains only one 266th part of the population of the world.

Canada extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, a distance of 3,500 miles, and from the United States boundary to the Arctic Ocean, a distance of 1,400 miles, and comprises all the British possessions in North America, excepting Newfoundland, Labrador, and the West India Islands. Some idea of this immense country and of its great waterways—the most extensive in the world—may be had when we state that its coast line on the Atlantic measures 10,000 miles, and over 7,000 miles on the Pacific; that, 3,000 miles from the ocean, the traveller may lose sight of land and be prostrated by seasickness; and that, with one transhipment at Montreal, goods can be landed at the head of Lake Superior, in the centre of the continent, 4,600 miles from Liverpool. Entering Canada from the north by Hudson's Bay, the ocean ship reaches, at Port Nelson, the outlet of a river system stretching, with few interruptions, to the very backbone of the continent, and draining an interior basin, more remote than that of the St. Lawrence, of over 2,000,000 square miles in extent. In the prairie region the Saskatchewan affords 1,500 miles of steamboat navigation. Close upon the north of it commenced the Mackenzie River basin, extending over 550,000 square miles. This great stream, with its tributary lakes and rivers, affords with trifling obstacles, upward of 2,000 miles of waterway navigable for steamboats.

From Port Nelson to Liverpool the distance is 2,986 miles; from New York to Liverpool 3,040 miles, and from Halifax to Liverpool 2,463 miles.

In Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and British Columbia we have the greatest forest regions in the world; in the central portion of Canada we discover a vast tract unexcelled for the production of cereals, and which is yet only in the first stage of development. In the extreme eastern and western provinces of Nova Scotia and British Columbia, as also midway beneath the prairies, lie extensive coal fields, while the sea fisheries of the Maritime Provinces, and the fresh water fisheries of the great lakes and rivers, furnish an illimitable supply of food, vastly in excess of the needs of the country.

While a considerable portion of Canada is unavailable for cultivation, yet, as the North and North-west are opened up gradually, enormous tracts of good land are revealed, so that the area of agricultural and timbered lands is now estimated to exceed 2,000,000 square miles, of which over 1,000,000 are adapted to the cultivation of wheat. A competent American authority has stated that Canada possesses two-thirds of the wheat producing area of this continent. The northern part of the centre of the Dominion, extending from the Rocky Mountains to Hudson's Bay, is very extensively wooded, and has been generally considered, for the most part, unfit for settlement and useful only as a preserve for fur-bearing animals. A parliamentary inquiry, however, has had the effect of dissipating this idea. The area inquired into covers about 1,260,000 square miles, of which it is estimated 260,000 are fit for settlement, and the remaining 400,000 useless for cultivation; 656,000 square miles are suitable for potatoes, 407,500 for barley, and 316,000 for wheat. There is a river navigation of 2,750 miles. This territory contains large auriferous deposits, as well as silver, iron, graphite, ochre, brick and pottery, clay, mica, gypsum, lime, and sandstone, "while the petroleum area is so extensive as to justify the belief that eventually it will supply the larger part of this continent." Furs are at present the chief commercial product of this region, which is the last great fur preserve of the world. The lakes and rivers abound in fish.

Minerals of almost every kind are known to exist in Canada. Gold is mined extensively in British Columbia and Nova Scotia, and has also been found in Ontario and Quebec.

The natural industries of Canada may be enumerated under the following heads: Agriculture and stock raising, fishing, mining, lumbering, and shipbuilding.

The manufacturing industries are spread all over the Dominion, and comprise factories for the production of agricultural implements, carriages, wagons, railroad rolling stock, including locomotives, cotton and woollen goods, pianos and organs, machinery, furniture, paper, soap, woodenware, boots and shoes, cloths and linens, doors, sashes, staves, tobacco, cheese; also sugar refineries, saw mills, tanneries, iron and hardware works, and establishments for the canning of meat, fish, and berries.—Dominion Statist.

THE BICYCLE BUGGY.

The New York Evening Sun thus describes a bicycle buggy on exhibition at the horse show: It is a remarkable looking affair and enough to scare any self-respecting horse that meets it on the road. The horse hitched to it is in the position to see what is going on, or would otherwise protest against having to draw such a combination of the sulky and bicycle. The advantage of the thing lies in the placing of the driver's weight in a place where the horse will least feel it, and in the better control that it gives him over the horse. His weight rests on the axletree, from which rises a bent band of iron covered with leather and supporting the seat. His feet are braced against the fore part of the sulky, where a railing runs for their support.

MARRIED HER FATHER'S SLAYER.

The Tragedy Broke the Engagement, but it was Renewed.

CHARLESTOWN, S.C., Jan. 13.—The marriage of William Bozard to Miss Emma Boyst, the daughter of the late William Boyst, is announced. The bridegroom, it will be remembered, killed Boyst, for which he was tried and acquitted. It was hinted then that Bozard's engagement to the daughter of the deceased had much to do with bringing about the difficulty in which Boyst was killed, as the latter was opposed to the match.

The death of Boyst under these distressing circumstances broke the engagement, but the "dead past has buried its dead" and the young man was last week married to the daughter of the man he slew.

The entire evidence showed that the killing was unavoidable on the part of Bozard.

TO-DAY'S PRIZE FIGHT.

The Dempsey-Fitzsimmons Match Cannot Be Stopped.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 13.—The state authorities have reluctantly arrived at the conclusion that they have no warrant for interfering with the Dempsey-Fitzsimmons match. After his conference with Governor Nicholls this morning Attorney-General Rogers went through the statutes and finally rendered an opinion that under the most recent law the Olympic Club people had a clear right to go ahead. The governor then directed Rogers to present the matter to Mayor Shakespeare, who is sick in bed, but the latter said also that he could do nothing unless the affair assumed the features of a slugging match, in which case the police would compel the combatants to go to their rooms.

Jack Dempsey will see his opponent for the first time when he enters the ring. He has been very cautious to size him up and take a mental photograph of his move and shape, but the Australian is wily and does not propose to give the Nonpareil any points in advance. Fitzsimmons will remain at Bay St. Louis until to-morrow reaching here barely in time to put on his pumps and go to the amphitheatre. A Denver man who stopped over at his training quarters last night says that Fitzsimmons is in as fine form as he has ever been in his life and that there need be no mistake as to his condition. He is awkwardly built and the muscles and flesh on his body are queerly distributed, but he is trained down to a fine edge and will make a fine showing in the ring. His legs look larger than they did some months ago, and while he is knock-kneed and slender and slow, he is great above the hips. The muscles of his back stand out prominently and his arms are large and muscular and well curved. He is in condition to take a tremendous amount of punishment and yet come up smiling.

Financially the affair is already a success, as the 30 boxes have been sold at $100 each, and of the 4000 seats two-thirds have been taken.

A theory endorsement of Dempsey by Sullivan, telegraphed here, has sent up "The Nonpareil's" stock, and the betting is active at $100 to $80 in his favor. The amounts, however, are not phenomenally large.

The arrivals to-day were numerous and include Lemuel McGregory the "Big Kid" Kilrain, Prof. William Muldoon, Mike Cleary, Billiardist George Slosson, Billy Edwards, the retired lightweight champion, and Steve Brodie, the bridge jumper.

Jack Dempsey's stock is going down at a late hour to-night as a result of his appearance at the benefit tendered him by the Audubon Athletic Club, and in the course of which he sparred four rounds with Jack McAuliffe, and with five ounce gloves. It was mainly an exhibition of scientific points, although he gave McAuliffe a few bad raps and got as many in return. He showed up in elegant condition as regards flesh, was firm on his feet and moved his hands like lightning.

Are You Going to the Carnival?

The Behring Sea difficulty and the curling match with Keene are losing public interest, and the subject of paramount importance in Peterborough to-day is the Foresters' carnival Friday night. The leading question on the streets is, "Are you going to the carnival?" If you are not, gentle reader, you are out of the popular trend. Everybody and his wife is going to be there, besides a number of country cousins from Lindsay, Lakefield, Port Hope, Millbrook, Keene, Norwood, etc. Great preparations are being made on all sides. A number of magnificent costumes are being made at home and some are being brought down from Toronto. The rink will be beautifully decorated and made comfortable for guests. 1d

The Ice Harvest.

Little Lake presents a busy scene just now. Ice-cutting operations are at full blast, and in the vicinity of a hundred men are employed at this industry. Messrs. Craig & Burdette alone engage fifty men at the harvesting of the ice-crop. They have the contract for filling the C.P.R. ice-houses at Havelock, and expect to take out about 20,000 blocks, besides a thousand for their own ice-house. They carry on the work upon advanced principles. The ice, after being cut in the middle of the lake, is towed along the channels to the shore, where it is carried up a long run-way by steam power and deposited at the railway track, a distance of a couple of hundred yards. Other parts of the lake are also being worked by McDonald & Co., Mr. Hetson, and a few private parties. There will be more ice taken out of Little Lake this year than ever before. The ice is a good crop, some of it being nearly two feet thick.

Business Tax and Single Tax.

The town council has begun to consider the question of the single tax. One of the shrewdest members of it, Mr. Davidson, the chairman of the Finance Committee, has given notice of motion that he will bring up for submission the business tax. This tax is part and parcel of the single tax principle, and is what may be called the thin edge of the wedge. The single tax aims at the emancipation of labour in accordance with the strictest justice. There is nothing new about it. It is simply the carrying-out properly of the present system. The Rev. J. O. S. Huntingdon lectures upon this subject next Wednesday evening in the opera house. He is a man of great eloquence and power. His Worship the Mayor will preside. Seats reserved for ladies and their escorts. It will be a good opportunity to hear an explanation of this question.

Canada's Early Military History.

The Globe, Tuesday, says:—There was a gathering of military men at the Canadian Institute Monday night to hear what proved a very interesting address by Lieut.-Col. R. Z. Rogers, of the 40th Battalion, Fort Hope, (now residing in Peterborough.) The subject was "Incidents in the early history of Canada, with extracts from the journals of the officer commanding the Queen's Rangers during the war of 1755-65." Lieut.-Col. Otter presided and felicitously introduced the speaker. The "officer" alluded to was Major Robert Rogers, the great-grandfather of the speaker, and an account was given of his various exploits during the revolutionary war. The major was a colonial officer, and when independence was declared he came over with his family and settled in the Bay of Quinte district, afterwards rendering important service in the British cause. Col. Rogers exhibited the sword and horn used by the major, as well as several old manuscripts and prints giving valuable information on Canada's early military history. He very kindly presented the institute with a picture of Major Rogers, which will be added to the growing collection in the possession of the club. A cordial vote of thanks was tendered Col. Rogers on motion of Dr. Ferguson, M.P., of Welland, and Col. G. T. Denison.

Business Tax.

A Brief Description of the Proposed Change in the Local Business Assessment.

The question of business tax is one that is exciting a growing interest in Canadian municipalities. As yet it is not generally understood, but the idea seems to be taking hold in various quarters, and a number of towns and cities have adopted, or are moving to adopt, the business tax instead of the present system of assessment.

At the last meeting of the town council Mr. R. S. Davidson gave notice of motion that he would introduce a bylaw to bring the business tax into effect in Peterborough. The business tax is optional with each municipality. An EXAMINER reporter had a talk with Mr. Davidson yesterday and received enlightenment on the subject.

The business tax, Mr. Davidson said, affects of course only the business part of the town, and it compels all men engaged in mercantile pursuits to bear a just share of the expense of carrying on municipal affairs. It does away with personal property taxation, and in lieu of it all storekeepers are taxed at a rate not exceeding 7½ per cent. on the assessed value of the property they occupy. Under the present system a man may escape paying a single cent of taxes. He may stock up a store, and when the assessors come around state that the goods are owned by another man a hundred miles away. In that case he would avoid all personal tax, and so receive the benefits of broad sidewalks and streets, electric light, fire and police protection, street watering, etc., pertaining particularly to the business portion of the town, without paying a cent of tax money. This is frequently done, and such cases are known in Peterborough. With the business tax every storekeeper must bear his fair share of the municipal expense. The stock is not assessed, but the assessment is based upon the annual value of the place in which he does business. Take, for instance, a store assessed for $6,000. The annual value of that would be about 7 per cent, say $420. The utmost business tax which could be placed on it would be 7½ per cent. on $420, or $31.50—which everybody will admit is a fair rate of taxation. By the business tax every business is made to pay for the benefits it receives from the corporation, the burden thus being borne equitably by all. The merchant occupying large premises of course pays more taxes than the smaller merchant, but the honest man does not have to bear the extra burden imposed by the dishonesty of another.

That is in brief the purpose of the business tax. It has worked well in other places, and there is no doubt it would be equally as serviceable in Peterborough.

Chapter 55, section 4, of the Ontario Statutes, reads:—In the case of persons carrying on a mercantile business in a municipality, the municipal council of the municipality may pass bylaws substituting, in respect of any class or classes of mercantile business, a business tax for the taxes on so much of the personal property of the ratepayer as belongs to the business, provided that such business tax does not exceed seven and a half per cent. of the annual value of the premises in which the business is carried on; and the council may in their bylaw classify different kinds of mercantile business, and fix the business tax on the respective classes at such a percentage on the annual value of the premises occupied, within the limits provided by this section as to the council may seem reasonable.

For the purposes of this section, the annual value of the premises in which the business is carried on shall be taken to be an amount representing to be seven per cent. on the assessed real value of the said premises.

A Most Extraordinary Case!

Suffered for Thirty Years!

Convinced that the Cure is Found!

Mrs. Mary A. Jones, of Newton Robinson, Ont., is a lady who has suffered for thirty years from that dreadful and painful disease, rheumatism. Her case was a serious one and baffled the skill of doctors. After years of fears and hopes and very varied treatment, without any good results, she commenced recently to use Paine's Celery Compound, and in her case it has produced a wonderful effect.

She says:—"For a period of thirty years I have been a sufferer from rheumatism. During that time I have tried many remedies to obtain a cure, and have at various intervals been under the care and treatment of the doctor, without deriving any permanent relief. I commenced lately to use your Paine's Celery Compound, and it has already had a most wonderful effect, although I have only used two bottles. It has done me more real good and given me greater relief than anything I have ever used, and I intend to continue its use, as I am firmly convinced it will entirely cure me. With best wishes for you and your valuable medicine, believe me, etc.,

Yours truly,
MARY A. JONES.

These words certainly ought to prove comforting and cheering to all rheumatic sufferers and give them hope for the future. A trial of this great and valuable compound will not cost much, and will surely convince the most sceptical that it is in very truth the remedy they require.

Minard's Liniment for Sale Everywhere

HIS VIEWS ARE BROAD.

Disbelieving in Entire Christianity of the Same, He Yet Hopes.

LEEDS, Jan. 14.—Most Rev. William Connor Magee, D.D., the new Archbishop of York, is 70 years of age and has the reputation of being the greatest orator of the Church of England, and by many is said to be the greatest orator in England. In January last he publicly took the ground that it was impossible for the State to execute literally all the precepts of Christianity, the precepts of the New Testament having been simply addressed to individuals and for individual guidance. Despite all the criticism evoked by this utterance he has been promoted to York's powerful Archiepiscopate.

Rescue Palace in Flames.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—The palace at Rouen is on fire. At last accounts a portion of the roof 40 yards in circumference was in a blaze. The flames were extending downward despite the efforts of the firemen. It seems probable the building which, is widely noted for its architectural beauty, will be destroyed.

The fire was finally quenched. The damage was confined to the upper portion of the structure. The older and more valuable wing was saved entire.

Swelling the Fund.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 14.—At a meeting of prominent citizens of Liverpool £2000 was raised to swell the Ireland-Balfour fund for the relief of the suffering poor of Ireland. This action on the part of the gentlemen referred to has caused considerable indignation among the almost starving and entirely fruitless workmen of this city.

Mr. Gladstone has subscribed £250 to the Ireland-Balfour fund.

Chamberlain's Mission.

BIRMINGHAM, Jan. 14.—Joseph Chamberlain, in a speech yesterday, dilated on the refusal of Mr. Gladstone to take the country into his confidence in regard to his mission to Lymph for the Irish diseased, so that it could judge whether it was a genuine specific or a quack remedy. Chamberlain said he believed it passed the wit of man to devise a plan which would be alike acceptable to Englishmen and satisfactory to the Nationalist leaders.

A Thaw Sets in in Europe—Gladstone's New Lymph for the Irish Disease—A Tyrone Farmer's Shocking Crime—Speeches by Chamberlain and Morley.

VIENNA, Jan. 14.—The snowstorm throughout Austria has ceased and railway traffic is being resumed. Four children on their way to school were frozen to death during the recent severe weather. It is believed many persons perished in the storm.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The rapid thaw continues here and in Paris. The thaw has just commenced in Antwerp, where it is feared the sudden breaking up of the ice will cause great damage to shipping. As a means of protection against immense masses of floating ice, large iron plates and huge bluders are being placed across the bows of vessels in the river. Fifteen thousand persons were thrown out of employment through the closing of the river and they have been reduced to an almost destitute condition. The weather was the coldest yet recorded in Spain. Many trains are reported snowed under at Galicia. Several sentinels at Montjuich citadel have been frozen to death at their posts. Numerous animals including monkeys in the Zoological Gardens in Madrid have perished of cold.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

This evening at 8 p. m., the anniversary meeting of this association will be held in St. Paul's Presbyterian church. Brief reports of the work of the past year will be given, and Rev. Mr. Patterson, of Cooke's church, Toronto, will deliver an address, which will be a treat, for he is an eloquent and enthusiastic speaker. Messrs. J. Crane and Miller have provided a choice programme of vocal and instrumental music. Thank offerings will be received for our work. A special invitation is extended to all our citizens to come and enjoy with us this delightful and profitable service.

Gore's Landing.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The weather for the past week has been very fine.

The township election passed off very very quietly. Mr. John Bowman was elected reeve by ten of a majority.

On Jan. 5th., about ten o'clock at night, the village was startled to hear the sound of horns, bells and the hurrah! of the village boys, as they marched to the residence of a neighbor to charivaree a man whom they thought to be married, but not finding him there the jolly band passed their music, and marched to another place where the supposed groom was working. After a rally of about two hours they succeeded in routing him out of bed. He came down and told them he was not married, and if they proved that he was he would give them $10. The boys retired.

Mr. T. Gilliland has returned to the village school.

The literary society hold their meeting every fw weeks. Some are very successful.

Mrs. E.J. Harris spent a few days at her father's, Mr. Robert Woods, South Monaghan.

Mr. Charlie Harris spent a few day out north of Peterborough.

Miss Bessie Philip played the organ on Sunday night. She was a welcome sight in her old place.

Miss Selina Mill is visiting friends at Manvers.

The Peterborough electric light seems to have great attraction for some of our young men.

CENTREVILLE.—We are sorry to announce to the readers of the EXAMINER the death of Mr. John Heron, of this village, who died at his residence on Sunday morning at three o'clock, Jan. 4th. He was an old resident, having resided in this vicinity for over 40 years, and was a shoemaker by trade, carrying on an extensive business in Centreville at one time. He was a native of Ireland, and emigrated to this country during the early part of the history. There is no doubt that the deceased will be greatly missed, as he always had a pleasant word for everybody. He was a regular attendant at the Divine services in the Presbyterian church here, and the latter part of his life was spent in fervency and prayer preparing himself for the grand hereafter. He once remarked to your correspondent during a conversation with him: "Who can look at death and not think seriously of it?" The funeral took place on Tuesday, Jan. 6th, when many friends and relatives were present to witness the last of a moral and highly respected citizen. He was laid to rest in the burying ground close by. The deceased's relatives and friends will have the deep sympathy of this neighborhood in their bereavement.

TRAGEDY AT GODERICH.

A FISHERMAN SHOOTS HIS WIFE AND HIMSELF.

Neither of the Victims Can Recover—Stories Concerning the Shooting Told By the Man and His Wife, Who Is Reported to Have Been Jealous.

GODERICH, Jan. 15.—One of the most lamentable tragedies that has ever occurred in the Huron district took place here to-day. For some time past Donald McKinnon, a fisherman, and his wife, Rachel, have not been living amicably together. She was alleged to be jealous of him. This afternoon the quarrel culminated when the report of a revolver was heard by those living in the vicinity of Warren-street, simultaneously with cries of "Murder! Help!" in a woman's voice. Mrs. McKinnon was found lying in the stable, a short distance from the house, in a semi-nude condition, with a bullet wound in her breast, immediately below the heart. Donald McKinnon, the husband, turned up about the same time and stated that his wife had shot herself with his pistol. The wounded woman was at once taken to the house and medical aid summoned. Shortly afterwards it was discovered that McKinnon himself was shot. He walked into the house and upstairs to a bunk and lay down. On the arrival of Dr. Whitly it was found that both of the victims were in a critical condition, McKinnon having been wounded immediately above the liver.

McKinnon's Lame Yarn.

McKinnon told this story of the tragedy: "Jealousy caused it. I declare my wife shot herself in the barn with my revolver She shot once and was carried out by someone, I cannot say who. Afterwards I found the revolver lying in the bay and lay down and shot myself, after which I went into the house to my wife, who was lying in bed, and wanted to get into bed, but she would not let me. I then came upstairs and went to bed. This I solemnly swear to be the true and correct way in which this tragedy has taken place this 15th day of January, 1891, to which I here sign my name.

"DONALD MCKINNON."

The deposition of McKinnon differs materially from that of his wife as to the shooting and the immediate proceedings that led up to it. Mrs. McKinnon said:

"He says I shot myself which is not true. I will tell the whole truth regarding it. Last night he proposed that we should retire to bed and he would bring the pistol and we should each be shot. He said that he was tired of life and people were talking about him and it would be better to die. I told him if he was going to die to shoot me first, so I would not see him die. Finally I dissuaded him from his intention of using the pistol while in bed, but he did not rest easily during the night. In the morning after breakfast he went up town and I got him to order groceries. I then did the washing and cooked the dinner. When he returned at dinner time he brought a bottle of whisky with him and asked me to have some. I refused that time and told him to wait. After dinner I was changing my clothes after doing the washing and had on one of his Guernseys which I was preparing to remove to put on my own inside garments. He asked me for the pistol and threatened to break everything in the house if I did not get it for him. I told him I did not know where it was and he then threatened me. I ran out of the house over to the stable at the end of the lot just as I was and tried to cover myself from him by putting some hay over me. He followed me, and opening out my loose garments fired the pistol and the bullet struck me. Then I called for assistance and he went away. A son of Captain Baxter was the first I noticed respond to my call, and then Captain Baxter and my brother Norman and others came along. They brought me to the house. McKinnon also came up. He had not shot himself then. He did so afterwards."

The Green-Eyed Monster.

She said, in answer to a question, "I have been told stories by some of the neighbors against my husband's faithfulness. I did not think the stories of great account and at any rate I did not shoot him." McKinnon had been despondent of late and had told her that he had driven his son from home and deeply regretted having done so. She believed he had not been in his right mind recently, certainly not last night, and to-day, when he had returned at dinner time, he was noticeably under the influence of liquor. She bore him no ill will and would forgive everything if they lived and he would only live quietly with her. Donald McKinnon is a man of 65 years of age and a fisherman. His wife is 50 years of age. The house and premises had a tidy and thrifty appearance, and the fact that McKinnon had $100 cash at the time of the shooting and is the owner of both real estate and valuable personal property plainly shows that poverty was not an incentive to the rash act. Latest reports say that the possibility of recovery is slight in either case.

Four Fires in a Night.

MONTREAL, Jan. 15.—A fire that threatened to be serious broke out to-night in the rear of 686 Craig-street, in Fortification-lane, over the premises of C. S. Aspinall, machinist. Gigantic Lottery Scheme.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—M. Goutel, president of the committee of Panama shareholders and bondholders, announces that the committee has obtained the assent of the Government and the approval of the Committee of Liquidation for a new scheme. The committee proposes a succession of annual lotteries of 100,000,000 francs; 20,000,000 francs in prizes to be assigned to each lottery, and the net profit thereon to be used in defraying the cost of the canal works at the Isthmus of Panama until the canal is completed. The Government will ask the Chamber of Deputies to give its sanction to the scheme. The promoters of the scheme are sanguine of success, but the House is not favorably disposed to the plan. The public, too, is not disposed to risk further money in connection with the canal.

The Evicted Tenants' Fund.

DUBLIN, Jan. 15.—Members of both sections of the Irish party attended the council of the Tenants' Defence Association in the Mansion House yesterday. T. D. Sullivan presided. It was voted to devote £2500 for the relief of the evicted tenants.

The Zetland-Balfour fund for the relief of the distressed people of Ireland now amounts to £29,000. The subscriptions are steadily pouring in, and among the latest announced are £200 from the Drapers' Company, and £100 each from the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Abercorn, Earl Cowper and the Earl of Durham. The managers of a number of theatres here offer to give performances in their houses in aid of the fund.

Slaughter of the Innocents.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children has been investigating the baby farmers, and has brought to light many startling facts. The illegitimate child of a governess and a gentleman in the British army was found in the care of a baby farmer being slowly starved to death, although £50 ($250) had been paid for its care. The woman in charge had insured the infant's life for £20 ($100) more, and was waiting to realize when visited by the society's officers. Several prosecutions have been instituted.

The Peace Loving Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 15.—In the Russian budget the war estimates are increased by 4,600,000 roubles. The Minister of Finance in his speech said that, thanks to the Emperor, the efforts to maintain peace had been successful. The Hanging of Women.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—A society has been formed in England to advocate the repeal of capital punishment for women convicted of the highest crimes. The prejudice against the execution of women is very strong, and has gained new force owing to the reports regarding the recent hanging of Mrs. Pearcy for killing Mrs. Hogg and the latter's child. It is said to have been a cruel and bungling execution, and reporters having been debarred the officials here been able to conceal the exact facts from the public.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—A despatch from Valparaiso states that the Chilian men-of-war have given notice that they will begin a blockade of the port of Iquique on Jan. 20. The importation of provisions into Iquique has already been stopped. Additional despatches say the rebels have declared the ports of Chili blockaded in order to interrupt the nitrate trade.

They drove to Lord Londonderry's place at Mount Stewart, where they will remain 5 days.

DUBLIN, Jan. 15.—Among the contributions to the Zetland-Balfour fund for the relief of the poor in Western Ireland is £2500 from Chief Secretary Balfour and £500 from the Goldsmiths Company.

A Sentence Shortened

RIOTOUS STRIKERS.

THE LARGE GENERAL STATION AT PERTH RIDDLED WITH STONES.

Attempt at Train-Wrecking—Report that the Strikers Have Lost—Koch's Secret Divulged—The Lymph Only Glycerine and Extract of Tubercle Bacilli.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—The secret of the ingredients entering into the composition of Prof. Koch's lymph is given to the world to-day. Prof. Koch says: The remedy which is used in the new treatment consists of a glycerine extract derived from the pure cultivation of tubercle bacilli. Into the simple extract there naturally passes from the tubercular bacilli, besides the effective substance, all the other matter soluble in 50 per cent. glycerine. Consequently it contains a certain quantity of mineral salts, coloring substances and other unknown extractive matter. Some of these substances can be removed from it with tolerable ease.

The effective substance itself is insoluble in absolute alcohol. It can be precipitated by it not indeed in a condition of perfect purity, but when still combined with other extractive matter. The coloring matter may also be removed so as to render it possible to obtain from the extract a colorless dry substance containing the effective principle in a much more concentrated form than original glycerine solutions. For application in practice, the purification of glycerine extract offers no advantage because the substances so eliminated are not essential for the human organism. The purification process would also make the cost of remedy unnecessarily high. Regarding the constitution of more effective substances Prof. Koch says that surmises only can be for the present expressed. These substances appear to him to be derivative from albuminous bodies, having a close affinity to them. The extract does not belong to the so-called group of toxalbumens because it bears a higher temperature and in dyalysis goes easily and quickly through the membrane. The proportion of the effective substance in the extract is to all appearances very small and is estimated at fractions of one per centum, which if correct shows that we should have to do with matter, the effect of which upon organisms attacked with tuberculosis goes far beyond what is known to us of the strongest drugs.

Regarding the manner in which the specific action of the remedy on tuberculous tissue is to be represented various hypotheses may naturally be put forward. Without wishing to affirm that my view affords the best explanation, I represent the process myself in the following manner: The tubercle bacilli produced, when growing in living tissues the same as in artificial cultivations, contain certain substances which variously and notably unfavorably influence living elements in their vicinity. Among these is a substance which in a certain degree of concentration kills or so alters living protoplasm that it passes into a condition that Weigert describes as coagulation necrosis. In tissue thus become necrotic, the bacillus finds such unfavorable conditions of nourishment that it can grow no more and sometimes dies.

This explains the remarkable phenomenon that in organs newly attacked with tuberculosis, for instance in guinea pigs' spleen and liver, which then are covered with gray nodules, numbers of bacilli are found, whereas they are rare or wholly absent when the enormously enlarged spleen consists almost entirely of whitish substance in a condition of coagulation necrosis, such as is often found in cases of natural death in tuberculous guinea pigs. The single bacillus cannot, therefore, induce necrosis at a great distance, for as soon as necrosis attains a certain extension the growth of the bacillus subsides and therewith the production of the necrotising substance, a kind of reciprocal compensation, thus occurs, causing the vegetation of isolated bacilli to remain so extraordinarily restricted, as for instance in lupus and scrofulous glands. In such cases the necrosis generally extends only to a part of the cells, which then, with further growth, assume the peculiar form of riesen zelle, or giant cell. Thus in this interpretation follows first the explanation Weigert gives of the production of giant cells. If now one increased artificially in the vicinity of the bacillus the amount of necrotising substance in the tissue, the necrosis would spread a greater distance. The conditions of nourishment for the bacillus would thereby become more unfavorable than usual. In the first place the tissue which had become necrotic over a larger extent would decay and detach itself, and where such were possible would carry off the enclosed bacilli and eject them outwardly, so far disturbing their vegetation that they would much more speedily be killed than under ordinary circumstances. It is just in looking at such changes that the effect of the remedy appears to consist. It contains a certain quantity of necrotising substance, a correspondingly large dose of which injures certain tissue elements, even in a healthy person, and perhaps the white blood corpuscles or adjacent cells, thereby producing fever and a complication of symptoms, whereas with tuberculous patients a much smaller quantity suffices to induce at certain places, viz., where tubercle bacilli are vegetating and have already impregnated the adjacent region with the same necrotizing matter, more or less extensive necrosis of the cells with the phenomena in the whole organism which result from and are connected with it. Thus, for the present at least, it is impossible to explain the specific influence which the remedy in accurately-defined doses exercises upon tuberculous tissue and the possibility of increasing the doses with such remarkable rapidity and the remedial effects which have unquestionably been produced under not too favorable circumstances. Prof. Koch concludes with a reference to the duration of the remedy. Of the consumptive patients whom he described as temporarily cured two have returned to the Moabit Hospital for further observation.

Riotous Strikers.

GLASGOW, Jan. 15.—At Perth to-day crowds of strikers made desperate attacks on the railroad stations. They pelted the station with stones until hardly a whole pane of glass could be seen in the windows. They also wrecked a large signal station. The police at first were powerless to quell the disorder. Finally strong reinforcements of bluecoats were sent to the scene and with difficulty the rioters were dispersed. The bitterness of feeling on the part of the strikers is increasing daily. A pile of stones was placed on the track near Greenock this morning. The first train passing after the outrage had been committed came along at an unusually slow rate, thus enabling the engineer to reverse his locomotive in time to prevent it from crashing into the obstruction.

American Cars in England.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Great Western Railway has put two cars of the American pattern on its line. The cars are divided in the middle, one end being third-class and the other first-class. The innovation has attracted much attention, but as yet the verdict of the traveling public has not been registered.

GALT, Jan. 15.—On returning to the house after a short absence yesterday Miss Little, daughter of the late John Little, four miles west of Blair, ascended the stairs and was horrified to see her brother James, aged 28, cold in death with a gun by his side. The loaded gun had been behind the young man's trunk in his room, and whether it went off when he attempted to draw it out or whether it was an intentional act is not known.

WANTED TO TRADE WIVES.

A Jugtice Deafness to Interfere in a Strange Family Arrangement.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Jan. 13.—A sensational report comes from Williamsburg relative to Frank Helms of that place, and Daniel Smith of Carlos City, agreeing to swap wives. The Helms couple were disconsolate because they had no children, and the Smiths because they were being favored with too many. By the swap, Smith's wife, four children and a small farm were to go to Helms, and Helms' wife and small town property to Smith. But Justice Rush of Carlos City, on whom they depended to satisfy the law while they were satisfying themselves, could not find it in the books where the authority for divorce and remarriage under such circumstances has ever been given. Hence he got from under the responsibility they sought to impose in him, and the swap hangs fire.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Extensive Fire—A New Professor—General Notes of Interest.

TORONTO, Jan. 16.—E. M. Lott of London, England, has been elected to the professorship in music in Trinity university rendered vacant by the death of Prof. George W. Strathy.

A fire broke out at an early hour yesterday morning in the store-room of William East, umbrella manufacturer, 326 Yonge-street. Packed away in it was the stock of the insolvent Colonial Umbrella Company, which Mr. East had recently purchased from the assignee. The firemen soon had the flames under control, but not before some $4000 worth of damage had been sustained. The loss is covered by insurance.

Gigantic Lottery Swindle.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Edward H. Horner, a Wall-street banker, was arrested heretoday charged with violating the Federal lottery law by sending through the mails lottery circulars, etc. It is stated Horner is the chief agent in this city of the various indemnity bonds of Austria, Hungary and other foreign countries, which bonds are, it is claimed, merely lottery policy certificates, the success of the holders depending upon drawings from a wheel. The extent to which these bonds are dealt in in this country exceeds the Louisiana lottery business in its busiest times, and a postoffice inspector pronounces the scheme a gigantic swindle.

Gave Birth to a Quartet.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 15.—Maggie Robeson, aged 19 years, a servant employed at the Dean House, has given birth to a quartet of boys. They are all healthy and well developed.

When her father heard of the affair he attempted suicide. William Gray, a neighbor, discovered him in the top of a tree with a drawn razor in his hand about to cut his throat, but disarmed him in time to prevent the deed.

James Kane is the man she charges with the paternity of her children. Kane is an iron worker and is thought to be in Pittsburg.

Repeated in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—In the Senate Mr. Morgan [Dem.] offered a preamble and concurrent resolution on the subject of the recent information or suggestion for a writ of prohibition in the Supreme Court in connection with the Behring Sea dispute with Great Britain. The resolution declares such proceedings to be without precedent, to be prejudicial to the comity of nations and to the usual and amicable conduct of international relations and not to be inconsonance with the dignity of the Government and people or with the respect due to the President of the United States. Referred to the committee on foreign relations.

The Implacable White Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 14.—Lutzski, who was arrested in connection with the attempt to wreck the Czar's train at Borki, will be transported to Siberia without the formality of a trial. The extradition from England of Satcharisky, who is alleged to have been concerned in the Borki incident, has been demanded by the Russian Government.

A British Steamer Wrecked.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The British steamer Carrie, bound from Hartlepool for Bombay, went ashore last night upon the breakwater at the mouth of the River Tees and will probably become a complete wreck. Owing to the heavy sea no boat could leave or reach the vessel and the crew were forced to remain lashed to the rigging all night. This morning the life savers shot a line over the Carrie, and the crew were brought ashore in the breeches buoy.

To Enter the Priesthood.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—Mr. A. J. Horan of the Department of Justice is about to resign his position in the secretary's office and enter the Capuchin Order. Mr. Horan, it will be remembered, recently left St. Alban's Anglican Church, of which he was a leading member, and entered the Roman Catholic communion, connecting himself with the Basilica, where he was baptized, Sir John Thompson being his sponsor. He joins the Capuchin Order by a desire to devote his life wholly to the cause of religion, and will be the first Canadian to enter the order, the monastery here being the first established on this side of the Atlantic.

Coughed Up the Mouthpiece.

BRACEBRIDGE, Jan. 15.—In October last, while playing football at school, Eddie Binyon allowed an amber mouthpiece from a pipe, which he had in his mouth, to enter the windpipe. The windpipe was cut open, but the doctors were unable to find the amber. The incision was then closed and Dr. Topp took the boy to Toronto for consultation. Shortly thereafter he had lung troubles and it became evident to the doctors that the tube was still in the lungs, and that the probability was that it would kill him. Yesterday, while again playing football, he was so fortunate as to cough up the tube, which fell to the ground. It was coated with phlegm.

Crushed by an Engine.

HAMILTON, Jan. 15.—This morning Alexander McGillivray, a Grand Trunk fireman, got down from the cab of the yard engine to fix a pipe that was trailing. He slipped on the track, and in trying to save himself was dragged for some distance. His right leg got under the locomotive and the wheels passed over it below the knee, crushing it terribly. His arm was also fractured. It was decided to amputate McGillivray's leg below the knee.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 16, 1891.

East Riding Institute at Keene.

A Successful and Well Attended Meeting—Good Addresses—Cattle Culture, Horse Raising—Creameries Considered—The Dairying Industry.

A session of the East Riding Farmers' Institute was held at the town hall, Keene, on Thursday afternoon, Mr. F. Birdsall, president, in the chair. There was not a large attendance at the opening of the meeting, but the company increased until the hall was well filled. The chairman's table was surmounted by a beautiful bouquet of flowers presented by Mr. Wm. McFarlance.

Mr. BLEZARD was the first speaker. He spoke of the benefit of Farmers' Institutes arising from exchange of ideas resulting from individual experiences. Apart from these advantages every member who paid 25 cents membership fee was entitled to receive all reports of the Agricultural College, all the publications issued by the Experimental Farm, all the reports of the Dairy Associations, and all the bulletins also of the Ontario Bureau of Industries, sent directly by mail, free of charge or postage. While willing to oblige the farmers, he preferred that these reports should be distributed from headquarters, then he could not be accused of favouritism. He went on to say that he was in favour of the creamery system, as the cheese system depleted the country of the young cattle. It was impossible for our farmers' wives, not from lack of skill, but from the conditions, to pack as good a firkin of butter for the English market as could be done in a creamery. The splendid grazing country of this district was favourable to the establishment of a large creamery on the shores of Rice Lake, the milk being gathered by a small steamer. Thus we would have our skim milk for feeding young stock and pigs. He was decidedly in favor of creameries.

The chairman endorsed Mr. Blezard's remarks on creameries. With less labour we could get our cream to the factories, and we would have the skim milk for the young stock.

CATTLE CULTURE.

Mr. Cowan, V.S., gave an address on cattle raising, with particular reference to the Short Horn.

He said that by selling grain we actually sold the fertility of our farms with no returns, while, if we sold our grain in the form of stock, we saved for the farm ninety per cent. of the manurial value. He pointed pointed out the increase of the live cattle cattle export trade, the exports from the port of Montreal increasing in three seasons from 60,000 to 123,000 head. Our export stock was sought in proportion to the Short Horn blood the cattle contained. Cattle should be fattened and made ready for the market and not allow the profit of the fattening process in the way of manure, etc., to be sent across the ocean, thus robbing our bank accounts as well as the farms of Ontario. Farmers would find larger profit for keeping a few cows well, with less labor and cost, than in keeping a large herd. No class of cattle was so well adapted for mixed beef and dairy work as the Short Horn, the Bates strain. This class was the best. In this way Mr. Cowan spoke of raising a calf on skim milk. For the first two weeks the calf should have pure milk; from that time half milk with a little crushed oats and oil-cake—this took the place of the butter fat removed by skimming, and at a great deal less cost. He preferred having the calf run out night and day in mild weather—a hardier animal was produced. In view of the cost of winter keeping, he favoured getting cattle ready for market as soon as possible. By having a fall calf, we would save six months keep. He had rather finish an animal, instead of sending the unfinished animal to England, sending our peas after him and allowing the English feeder the profit.

Mr. BLEZARD pointed out that the country was robbed of young stock, and as farmers were again talking to calf-raising, they should be induced to use a good Snorthorn bull (such as "Bramble Berry," recently imported by Sir. W. J. Millar.) We would then produce steers that would have the weight that was demanded in the English market. It cost just as much to raise a scrub to three years old (and more) as to raise a thoroughbred.

Mr. FRAZER gave the feed ration of Mr. Rennie, of Markham, for feeding stock. He started with a steer, (bought from a farmer) as 1100 lbs., costing $33. He fed him daily pea meal, 5 lbs; oatmeal, 3 lbs; oil cake, 2 lbs; roots, 36 lbs; hay, 12 lbs; his food costing him for six months, which was his time of feeding, $8 3.20 cents, and he sold the steer for $74 25. This discrepancy was made up by getting his feed at cost price, the above figures being market price, and he had 90 per cent of farm fertility left on the farm. Mr. Rennie pursued hog fattening on the same principle, and he was making money and keeping his farm in good heart. Mr. Frazer mentioned a good way to dispose of short cattle. Let the farmer fatten him and eat him himself, and he described the Beef Ring that supplied the farmers with fresh meat on the co-operative plan, each farmer furnishing a beef in turn, being credited with that amount, and charged with what he gets at settling time in the fall.

Mr. P. C DEMPSEY repeated the address he gave at Peterborough on the subject of the Cultivation of our Orchard, showing the advantage of thorough cultivation of the soil of an orchard.

THE DAIRYING INDUSTRY.

PROF. H. H. DEAN, of the dairy department of the Ontario Agriculture College, Guelph, prefaced his address on milk by giving a brief sketch of the development and growth of the dairying industry. The first cheese factory in Canada was built in the county of Oxford in 1867, and all know to what immense proportions this industry has grown. The Dairymen's and Creameries' Associations had been found supported by liberal Government grants, which were being annually increased, and great credit was given the Ontario Government for the liberal assistance given the dairying industry. A Dominion Dairymen's Association had been formed, aided in a very liberal manner by the Dominion Government. He continued his remarks, giving the same facts as contained in the report of his Peterborough address.

Mr. GEO ESON enquired if it paid to send milk to the cheese factory at 65 cents per hundred pounds. He did not think it did.

PROF. DEAN said it depended upon the amount of milk a cow was made to produce. She must give more than 2,000 lbs. to make a profit.

Mr. P. STEPHENSON gave an address on the subject of anthrax, popularly known as black quarter, gang's, etc. It occurs in young horned animals under eighteen months or two years. It generally killed in about four hours, especially attacking thrifty and well bred animals. It occurs in May or June. The chief symptoms are drooping ears, tenderness in the flank, rapid pulse and swellings in the neighbourhood of head and constipation. Sometimes the animal becomes hidebound and the skin covered with spots. The treatment is at the first stage, bleeding. After the swelling forms bleeding does harm. Prevention is produced by isolating the sound animals and reducing the diet. The cause was the rich succulent pasture in the spring. The disease was not infectious. There were two kinds of anthrax, one due to a germ, another due to overfeeding.

Mr. COWAN said that "hollow horn" in cattle was largely due to "hollow belly," neglect, bad feed, etc. It did not now occur among the stock of good farmers.

Mr. JOHN LANGASTER read a capital paper on "Why Farming Does Not Pay." At the conclusion of the paper, Mr. Frazer and Prof. Dean spoke in the highest terms of the paper and said it was a pity to give it in a condensed form, and that the papers would perhaps publish it in full. The paper will be given in the EXAMINER in a future number.

Mr. COWAN, V.S., gave an address on "Horse Breeding." After referring to the influence of climate, soil, care, feed, etc., in varying the original single type, he pointed out a very common error made in the selection of a stallion on the score of greater cheapness. Saving in the start was a loss at the time of sale. It was a mistake to select a broken-down, crippled, broken-kneed mare for a dam. Owing to the present state of the market, heavy Clydes were not as profitable as they had been. A class of horses demanded in the cities was a good-sized, stout, strong, active carriage horse about sixteen hands. The chief drawback to producing these horses was the lack of good dams. Farmers had better keep out of breeding trotting or fast horses. The speaker diverged to mention a disease, scrotulous cattle, characterized by stiffness of the joints and lameness, occuring in colts the first month. This was due to a germ introduced at the navel a little after birth. A remedy was cording the navel shortly after dropping and applying a weak solution of carbolic acid.

In answer to a question, the speaker said it was safer to breed from a mare with heaves than one with spavin or ringbone.

The meeting adjourned.

A Well Known Hotel Proprietor.

Winnipeg, the great Canadian prairie city of the west, is destined to become a place of vast importance. From a commercial point of view it will always be the great distributing point for Manitoba and the Territories, owing to its magnificent railway facilities. Winnipeg may justly be termed the commercial Mecca of the Northwest. In the matter of hotel accommodation, the city is far ahead of many places of the same size in the east. Among the many popular hotels may be mentioned the Leland House, of which Capt. W. D. Douglas is the genial and obliging proprietor. The Leland House has a reputation second to none in the west, and as at present conducted, is a credit to Winnipeg, and without doubt deserves the large measure of patronage which the travelling public accord to it. The popular proprietor, Capt. Douglas, owing to pressure of business and confinement, was some time ago troubled with dyspepsia and indigestion, and a general feeling of lassitude, which made existence miserable and almost intolerable. The Captain, with great good sense, commenced the use of Paine's Celery Compound, and in a short time all these troubles were banished, and good health restored. The Captain says:—"I can recommend it with confidence to all who need such a valuable tonic."

Paine's Celery Compound is a sure and certain remedy for the worst cases of dyspepsia and indigestion; its work is sure, safe and permanent. For nervous debility, insomnia, headache and a used up feeling, it is acknowledged to be the greatest boon ever offered to mankind.

House Treatment of Disease by Electricity.

Every day one hears of some wonderful cure of disease achieved by Electricity. It is coming more into use of late and is now used by many physicians as the greatest remedy in many forms of disease. Until recently the one objection to this form of treatment was the expense attached to it, but the inventions of Mr. C. H. Dorenwend, of Toronto, has simplified matters and it is now an easy accomplishment to treat oneself intelligently and at but small cost. Mr. Dorenwend's inventions consist of a Belt having a battery of a number of cells and suitable attachments to apply the current. The Battery supplies a current of electricity that can be regulated at will; it is conveyed from the battery by conductors to the diseased parts. The whole contrivance is exceeding'y well planned, and any person of ordinary intelligence can operate it with ease. It is nature's first remedy for all forms of nervous and muscular disease, and all afflicted persons should take advantage of the opportunity offered by C. H. Dorenwend of procuring suitable appliances. Mr. D. will be at the Grand Central Hotel on Thursday and Friday, Jan. 22 and 23, and will have a full line of Belts and Attachments with him. His stay is limited, as he has many places to visit.

A $750 Cottage

or its equivalent in cash will be given to the person detecting the greatest number of errors, (words wrongly spelled or misplaced) in the December issue of "OUR HOMES." In addition will be given two cash prizes of $200 each, four of one $100, eight of $50, ten of $25, twenty-five of $10, fifty of $5, one hundred of $2, and one hundred and fifty of $1, distributed in the order mentioned in rules and regulations, which will be sent with a copy of December issue on receipt of 15 cents in stamps. Special cash prizes given away almost every day during competition which closes February 1st, 1891.

Why experiment with new and untried remedies, when this old and reliable cure may be got from all leading druggists. Thousands bear testimony to the remarkable curative properties of Wilson's Wild Cherry in such diseases as bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, colds, coughs, etc. Get the genuine in white wrappers only. dw

The Handsomest Lady in Peterborough Remarked to a friend the other day that she Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs was a superior remedy, as it stopped her cough instantly when other cough remedies had no effect whatever. So to prove this and convince you of its merit any druggist will give you a sample bottle free. Large size 50c. and $1. dw

Good Deeds Done.

The good deeds done by that unequalled family liniment, Hagyard's Yellow Oil, during the thirty years it has been held in ever increasing esteem by the public, would fill volumes. We cannot here enumerate all its qualities, but that it can be relied on as a cure for croup, coughs, colds, sore throat and all pains, goes without saying. 2w1d

EVERYBODY ADMIRES soft white hands, and every lady ought to use Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses, as it makes the skin soft and smooth. Try it. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d9

Purify Your Blood

The importance of having the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditary and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

The Dorenwend Electric Belt is provided with a battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of electricity. It can be felt and can be regulated at will by the wearer while the belt is on the body. It is a light contrivance and can be worn at any time without the least inconvenience. It is the only Electric Belt in the world that follows out the true principles of electrical science. It has been examined and pronounced by experts and authorities to be the most practical and efficient method of bodily application yet invented.

THE DORENWEND ELECTRIC FOOT BATTERY cures Cramps, Rheumatism, Defective Circulation, Cold Feet, &c. This is the only insole in the world provided with a battery, consequently it is the only one producing a current. All others are simply soles of felt with pieces of zinc and copper fastened to them.

Be Careful.—If you are an afflicted one and are contemplating electrical treatment, see what you are getting before you invest. There are many humbugs in the country.

Remember every Dorenwend Belt is guaranteed, and will accomplish all as a curative that electricity can. The current in all Dorenwend appliances can be distinctly felt, and can be regulated to weak and strong degrees. They are the "World's Best," and their equal cannot be found. Now is the time to procure one. Call anyway and examine them, and get a copy of Book on Home Treatment.

FRANCOIS COPPEE.

Something About the French Master of the "Conte."

The author of "Marriage a Failure," Francois Coppee, of whom we give an excellent portrait to-day, is little known in Canada except to the lovers of the "Conte," in which he excells. To the notion of many even Daulet and Maupassant cannot rival him in this field. A study of this peculiar development of French art in fiction, as above entitled, has appeared in this country. Suffice it to say here that a conte (the French word for tale) will hardly be written in Canada. We haven't the temperament for it or the artistic sense, so far as literature is concerned. Besides, we prefer to go a little deeper into life than the surface. Francois Coppee is a thorough Parisian who appeals to another public than that which clamors for Zola and for Ohnet's later work. His sketches are for the most part wholesome. Coppee was born in Paris, probably less than 50 years ago. His is the strong face of a man who loves his art too much to cheapen it for the sake of being read by the Parisian canaille.

He is worth the study of readers, and the following extract from "Marriage a Failure," will with his portrait give fine opportunity for so doing:

It was the crumb brush which did all the evil.

* * * * * *

Mon Dieu! I can't complain of my wife; she's a very good creature, save that she loves her children, not like a mother, but like a hen, and spoils them horribly. Only I can never get used to her disorder.

My mother-in-law would be supportable if she were not absolutely terrorized by the heavy black eyebrows and white beard of her old fraud of a husband.

* * * * * *

But it is he, Monsieur Dubu, my father-in-law, who has poisoned my existence. He is an odious domestic tyrant.

Dr. Koch a True Physician.

Dr. Koch could, if he chose, make a fortune in a very short time by the sale of his famous lymph, the secret of the preparation of which is as yet known to himself alone. In fact, the cable has reported that complaints are made in Berlin that he is using his discovery to make money. Those, however, who are in a position to know the facts state that this is untrue. A New York physician who has just returned from Berlin says:—"One physician offered Dr. Koch $5,000 for some of the lymph, but met a prompt refusal. At the Libbertz Laboratory where the lymph is made, many persons offer $25, $50, $100 for a phial of the drug, only to get a rebuff. The lymph is distributed as fast as it can be made, going first to German hospitals next to those of England, the United States, and elsewhere. No Americans can obtain the lymph unless they represent a hospital, and then only through Minister Phelps. The charge is very moderate, only $60 for five grammes, or 1,000 doses. It would be simply impossible to supply the demand for the lymph, as 700 despatches were received by Dr. Koch in one day from the United States, all of them asking for his medicine. He says that a skilled physician who knew the formula could not make the lymph in less than six months."—The Mail.

THE BRITISH FLAG.

What Dr. Norman McLeod Said About it in 1866.

The following is taken from a Scotch paper and will be interesting reading just now:

Dr. Norman McLeod said: The first I saw on entering the meeting to-night was this flag here (pointing to the Union Jack). You know that is the flag of your country. Very well, that is the bravest flag in the world. (Cheers.) It is the flag of the finest country on the face of the earth. (Cheers.) There is not a country in the world—and I have been in many—like it. (Renewed cheers.) I have been in ever so many and I never saw more beautiful hills, more beautiful lochs, more beautiful valleys, than those of our country. And there is not a town in the whole world to be compared with Edinburgh. (Cheers.) There is not a country in the world that has more beautiful songs; and there is no music that will make you laugh, and greet, and dance, equal to the old Scottish music. (Cheers) There is not a country on the face of the earth where you have more gospel truth—where you have such Sabbath schools—where there is a clergy more earnest in instructing young and old in the fear of the Lord. What I have to say to you is, where ever you go on the face of the earth you are not to forget that flag, and you are not to disgrace your country. Over the whole world there are Scotchmen, I have preached to Scotchmen in Russia, in Sweden, in America, in Egypt, in Turkey, in Italy—there is hardly a place where I have not preached to Scotchmen; and these generally have been an honor to their country, except when they take to drink, and then they become the biggest blackguards on the face of the earth. (Laughter and cheers.) Then, upon the whole, there is not a country, for the population, on the face of the earth, that has contributed to the whole civilized world such highly-educated and such thoroughly respectable and sedate people as the Scottish nation. You may leave your country, you may go to Australia, India or America, and may be away for forty or fifty years. I have met a man that had been for sixty years away from his native land—but never be estranged from the old country, its songs, its habits and customs, and its church; and never be ashamed of, but honor it. (Cheers.) You must not, one of you, disgrace it. If you become sailors and go on board a man-of-war, fight and die at the guns sooner than disgrace the flag. If you become soldiers and go to battle and bear the old charge that was given at Waterloo — Scotland forever! — wherever you go, do not disgrace that flag. If cast among savages, or among those that have no liberty, never by cruelty, wickedness or cowardice disgrace your flag, but by justice, truth, kindness and all you have always learned in the old country, use and do honor, boys, to the old flag. (Loud cheers.) Certainly, some of you will go to distant parts of the world. Well, next to the fear, always confess the religion that God has taught you in your youth. (Cheers.) Wherever you go you are not to disgrace that flag. That flag flies in every breeze over the whole earth—fluttering in the far east where the sun rises, and seen between you and the setting sun in the far west of the Pacific. Go north, south, east or west, the British flag flies amid the ice of Hudson's bay, and near the South Pole. Beyond the word of God, I do not know anything that has a more hallowing effect than the remembrance of early years at home. I do not know of anything that has a greater power over men than the remembrance of the old country. It really becomes the very religion of the heart; and perhaps the very words I am saying now may in after years be remembered by some of you. Whatever you do or wherever you are, never forget your country's flag, and always love and be obedient to your country's God, the God about whom you have been instructed in your Sabbath schools. (Loud cheers.)

Rural Wit and Wisdom.

Lucky! The lucky man is generally a very industrious one and loaded with good common sense....A man may wear patched clothing and not be dishonored. But water is pretty cheap all over the world—where men usually live—and uncleanliness is a disgrace....In governing children and settling disputes between them, never jump to a conclusion and give arbitrary judgment. Try to find out the equity of the dispute—however small—and then be firm in giving the decision. The child will respect both you and the decision....A horse with his head jerked out of position with a check rein and his owner's moustache curled up at the ends so tight that he cannot shut his mouth, makes a chain of unimpeachable evidence that the man's head is an empty bubble....Organization of farmers is a good thing, but if it puts the desire to hold office into a farmer's head, and leads him to neglect his stock and farm, it ceases to be a good thing for him...."Sir Joseph," asked Sir John Macdonald of Sir Joseph Hickson, "did you ever set a hen on a scrambled egg?" "Yes," returned Sir Joseph, "one." "And what did she hatch?" "A fine fricasseed chicken."....You are not a money making machine by nature....Profitable farming depends as much on selling as on producing....A crop which is well grown is only half way to market....The "boycott" is a dangerous weapon for the bandler.

A Child Astray.

It was terrible weather for the little three year-old child that was found on Antrim street last night almost perished with cold, and unable to tell its name or residence. CARNIVAL

"Day and Night."

The last publication of Day and Night, Dr. Bernardo's magazine, contains a detailed account of the doctor's trip through Canada last summer. In the references to Peterborough there is a good view of Hazel Brae with several pages of interesting descriptive matter. Day and Night is a readable magazine.

Only One Chance.

This is the way the Bobcaygeon Independent refers to the recent tankard bonspiel:—"All hail to Keene. Next year, if Peterborough can get a little group made for itself, of Pontypool, Buckhorn and Fowler's Corners, and play on their own ice, and their men don't get rattled, they might possibly have a fighting chance of getting into the Toronto competition, to be wiped out in the first round by Waubashene or some way-back club."

Presentation to a Teacher.

Wednesday evening last a number of the boys in Miss Barrie's Sunday school class, in connection with the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, met at her home on Gilmour street and surprised her with a presentation of a beautiful edition of Dore's Bible scenes, accompanied by the following address:—

To MISS BARRIE,—We, the members of your Sunday school class, desire to express to you the high esteem and regard in which you are held by us as our teacher. Though we have oftentimes caused you trouble and annoyance and done those things which we ought not to have done, yet we trust you will try and overlook our many mistakes and misdoing, and during this year upon which we have entered we will make an effort to assist you by giving more earnest heed and attention to the things that pertain to our present and future good.

The address was read by Master Chris. Graham, and the presentation made by Master Bertie Stock.

Miss Barrie expressed her thanks to the boys for their kind remembrance and promised to do all in her power this year for the welfare of her class.

A Missionary Marriage.

Belleville Intelligencer:—Mr. Cyril B. Bird and Miss Annie Lake were married in Bethel Hall yesterday evening by the Rev. J. M. Hodson, B.A., pastor of Bridge street Methodist church, in the presence of a large number of devoted friends. The wedding created more than usual interest from the fact that it was the first marriage that had taken place in Bethel Hall; also that Miss Lake has been for a number of years foremost in deeds of philanthropy and practical Christian work, and because the wedding tour is to Central Africa, where the couple go as missionaries. The bridesmaids were Miss Lockett, Belleville, Miss E. Blanchard, Napanee, and Miss Eana Lake, sister of the bride. The groomsmen were Mr. Robt. Telford, Peterborough, Sidney Detlor, Napanee, and Master Harry Lake. After the service in Bethel Hall, the bridal party met at the residence of the bride's father, J. C. Lake, Esq., and enjoyed a dejeuner. The presents to the bride were numerous and valuable ones, including over $300 in money from friends in the city, but in view of the needs in Central Africa, were not of the ordinary kind, but were such as will help them in the self-sacrificing work they have undertaken. We unite with many friends in best wishes for their happiness and success in their mission.

The Coming Orator.

The single tax theory has for its cornerstone—in fact for its foundation-wall—this principle: "What a man sows he shall reap."

There is a subtle increase in the value of land over and above all that the owners or tenants have ever done to it. This increased value comes, as it were in the night, with the increase of population, and departs just as mysteriously. To nothing else than land, really done such a mysterious rise or fall accrue. It seems to accrue to buildings, but the land is, in reality, directly responsible. What the people have sown they shall reap. This increase in value belongs to the people. What a mighty meaning has that word! Then let the people have it. How shall they get it? They shall get it in a quiet, peaceable and familiar way—by taxation. If this increase were taken would it pay all taxes? Yes, and more, too. There would then be no other tax of any kind—not even for revenue—when the world adopts it. It is, therefore, called the single tax. Of Father Huntingdon, who visits Peterborough shortly, Rev. Mr. Henry Wilson says: "He is before all things a saint of God. He has a passion for human souls. He is giving himself with all he has of time and opportunity to the one great end of lifting up, saving, and keeping his brother man for both worlds, and no one can listen to him without feeling that his soul is on fire with his subject. Whether he convinces you of the truth of the single tax theory or not, he will convince you that there are left in the world still a few men who are full of the Holy Ghost and of faith." This lecture will be Wednesday evening, 21st inst., in the opera house. The mayor will preside. Seats reserved for ladies and their escorts. Admission free.

A Letter from Florida.

Mr. David Gamble Writes his Impressions of His New Home in the South.

Mr. Thos. McFadden has received a letter from Mr. David Gamble, who went to Florida last month, and the EXAMINER has been favored with permission to publish a portion of it. Mr. Gamble writes:

DEAR FRIEND THOMAS,—I think it is about time that I should fulfil my promise of writing to you a few lines. I must say that I like this place very much. The weather here is delightful, and I feel a great deal better. I have been talking with a few farmers that are connected with the Exposition, and they tell me that it is the easiest country in the world to make a living in. If you could only drop into the Exposition, and see the display of fruit and vegetables, woods, cotton, sugar cane, rice, corn, pineapples, oranges and grape fruit, it would astonish you. They can grow almost anything that grows. Just imagine a plum as big as a good-sized apple, and pears about five inches long, and nearly four inches through. The sight is worth going a long ways to see. You will see castil growing out in the gardens with leaves six feet long. Turnips, cabbages and radishes are growing in the gardens now, and I saw them sowing cucumber seed a week ago. The climate here is delightful, and it is very healthy. A gentleman told me that came here last April (he was afflicted with bronchial catarrh and could not speak when he came here, but can speak now loud and distinct enough for me to hear him) that the summer is not so hot here as it is up north. There is more moisture in the atmosphere here than there is up north. This is a splendid town. It is growing very fast. There is not an empty house in it. I have looked all over for a house and cannot find one, and they tell me that last summer there was not an idle house in the place. There is a lot of building going on here. There will be about a hundred houses built this winter. They are all of wood, with large double and treble and quadruple flat places in them, and they are all built on brick piers. Carpenters' wages here is $2.50 per day. A person who has a place of his own can live cheaper here than north, especially if you have a garden—you can grow so much, even your own sugar. I can tell you this, that I feel contented here, and I am going to make it my home.

Your friend,
DAVID G.

The Foresters' Carnival.

(By Our Nogry's Creek Correspondent.)

To-night! To-night! Attend the call!
The Foresters' great carnival.

Go see the scene the rink presents,
The top-shelf of magnificence.

Music, and mirth, and brilliant light,
And masks in gorgeous costumes dight—

The resurrected poor and great;
The peasant; minister of state;

The sailor bold, the lawyer sleek,
The turban'd Turk, the classic Greek;

The peasant maid, the peeress fair,
The short, the tall, the debonnaire—
And, with both feet—will all be there.

Grotesque and gay—splendid surprises—
A hundred dollars worth of prizes.

To get your girl, and there escort her,
Will cost you each a paltry quarter.

And you're assured (in common metre)
That kindlier you could not treat her.

The Bargains of the Day.

To get good bargains in staple and fancy groceries, wines and liquors, Goodersham's Seagram's and Walker's whiskies, in wood and bottles. St. Andrew's.

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's congregation is held to-night, the postponement having taken place on account of the meeting of St. Paul's last night.

Y. M. C. A. ANNIVERSARY.

A Successful Year Has Been Closed.

Free of Debt and a Fine New Building in Prospect—Spiritually as Well as Temporally Blessed—A Worthy Comes Programme.

The year which has just passed is generally recognized as the most prosperous and successful in the history of the Peterborough Young Men's Christian Association. For the first time since its establishment a balance has been shown on the right side, thanks to the efforts of the Secretary and officers of the Association, who have labored faithfully to bring about this satisfactory state of affairs. In the past the Association has been hampered by a lack of funds, but during the year just gone by a systematic and determined effort was made to repair the financial position, and as a result this most worthy institution is now on the high road to prosperity. The noble objects which the Association has in view may now be pursued with more energy and freedom than ever, and with a devoted and capable Secretary and staff of officers, as well as an active membership, there is a bright future ahead. The satisfaction with which friends and supporters of the Association now look upon its condition is enhanced by the consideration of the bounteous bequest by the late Mrs. Nicholls, whose generosity will, it is expected, before another anniversary arrives, be the means of providing handsome and commodious new quarters in a building of their own. The complaint is now that the rooms are too small for the purpose, but when the new premises are occupied an enlarged career of usefulness will be opened out before the association. Speed the day when the new building is erected.

ANNIVERSARY MEETING.

A good sized congregation attended the anniversary meeting in St. Paul's church Thursday night. Mr. George J. Early, president of the Association, occupied the chair; there were also present at the front Rev. Messrs. Patterson (Toronto), Davis, Shorey, Davidson and Torrance; Mr. G. M. Roger and General Secretary E. J. Colville. The church choir was in attendance, as well as the Y.M.C.A. band.

After opening devotions and a well rendered selection by the band, the chairmen of the different committees were called upon by the chairman to make reports—a new departure.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. R. J. KIDD spoke for the boys' branch, and detailed the meetings which had been held for the boys. The rooms were open for boys from 9 30 a.m. to 7.30 p.m., and they hoped soon to give the juveniles the privilege of staying later. Mr. Kidd mentioned as a worthy example the action of a Sunday school teacher in giving the boys of her class at Christmas boys' membership tickets in the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. E. MANNELL read the report of the Invitation Committee, giving in detail their duties and operations.

Mr. A. BURCH, for the Reception Committee, gave a similar report, which, like all the others, breathed a spirit of deep satisfaction with past results and gave encouraging assurances for the future.

Mr. ISAAC RICHARDSON gave an excellent report of the doings of the Devotional Committee, the chief committee engaged in active work. Greater stress was, of course, laid upon the spiritual portion of the work than upon any other.

Mr. WILLIAM HAMILTON read the report of the Rescue Brigade, whose object was to pick up young men outside of the Association and lead them to Christ.

Mr. G. M. ROGER, in the absence of the chairman, Mr. J. W. Bennett, spoke on behalf of the Finance Committee, and presented the favorable financial position of the Association to the audience. He cleared away a misapprehension entertained by some people, that since Mrs. Nicholls left them a legacy the Association was not in need of money. He explained that the bequest was to be granted entirely to a new building, but current expenses would have to be met as formerly until the new building was occupied.

Mr COLVILLE also made a brief address respecting Association affairs.

After a solo by Mr. Bowman, and a prayer by Rev. Mr. Shorey, the offertory was made, the choir singing an anthem meanwhile, in which Miss Hall took the solo. "Onward Christian Soldiers," was then sung by the assembly.

A STIRRING ADDRESS.

Rev. Mr. PATTERSON, of Cooke's church, Toronto, a young man of great energy and emphasis in his speaking, gave an earnest and practical address to young men, impressing the thought that in the way through life, Christianity, far from being a hindrance in any business whatever, would be a help and comfort, and its maxims a safe guide to follow. Older Christians were also urged to work unceasingly for the Master, that souls which were now going down to perdition might be saved. The address was very fine and impressed itself upon all who heard it.

After a vocal quartette by Messrs. Bowman, Shelton, John and Alf. Miller, the meeting was brought to a close by prayer by Rev. J. C. Davidson.

The County Convention at Norwood.

The Meeting Organized—Officers Elected—Encouraging Township Reports—The General Secretary's Admirable Address

(From Our Special Correspondent.

The fourth annual Sunday School Convention of the county of Peterborough was opened in the new Methodist church, Norwood, on Thursday, Jan. 15th. The president, Rev. J. McFarlane, occupied the chair, and the meeting was conducted by Rev. J. S. Clarke, Norwood. The devotional exercises opened by the singing of "All Hail the the Power of Jesus' Name," followed by the reading of Psalm XIX, and prayer by Rev. J. S. Clarke. On account of the children being in attendance at school, their part of the programme was deferred till Friday.

It was decided that the attending superintendents and the secretaries constitute the Nominating Committee.

The county secretary, Rev. John McEwen, presented a brief report, showing that of the ten townships in the county, only three were organized. He suggested certain questions he wished to be taken up some time during the convention—"What can we do for the townships that are not organized?" "How far has anything been done to visit school and report condition of school?"

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The report of the Nominating Committee was adopted, appointing the following officers:—

PRESIDENT—Rev. Jas. Carmichael, M.A., Norwood.

SECRETARY-TREASURER—Rev. John McEwen, Lakefield.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—Mr. John Succee, Smith; Dr. Harrison, Keene; Mr. W. E. Roxborough, Norwood; Mr. H. S. Griffin and Sheriff Hall, Peterborough; Mr. Scriver, Hastings; Mr. W. Harper, Lakefield; Mr. W. Mathieson, Havelock; Mr. W. Thistlethwaite, Asphodel.

Very encouraging reports from the different township represented at the convention were presented.

Mr. ALFRED DAY, general secretary of the Provincial Sunday School Association, dealt in his usual interesting and thoughful manner with the subject: "Organization, it's Importance in Christian work." He pointed out, illustrating elaborately and lucidly, that organization meant the co-operation and economy of the forces available for the promotion of Christian work. There were two great wants: perseverance and sacrifice, to insure the effectual performance of work for Christ. If Sunday School workers would solidly and heartily unite in one vigorous, persistent, onward movement, in a very short time wonderful triumphs of Christian work would follow. The forces of the Sunday School constituted the vis a tergo of Christian enterprise, just as the wind behind the sails

WAS THE PROPELLING FORCE THAT MOVED

the mighty ship. When Satan saw there was no organization to resist him he felt encouraged. An army of individuals would present little terror, but a much smaller army, thoroughly organized, disciplined and equipped ready for the foe at every point, every outpost guarded, every agency for aggressive work placed upon an effective footing, and marching in solid phalanx against the foe, would be a force that would be, to the powers of evil, "terrible as an army with banners." Christian workers, though animated with the most fervent zeal, were working at a disadvantage, working under discouragement when they were toiling alone, lacking the tender sympathy, the inspiring influence of earnest associates, animated by a common zeal and a common aim, bending their efforts in the same direction, each lending a mutually helping hand to the other, and each exhaling mutual cheer and encouragement in the struggle up the hill, some steep to the lofty goal. Organization was necessary as a tangible, palpable evidence to the world of the power of Christ—a demonstration of, rather than a plea for, Christian unity. Among the results of organization, on the line of Sunday School work, was mentioned, the immense influence for good, involved in the popularization of the study of the Word of God, and places systematic helps in the hands of teachers, and equiping them more thoroughly for their work. The address was most admirable, inspiring and encouraging.

Otonabee's Blue-Blooded Bull.

Mr. W. J. MILLAR's Latest Contribution to the Thorough-Bred Stock of the Banner Township.

Mr. W. J. Millar, one of the most progressive, enterprising and successful stock-growing and general farmers in the township of Otonabee, has made an important addition to his Shorthorn herd. He has purchased from Mr. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, the beautiful young thoroughbred Shorthorn bull, "Bramble Boy." "Bramble Boy" is a fine red, with a little white, and is a credit in appearance and good qualities to his illustrious ancestry. His sire and dam are both imported stock—the sire is "Sussex," (56,625) and his dam is "Bramble Berry." The strain is a good one, being that of Cruickshank's, Aberdeenshire, herd. Mr. Millar, while having first regard for the improvement of his own herd, is not forgetful of the benefits which he is now in a position to place within reach of his neighbors. "Bramble Boy" is 15 months old, having been calved Sept. 29th, 1889.

Personal.

Miss Millie Rae, of Peterborough, the Register says, was visiting Norwood a few days ago.

The many friends of Mr. James O'Brien, Aylmer street, will be pleased to learn that he is rapidly recovering from his recent severe illness.

Evidently Good Reason for His Mysterious Disappearance from Wallaceburg.

WALLACEBURG, Jan. 15.—The missing Englishman Wadsworth told parties here that he came from Leeds in England and that he had a wife and two children at Whitby, Ont. Enquiries have been made of parties at Whitby, but they knew nothing of Wadsworth and had never heard of him or his family. Grave charges have been made against a Mr. Hardy, who was apparently imposed upon by Wadsworth. Hardy and wife have made statements before Police Magistrate McDougall of this town, in which they state that Wadsworth robbed their son of $32 while rooming with him, and disappeared that night. They failed to find any trace of him afterwards, though they made efforts to do. The general impression here is that Wadsworth was an impostor and that Mr. Hardy and family have been imposed upon.

A DRIVE WITH A DEAD LOVER.

Carrie Wismer's Escort Figures in the Buggy Beside Her.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Jan. 15.—The most singular circumstances of James S. Baker's death on Friday night of last week are just disclosed. The genial young Bethlehemite was driving home from a party with Miss Carrie Wismer of Solebury. Mr. Baker suddenly exclaimed, "Carrie, dear, I believe I am going to die," and in a few moments Mr. Baker lay dead in the arms of his lady friend. Carrie seized the lines and drove with one hand, while with her other arm she supported the dead form of her lover. The drive to the residence of Miss Wismer occupied half an hour. Young Baker's death was due to heart disease.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—A despatch from Tlemcen, Province of Oran, Algaria, says a French military convoy, which started for Lebden Jan. 8, has been snowed up en route in Saltzerny pass. A detachment of 200 men from the garrison of Tlemcen has left that city to relieve the inhabitants of Serney, who are snowed up and starving.

Still Severe on the Continent.

LONDON, Jan 14.—Severe storms are reported raging in the North Sea. Advices from Berlin state that the Elbe is full of immense ice floes, and that navigation is still rendered very dangerous. The force with which the floes strike vessels with which they come in contact is enormous, and already the hulls of several ships have been crushed. Eighteen shipwrecked sailors, whose vessels had been lost in this way, have been landed at Heligoland.

Violent snowstorms are again prevailing throughout Austria-Hungary and it is feared the suffering experienced in the previous storm will be renewed. A perfect blizzard raged in Vienna all afternoon. The railroad lines are again blocked by snow and traffic is greatly interrupted.

Says England's Queen is Stingy.

NAPANEE, Jan. 15.—Rev. C. O. Johnson, a prominent Methodist clergyman, is being severely criticized for declaring from the pulpit that Queen Victoria was stingy and hoarded up money which she could well spare, and that it would do a great deal of good in darkest England; that there were many opportunities in that country for philanthropy, but she never embraced them. The criticisms provoked the preacher to return to the subject again last Sunday, when he was more emphatic than ever.

A Dead Man Convicted of Seduction.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—A most singular case came up at the London Assizes the other day. The case was Lince v. Fairclotn, an action for seduction, the parties to which resided in Nissouri. The alleged seducer died in October last and the suit is reconstituted against his administratrix. A nice point of law was raised by Mr. Emery as to whether an action for seduction can be brought in this way after the death of the original defendant. The point was reserved by his Lordship and meanwhile the jury assessed the damages at $500.

HAS PARNELL RETIRED?

A CREDIBLE REPORT THAT HE IS NO LONGER LEADER.

Justin McCarthy's Paper Publishes a Suggestive Editorial — Gladstone, Morley and Chamberlain Write Concerning the Hartlepool Election.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—It is rumored here to-night that Mr. Parnell is about to retire from the contest and to surrender his leadership of the Irish party.

As at present arranged, the final meeting will take place to-day, when Mr. Justin McCarthy will probably be accepted as the leader of the Irish party. Mr. O'Brien, who had been thought to have succumbed to Mr. Parnell's persuasive arguments, will now, it is said, support Mr. McCarthy's election, which only needs Mr. Dillon's approval.

In confirmation of this, Mr. O'Brien's newspaper, The Insuppressible, states that the retirement of Mr. Parnell is not merely determined on, but consented to, and his voluntary abdication is being rapidly arranged. He will be in Tralee on Sunday, and will doubtless refer to this matter there.

DUBLIN, Jan. 16.—Archbishop Walsh of this city writes to The Press, saying: "I think it is deplorable if a truce cannot be kept at the present time, as Mr. Dillon suggests, when there is a possibility of a settlement."

GILHOOLEY'S OFFER.

The Member for West Cork Wants to Test the Electorate of Bantry.

CORK, Jan. 16.—James Gilhooley, Nationalist M.P. for West Cork, offers to resign his seat on condition that Dr. Joseph E. Kenny, M.P. for South Cork, does the same, in order to put to test the question whether Bantry favors or does not favor Parnell.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt writes: If the Irish people and the Irish members of Parliament continue to maintain towards the English Liberals the attitude of friendly co-operation, consultation, mutual goodwill and honorable confidence which existed before Mr. Parnell fell there is no reason why they should not, with entire respect for each other's independence, work together, as hitherto, for the same objects, and with a spirit of equal assurance of ultimate success. If their position toward us remains the same, our position toward them is unchanged. Then, confident as ever that the future of Home Rule is secure, nothing will happen. There are worse prospects. If Parnell succeeds in inflaming Irish passion and sentiment against English sympathizers, and perslats in poisoning the Irish mind, vilifying Gladstone and exciting race hatred, rejecting constitutional action and appealing to the hillside men and the American dynamiters, thus convincing the British people that no reliance can be placed in Irish honor; that confidence is violated under cover of personal delinquencies, and that, in settling the Home Rule question, the English Liberals cannot participate in the safeguards which surround it, but that the matter must be determined simply by the Irish leaders, the demands for separation mean hostility to England and not an honorable alliance. If the Irish people ratify such a policy, Home Rule has no chance and ought to have no chance.

Joseph Chamberlain writes that he hopes the Hartlepool election will finish the work that Bassetlaw so well begun. There is a clear issue, he says, before the electors. Gladstone offers a system of Home Rule, the nature of which he refuses to disclose; but which assured beforehand the hostility of every section of the Irish politicians. On the other hand the Unionists offer the peaceful opportunity of acquiring land upon favorable terms and a local government similar to that of Great Britain. This was gratefully accepted. Gladstone bidding for English support, with the promise to abolish the freehold votes in the counties of Cobden and Bright, chiefly created a change which was for the benefit of nobody. The Unionists proposed to relieve the working-men of school fees.

Gladstone, speaking at Hawarden yesterday, dwelt upon the agricultural progress made in England during the half century and expressed the opinion that in spite of all the troubles and difficulties that the English farmers have experienced, their interest was an abiding point in the country.

A SENSATIONAL SUICIDE.

THE TURKISH AMBASSADOR TO AUSTRIA DYING.

After Attempting Unsuccessfully to Strangle Himself He Turned on the Gas—An Explosion of Illuminating Gas Near London Causes a Panic—Many People are Killed.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—A terrible explosion of illuminating gas on Liverpool-road today caused a house crowded with lodgers to catch fire. Panic among the residents followed, during which a man and a boy jumped from an upper window and were fatally injured. One child is known to have been lost and several others are missing.

AN AMBASSADOR'S SUICIDE.

Failing to Strangle Himself He Adopts the Cord Route.

VIENNA, Jan. 16.—It was announced here yesterday that Sadullah Pasha, the Turkish ambassador to Austria, was suffering from a fit. It now transpires that he attempted suicide in his bathroom. It is said he tried to strangle himself and failing in this attempted to end his life by stopping up all the apertures in the room and allowing the gas in the burners to escape. He was discovered before life was extinct and doctors were hastily summoned. They worked over him for a long time and at length succeeded in restoring respiration, but were unable to bring the patient back to consciousness. The ambassador will probably die. His attempt to commit suicide is believed to be due to family troubles, as his wife is suffering from an incurable disease and his favorite daughter has become insane.

The Weather in Germany.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—The freezing weather which has again set in is causing much alarm among those interested in shipping. The immense ice floes in the Elbe render navigation in that river extremely dangerous for even the stoutest vessels. Several steamers carrying mails started from Hamburg this morning, but only succeeded in forcing their way to Blankenese, where they are stuck fast in the ice. Several other steamers have become disabled by the ice and are drifting helplessly off Cuxhaven.

The Chili Revolution.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—A telegram containing further news of the rebellion in Chili has just been received here by way of Buenos Ayres. It says a number of the naval rebels had disembarked at Coquimbo and the troops were trying to surround the insurgents and isolate them from loyal districts. The despatch adds that President Balmaceda has issued a manifesto energetically asserting his authority and refuting the insurgents' pretensions.

The "Black Death" in Siberia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 16.—A despatch from Tobolsk says the terrible scourge known as "black death" has reached the City of Tobolsk, the capital of West Siberia. The whole of Asiatic Russia from Samarkand to the mouth of the Obi is suffering from the scourge. Thousands are dying at Obdorsk, near the mouth of the Obi.

The Army in Tripoli.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 16.—The Porte is about to strengthen the Turkish army in Tripoli by the addition of 5000 troops. The Porte will regard any attempt on the part of Italy to interfere in the affairs of that province as a casus belli.

An Irish M.P. Bankrupt.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Mr. Byrne, Nationalist member of parliament for West Wicklow, has been declared bankrupt.

Cable Flashes.

Archbishop Walsh advises a truce in Parnellite matters pending a settlement.

Several inches of snow have fallen in Naples.

Sir Charles Dilke, in an interview in Paris, says he is convinced Europe will not disarm, as Russia will not consent to do so on the ground that she needs a powerful army even on a peace footing. The Czar, he thinks, is peacefully inclined and will not take the initiative in precipitating a conflict.

A 13-year-old boy named Zeliska in Vienna attempted to murder his stepmother with a large knife while she was in bed, at the instigation of his father, who had quarrelled with the woman, who was his second wife. The boy's movements aroused her in time to save her life. The father is under arrest.

General Wolseley, Commander-in-Chief in Ireland, is concentrating the soldiers at Cork, Dublin and Belfast. There are nearly 14,000 soldiers in Dublin and 9000 in the Cork command.

McKINNON WILL DIE.

The Goderich Double Tragedy Still Enwrapped in Mystery.

GODERICH, Jan. 16.—The McKinnon tragedy of yesterday is the all-absorbing topic of the day. During the night the doctors succeeded in extracting the bullet from Mrs. McKinnon, it having passed entirely through her body below the heart, lodging in the back. Her condition is very critical and chance of recovery hopeless. The condition of McKinnon is unchanged. The prospects of his surviving are more encouraging this evening. The revolver was found this morning in the hayloft where the woman was found. The entire affair seems to be wrapped in mystery, as they have not deviated in their statements made last night.

A BRITISH COLUMBIA HANGING.

The Aged Prisoner Had to be Assisted to the Scaffold.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Jan. 16.—On Sept. 8th, while fishing on Lillooet Slough, a half-breed named Louis Rae was shot and instantly killed by an old Indian named Shumach. After murdering Rae, Shumach took the body into a canoe and sunk it in the stream. It was afterwards raised by Indians and brought here, Shumach escaped into the woods, but gave himself up on Nov. 16. He was tried and condemned to be hanged. The execution took place to-day in the jail yard. Shumach, who was about 75 or 80 years old, had to be assisted on either side to the scaffold. The drop fell at 8 o'clock, the body falling eight feet four inches, and life was pronounced extinct in four minutes.

ATE THEIR RELATIVES.

A MOST SHOCKING STORY OF CANNIBALISM.

Nihilists Continue Active in Russia—The Shortage of the Potato Crop in Ireland Due to Pinning Too Much Reliance in a Certain Variety.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Further particulars from the commander of the British cruiser Royalist tell of an extraordinary scene at the New Hebrides, when threcnatives were executed by order of the commander for killing and eating a French trader and his son. Immediately after the execution a number of natives asked for the bodies, and the commander, supposing that the relatives wanted the remains for burial, gave them up. The natives retired a short distance and immediately proceeded to cook and devour the bodies of the dead criminals, much to the horror of the British officers and their men, who did not, however, feel justified in interfering.

NIHILISTS STILL BUSY.

Especially Among Students in the Higher Schools and Universities.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 16.—The police have succeeded in obtaining confessions from several of the hundred or more persons to be put on trial shortly for Nihilism. These confessions show that the Nihilist propaganda is as powerful as ever, and especially strong in the higher schools and universities, from which operations are directed.

The Nihilists, the informers say, for the present would be satisfied with freedom of the press and the creation of a national assembly such as existed until the 16th century and was abolished by the czars. The various bodies of Nihilists act independently of each other.

Although actual torture was not used, so far as is known, in procuring confessions, yet the severe examination, lasting without relief or cessation for many hours at a time, had the same effect in bringing about physical collapse and admissions of whatever was desired.

The two Nihilists surrendered by the British Ambassador at Constantinople to the Russians were accused of train-wrecking, otherwise they would not have been given up.

Russia Will Not Have Orleans.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—In deference to French influence, the Czar positively refuses to permit the Duke of Orleans to take service in the Russian army in any capacity. Owing to the complications of European politics, Russia is almost the only country to which the son of the French pretender can apply for the privilege of a military education without offending his countrymen. It is now said that he intends to present a similar request to Sweden, which is ruled over by the descendants of the French revolutionist, Bernadotte.

Seal Islands to Let.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—A despatch from St. Petersburg was published here yesterday, stating that Agent Merloff has reported against the leasing of the Kommanderoffsky group of Behring and Copper Islands for sealing purposes to America.

The lease of Kommanderoffsky Islands will expire this year and it is known that many applicants are petitioning St. Petersburg for the privileges. It is rumored that the representatives of the North American Commercial Company are among the petitioners.

Fell Through the Ice.

EARDLEY, Jan. 14.—Seven-year-old Francis Gascon, son of Theodore Gascon, accompanied a farm hand to the river for the purpose of watering cattle. While there he was asked to drive in some of the animals that had strayed out on the ice. While doing so the lad fell into a hole and without a cry of any kind sank. The hired man did not notice the lad's fate, but on missing him gave the alarm. The body was found shortly afterwards.

A Strike that was a Fizzle.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 16.—Seventy-two operators and station agents employed on the lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul system quit work to-day and the strike which Chief Thurston of the Order of Railway Telegraphers has so often heralded was two weeks of a fizzle. The officials of the road were prepared for any emergency and every station where an operator quit work another man was waiting to take his place, so that the telegraphic business of the road suffered no delay of any consequence.

A Postoffice Burglarized.

ZURICH, Jan. 16.—D. S. Faust's general store and postoffice was burglarized early this morning. The safe was blown open and the vault taken away, but it only contained a few papers of no value to the burglars. They declined the postage stamps, as they left them on the counter. No clue to the burglars.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

Improved Feeling in Trade Circles—Supplies for Logging Camps.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's this week point to an improved feeling in trade circles. Though there is no general increase in demand or distribution, continued cold weather has stimulated a demand for staple articles north and west, and at Philadelphia, Memphis, Chicago, Duluth, Minneapolis and St. Louis a fair movement is reported. Increased demand for supplies for logging camps in the Northwest has resulted in some activity among dealers in groceries, clothing and provisions. Trade in Nebraska and portions of Kansas is quiet, with jobbers not extending lines of credit, preferring to await payments now past due. Omaha and St. Joseph refer to this state of affairs with dry-goods, clothing, boots and shoes slow of sale. Higher prices for grain and lower prices for hogs have caused Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska farmers to sell freely. At St. Louis there is greater freedom in general distributive lines, but with pig iron prices shaded. Manufacturers of textiles report trade quiet, excepting those making upholstery. Pig iron is quiet. The strike of Alabama miners has failed, but this will not tend to strengthen the market. Stocks of pig increased 250,000 tons in December. It is announced that steel rail makers have settled their differences, have allotted shipments for the year and will not contract for less than $30 per ton. Anthracite coal is in better demand and firmer in price, except at Chicago, where it is off 25c. per ton. Leather is firmer on the strong market for hides, while crude rubber is reaching up towards 80c.

Raw sugar is quite firm, with holders not offering to sell. Coffee is ¼c. higher on an improved demand. Money markets generally throughout the country are easier, and rates have dropped, noticeably at Memphis, Duluth and St. Joseph.

Money is closely held and idle in abundant supply. Funds have been received at Omaha from the east, but the tendency of money continues eastward. Mercantile collections are quite irregular and on the whole only fair. Stock speculation is undergoing a reaction from the recent bullish tendencies, the advance having apparently been too rapid. Bank clearings at 55 cities for the week ended Jan. 15 are $1,196,853,306, an increase over this week last year of 1.9 per cent.

Wheat is weaker and bearish. Sentiment appears to dominate at the moment. Our own advices contradict extravagant stories current of wheat yield in Washington. Exports of wheat, United States and Canada, both coasts (including flour), equal 1,104,079 bushels against 2,076,000 bushels last week and 1,781,986 bushels for the like week of 1890. The total exported July 1, 1890, to Jan. 15, 1891, is 54,432,014 bushels, against 59,078,000 bushels in a like portion of 1889-90, a decrease of 4,646,612 Bushels this cereal year as compared with last. The net receipts of 95 roads reported to Bradstreet's aggregated $13,347,810, a gain of 1.66 that one-fifth of 1 per cent. Net earnings of 99 companies for 11 months of 1890 aggregate $178,857,490, a gain of 4.4 per cent.

Dry goods are in fair demand, but some lines are rather backward. Brown and bleached cottons are slow and weak. Woolens are in steady movement. Cotton speculation is less active. Futures are steady and only slightly changed.

The lighter than anticipated port movement is said to be due to bad roads.

Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 366 in the United States this week, against 391 last week and 356 this week last year. Canada had 51 this week against 46 last week. The total number of failures in the United States Jan. 1 to date is 908, against 1018 last year.

THE BRIDAL OF DEATH.

A Pedlar Killed by a Snowplow on the Eve of His Marriage.

CAMPBELLTON, Jan. 14.—Mitchell W. Miller a Scotch pedlar, was driving his team across the track on the Dalhousie branch railway, when a wing snowplow struck the team throwing him on the plow. He was thus carried some miles unobserved into Dalhausie station. When found there he was still alive and exclaimed, "My God, I am dying!" and immediately expired. He was to be married in a few days to Miss Chambers of Broadlands. His mother and brother are living in Scotland.

He Starved at Libby.

COBOURG, Jan. 16.—Mr. E. S. Fisk, who died at the Eden neighborhood lately, had a bitter experience of the fare of Libby Prison at Richmond, Virginia, in which he was incarcerated as a prisoner from the Northern army during the American war. He was captured while in the discharge of his duty on the outskirts of the army by the famous Mosoby Guerillas. His food while there was a little piece of corn cake made of ground corn, cob and all. He came very near starving to death while there and he never recovered from the cruelties he received. The American Government has been paying him $17 per month as pension for injuries received.

A Halton Murderer.

MILTON, Jan. 16.—Joseph Thomas, the young man arrested at Ossinagou, Mich., for the murder of Michael Downey, a companion, is a native of Lowville, having left here for Michigan about four years ago. He is well connected here and is the son of Mr. George Thomas, a highly respected and well-to-do farmer. Young Thomas is only 19 years of years. In a letter to his father he denies all knowledge of the crime, as he was intoxicated when it was committed. His friends are circulating a petition here obtaining signatures testifying to his previous good character.

Personal Liberty vs. Personal Slavery.

We are all free American citizens, enjoying our personal liberty; but most of us are in physical slavery, suffering from Scrofula, salt rheum or some other form of impure blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great blood purifier which destroys the seeds of disease, gives health and produces physical liberty.

THE HAVEN OF HEALTH.

Peterborough the Healthiest Town in Canada.

Remarkably Low Rate Last Year—Less Percentage Ever Yet Known Here—A Valuable Sanitary Report.

Subjoined is the annual sanitary report of Dr. Clarke, Medical Health officer. It is well worth perusal. Attention is directed to the unsurpassed record for healthfulness with which Peterborough has been blessed. Our town is on that account alone a most desirable place for residence. This excellent sanitary condition of the town is due in some degree to the activity and faithfulness of the Board of Health and the Medical Health Officer in guarding against infection in every form, as well as to our natural healthiness of location.

The report is as follows:—

To the Chairman and Members of the Peterborough Board of Health:

GENTLEMEN,—In presenting my 7th annual report I would congratulate you on the greater interest in health matters manifested during the year on the part of the Board as shewn by their more frequent meetings; on the vast amount of sanitary work performed, far in excess of any preceding year; on the low and still decreasing death rate, and on the remarkable freedom of the town from infectious disease. On the part of the public, too, there are many gratifying indications that sanitary matters are gradually assuming their proper importance. There is a greater solicitude as to the purity of the water drunk as evinced by the increasing number of analyses made each year, a more cheerful compliance with health regulations, and, as naturally follows, a greater sensitiveness by people as to their neighbor's sanitary faults, and a correspondingly increased number of complaints. In fact, the public are beginning to demand proper health precautions just as they demand good streets or good fire protection. When Boards of Health were first organized, sweeping measures were passed, but were found unworkable in the unprepared state of public opinion. Some years of reaction came during which it was hard to get a quorum of the members. That indifference is now at an end, and we may expect to see the Board in future holding its proper place and performing its proper functions, neither too aggressive nor too apathetic, discussing sanitary requirements in an intelligent manner, and passing measures in accordance with that public healthsense which it is its duty both to develop and to satisfy.

DEATH RATE.

This is the sanitary thermometer, indicating precisely by its rise or fall the efficiency of health operations. In 1890 the record is again broken, for we have a still further decrease from the low rate of 1889. In the latter year, with a population of 9302, there were 124 deaths. In 1890, with a population of 9337, there were only 120 deaths, or 12.85 to the thousand, a rate which, when returns come in from other places, we may safely predict as being almost the lowest, if not the lowest, in the Dominion. It cannot be too often mentioned that since sanitary work began, the death rate has declined from 19 per thousand (not a high rate) to the present, and this decrease has not been spasmodic or accidental, but step by step. The causes unquestionably are: Removal of garbage and excreta, (2500 barrels of the latter, it is estimated, were carted away during the year); isolation and disinfection in contagious diseases, thus limiting their number; greater care as to purity of water drunk; and a more general attention to cleanliness and other hygienic requirements.

INFECTIOUS DISEASES.

Two deaths from typhoid fever constitute the total mortality from this cause, apart from the epidemic of influenza which swept over the country in the earlier part of the year, and which was due to sanitary negligence in other quarters of the world. A few cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever have occurred, but none have been fatal, and in no are has the disease spread. Science is constantly giving us more powerful disinfectants, and it is to be hoped that these diseases may soon be driven out of existence. Some complaints have been made as to members of families engaging in their ordinary avocations while other members are laid up with some infectious disease. Discretion has to be exercised in such cases. Children in the same house are always prohibited from attending school and, as far as possible, from associating with other children, but we have not considered it either necessary or advisable to keep the father of the family from attending to his duties as bread-winner. A few ordinary precautions have, so far, sufficed to prevent any disease from spreading in this way.

SLAUGHTER HOUSES.

On this question matters reached a climax during the year. Last winter a new slaughter house having been established at the southern part of the town without permission from the Board, residents in that locality urged the removal of all slaughter houses and even communicated with the Provincial Board on the subject. Such strong pressure was made, numerous influential deputations making vigorous representations of the nuisance, that the Board found it necessary to withdraw permission from all slaughter houses within the corporation. The town council has asked that enforcement of this resolution be postponed until March, and by that month the last slaughter house will will have been removed from the town. This will be much better for all parties concerned. Butchers will have time to get other places where they will feel secure and be free from annoyance, and their present neighbors will be rid of places which although kept under the best management can hardly be other than nuisance. Frequent inspections have been made during the year, and although strenuous efforts have been made to keep things passable, the wet season has made it very difficult.

REMOVAL OF GARBAGE AND EXCRETA.

This has been carried out to a far greater extent than ever before. The clause relating to the cleaning of privy-vaults has been pretty thoroughly enforced. Competition has reduced the price of such work, but the employment of a public scavenger in the near future will fill a long felt want and be one of the most important sanitary measures ever enacted. When this functionary begins his duties there will be no inducement whatever to conceal filth or refuse of any kind. On the contrary, it will be brought out or gathered up so that it may be carried away.

EARTH CLOSETS.

These can hardly be said to have been a success in general owing to the attention required in cleaning them, but with the assistance of a public scavenger there will be no trouble whatever. A bylaw has recently been passed by the council to the effect that all privy-vaults and cesspools in the central parts of the town shall be closed by the 1st of May next, and earth closets substituted therefor. This is an excellent measure, and it will be your officer's duty to see that it is properly carried out. In the absence of sewerage it is almost all that could be devised. The next point is to have a cheap and easily worked closet, and no doubt some carpenter will be found equal to the occasion.

PURITY OF WATER SUPPLY.

It having been rumoured that there was considerable contamination by sewage of the river above the waterworks, in accordance with a motion of the Board, I examined the river banks, in company with the Chief of Police, as far as Nassau, on both sides of the river. We found not more than a dozen places where there was any contamination whatever, and in these the amount was very small. To allay the fears of the public it should be remembered that a small amount of sewage may be discharged into a large body of water without polluting it for more than a few yards. The matter is soon oxidised, or chemically acted upon by the water, and thus loses its dangerous properties. Of course if the amount of sewage is large and the stream small, there is very much risk. As to the purity of the well water, a very large number of samples have been sent in for analysis, and I have found them of varying degrees of purity. Speaking generally, I find far less organic matter now than in past years, and this is what might be expected from the removal of contaminating material.

THE ICE QUESTION.

Some alarm was created by the suggestion that as a certain amount of sewage was discharged into the Little Lake, the supply of ice must be impure and dangerous to the public health. I examined one sample of melted ice sent me and found it as I suspected some impurity in the jar, or a mistake somewhere. At the request of the Board I sent a sample to Dr. Bryce. The result was published, and did not indicate any very great impurity, especially that which causes disease. I examined several pieces subsequently and found them reasonably pure. I have not heard of any cases of disease caused by it, but I will continue examining it from time to time as suggested by the Provincial Board.

HOUSE TO HOUSE INSPECTION.

A very large amount of work has been done by the Chief and Sanitary Inspectors and very many notices served. These notices are, as a rule, promptly attended to, very few caring to go into court for sanitary neglect. One of the principal causes of complaint is from throwing slops about to the annoyance of neighbours. It is hard to rectify this in the absence of sewerage, and the evil may be increased somewhat by the operation of the new by-law, as, under present circumstances, the vault is often made a receptacle for everything. Fortunately in the majority of cases the practice is more an eyesore than a sanitary danger, and, even in the latter case, can easily be remedied by disinfectants.

A FEW OTHER MATTERS

require notice. I have frequently been applied to by parties taking houses for an opinion as to their sanitary condition and freedom from taint of disease. This can only be done in a general way, for germs are too minute to be detected easily. If there have been no complaints about a house, if it has been thoroughly disinfected after infectious disease, if the water is good and ordinary sanitary measures have been in use, the house may be pronounced habitable from that point of view, but that is all that can be said. No one can guarantee freedom from malarial or similar poison. As to the milk supply there have been no complaints, so that it may be assumed that the people of Peterborough get a fairish good article. The water supplied to the schools has always been found good, although doubts have been expressed by parties as to the purity of some of the wells. I have been spoken to also about the sanitary effect of the large piles of sawdust accumulating here and there, on account of the mill-owners being prohibited from depositing it in the river. I do not think that there mere presence is dangerous to people living in the vicinity. This is a different matter from being deposited in the Little Lake. Of course when the masses begin to decay, should houses be built upon them, their would be some risk to the occupants. In other parts of Canada many cases of typhoid fever have originated from that cause. At present, however, there is nothing to fear. I have also been asked to urge the importance of having fowl drawn before being brought to market. But there is a difference of opinion on this subject. Some who buy in quantities for storing state that they keep better undrawn, so further consideration is necessary. The supply of meat brought to market is usually in good condition. It has very rarely been necessary to forbid the sale of meat on sanitary grounds. On the whole we have much reason to be gratified with the condition of the town from a sanitary point of view. It is one which should invite the attention of manufacturers and others desiring location or place of residence, and in the hope that it may be maintained,

I am, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. CLARKE.

Purify Your Blood

importance of purifying the blood in proper condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditary and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

The Dorenwend Electric Belt is provided with a battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of electricity. It can be felt and can be regulated at will by the wearer while the belt is on the body. It is a light contrivance and can be worn at any time without the least inconvenience. It is the only Electric Belt in the world that follows out the true principles of electrical science. It has been examined and pronounced by experts and authorities to be the most practical and efficient method of bodily application yet invented.

THE DORENWEND ELECTRIC FOOT BATTERY cures Cramps, Rheumatism, Defective Circulation, Cold Feet, &c. This is the only insole in the world provided with a battery, consequently it is the only one producing a current. All others are simply soles of felt with pieces of zinc and copper fastened to them.

Be Careful.—If you are an afflicted one and are contemplating electrical treatment, see what you are getting before you invest. There are many humbugs in the country.

Remember every Dorenwend Belt is guaranteed, and will accomplish all as a curative that electricity can. The current in all Dorenwend appliances can be distinctly felt, and can be regulated to weak and strong degree. They are the "World's Best," and their equal cannot be found. Now is the time to procure one. Call anyway and examine them, and get a copy of Book on Home Treatment.

DETECTING COUNTERFEIT MONEY.

Methods of Bank Tellers—It is Easier Now Than It Used To Be.

To the casual observer it is always a wonder that cashiers, bank tellers, and others who handle large amounts of paper money are able at a glance to throw out a bad note. Speaking on this topic an old bank teller said; "It must be remembered that in the first place the men who handle money as a business are compelled to have a very thorough familiarity with the appearance of a genuine note. Counterfeits do not appear until after the genuine has been some time in use, and every part of it is well known. It is not so wonderful, then, that after his daily familiarity with the appearance of a note the first deviation from it should attract attention. Exactly what it is that does expose the counterfeit the best experts find it difficult to tell. They say they know it instinctively. They judge not only by the looks of a note, but by the feel of it.

"It is obvious that a counterfeit note must be widely circulated to make it profitable. No sooner does a counterfeit appear than its description is widely published. Those who are likely to suffer by taking counterfeit notes make it their business to be on the lookout for new counterfeits, which are soon distinguishable by some easily discovered mark. A teller knows just what denomination of notes has been counterfeited, and just where to look for the tell-tale marks. He notices the counterfeit as easily as a reader notes a misspelled word. It is no particular effort. It is habit, and becomes a second nature.

"One and the main reason why counterfeits are easily detected is because in some feature they are almost uniformly of inferior quality. This is, indeed, the main protection of the public. Genuine notes are engraved and printed almost regardless of cost, and the very best materials are used in the engraving and printing. It is done in large establishments with costly materials and the best workmen. It is practically impossible for counterfeiters to do work as well. They must work in secret and at a disadvantage, and of necessity cannot have the experience to produce such perfect work. If they get the engraving done nicely they fail in the printing or, if they get the engraving and and printing done well, they fail in securing proper paper. Of late years there has been a good deal of care taken to get paper manufactured expressly for the notes issued by the Government. The national bank notes are also issued by the Government, so that the sources of supply for exactly that kind of paper are controlled.

"Before the war it was much more difficult than it is now to detect bad money. There were wildcat banks whose notes were of no value of the same name as good banks, and the wildcat notes were of the same form as the good notes. Then there were many altered notes from lower to higher denominations. The use of greenbacks, or any backs at all, was rare, so that the counterfeiter had but one side of a note to counterfeit. Of late years the paper is covered front and back with the figures of the denomination so that alteration from a lower to a higher denomination is rare. Before the war by actual computation four-fifths of the bank note issues were counterfeited. There were in circulation in 1860 actually 3,039 different kinds of bad money, and it was estimated that about $60,000,000 of it was afloat.

"When the necessities of the war led to the Government issue of paper money all these old banks went out of existence, and the old counterfeits went out with them. It was a great boom to the business community to have the old stuff wiped out and the new, clean currency put into circulation that was current all over the Union. It was some years before successful counterfeits appeared. The first issue of the national bank notes of the denomination of $5 was practically not counterfeited for fifteen years. Even taking all the denominations of national bank money and all the varieties of money issued by the Government, the number of these varieties is trifling compared with the immense number of banks before the war, whose notes were all different.

"It is true we have more banks now but it must be remembered that the notes of each denomination issued by all the national banks, or for them, are all alike, except the titles. The changes have been few and many years apart. When a teller learned the appearance of the first notes of the denomination of $1 issued to the national banks it was some years before he saw a counterfeit, and, of course, he detected the counterfeit almost by instinct.

"There is little protection for the poor and the ignorant from counterfeit money. They do not rely so much upon their own skill as upon keeping track of the sources from which they receive money. They know from whom they receive a bank note, and if it turns out bad they take it back and get it redeemed. In some degree this protection exists among financial institutions which keep trace of the sources of their receipts.

"When it is considered how many millions of dollars of the same sort are issued by the Government, it is wonderful that the genuine plates are not oftener used for the purpose of printing unauthorized issues. Of course, it is pretended that the safeguards of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing are so great that no such wrong could be done. But there is a well authenticated case where the printer actually did print from the genuine plates without discovery while being watched by a bank officer. Some years ago there was a famous suit in which the Government financial agents in New York claimed to have redeemed a certain issue which proved to be unauthorized, and the experts were very much in conflict as to whether the issue was actually counterfeit or printed from Government plates. It was finally decided by a jury that the issue was counterfeit, although some reputable experts swore that it was printed from the Government plates.

"When you look at it a moment, it is not nearly so wonderful that a teller should detect a bad note as that a proof reader should detect bad spelling. It is only another instance of the trained eye. The expert mechanic sees things at a glance that an ordinary observer would not notice. This is particularly true of all kinds of artistic work. The artist sees the defect and can hardly describe it in words, although he may be able to correct it. Some years ago there used to be men travelling about the country teaching the art of detecting counterfeit money. But anybody who knew how to put them to the test could often show that their boasted skill was of little value compared with that of the shrewd bank teller in the habit of handling large amounts of money, who could not tell why he threw out the bad note, but yet could throw it out with almost unfailing accuracy."—New York Sun.

Died From the Effects.

ERIN, Jan. 14.—John Hunter, son of late William Hunter, of 4th line, Caledon, while attending to his duties as brakesman on board a train, leaving Montreal, fell off the train through breaking of the chain, when the wheels went over him, cutting one of his legs off above the ankle. He was taken to the Montreal hospital, where he died. He was 27 years old. His father once owned Dufferin Lake.

A French Trial.

A French indictment is very different from the harsh, formal document presented in all Canadian trials. The public prosecutor prepares it; and, like the examination of the prisoner, it is very discursive. It does not go far back, perhaps, into the pedigree of a prisoner's ancestors, but this is probably because proof of hereditary traits might tell against the prosecution. But it does go, as far as possible, into every unfavorable detail of his existence, from the time he put a pin into the school teacher's chair, and proved his innate cruelty by holding up a kitten by the tail. The panorama of his life is unfolded, sometimes with cold and steely accuracy, at other times in a sensational novelette style that makes the story quite piquant reading. What is done in this country by the newspapers in hunting up a criminal's history, is done in France by the police, and the public prosecutor supplies the suggestion ready-made for the press. With a system of police espionage that takes in every individual of the community, high and low, it is not difficult in France to trace out individual history, especially with the hints that even the most astute criminal can hardly avoid giving, under marvellous cross-questioning.

But a French trial is the most amazing feature of French justice. The Court of Assize consists of three magistrates, a presiding judge and a jury. The president of the court, instead of being presumably ignorant, or at least indifferent to the case; and prepared to hold the scales of justice impartially between the prisoner and the State, has informed himself of the charges in advance, and with his mind apparently made up that the prisoner is guilty, proceeds to get the jury into a similar frame of mind. He virtually acts as a conductor in the prosecution. Having before him the statement of each witness previously taken, he questions them as to this or that point not satisfactorily brought out, in his judgment, by the volunteer evidence.

"A Free Trip Around the World."

The absorbing topic of the day is a Free Trip around the World offered by "The Home Fascinator" Pub. Co., to the person sending the largest number of words constructed from letters contained in the sentence "GOD SAVE THE QUEEN," and found in either Webster's or Worcester's Dictionary. The publishers have arranged with the C.P.R. General Pass Agent, Mr. D. McNicholl, for the trip by their new palatial steamer, leaving on its famous globe circling excursion on March 15th next. Also in order of merit, additional prizes of: A free trip to Florida; Silver Tea Sets, Sewing Machines, Lady's or Gent's 14k. Gold Watch, etc. Everyone whose list contains not less than twenty five words will receive a prize. Enclose them 50 cents to pay for a grand Premium Catalogue, Complete Rules, and a six months' trial subscription to their beautifully illustrated family paper. As the successful Competitor may not care to make the extensive trip offered, the publishers offer the option of $1,000 in cash. Contest open to any person in Canada or the United States. If more than one correct answer is received, the one bearing the earliest postmark will be awarded the leading prize, the others following in order of merit.

THE QUESTIONS.—The Beautiful month of September. A deep, wide, rapid flowing river, whose bank on the North is high, steep, and rocky. Perched upon a point of the high bank, is a city surrounded by walls, and defended by a brave army under a brave general. Fleets of war-ships have for months held the river below and vainly sought to force the surrender of the city. One dark night soldiers from the ships scramble up the steep bank, and with their General, gain the plain above. The morning light reveals to the garrison of the city, its enemy ready for attack. A fierce battle ensues. The generals of both armies die from wounds received. The city is captured. 1. Give the names of the river, city and generals. 2. What nations were represented by the two armies? 3. Which army formed the garrison of the city? 4. By what name is the fierce battle known? 5. In what year did these things happen? 6. What was the result of the capture of the city?

The answers to the above questions must be accompanied by $1.00 for a year's subscription to THE QUEEN. The Young People's Department of THE QUEEN, is devoted solely to entertaining and instructing the youth of Canada. The popularity of "Uncle Joe," who has charge of this Department is demonstrated by the fact that he receives daily, from sixty to one hundred letters and puzzles for publication from young people residing in all parts of the globe.

SPECIAL DAILY PRIZE.—Each day during this Competition, either a First-class Stem Winding Nickel Watch, a good time keeper, or an Elegant Silver Dessert Set, (Cream and Sugar) value $8.00, will be awarded to the person from whom the first correct answers to above questions are received at THE QUEEN office, and opened; for that day.

The history of our Country should interest every loyal Canadian. If you are a little rusty on this subject, take down your old school history, study up and join THE QUEEN'S "National History School."

The distribution of rewards will be in the hands of disinterested persons, and decisions will be based on the correctness of the answers. Competitors can use their own language in wording their answers.

Answers may be sent in any time before April 10th, but as postmarks may count in awarding the leading prizes, it is better to send as early as possible. No correction can be made after your answers are mailed.

Every one answering the entire six question correctly, will receive a present.

If you have never seen a copy of THE QUEEN, send four 3c. stamps for a late number containing full particulars of all THE QUEEN'S Competitions, and letters from persons who have received over $10,000 in prizes during the past year. We intend distributing prizes to the value of $25,000 during 1891.

Our National History Competition is entirely separate and distinct from any other Contest offered by THE QUEEN, and all communications concerning it, must be addressed

The New Council's Policy.

The new council is of the opinion that all that can be done to emancipate labour should be done as speedily as possible. It is useless to build houses and to promote charities when good and true men are in need of work. Charity is like poison to a brave and willing worker. He wants work but work cannot be given him if you tax the product of his industry. Increase the taxes and work will soon be a crime. Tax wilful idlers if need be, but not the ready worker. How can the affairs of this country be managed if all are not taxed? By taking the rent from public land and using it for public purposes, or in other words, by taking from private lands the public's share instead of giving it to private owners. What is the business-tax? It is simply a shift that is being made to relieve the over-taxed merchants who will stand the burden no longer. The merchants say that they do not wish to pay private owners a bonus for locking up land, and that the bonus must go to the public treasury. They refuse to pay the landlord rent and a buying price as well. Hear the great orator upon the Single Tax next Wednesday evening in the Opera House. Seats reserved for ladies and their escorts. Admission free. The Mayor will preside.

THE MERRY MASQUERADE.

Over Twelve Hundred People at the Rink.

A Highly Successful Carnival—Splendid Prizes Eagerly Contested For—Two Good Costumes in the Crowd.

The most successful carnival held for years past was that under the auspices of Court Peterborough, No. 29, Canadian Order of Foresters, Friday night. In point of attendance, the number and variety of handsome costumes, and the brilliancy and splendor of the scene, it surpassed its predecessors for many seasons back. Tuesday night's success augurs well for future carnivals to be given by the Foresters, who in this, as in all their undertakings, earned most creditable renown.

No pains were spared to make the rink attractive. An additional electric light was put over the ice, while the galleries and their supports and the space overhead were gay with festoons and branches of evergreen, flags, bunting, mottoes, etc. There was a great variety of mottoes, and at intervals around the galleries were deer's heads, emblems of the Order. At the north end of the gallery was a full sized fawn set in a clump of evergreens. The effect of the decorations was charming and exceedingly pleasing to the eyes of the hundreds of spectators and skaters who thronged the rink. The pageant on the ice was well worth seeing; there was such a variety of costumes, rich and plain, gorgeous and humble, fantastic and sombre, representing about every known character and nation on earth, and a great many not known, that the eye never tired of watching the kaleidoscopic scene. There were over 150 maskers on the ice, the ladies being slightly in the minority, though, as usual, they wore more elaborate costumes than the gentlemen. The splendid music by the band lent added charm to the occasion.

The judges, Mr. and Mrs. Fortye, Mr. and Mrs. Greatrex, and Mr. and Mrs. McFarlane Wilson, occupied a bower at one side of the rink, from which the results were announced. The decisions met with general approval in every instance.

The refreshment room, managed by Messrs. Hooper and Long, was a most appreciated convenience.

Much interest centred in the guessing contest. Each ticket was provided with a coupon, on which every holder might write down his guess of the number of tickets taken in at the door. The first prize, a beautiful large album, was won by Mr. E. A. Sanderson, of Cavan, and second prize, two volumes Geo. Macdonald's Works, was awarded to Mr. Albert Hunter, of Springville. Both bit exactly on the correct number, 1220, and drew for first and second prizes, winning in the order named.

The Foresters will make a nice sum out of the carnival. The receipts at the door were $107.64, and a great number of tickets were sold outside. They deserve the success they won, for the carnival was exceedingly well managed and "boomed".

Following is a list of the costumers, taken from the cards handed in at the door. There were a number who forgot to leave their cards:—

An Important New Railway Enterprise.

The Peterborough & Sault Ste Railway Company Organized—Provisional Directors Elected.

Success begets success. Peterborough has the best railway facilities of any town in the country, but that fact does not contra-indicate an improvement, and one of the most important railway enterprise is represented by the Peterborough & Sault Ste Marie Railway, for whose promotion practical steps have been taken,—at a meeting of the promoters of the scheme, held on Thursday night at the office of Messrs. Hall & Hayes, to further the enterprise, the necessary steps have been taken to secure a charter, which will doubtless be obtained at the coming session of the Dominion Parliament.

The company was organized and the following officers elected:

PRESIDENT—John Burnham, Q.C.
VICE-PRESIDENT—Thomas Cahill.
TREASURER—E. A. Morrow.
SECRETARY—E. H. D. Hall.
PROVISIONAL DIRECTORS—Messrs. James Stevenson, M.P., J. R. Stratton, M.PP., John Barnham, Q.C., T. Cahill, E. A. Morrow, W. H. Moore, R. S. Davidson and E. H. D. Hall.
SOLICITORS—Hall & Hayes.

Messrs. John Barnham, E. H. D. Hall, and W. H. Moore were appointed a committee to draft a bill and to take the necessary steps to secure a charter. The EXAMINER has already pointed out the great advantage to Peterborough and the rich country along the proposed that would result from the construction of the road. As is generally known, the line will run from some good harbor on Lake Ontario, through Peterborough, northward via Bobcaygeon and through the districts intervening to Sault Ste. Marie. This line will make a direct outlet to the lake navigation, and make one of the important connecting links between the seaboard and the inexhaustible traffic resources of the yet infant North-West. This line will give Peterborough the advantage of the passage of this immense traffic through the town, while the districts through which it will pass, being unserved by railways for wide distances on each side of this line, will also receive benefit that can only be faintly estimated. The local promoters of the line are among our most enterprising citizens, and the project will not suffer at their hands from lack of pushing.

St. Andrew's Church.

Annual Congregational Meeting of the "Auld Kirk."

The annual meeting of the congregation of St. Andrew's Church was held Friday night. Tea was served by the Ladies' Aid Society from six to eight o'clock in the school room. The meeting, at which there was a good attendance, was most harmonious throughout, in pleasant contrast to the last annual meeting.

Rev. Wm. White opened with devotional exercises.

Mr. Robert Tully was appointed chairman and Mr. T. H. Best secretary.

After the reading and confirmation of minutes of the last annual and special meetings, the chairman of the Board of Managers read the financial statement, which was adopted.

The statement showed total expenditures of $3,960, of this amount over a thousand dollars being extraordinary expenditure for grant to Rev. Mr. Bell and repairs to church. The receipts showed an overdrawn bank account of $2,906.85.

Messrs. J. W. King and T. Fitzgerald being the retiring managers, both were re-elected, and Mr. John McClelland was elected manager in place of Mr. R. W. Grubbe, resigned. Dr. Bell and Mr. A. McFarlane resumed their places on the board.

Mr. McClelland was re-elected representative on the Nicholls Hospital Board.

Messrs. R. W. Grubbe and J. J. Douglass were appointed auditors, and the meeting adjourned.

In Reciprocal Rapport.

The states of all organs and functions are in reciprocal rapport or proportion. Weak organs cannot put forth powerful functions, or slow organs quick functions. Had man been created a purely mental being, he would have needed no body; but we see man as a compound being, composed of mind and body. This mind and body are closely interrelated, and mischief or disease in one is sure to affect the other.

How extremely necessary then to preserve ourselves mentally and physically from disease. If the brain is tired and wearied, remember that the body will soon feel the effects. The nerves are perhaps weak and unstrung; be assured that this will bring on some grave malady, from which you may suffer severely. Keep both brain, nerves and body in such a harmonious state of working that disease cannot lay hold. To secure this desired state use Paine's Celery Compound when out-of-sorts. By its timely use you avoid trouble and suffering, and add years to your existence.

Dreadful Psoriasis.

Covering Entire Body with White Scales. Suffering Fearful. Cured by Cuticura.

My diseases (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and to cover my face. It ran into my eyes and my physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight; thereafter. It spread all over my head, and my body all but out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scales fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and bleed and very itchy, and would break and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. MRS. R. PROPOSED INTER-COLONIAL CUSTOMS UNION OF COLONIES.

Great Britain Said to Have Approached Canada on the Question of Granting Enlarged Powers to the Several Colonies With a View to Increasing Her Markets.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The British Government is understood to be sounding Canada on the subject of an intercolonial customs convention that would take in all the British colonies of North America and the West Indies. At present Canada and the West Indian colonies have no right to adopt such a convention without the authority of the British Parliament. This authority was bestowed on the Australasian colonies, including New Zealand and Tasmania, in 1873; and Canada and the West Indies, while no formal proposition has been made to them, have had an intimation that if they ask they will receive. Great Britain fears the effect of recent American legislation on Canada and is doing her best to find new markets for the produce of that country. It may be mentioned here that Australasia is fast assuming a place of power among the nations, and that the new Australian fleet is rapidly approaching completion. The gunboats Boomerang and Karrakatta will be finished this year and will rendezvous at Malta, where they will await the arrival of the three cruisers Katoomba, Mildura and Wallaroo. The Australians, like the Americans, take native names for their vessels, in preference to the ponderous adjectives and nouns selected for British men-of-war. It may also be mentioned that England is not expending much of her military strength on Canada, having only 1400 troops there as against 27,000 thought necessary to guard Ireland.

THE KOCH LYMPH.

The Disclosure of its Compounding a Disappointment.

BERLIN, Jan. 18. — Dr. Koch's explanation of his lymph is not likely to make the manufacture general. Indeed, the weight of medical opinion so far expressed is that the manufacture should remain under Dr. Koch's supervision at least until the character and effects of the remedy shall be more thoroughly understood. Dr. Koch's journey to Egypt is said to be promoted by a desire to further investigate leprosy, to which disease he has already given some attention. There is distinct disappointment over the defective character of his statement regarding the composition of the lymph, especially the studied reticence concerning some parts of the process of production. The weight of German, Austrian and English medical opinion supports the belief in the healing virtues of the lymph. Prof. Virchow is understood to have modified his unfavorable view. The evidence from every quarter when compared demonstrates that though the remedy has failed in many cases it has an undoubted effective ameliorating effect in early phthisis tubercles of the larynx and lupus.

THE SNOWSTORM IN EUROPE.

Heavy Snowfalls in France, Italy and Spain—Algerians Starving to Death.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Heavy snowstorms prevail at Bordeaux and Perigueux. Traffic of all kinds is suspended in those neighborhoods. All rivers in the department of Dordogne are frozen. Wolves are ravaging the sheep pens in the villages. Farms in Pontarlier are isolated from all communication. Several deaths from cold are reported in the department of Cher.

NAPLES, Jan. 18.—An unprecedented snowstorm which set in yesterday and continued throughout the night still rages. Ordinary street traffic has been suspended. The weather throughout Spain is extremely cold. In the Malaga district jackals are playing sad havoc with the flocks and are appearing in such numbers that they are terrifying the peasants. The snow in the northern sections of the country is already five feet deep in many places.

ALGIERS, Jan. 17.—About a week ago information reached the city of Tlemcan that the inhabitants of Sebden, a small town in the Province of Orau, were snowed up beyond escape and were slowly starving to death. Their stock of provisions had run out before the bearer of the news reached Tlemcan and it was said the horses, mules, and even the few camels there were being killed for food. The inhabitants of Sebdon depended almost entirely upon convoys of provisions from larger towns, and the stock kept on hand was comparatively small. The military authorities of Tlemcan immediately sent a quantity of provisions under the escort of troops to relieve the sufferers at Sebdon. The convoy a day or so later was snowed up in the Tarterney Pass and it was some time before the authorities at Tlemcan learned of its danger. An additional force of troops was then sent from Tlemcan to relieve the snowed-up troops and assist the convoy in pushing on to Sebdon. Jan. 15 it was announced the convoy had been extricated by the second detachment. To-day information was received that the attempt to provision Sebdon had failed, that the district was hopelessly snowed up and that the troops were still striving to open communication with Sebdon. Grave apprehensions are felt as to the fate of the inhabitants of Sebdon. The French African troops, unaccustomed to such severe weather, make but poor headway in fighting their way through the snow and are suffering terribly from the cold.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Despatches from Germany say a strong gale is blowing in Cuxhaven. The Austrian railways are partly blocked. Large stocks of provisions are snowbound and the prices of food have advanced. Advices from Vienna say railroad communication with Temesvar, Hungary, has been stopped owing to the great depth of the snow northward of that place. The ports of Lubeck and Rostock are again closed by ice, and Kiel is shut in by drift ice. At Hamburg the cold has become more intense and the river is full of drift ice, which is greatly increasing the difficulty of navigation. At Brauerhaven there is much drift ice, but it prevents no obstacle to navigation.

CANEA, Crete, Jan. 18.—Four men, arrested for the murder and robbery of a German naturalist, Dr. Reinsch, who had been making a scientific tour of Crete, were convicted here to-day. The leader of the gang was sentenced to death, and the others received long terms of imprisonment.

Captured a Harem.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Advices from Senegal in West Africa state that Commander Archinard at the head of the French troops has routed the remnant of the Sultan of PARNELL AT TRALEE.

HIS ALLUSION TO THE ROTTEN ENGLISH WHIGS.

Is John Dillon to Lead the Nationalist Party?—A Platform on Which Healy is Speaking Collapses, the Props Having Been Sawn Through.

CORK, Jan. 18.—Mr. Parnell was the principal speaker at a mass meeting held by his adherents to-day. He met with an enthusiastic reception. In the course of his remarks he said that he was still young enough to fight the battle and that he would continue to distrust "the rotten English Whig party!" Timothy and Edward Harrington and Mahony also addressed the meeting. Mr. Parnell and party were escorted to the station by a procession of torchbearers as they were leaving Cork for Athlone.

TRALEE, Jan. 18.—Mr. Parnell was received here with neglect, groans and cheers. Replying to addresses presented to him he said that he had done his part toward the solution of the Irish problem when he had the conference with Mr. O'Brien, and the subsequent delay in arriving at a settlement of the difficulty was entirely the fault of others. He had made up his own mind on the subject within 24 hours after the first interview with O'Brien. He was ignorant as to what action his trembling and vacillating opponents had decided upon, but if no solution was found the fault would not be his. In an interview, Parnell declared there was not a word of truth in the report that he would retire unconditionally if Mr. O'Brien was satisfied, that Liberal leaders in that case would promptly declare their Home Rule scheme. Mr. Parnell said that if Mr. Gladstone had the courage to make a big, instead of little, Home Rule bill he (Parnell) would look forward with confidence to his own retirement, knowing well that Ireland would no longer need his leadership. Mr. Parnell declared that Sir William Vernon Harcourt would succeed Mr. Gladstone as Liberal leader, and that the Irish members could not recognize the leadership of such a man unless they were assured beyond doubt that they would get an acceptable Home Rule measure.

The Platform Collapsed.

DUBLIN, Jan. 18.—Timothy Healy and Arthur O'Connor, M.P., were in Monstrum, Longford County, to-day, it having been arranged for them to deliver addresses there. Shortly after the meeting began the speakers' platform collapsed. Mr. Healy was severely shaken up, but none of those on the platform were seriously injured. Mr. Healy in his dress accused the Parnellites of having "sawn the prop" with the intention of killing their opponents.

IS DILLON THE MAN?

A Report that O'Brien will Return to America if Dillon is Elected Leader.

DUBLIN, Jan. 18.—The announcement is made here that in the event of Mr. John Dillon being designated as the new leader of the Irish party, Mr. William O'Brien will promptly revisit the United States, where he will resume the work of arousing the Irish Americans to further efforts in behalf of the Mother Land—a work which was interfered with by recent political complications.

At a private meeting of the National Committee yesterday, Mr. Healy in the chair, it was decided to form a National Federation and to invite branches of the National League opposing Parnell to affiliate themselves and be controlled by a council of 61 members. Of these members 17 are to be nominated by the McCarthyite Parliamentary party, 12 by the central body, and 32 by the county organizations. A sub-committee was appointed to give the project definite shape.

Timothy Harrington has sued The Insuppressible for libel, the newspaper having printed that he did not promptly forward funds intended for the relief of evicted tenants.

At Waterford yesterday the McCarthyites proposed to hold a meeting in the Town Hall for the purpose of establishing a branch of the National League. The Parnellites got wind of their intention, and, headed by the Mayor, took possession of the Town Hall and barred out their opponents, who were obliged to hold a meeting elsewhere.

PROCESSION AT EDINBURGH.

A Monster Demonstration in Sympathy with the Strikers.

EDINBURGH, Jan. 18—A monster procession of trades' unionists, estimated to have been composed of about 30,000 men, marched through the streets of this city yesterday, in sympathy with the railroad employes who are on strike. The processionists behaved in the most orderly manner and were enthusiastically cheered by tens of thousands of people who lined the streets along the line of march. The different trade divisions were headed by brass bands, bagpipes or fife and drum corps, while banners bearing such mottoes as "No Surrender," "Fight for Your Rights," "Fair Pay for a Fair Day's Work," were carried above the heads of the marching trades' unionists. There seems to be no prospect of an early termination of Scotland's great railroad strike. This is the end of the fourth week of the trouble.

GLASGOW, Jan. 18.—The Southwestern Railway employes having refused to rejoin the strikers the men are losing heart and gradually returning to work.

Canadian Railway Securities Strong.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Money was abundant during the past week and there was no demand for discount. On the stock exchange the expansion of business continues and in most departments there has been a sharp upward movement with a healthy amount of investments especially in first-class securities. Canadian railway securities were strong.

On the Paris bourse during the week prices were firm and the market showed an upward tendency.

At Berlin quotations on the bourse were irregular during the week. The market was rather dull.

At Frankfort business was limited during the past week, but the market showed a favorable tone.

Plews' Flour Mills Burned.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The east end flour mills, the property of William Plews, were totally destroyed by fire at 7 o'clock this morning. Loss $19,500, insured in the Millers' Mutual for $3000 and Citizens' for $4000.

FATAL GAS EXPLOSIONS.

ILLUMINATING GAS CLAIMS MANY VICTIMS

And Wrecks a Hotel at Findley, Ohio—An Explosion of a Sewer Manhole on a Crowded Chicago Street Kills a Woman and Maims Others.

FINDLAY, Ohio, Jan. 18.—Shortly before noon to-day, while the guests of the Hotel Marvin were waiting to be summoned to dinner, a terrible explosion of natural gas occurred. A leak had been discovered in the cellar early in the day, and a hole made in the dining-room floor to admit fresh air.

Just as the hole was made one of the dining-room girls, who was sweeping the floor, stepped upon a match, and in an instant an explosion occurred, which not only wrecked the building, but killed two girls and maimed and injured a dozen other employes. The force of the explosion was so great that it blew out the ignited gas and no fire followed the awful ruin which the shock caused. The whole city rocked as if by an earthquake by the concussion, and all the windows on the square were demolished, while the wreck of the hotel building was all but complete, the only rooms in the house escaping destruction being the parlors and the office. Had the explosion occurred 10 minutes later the loss of life would have been frightful, as nearly 100 people were waiting in the rooms to be called to dinner.

The Dead.

KATE WALTERS, waitress, killed outright.

ELLA JOHNSON, a dining-room girl, was found alive under a mass of brick and mortar, but she died shortly afterward.

The Injured.

KATE ROONEY, another dining room girl, was fatally injured and is still alive.

FRANK FOUNDSTONE, day clerk, painfully bruised and cut about neck and face, but will recover.

ANSON MARVIN, owner of the building, who was with the plumbers under the dining-room floor when the explosion occurred, was probably fatally injured, as a great deal of the flame from the gas was inhaled.

ALBERT FRENCH, porter of the hotel, seriously but not fatally hurt.

FRANK ANDRE, one of the proprietors, had his right eye knocked out and is badly bruised.

The three plumbers were painfully hurt, but not seriously. The loss is about $35,000, covered by insurance.

A Sewer Manhole Explodes in Chicago With Fatal Results.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—With a crash heard for a mile and smashing plate glass windows for a radius of three blocks a sewer manhole exploded last evening at the intersection of Jackson-street and Wabash-avenue when both thoroughfares were crowded with people. Dozens of persons were thrown from their feet by the force of the explosion and a wild panic ensued. A number were injured by falling glass. In the crowd were many women. Mrs. C. R. Cross (colored) was killed outright. She was stepping nearly upon the manhole when the cover flew up and was slammed backward against the curbing. Her skull was split open and her brains were scattered about in a circle. One of C. M. Stool's hands was nearly severed from the arm. Some attribute the explosion to sewer gas, others think illuminating gas pipes sprang a leak and the electric light wires caused the gas to ignite. A similar explosion, with hardly less disastrous results, occurred a year ago, in almost the same locality.

An Inhuman Brute.

OIL CITY, Jan. 18.—John Doblin, aged 30, living with his father in the township of Enniskillen, seduced Emma Bullock, aged 15. The girl's father became acquainted with the facts and had the animal arrested, but the matter was hushed up by his giving the girl a mortgage for $500 on his farm adjoining that of his father. Doblin professed a great love for the girl and stated his desire to make reparation by marrying her, which he did (Rev. R. McCosh of Petrolia performing the ceremony), his sole object being to rob the poor girl of the mortgage and then desert her. After the marriage was over the unlucky bride and her wily groom went to Sarnia, and whilst there he secured the girl's signature to certain documents releasing the mortgage; then, raising as much money as he could on the farm, he absconded, leaving his young bride heart-broken. It is believed the scoundrel has gone to his sister, Mrs. Jonathan Perkins, whose husband owns a fruit farm near El Kajou, Santiago county, California.

Gone After Macguire.

WINDSOR, Jan. 18.—Detective McDonnell of Detroit and Policeman Nash of Windsor left yesterday for Denver, Col., to aid the prosecution in the extradition of James Macguire, alias "Cap." Roach, who will be brought to Detroit to stand trial for the robbery of the Union ticket office, Aug. 6, 1890. At the time of the robbery Macguire was living in Windsor. Shortly afterwards Macguire was arrested, charged with a heinous crime, and sent to the Kingston Penitentiary for five years. He escaped from there about four months ago, and turned up at Denver Col., Sept. 16, where a pal was shot while they were blowing a safe.

Killed His Son-in-Law.

CHATTANOOGA, Jan. 18.—Judge J. A. Warder, city attorney, a prominent politician and a man of wealth, went home yesterday drunk and shot his daughter, Mrs. Fugette, wife of Mr. Fugette of the South Chattanooga Savings Bank, the ball lodging in the right thigh. Her husband pulled a revolver and shot the judge in the breast. The latter than fired killing his son-in-law instantly. Judge Warder will die. The shooting was done in a crazy drudk.

Preferred Links to Locks.

CORNWALL, Jan. 18.—Peter Bergeron left rather hurriedly for the Eastern States and returned about a week ago. No sooner had he landed in Cornwall than the father of the girl he had seduced swore out a warrant for his arrest and he was committed to jail. Yesterday the matter was settled, it may be presumed satisfactory to all parties, by Bergeron marrying the girl.

$300,000 Fire at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Jan. 18.—Walbridge & Co.'s extensive wholesale and retail cutlery and hardware store, a large five-story building, was burned to the ground at 2½ this morning. The fire lasted less than 20 minutes and in that time destroyed property valued at about $300,000.

Landslide on the Northern Pacific.

TACOMA, Jan. 18.—A disastrous landslide occurred on the line of the Northern Pacific last night at Palmera, 48 miles from this city. A mountain of earth and dirt now covers the road for a distance of over 300 yards and travel has been completely shut off.

New Hampshire's Earthquake.

NASHUA, N.H., Jan. 16.—A severe shock of earthquake was felt in Pepperell and adjoining towns last evening between 5 and 6 clock. The vibrations caused an alarming sensation.

Lost His Hand.

STRATFORD, Jan. 16.—Chris. McLellan, gang boss in the G.T.R. shops, fell from an engine yesterday and his left hand alighted across the rail and was crushed to a jelly. The hand was subsequently amputated.

The Algiers Earthquake.

ALGIERS, Jan. 18.—Further details of the destruction wrought by the severe earthquake in Algiers reported on the 15th inst. have been received here. The towns of Gouraya and Villebourg were practically destroyed by the shocks and 40 persons were killed by the falling of walls. The amount of damage done to property is estimated at £30,000.

Died of His Injuries.

VIENNA, Jan. 18.—Saidullah Pasha, the Turkish Ambassador to Austria, who on Thursday last attempted to commit suicide in this city, died to-day from his self-inflicted injuries.

Particulars of the Wreck of the Brig Lantana With All Hands.

HALIFAX, N.S., Jan. 18.—St. John's, Newfoundland, papers give particulars of the loss of the P.E.I. brigantine Lantana with all hands at Shag Rock near St. Johns. She had a cargo of hard coal from New York for St. John's and was driven ashore under a cliff over 250 feet high in the tremendous hurricane which ranged along the coast on the last day of the year. Three bodies were washed ashore, one supposed to be the captain, a passenger and a sailor.

THE PRINCIPAL FLED.

A Passionate Teacher Causes the Death of Three of His Pupils.

KINGFISHER, O.T., Jan. 18.—There is trouble at the Kiowa Indian School at Anadorko, Wichita Agency. On the 9th instant the principal of the school punished a Kiowa pupil for misconduct. The boy persuaded two other Indian pupils to run away from the school with him. The lads were found Sunday frozen to death, one 10 years of age being 20 miles from school. The two others, three or four years older, were found within the next 10 miles. It is supposed the boys lost their way in a heavy snowstorm. When the principal learned of the boys' fate, fearing the vengeance of the Indians, he fled and has not since been heard from.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Jan. 18.—The Police Magistrate on Saturday gave the suspected crook, Frank Forsythe, 24 hours in which to leave the city.

A meeting of local mathematicians was held at the library of the Education Department on Saturday for the purpose of taking preliminary steps towards the formation of a mathematical and physical association of the province.

William Lavin, residing at 109 Jarvis-street, had locked up everything securely at 1½ yesterday morning and was about going to bed when two men, issuing suddenly from the basement, faced him as he was crossing the hall. One of them presented a revolver under his nose and intimated in a quick, jerky manner that should Mr. Lavin not hand over everything he had blood would be spilt. Lavin, thus urged, went down into his pocket and gave his visitors some $6, all he had. They thought this a very small allowance, and to even up matters they also expropriated his watch. At a late hour last night Detective McGrath arrested James Curran of 188 Berkeley-street as one of the marauders.

A Man Should Not Swear at His Employer.

AYLMER, Jan. 18.—Judge Hughes held Division Court at Aylmer yesterday. The jury case of Newell v. Best occupied most of the day. Plaintiff sued the defendant for wages on a contract for six months. Plaintiff left before the end of the term for the reason that the defendant used to swear so at him he could not endure it. During the progress of the trial the judge remarked that there was a moral side to the question and no man had a right to swear at his servant. The jury brought in a verdict for plaintiff for the full amount claimed.

A Warning that Comes from a Manitoba Town.

NEEPAWA, Jan. 18.—Shortly after dinner yesterday the family of Mr. Peters, baker, were taken violently sick and soon became unconscious. Dr. McFadden was summoned, and after several hours' hard work succeeded in getting his patients sufficiently recovered to be able to leave them, although by no means out of danger. The symptoms pointed to narcotic poisoning, and from Mrs. Peters it was learned that the rest of the family had partaken largely of some prunes. The prunes were analysed by a chemist and were found to contain hydrocyanic acid. Had the doctor been a few minutes later in arriving it would have been impossible to have saved the lives of those affected. As it is, some may die.

New Tipperary's Plight.

DUBLIN, Jan. 18.—The news from New Tipperary is far from encouraging. Those who entered into the fight there against the abuses of landlordism may be said to have surrendered, after being thoroughly beaten by the enemy. The completeness of the victory gained by the landlords may be judged from the fact that all the stores in New Tipperary, and all the stalls in the former business thoroughfare known as O'Brien's Arcade, with the exception of three, are either permanently closed or in the hands of the bailiffs, the latter having seized them for debt.

Into the Depths.

NEW HAMBURG, Jan. 18.—Mrs. J. Reuter, whose husband recently died, was nearly killed Thursday. Her house took fire from the cooking stove, gradually smouldering the floor until the stove was precipitated into the cellar. Mrs. Reuter was absent during the night, and on opening the door, discovering the smoke, she went towards where the stove stood and fell through the burnt hole into the cellar. Neighbors, hearing her cries, rescued her and soon extinguished the fire.

Scalded to Death.

OTTAWA, Jan. 18.—The two-year-old child of Onesime Benson of St. Andre Ovelin pulled over a big pot of turnips which its mother had put on to boil as food for the pigs, and died in a few minutes.

Fatally Frozen.

WELLAND, Jan. 18.—John Ford, who has been missing from the Industrial Home, was found near Grimsby in a half-frozen condition and taken to the St. Catharines hospital. He will die.

The Dead.

George Bancroft, the venerable historian, died at his home in Washington on Saturday. He had been sick only two days and was on the streets but three days ago. He was in his 91st year.

Miss Lillian Owen of Sol Smith Russell's company, who was journeying eastward from San Francisco to wed Charles Kent of Stuart Robeson's company, died in Chicago yesterday after a short illness. Like Emma Abbott, she was taken with pneumonia at Salt Lake, but had temporarily better fortune than the famous opera singer and managed to continue to travel until reaching Chicago. Miss Owen was a bright little soubret. She was 24 years old.

Paris' Latest Sensation.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—A sensation has been caused here by the discovery that Gabrielle Bompard the convicted accomplice of Eyrand in the murder of the notary Gouffe, is five months advanced in pregnancy. The woman has been in prison a year and the discovery of her condition is expected to lead to some startling revelations in regard to conduct of the prison officials.

Three Coasters Killed.

APPLETON, Wis., Jan. 18.—A party of ten young people were coasting last night on Lowe street hill and across a bridge. The sled suddenly veered on the bridge, ran into the railing, which gave way, and the party was hurled into the river below. Emma Adsett was instantly killed and Mary Carey and James Briggs drowned.

"Why Farming Does Not Pay."

Paper Read at the Keene Meeting of the East Peterborough Farmers' Institute.

The following paper was read at the Keene meeting of the East Riding Farmers' Institute by Mr. John Lancaster, and was so highly thought of by the Agricultural College deputation, that they requested its publication entire, and it is thus given below :—

It is with a great want of confidence in myself that I attempt to approach such a momentous subject as, Why does farming not pay?

When I look around upon the farmers assembled here to discuss farm topics, farmers who have grown old, and comparatively wealthy, by tilling the soil, men who are infinitely more able than I am to do justice to the subject of, "Why does farming not pay"? for it is men with experience, coupled with thought and energy, who are the successful farmers of to-day.

Just look about as you drive through the country, and you will see that the successful farmer is the man who makes his occupation his thought and study, and has energy and brains to direct it. But I hope to learn something from others, or I would not have brought this subject before this meeting.

I think most us have come to believe that farming does not pay, from hearing the cry wherever we go, and that without giving it a thought that it is mostly our own fault that farming farming does not pay; for where would we be, or what would have become of most of us, if farming had not paid us? If we would only be true to ourselves and our calling, I am sure we can make farming pay, and I know that we are of the right kind of stuff to do it—if we will only try.

The first reason I will give, Why does farming not pay, and most of our other operations hange on it, is, we try to till too much land. If we would till one-third less land each year, and do it better, we would be richer at the year's end, and the third we did not try to till would always grow something, either hay or pasture, and we would be richer still by what this one-third would grow. Let us always remember that if our work begins to drive us, our season's work is almost a failure, and the very elements will seem to fight against us if we once get behind.

It is just the same with hoe crops, we nearly always plant too much, the weeds get the start of us, and at best our root crop is only half a crop, while our land is dirtier than when we began; while, if we had only sown half the breadth we could have kept them clean and have had as many bushels with less labor.

How many of us consider that one wet day each week is two days lost, as far, almost, as our farming operations are concerned, for after a wet day land is scarcely ever in a fit condition to work next day, and in a month amounts to from eight to ten days, or about one-third of the working days in a month.

Another reason why farming does not pay is keeping too much stock. We should never keep more stock than we can feed well. Half a dozen well fed and comfortably housed animals are worth more than a dozen half-starved, miserable things, and if we starve our stock it will starve us, and our stock will not pay.

Another reason why farming does not pay is: Many of us do not get our land properly prepared in the fall for spring seeding. It is the wide-awake farmer, who has made every acre as nearly ready as he possibly can in the fall for spring seeding, who reaps the bountiful harvest, and it is his neighbor, who has not prepared his land in the fall, who is the man who grumbles and says that farming does not pay.

Another reason why farming does not pay is, we often sow the wrong kind of grain; soils vary so much that we should make it a study which kind of grain will pay best on such a soil, and not sow wheat when we should have sown oats or peas, or oats and peas where we might have grown a good crop of wheat. And in connection with this, I would advise every farmer who has land fit and ready, to sow it with fall wheat, because we cannot compete with the almost boundless wheat fields of the great West and Northwest in growing spring wheat; but they cannot grow fall wheat or very little of those plains, and as it is almost impossible to do without fall wheat flour, we can grow something which they cannot, and for which we can get a fair price.

Another reason why farming does not pay is, we do not seed enough of land to grass each year; if we would seed more and plow oftener we would have better crops, and with far less expense and labor.

Another reason why farming does not pay is, we do not take care of our farm implements and machinery as we should do. How often do we see, while driving along our roads, a costly binder or other implement housed in a fence corner, and only covered with the clouds, until a more convenient time to remove them to the shelter of the barnyard, there to be trampled on by the stock, or perhaps we leave them in the field until we want them next season; in this way thousands of dollars are lost to the farmers of Ontario every year; it is a great pity we cannot see the great loss we suffer in this way, when but a very few dollars would at least put a roof over them; the interest on the loss we annually suffer in this way would, in a few years, build a substantial building for all our implements; and there would be one reason less, why farming does not pay.

Another reason, why farming does not pay, is, we spend, and very often foolishly, too much. None of us like to be behind our neighbours, in our carriages, implements, and so on, and, I am very sorry to say, many of us will rush into debt for a costly article or other luxury, so as to appear the same as our neighbour, who, perhaps, is better able to afford such a luxury than we are, without considering how we are to pay for it.

Brother farmers, when we are tempted to buy something that we think we need, or when we are tempted to buy by the soft, persuasive tongue of an agent some article, for which he tells us he will give us all the time we want; that he does not want the money down; let us bear in mind that it is this giving of time in which to pay, that is the slough in which many of our hopes are sunk forever; if we had had to pay the cash we would not, or could not, have bought; we give a note, it may be, for a few months, it may be for a year, but remember the pay day will surely come, and perhaps we are in a worse position to pay than on the day we bought, and we are not really free men until that note is paid.

Another reason why farming does not pay, (and I might give you dozens of reasons, which are all, or nearly all, traceable to our own want of thought, neglect or foolishness.) And I think the greatest reason of all, is, we do not try to keep our boys and girls on the farm; we do not try in the right way to interest them as we should do in the work of the farm. We all know, or, at least, anyone who has had the care of children, knows, how soon they take a liking to something or other about the farm, it may be a horse, a cow, or gardening, or working among trees, then let us give them a colt, or a calf, to raise as their own, or a piece of ground to till and plant to grow something to sell for themselves. We will be surprised to see how much attention and energy they will bestow on what is their own, and it will not hinder them from helping us all they are able; it would be the means of keeping our boys and girls at home, in keeping them from getting into bad company, or wanting to go to places of amusement that are not fit for them. Let us assist them all we are able, both with advice and example, let us ask their advice on all things possible, it will teach them to have confidence in us and themselves; let us always remember that they are to be the men and women after we are gone. Let us try this plan, I am sure we shall never regret it. In this way we will soon know which of our children will make farmers, and we will send to the professions and trades only such of our children as will never make successful farmers. Let us give our children plenty of good, sound reading matter, and not all of one kind, for what will amuse and instruct one will not always suit the tastes of others. Let us not take from our children what we have once given them, or they will lose confidence in us, and will be sure to leave us as soon as they can. Let us make a home for them that they will never wish to leave, unless it be to make a home for themselves; let us make our homes as attractive as possible for our children; it will be sure to keep them from many of the dangers that beset them while young.

In this way, I am sure, we would keep our children more on the farm and rear a class of boys and girls—boys who would not be ashamed to work, boys who would be a blessings to us; girls who would not be ashamed to leave the piano and help their mothers wash dishes and clean the house; and in a few years we will have a class of farmers and farmers' wives who would make farming pay, and, by their example, would induce others to do the same, and the cry, that farming does not pay, would disappear from the farmers' dictionary forever.

Canada Forever.

We are pleased when we can record Canadian enterprise, backed by sterling worth and character, and this we do in calling the attention of our customers to the handsome illustrated seed catalogue of the Steele Bros. Co., Toronto, which even excels the splendid one of last year, their premises are immense and their business national. They offer the latest novelties in Flowers, Bulbs, Vegetable and Field Seeds, amongst those we notice Steele's White Caven Oats, an astonishing cropper; Campbell's New White Chaff Spring Wheat, which is so highly recommended by the Experimental Farm, Ottawa; Thoroughbred White Flint Corn, highly spoken of by "The Rural New Yorker," and which yielded 20 tons of Ensilage per acre; Burpee's Extra Early Potato, the earliest out. They will for only 25c. send post paid 1 lb. of above oats, or wheat, or corn, or ½ lb. potatoes and a copy of the catalogue. Send now, it will pay you, or send 20c. for catalogue, which may be deducted from first order.

House Treatment of Disease by Electricity.

Every day one hears of some wonderful cure of disease achieved by Electricity. It is coming more into use of late and is now used by many physicians as the greatest remedy in many forms of disease. Until recently the one objection to this form of treatment was the expense attached to it, but the inventions of Mr. C. H. Dorenwend, of Toronto, has simplified matters and it is now an easy accomplishment to treat oneself intelligently and at but small cost. Mr. Dorenwend's inventions consist of a Belt having a battery of a number of cells and suitable attachments to apply the current. The Battery supplies a current of electricity that can be regulated at will; it is conveyed from the battery by conductors to the diseased parts. The whole contrivance is exceedingly well planned, and any person of ordinary intelligence can operate it with ease. It is nature's first remedy for all forms of nervous and muscular disease, and all afflicted persons should take advantage of the opportunity offered by C. H. Dorenwend of procuring suitable appliances. Mr. D. will be at the Grand Central Hotel on Thursday and Friday, Jan. 22 and 23, and will have a full line of Belts and Attachments with him. His stay is limited, as he has many places to visit.

Little Things in Life.

It is strange how often a person's destiny may be decided by a trifle. The slightest circumstance of every-day life, to which we attach no importance whatever, may work for us a destiny we never dreamed of. Truly, little things do wonders; and Beecham's pills are daily performing the most remarkable cures of diseased stomachs and livers. If you suffer from sick-headache, impaired digestion, disordered liver try these pills. w4d

Purify the blood in order to secure good health. The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditary and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

THE DORENWEND ELECTRIC FOOT BATTERY cures Cramps, Rheumatism, Defective Circulation, Cold Feet, &c. Killed by Cuban Bandits.

HAVANA, Jan. 16.—All efforts to subdue the brigandage which terrorizes the plantations of Cuba have so far proved unsuccessful. Manuel Garcia, the bandit chief, continues to levy blackmail and plunder with impunity. His recent narrow escape from capture has not intimidated him or his followers. Yesterday the soldiers came upon a party of his men, when the latter opened fire and killed the lieutenant in command. They then fled to the mountains, distancing all pursuit.

A North Gift.

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—At a meeting of the Senate of the University last night a letter was read from Hon. Edward Blake, offering to subscribe the sum of $30,000 including a previous donation of $10,000, to be applied to the endowment of matriculation scholarships, the holders of which shall be exempt from fees during the tenure of their scholarships. The gift was accepted with thanks.

The funeral of the late John Duck, the well-known hotel-keeper of Humber Bay, took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence and was largely attended by all classes of the community, besides about 100 members of the Orange Order. There were over 200 conveyances, which carried about 600 friends who had turned out to pay the last tribute of respect to the departed. The remains were interred in the family plot at Mimico.

Remarkable Fecundity.

QUEBEC, Jan. 16.—Madame Frenette of Cape Sante has just presented her liege lord with twins, being eight children inside of five years.

Met the Train and Died.

BRAMPTON, Jan. 16.—Joseph Siddall of Burnhamthorpe went to meet the 5 o'clock train at Dixie. When he got home he laid down to rest and almost immediately expired. He was 72 years old.

A Child Badly Burned.

HAMILTON, Jan. 16.—A widow named Mrs. Mawday, living in King William-street, went out washing, leaving her little 8-year-old daughter in charge of the house. While the girl was working near the stove her dress caught fire, and she ran shrieking into the street, where some carpenters threw their coats around her and extinguished the flames, but not before the poor little thing had been badly burned about the body.

Fallen from Grace.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 16.—Rev. J. T. Riley, the Methodist Episcopal minister whose trial by a church committee has been in progress for two weeks, was found guilty today of imprudence and unministerial conduct. The charges were preferred by W. T. Minnick, who alleged that Rev. Mr. Riley had alienated the affections of his wife.

Her Husband was Hanged at Kingston.

OSWEGO, Jan. 16.—Mrs. Louis Leverich died in the City Hospital yesterday at the advanced age of 84 years. Before marriage the second time Mrs. Leverich was a Mrs. Woodruff. Her first husband was one of the band who made a raid into Canada in 1837, where he was captured and hanged at Kingston.

Playing With Fire.

COLLINGWOOD, Jan. 16.—A little 4-year-old daughter of Mr. James McDonald, Sixth-street, in the absence of the parents, was playing with the fire in the stove with the poker, when her clothing took fire, severely burning her head, face and arms. She may recover.

Want Soap Grease on the Free List.

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—J. F. Taylor, Toronto, R. Henry, Brantford, Richards, Woodstock, are now here to-day and interviewed the Treasury Board and asked that soap grease by put on the free list. The matter was taken into consideration.

The Irish Potato Crop.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The Irish Registrar-General, in his report on the potato crop in Ireland, announces that 780,901 acres of potatoes were planted in 1890, as against 787,324 acres in the preceding year, and that the yield had decreased 1,037,153 tons. Of the entire acreage 78.6 had been given up to the potatoes known as "Champions," and the report adds that the farmers placed too much reliance on this variety.

Death in the Washtub

SMITH'S FALLS, Jan. 16.—Mrs. William Olds of Greenbush died very suddenly on Tuesday last. Only a few days before she assisted in doing the family washing and received a slight scratch on the hand which terminated in blood poisoning. Deceased was aged 78 years.

Married 70 Years.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—Yesterday an event of unusual character occurred at the residence of Mr. S. Dadson, it being the 70th anniversary of the marriage of Mrs. Dadson's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Sovereign. Four generations were represented among the guests. Mr. Sovereign is 92 years old and Mrs. Sovereign is 87.

Killed by His Mother

CRAB ORCHARD, Ky., Jan. 15.—Henry Mullins, aged 18, while drunk, began to toss his little sister in the air in a playful manner, when his mother pointed a gun at him and ordered him to desist. In a wrestle for the gun the boy was shot and killed.

With All on Board.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Jan. 15.—The schooner William Paisley has been given up for lost with all on board. She sailed for Fortune Bay, Nov. 24, and has not been heard from since. The crew belonged to Nova Scotia and Cape Breton.

An Important Election.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—It is said that Mr. Gladstone will speak in behalf of the Liberal candidate for the Hartlepool vacancy. A deep interest is felt in this election, the constituency being Liberal. Apart from the Irish Home Rule issue, the Tories and dissenting Liberals are preparing for an active struggle.

"Little Eva's" Death.

FLINT, Mich., Jan. 14.—Maud White, a child actress with Sutton's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company, died here at an early hour this morning in the company's special car. The little girl had appeared as Eva up to Monday night last, when she was taken ill at Lapeer. Rheumatism of the heart was the cause of death.

OHANA HARU.

And Her Wonderful Muscle Feats in New York City.

New York is wholly taken up with the wonderful performances of a Japanese girl of 17 years. The feats appear to justify the wide spread interest, because they are really remarkable. Hence they are entitled to more respectful consideration than the mere tricks of jugglers, because they are honest tricks, and depend in no way for their success upon the bewilderment or lack of penetration in the spectator. It is wholly an education of the muscles, and as such it does come about as near a pure science as anything that can be thought of that isn't pure science. One must speak of it as juggling because there isn't any other name by which it can be called, but it isn't juggling in the usual acceptance of the word. It would be a matter of interest to know the

God Save The Queen.

The absorbing topic of the day is a Free Trip around the World offered by "The Home Fascinator" Pub. Co., to the person sending the largest number of words constructed from letters contained in the sentence "GOD SAVE THE QUEEN," and found in either Webster's or Worcester's Dictionary. The publishers have arranged with the C.P.R. General Pass Agent, Mr. D. McNicholl, for the trip by their new palatial steamer, leaving on its famous globe circling excursion on March 15th next. Also in order of merit, additional prizes of: A free trip to Florida; Silver Tea Sets, Sewing Machines, Lady's or Gent's 14k. Gold Watch, etc. Everyone whose list contains not less than twenty five words will receive a prize. Enclose them 50 cents to pay for a grand Premium Catalogue, Complete Rules, and a six months' trial subscription to their beautifully illustrated family paper. As the successful Competitor may not care to make the extensive trip offered, the publishers offer the option of $1,000 in cash. Contest open to any person in Canada or the United States. Mr. J. H. Hourigan, after using Wilson's Wild Cherry in his family for eight years, writes us that it has never failed to cure coughs, colds, whooping cough or bronchitis. Be wise, profit by the experience of others, and use Wilson's Wild Cherry when afflicted with any such trouble. Sold by all druggists. dw

Some Foolish People

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which is sold on a positive guarantee to cure, they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Price 50c. and $1. Trial size free. At all druggists. dw

Medical Hints.

The quickest, surest and best remedy for rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, sore throat, soreness and lameness, is Hagyard's Yellow Oil. It quickly cures sprains, bruises, burns, frostbites, chilblains, etc. For croup, colds, quinsy, etc., take 10 to 30 drops on sugar, and apply the oil externally also, when immediate relief will result. 2w41

Coming Events.

Coming consumption is foreshadowed by a hacking cough, night sweats, pain in the chest, etc. Arrest its progress at once by taking Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, which never fails to cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, hoarseness, etc., and even in confirmed consumption affords great relief. 2w41

A Child Astray.

It was terrible weather for the little three year old child that was found on Antrim street last night almost perished with cold, and unable to tell its name or residence. "One of the most pleasing features of the entertainment was the elocution of Miss Bertha Harper. She brought tears to many an eye with 'Kit,' the story of the death of a poor little newsboy"—Daily Tribune West Toronto Junction. An Assault Case.

Hotel porters are usually keen, active fellows, and in the ardor of their vocation a rivalry is excited which frequently ends in dispute. This is what occurred at the C. P. R. station the other night, when the "pushers" for two or three hot is tried to beg the same passenger. One of them struck another, and a police court case resulted. The assault was proven and the defendant fined $2 and costs; another porter, who did not appear in answer to his summons, was also fined $2 and costs.

At 2:30 a meeting will be held, to be addressed by members of the Society, and to which all women are cordially invited. At 7:30 a meeting, open to the public, will be given. Addresses will be given by Rev. M. Scott, Campbellford, and Rev. B. C. Jones, Port Hope, members of Presbytery. The afternoon and evening meetings will be held in the church.

Miserable Sneaks.

For some time past sneak thieves of the meanest possible description have been stealing whatever they could pick up at the Protestant Home. The Band Boys.

In the window of Ormond & Walsh's drug store is a large photograph of the Sarnia band, one of the best in the Province, comprising about forty pieces. Mr. W. H. Crowe, once more a resident of Peterborough, was a member while he lived in Sarnia. The leader of the band is Mr. W. Philp, an accomplished musician and teacher of music. Mr. Philp lived in Peterborough some time ago, and in 1859 organized the present Fire Brigade and Battalion band. Mr. Philp is a successful church organist and choir leader, holding this position in one of the largest churches in Sarnia.

George Street Sunday School.

A business meeting of the officers and teachers of the George street Methodist Church was held Friday evening. The treasurer, Mr. A. E. Scott, presented the financial statement, showing receipts for the year to have been over $660, with a balance on hand of $47.73. The accounts were audited by Messrs. W. A. Mace and A. E. Dixon. Reports of attendance and other Sunday school matters were also presented. The school is in a most flourishing condition.

A Public Annoyance.

The Salvation Army laid themselves open to complaint Sunday night by holding an open air meeting at the post office corner. Some church-going people were stepping from their cutter at the platform beside the Croft House, when the sudden burst of band music startled the horse. One of the occupants of the cutter, an old lady, was thrown out on the road, and though fortunately not seriously hurt, the consequences might easily have been serious. There is always a great danger attached to the Army parades on crowded thoroughfares, and too much care cannot be exercised.

Queen Esther Coming.

The date fixed for the presentation of the cantata of "Queen Esther," under the direction of Mr. J. H. Ketchum, Bradburn's opera house on Thursday and Friday, February 12th and 13th. A chorus of seventy voices will support ten prominent characters represented in the cantata. The rehearsals have progressed with great vigour and success, and by the date announced both soloists and chorus will be practically perfect in their respective parts. The costuming and mounting of the cantata will be of the most elaborate character, and there is every indication that the cantata of "Queen Esther" will be in a musical, histrionic and scenic sense one of the most successful presentation of its kind ever made in Peterborough.

Zozo Coming.

The Lawrence Daily Eagle of Nov. 22, 1890, says:—There was only a fair sized audience at the opera house last evening to greet "Zozo," but those who attended were evidently well pleased with the performance, which has undergone a number of important changes since last seen in this city some two years ago. "Zozo," in its remodeled form, can hardly be called a spectacular, but is now almost entirely on the farce comedy order. There is some pretty scenery, and some sixteen exceedingly pretty girls in charming costumes, who sing and dance and appear on the stage on the least provocation to the evident pleasure of the audience. The Irish comedian, Charles E. Edwards, is one of the very best seen in this city for some time. Miss Ella Benda as "Queen Zozo" looked very pretty and acted charmingly. She has a very attractive stage presence with much personal magnetism, and is decidedly the best "queen" ever seen in "Zozo" in this city. E. B. Adams was very funny as the prude, and his female impersonations were decidedly clever. The baseball scene proved a very attractive feature, while the black march in the last act was executed with a precision that would do credit to a well drilled military organization. Miss Irene Alan looked "Zelda" and acted it better, while Lily Moore made a dashing and handsome captain. The performance on the whole was entertaining and is just the kind of a show to please a Saturday night audience, and a much better house will no doubt greet the performance this evening." At Bradburn's opera house, Thursday, Jan 22.

Mark Street Methodists.

A very successful entertainment was held in the Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, on Thursday evening, January 15th. The members of the Epworth League under whose auspices it was given, are to be congratulated. Though the attendance was not as large as the merits of the programme deserved, this was propably owing to other attractions in town. The Rev. Mr. Dewey, of Lindsay, was present, and gave a very interesting address, which if acted upon, would prove a lasting benefit, especially to the young people present. The Rev. gentlemen also sang two songs; anyone hearing him sing cannot but feel impressed with the depth of feeling and energy he puts into it. He sings right from the heart, and carries his audience with him. Recitations were given by Miss M. Hamilton, the rendering of both doing her much credit, and showing that she fully understood the character of the pieces presented. Mr. Nugent proved himself to be a veteran reader, especially in his humorous Irish character—it was as near reality as possible. We hope this wont be his last appearance on this side of the river. Messrs. H. S. Armstrong and B. Hall contributed several duetts and solos, which were well received, whilst a good share of the success of the evening was due to Marietta Wilson and Mr. J. L. Armstrong who played the accompaniments for the several numbers on the programme. Our League has now entered upon its second year in a very prosperous condition financially and otherwise. We have a very efficient staff of officers, and the different committees are made up of energetic members, each having a definite work to do. Thus all are interested in the work of the church. The object of the Epworth League is to promote an earnest, intelligent, practical and loyal spiritual life in the young people of the church, and to aid them in constant growth in grace and in the attainment of purity of heart. Another object we have in view is to assist the officials of the church in bearing some of the financial burden. This is accomplished by means of entertainments, etc. A nice little sum is now in the Treasurer's hands ready for use in case of emergency. —[COM.

A Great Treat

will be the lecture by the Rev. J. O. S. Huntingdon, of New York, in the opera house next Wednesday evening. Father Huntingdon, the son of the Bishop of New York, has taken the vows of celibacy and poverty in the Church of England in order that he might, like St. Paul, the more effectually give up all his energies to the work he has taken in hand. That work is the bringing of the glad tidings of the Gospel to the very poor of New York. He realizes that men must not be allowed to starve in body if they are not to starve in soul. Following this out in a practical way he is devoting himself to the bettering of the condition of these people in this world, whilst the church's battalions are at war with Satan. Father Huntingdon's wonderful earnestness is proverbial. His oratory has all the magic and the sublime pathos of intensity of purpose. He charges nothing whatever—not even his expenses, but these of course will be paid. Seats are reserved for ladies and their escorts. Admission free. His worship the Mayor will preside. As Father Huntington seeks to uplift the poor, without distinction of creed or church, and as he is in perfect harmony with all churches upon the question of the regeneration of the fallen, it is to be hoped that the people of Peterborough will take advantage of this opportunity to hear this great apostle of human sympathy and good works.

A Second Attempt at Suicide.

"Paddy" Sauvais Uses the Knife This Time—But Fails Again.

"Paddy" Sauvais, the bartender who last summer tried to get rid of the burden of life by swallowing a handful of morphine pills and was saved by the stomach pump, on Saturday made another deliberate attempt upon his life. He had been drinking hard for a week and was in the delirium. He was stopping at the City hotel. About half-past twelve o'clock Saturday night one of the hotel employees and a boarder heard faint cries from Sauvais' room, and, and the stabbings on entering found Sauvais lying on the bed, his wrist showing a frightful gash, from which the blood had flowed profusely, saturating the bedding and forming a pool on the floor. Dr. Brennan was summoned and put six stitches in the wound.

Sauvais said he did it accidently, against the time, but there is no doubt that he tried to kill himself. The wound was evidently made with a knife, though no weapon can be found other than a small pen knife taken from his pocket, which shows no trace of having served such a desperate purpose. Dr. Brennan says the cut must have been made at least a couple of hours before Sauvais was found; it may have been done some time in the afternoon. At any rate Sauvais bled from the wound in his right wrist until he fainted, then the blood ceased circulating and before he revived again the cut became clotted and thus prevented fatal consequences. Sauvais must have died, however, had his condition not been discovered before morning.

He is still low, but will recover. The police were notified, but as it would be impossible to prove attempted suicide when the knife cannot be found, no legal steps were taken.

Knowing Sauvais' previous record and his temperament, there can be no doubt that he attempted to take his life, in spite of his denials.

The Council of 1891.

Organization Meeting of the New Council—All the Members Present—The Mayor's Opening Remarks.

The inaugural meeting of the town council of 1891 was held at eleven o'clock this forenoon, the members having previously signed the declaration of qualification and taken the oath of office. Those present were Mayor Stevenson in the chair; Messrs. Danistown, Kendry and Langford, No. Four Ward; Messrs. Meldrum, Moore and Dawson, No. 3; Messrs. Bradburn, E. H. D. Hall and Kelly, No. Two; Messrs. Winch and Davidson, No. One, (Mr. Cahill, the only remaining member, arriving later.)

MAYOR STEVENSON made a short opening address. The new council comprised some excellent men in the place of those who had dropped out. The town was approaching a most important period in its affairs. The council had entered on a course of giving inducements to bring industries here, and he believed the people heartily approved of this course.

A great difficulty was found in bringing manufacturers here here, as other towns held out strong inducements, some towns have been very unfortunate. Peterborough was more fortunate, as every care was taken to know that the parties assisted were worthy. Every effort should now be made to bring factories here; the great hope of the town was in industries, and he felt confident this year would see more manufacturers locate here and the population largely increased. Peterborough, with its unexcelled railway and water privileges, should have and no doubt would gain prosperity and advancement. He hoped the end of this year would see even a better state of things than the beginning.

The minutes of the last meeting of the old council were read, and on motion of Mr. Moore, seconded by Mr. Davidson, Messrs. Cahill, Davidson, Hall, Moore, Langford, Kendry and Kelly were appointed a committee to strike standing committies, and report at the evening session.

A bylaw appointing auditors was passed. Mr. Kelly moved Mr. J. J. Hall, and the Mayor nominated F. E. Bell. These gentlemen were appointed auditors, at a salary of $50 each.

The council then adjourned until evening.

The County Convention at Norwood.

The Second Day's Session—The Evening Meeting—The Next Convention at Hastings—Delegates to Provincial Convention.

NORWOOD, Jan. 16.

There was a fair attendance at the meeting last night. After devotional exercises, in the absence of Mr. Graham, Lakefield, who was to have given his impressions of the Provincial Convention at Brantford, Rev. Mr. McFarlane gave an address on the subject—The Convention showed that of the additions to the churches about 85 per cent. came from the Sunday School, and about 15 per cent. of the financial support is given to aid the Church. The energy and sacrifice devoted to Sunday School work was not wasted.

Dr. Harrison, of Keene gave his impressions of the International Convention at Pittsburg in a very interesting manner, giving a most elaborate and instructive address. The meeting closed with the usual devotional exercises.

FRIDAY MORNING

The Convention assembled. After the usual devotional exercises,

Mr. Alfred Day gave one of his characteristic addresses on "Christ, the Sunday School Teachers' Model." He was a model because he was the great Teacher, and taught great truths affecting the moral condition of men, both now and hereafter, because he knew humanity, because He adapted Himself to the conditions of His mission as they confronted him.

Rev. JOHN MCEWEN spoke upon the subject, "How can we get a larger grasp of the Bible for home and Sunday-school work?" He pointed out the necessity of systematic study of the Bible on the line of topical arrangement, indicating "Manifestation," "Experience," "Outlook."

NEXT PLACE OF MEETING.

The next place of meeting was decided upon and Hastings was selected and the date the second Tuesday in December.

The afternoon session was begun by the usual devotions followed by the appointment of delegates to the Provincial convention in Ottawa next October as follows:—Rev. Mr. McFarlane and Mr. W. E. Roxburgh.

The secretary's report was read and adopted and township secretaries were requested to forward their contributions to the general secretary before the first of May.

Rev. JOHN MCEWAN spoke upon "Some mistakes in Sunday-school work," indicating these as represented by lack of blackboard equipment, lack of perfect order, lack of appreciation of the importance of his class, and an over estimation on the part of the teacher of his or her fitness.

The school children, having assembled, filled pretty well the central part of the church, and Rev. Mr. McEwen addressed them in the style he is so perfectly at home in, and the closing devotional exercises brought the convention to a close.

Norwood.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The past week has been a reception week for the village. The Farmers' Institute on Wednesday brought our country friends to town to study scientific farming. On Thursday and Friday our houses were thrown open to delegates to the Sunday School Convention. We are pleased to know that the meetings in connection with each of the above were as interesting and as well attended as formerly.

Since the advent of snow and good sleighing our streets present a busier appearance. The farmers avail themselves of the opportunity to market their logs, grain and firewood. For the past week the number of loads of logs delivered at Finlay's factory averaged from forty to seventy daily.

A large number of our villagers have been for the past few weeks complaining of severe colds. This is probably the celebration of the anniversary of the la grippe regime of 1890.

PERSONAL.—We are pleased to learn that Messrs. Thomson and Hayden, who were thinking of removing to Peterborough, have decided to remain here. The village cannot afford to loose two such valuable citizens.

Mr. Fitzgerald, a young man from Peterborough, has decided his connection with Norwood by buying out the hardware business of Mr. J. N. Ackerman. We wish him success in his new departure.

I.O.O.F.—On the occasion of the installation of officers, the members of the Norwood lodge and their invited friends spent a few hours very pleasantly last Tuesday evening in the hall of the Order. An almost impromptu programme was presented, during which the mysterious goat appeared in the form of brain. The guests sat down to a tempting spread, and at a sensible hour departed. A representative contingent from Peterborough enlivened the affair with their presence, one of whom, Mr. W. A. Stratton, occupied the chair.

Y.P.S.C.E.—The Christian Endeavour Society of the Presbyterian church, here, opened the new year in a flourishing condition. The election of officers, which took place last Monday evening, resulted in an active working band being installed in office.

Church Chimes.

Mr. J. W. Flavelle, of Toronto, a former superintendent of the school, addressed the George street Methodist Sunday school Sunday afternoon.

A pleasing feature in the services at St. Paul's church last night was the rendering of Mendelssohn's "But the Lord is mindful of His Own" by Miss Vair, who excelled herself in singing this beautiful selection.

Four of the town pulpits were occupied by strangers on Sunday—Rev. John Trotter, of Claremont, in the Baptist Church; Mr. J. R. Mann, of Princeton College, in St. Andrews'; Rev. C. L. Thompson, late of British Columbia, in the George Street Church (Rev. J. H. Locke preaching in Warkworth); and Rev. Father ——, of the Sabrevois mission among the French of Lower Canada, preached in St. John's Church Sunday evening in behalf of the mission. He laid before the congregation the good results obtained and appealed for funds.

The last service in the old South Ward Mission building (in connection with St. John's church) was held Sunday night. Rev. C. B. Kenrick preached the farewell sermon. The friend and supporters of the mission felt a certain sadness in leaving the old place, in which the mission had thriven so well. Their regret at the severance of the tender ties which bound them to the old building, was tempered by the reflection that their next service would be held in the handsome new structure, which is to be dedicated next Thursday evening.

The New Business Tax.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Mr. Davidson's notice of motion in the council for a by-law to introduce this tax, will be brought up this evening. The object in having such a tax instead of the usual one, is to relieve the merchants of too much taxes. The motion will, however, oppress rather than relieve many of the merchants, for the grand total of one tax will be just as large as the total of the other at the proposed rate. If Mr. Davidson really desires to help the merchant, let him lower the proposed rate from seven per cent. to two per cent.

Advice to the Married Man.

Just a few words of advice my married friend at this time may be of much use to you in after years.

Are you one of the married men who, when you go home for a meal, commence to grumble and turn over on the plate what your dear wife has provided for you, and not with it as if it were not fit to eat?

Let me say that you might as well drive a dagger to your wife's heart, it could not give her greater pain. Of course you do not intend to hurt her feelings and annoy her; you do it because you are out of sorts and feel miserable. We know your trouble and will tell you how to get rid of it.

Your liver is out of order; your digestion is bad, or you are worried mentally. Get rid of these troubles at once for your wife's sake. She has work enough and worry enough of her own, and you should at all times and in every way help and encourage her.

If you require that grand remedy, Paine's Celery Compound to make your disordered liver work properly; your digestive organism is weak, and requires toning up by the use of this Compound. By its use you will be strengthened physically and mentally, and your irritability will vanish. You will be a different man in every respect. You will acquire happiness and contentment, and in this way will add much to your wife's joy.

THE LION BEGINS TO ROAR

BRITISH WARSHIPS GET SAIL FOR CHILI WATERS.

No Interference with the Loading or Unloading of British Vessels will be Tolerated—An Aged Stranger's Victim—Shocking Domestic Tragedy.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The latest advices from Chili show there is no improvement in the state of affairs there. The action of the insurgents has rendered impossible the loading and discharging of vessels in Chilian ports, thereby causing considerable loss to foreign merchants. In view of representations made to the British Foreign Office a portion of the British South Pacific Squadron, under the admiral in command, has been ordered to leave Panama for Chilian waters without delay. It is understood the admiral has received instructions to take all steps necessary to protect the interests of British subjects in Chili, and that he will not allow the war vessels in the hands of the insurgents to interfere with the loading or unloading of British vessels.

When the Chilian navy revolted against the Government it was expected that it would be seconded by the troops in Autofagasta and Caldera, but these soldiers remained faithful with the rest of the army to the Government.

Orders have been given to prepare the Chilian torpedo-boats for service. The Government of Chili has issued a decree offering a reward of two years' pay and amnesty to those who have been unwillingly led into the revolt who will submit to the Government. Plagua and Caleta Buena, and probably Arica, will be blockaded on and after Jan. 25. Provisions are becoming very scarce in Iquique.

PROMPTED BY REVENGE.

A Servant Murders Her Mistress Because of Cruelty.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—The woman Barbier, charged with the murder of her mistress, Mme. Bazier, on the outskirts of the Bois de Vincennes, was again examined to-day by the Juge d'Instruction. The story is a curious one even in the annals of French crime. In the testimony given yesterday Mere Barbier, the prisoner, now withdrew nothing indignation, repeated her former statements and hissed out that the widow had made her life intolerable by the most ingenious contrivances. Not only did Mme. Bazier make it a rule that she should go regularly to mass, but insisted that she must lit a wake o' nights in order to perform her devotions at stated hours. For this purpose she would pull a box on wheels across the floor.

Last Sunday Barbier pleaded severe illness and was allowed to remain in bed while her mistress went to mass. The concession was the first that Mme. Bazier had made in months, but it proved fatal to her. Mere Barbier was not ill, and as soon as the widow left sprang from her bed and began to prepare to wreak her revenge. Taking a stout cord she made a running knot and sat down to await Mme. Bazier's return.

Stealthily following her mistress up stairs, and, slipping the noose over her head, tightening it around her neck, Mere Barbier had the satisfaction of seeing her victim, after a struggle or two, breathe her last. The old woman then dragged the body near the bed, piled on it the instrument of torture, the box on wheels that had disturbed her slumbers, and carrying away the "pendule" that marked the time for her victim's death, took herself off.

Mere Barbier was missing until the following day, when she was found, dazed and half frozen, in a copse not far from the house. Since her arrest she appears to have entirely lost her reason. She gloats over the crime, which seems to have inspired her with not an atom of remorse.

MURDER WILL OUT.

A Student Convicted by the Death Bite of His Victim.

BERNE, Jan. 18.—The last act of a horrible tragedy has just been played in Switzerland. The body of a young girl, Anna Hachinger, was recently discovered in the woods near Berne, and as it was shockingly mutilated the authorities spared neither time nor money in trying to discover who had killed her. Their efforts, however, were in vain and the foul deed would probably have remained a mystery forever had not a mere chance revealed the guilty person.

A young medical student of the University of Berne entered the dissecting-room one day and prepared for work by taking off his overcoat and putting on a light office jacket. As he did so one of his shirt buttons fell on the floor and his companions noticed a strange wound on his arm—evidently the result of a terrible bite. They questioned him eagerly, but he turned his back on them abruptly and, going to his room, shot himself through the head.

At the inquest which followed it was made clear beyond the shadow of a doubt that the wound had been made by Anna Hachinger in her death struggle. Tightly clinched between the dead girl's teeth was found a piece of skin, and this piece of skin corresponded exactly to the wound on the student's arm.

A Franco-American Engineer Shoots Himself After Losses at the Roulet

PARIS, Jan. 19.—M. Charles Brou, an engineer of the mines in Columbia, has committed suicide at Monte Carlo. He was 36 years old and had resided at Nice for one month and a half. Soon after his arrival here he began to frequent Monte Carlo, where he lost large amounts of money in a short time. Being completely ruined Brou determined to kill himself, and was not slow in carrying out his resolution. In fact, the guards of the Principality discovered his body in the Palace square between two cannon. The head was pierced with a revolver bullets. Before killing himself he had written to a friend, a Miss N., residing at Nice, a letter through which it has been able to establish his identity. He had a fine place in the midst of Columbia, and had acquired a fortune which he dissipated at roulet. His losses at the gambling tables amounted to several hundred thousand francs. We have reason to believe that the administration of Monte Carlo remitted to Miss N. a sum of 100,000 francs and obtained from her a promise not to mention to anybody the facts of her friend's suicide.

THE ELEPHANT ESCAPED.

SIAM'S CAPITAL HAS A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

The Loss Estimated at Half a Million Dollars—A Treatise by Aristotle Discovered Among a Collection of Papyrus Rolls from Egypt.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—A despatch from Bangkok, the capital of Siam, says a portion of the city was swept by fire to-day. The damage is $500,000. But meagre details are to hand, and it is not known whether the property destroyed is the floating houses built on the River Menam or those on its banks. As the royal palace is surrounded by triple walls, which also include the palace of the white elephant and the temple of the emerald idol, it is presumed these richly-inlaid buildings escaped the flames.

A Treatise by Aristotle.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Times announces that the authorities of the British Museum have discovered among a collection of papyrus rolls, acquired recently in Egypt, the text of Aristotle's treatise on the constitution of Athens, from which numerous writers of antiquity quoted, but which has hitherto been known only in detached fragments. This may now be seen at the British Museum, where fac-similes of it are being prepared. The opening chapter is missing and the concluding chapter is mutilated, but otherwise the manuscript is in perfect condition. There is little doubt of the genuineness of the manuscript because inothing was known of the contents of the papyrus roll when purchased.

One of the Simplest Incinerations of a Rich Man on Record.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Without the slightest pomp or ceremonial the remains of the rich, enlightened and enterprising Duke of Bedford were yesterday borne, entirely unattended, except by the undertaker's men, to the crematory of the society of which His Grace was a leading member, and there reduced to ashes at a cost probably not exceeding $250. When it is added that no flowers or other tokens of affection decorated the bier, and that the blinds were not even drawn down at his Grace's town residence, No. 61 Mayfair square, the true simplicity of the nobleman's last rites, or absence thereof, will be appreciated. After the incineration was concluded the ashes were placed in a heart-shaped casket, which, on being taken to Chenier, Buckinghamshire, were placed in the family vault of the Russells.

Domestic Tragedy in France.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—A horrible murder and suicide were perpetrated early this morning at Tours. A man named Laurent, who was employed on the State Railway, had a violent altercation with his wife, and in an excess of ungovernable fury armed himself with an American knuckleduster—an instrument of offence or defence which has become exceedingly common in France—and assailed his wife in the most merciless manner, felling her to the ground, and beating her until she became insensible. Then, seizing a razor, he cut the unfortunate woman's throat from ear to ear. Laurent next turned the razor against himself, but being unable to accomplish his own destruction with sufficient expedition by this means put an end to himself by blowing out his brains. When the neighbors arrived upon the scene they found the husband and wife lying dead side by side. They have three children, one of whom is only four years of age.

A Startling Report.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—Private telegrams of a most alarming nature have been received here from Leghorn, it being understood that the regular press means of communication have passed into the control of the police authorities of that city for the present. According to the messages referred to several dynamite cartridges were exploded simultaneously on Saturday in the immediate vicinity of the residences of a number of wealthy residents of Leghorn. Further details are not obtainable at present, but it is said the Italian police attribute the outrage to a well-planned Anarchist plot which was to have led to a riot and the sacking of a portion of the city when the explosion occurred. The general alarm is said to prevail at Leghorn. The people here who have received the telegraphic messages referred to have relatives and friends at Leghorn and are doing their utmost to obtain further news.

Parnell Denounces Gladstone's Maimed and Whittled Down Measure.

ATHLONE, Jan. 19.—Parnell speaking here to-day said that at this important turning point he did not doubt the result of Ireland's struggle for Home Rule. Expressions of opinion biased by the evil influences prevalent in London and Westminster were to him as chaff before the wind. Ireland would yet get a better Home Rule bill than Mr. Gladstone's maimed and whittled down measure.

Opened With Prayer.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—For the first time in the history of the city the inaugural proceedings of the new Council Board were opened to-day by religious services conducted by the Rev. J. A. Murray of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. One hundred and twenty ladies of the W.C.T.U. were present in a body by invitation, besides a large number of prominent citizens.

Always Read the Directions.

CHATSWORTH, Jan. 18.—Mrs. William McFarlane, about a mile north of this place, had received a vial of diluted carbolic acid for exterior use and mistook the directions and took the acid internally. Medical attendance was immediately procured and proper antidotes employed and she will probably recover.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, Jan. 19.—Prominent members of the Interstate Baseball League representing cities in Iowa, Illinois and Indiana, met here to-day and formed a ten club league, to consist of Cedar Rapids, Des Moines and Ottumwa, Iowa; Joliet, Rockford, Peoria, Springfield and Quincy, Ill., and Terre Haute and Evansville, Ind.

Sullivan and Slavin Matched.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—It is stated that John L. Sullivan, prior to his departure to Grand Rapids to-day, signed articles of agreement which had already been signed by Slavin for a fight next summer for the world's heavyweight championship.

The amount of the stake and the place of meeting are not mentioned.

THE WEATHER IN EUROPE

A WOMAN FROZEN TO DEATH IN A RAILWAY TRAIN.

Many Persons Frozen in Various Parts of the Continent—The England and Portugal Embroglio Likely to be Amicably Settled Shortly.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A lady was found today frozen to death in a railroad carriage at one of the stations here.

Heavy ice has blocked the docks at Newport, Monmouthshire.

Hamburg American line steamer August Victoria remains fast in the ice at the Elbe. She is in no danger.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—The harbors of Toulon and Les Eyeres are frozen over for the first time on record. The olive crop in the department of Gard is fast being ruined. Whole communes in the neighborhood of Perpignan in the Pyrenees are cut off from communication with the rest of the world and wayfarers in those districts have been frozen to death.

The Algiers mail steamer arrived at Port Vendres on the Mediterranean to-day covered with ice and snow.

At Saragossa, Spain, the mercury is 14 degrees Fahrenheit, and snow is falling. The Seine at its confluence with the Oise is jammed with pack ice 10 feet high. At Nemes wine has frozen in cellars. The Loire at Neveres is frozen over. A large number of vessels are icebound at Bordeaux. Many wolves and wild boars are invading isolated districts in France.

ENGLAND AND PORTUGAL.

An Amicable Understanding Between the Two Countries is Now Probable.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—A high Portuguese official here expresses himself as hopeful that an amicable understanding will be reached between England and Portugal upon all points of dispute touching African possessions which have caused such irritation during the past few months. Such an understanding would, he said, have a most salutary effect on the domestic politics of Portugal. It would put an end to all talk of Iberian federation for defensive and offensive purposes and would make impossible the double revolution in Spain and Portugal for which enthusiastic Republicans have held that the times were rapidly ripening and which was to end in a union of the two countries as a powerful Spanish-Portuguese Republic. The advantages accruing to England by the proposed understanding would be of sufficient importance, the official thought, to justify that country in refraining from further insistence on complete settlement of the obnoxious claims.

A Nobleman's Elopement.

VIENNA, Jan. 19.—Count Priti Karolyi has applied to the police to discover the whereabouts of his only son, who disappeared about a fortnight ago, and of whom no trace has been discovered. At the same time as the young Count, who is only 20 years of age, Miss Boriska Frank, a comedienne from the Budapest Volks Theatre, disappeared. The young lady is a Jewess, and Count Karolyi intended to marry her. The father, desiring to break off the engagement, told his son he must take military service, and after this the young couple agreed to commit suicide. It appears, however, that at the last moment Miss Boriska Frank refused to die, and it is supposed they went off together.

A Wonderful Clock.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Lord Grimthorpe, who is now in his 75th year, has constructed a clock for the postoffice at Sydney, N.S.W. It is the largest that has ever left England and was especially designed by His Lordship, who made models for Big Ben at Westminster. The Sydney clock is distinguished by a novel feature, as it will emit an electric flash light, lasting five seconds, every hour during the night, thus enabling those living miles away or traveling within a certain radius to ascertain the exact time.

Regarded as Farcical.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Daily News says, in view of the fact that Mr. Dillon is liable to imprisonment, his election as leader of the Irish party would be a solemn farce. In regard to Parnell The News says: "His offer to retire if Gladstone will bring forward a 'big home rule measure' is meaningless because although he admitted at the time that the Home Rule bill of 1886 was a 'big' one, he now says he did not mean it."

Discontented Dock Laborers.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The greatest discontent still prevails among the laborers on the London docks and the police have to exercise great vigilance to prevent a serious outbreak. Saturday strikers attacked the men at work, firing volleys of stones and other missiles at them.

A French Mansion Destroyed by Fire.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—The mansion and granaries at La Basse Motte, near Chateauneuf, which the Pontifical Zouaves presented to General Charette, have been burned to the ground.

Baron Wismann Ill.

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—Baron Wismann has been recalled because he is suffering from a cerebral affection. The news of the baron's ill-health has caused much sorrow and regret.

Burst a Blood Vessel and Died.

WINDSOR, Jan. 19.—Isaac Reed, a car cleaner on the Grand Trunk, 60 years of age, burst a blood vessel while crossing to Windsor on the transfer steamer Great Western. An effort was made to take him to his home in Detroit in a wheel chair, but he died before reaching there.

McLean Will Row Teemer.

MELBOURNE, Jan. 19.—McLean has expressed his willingness to row Teemer for any sum over the Parramatta course, after the match with Stanbury in April, the details of which have been almost arranged

The Jockey Clubs Fined.

There May Be Another Outbreak at Pine Ridge Agency.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, Jan. 19.—There was increasing nervousness noticeable among the Indians to-day occasioned by the difficulty the Indians experienced in agreeing upon the question of turning over their arms and in submitting to the degradation of the several tribes and the manner in which they are to be treated by the Government. The Rosebud Indians fear to leave this agency lest they be set upon and killed by the soldiers. About 30, however, will go to Rosebud to-morrow. The collection of arms has been very unsatisfactory, only 104 guns having been given up. The news of the murder of Few Tails and four of his band and the wounding of his wife has also tended to inflame the Indians. It was discussed in yesterday's council and denounced by all factions. The Indians have rounded up their ponies and herded them near their village, while the Indians themselves hang around the tepees discussing the questions of the day and silently watching the agency. Gen. Miles is greatly annoyed and has put off indefinitely the date of his departure and a council of commanders is being held this afternoon.

KING KALAKAUA IS DYING.

His Majesty of the Hawaiian Islands Nigh Unto Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—King Kalakaua of the Hawaiian Islands is lying at the point of death here suffering from Bright's disease and uræmia. The disease took a sudden turn for the worse this morning and the King has been semi-unconscious ever since. For 48 hours he has been unable to take solid food and is nourished with milk and brandy. His physicians have held several consultations with prominent physicians here.

While in Santa Barbara he accepted the invitation of the Mayor to drive to Olive Farm. It was a raw, windy day and the King caught a severe cold.

Secretaries Blaine and Tracy sent him an official letter, placing the Charleston at his disposal for his return home. He would not leave for the Islands, however, until he received definite assurance from the Secretary of State that measures will be taken by Congress to arrange the treaty matter. The King is very strenuous on this point, and a good deal of correspondence has passed. There is no doubt that the presence of certain prominent Canadian official in this city during the past week has had much to do with the proposition which Canada desires to have accepted by Hawaii. This official has been waiting to see His Majesty and present to him plans for opening negotiations for a treaty between Canada and Hawaii to commence simultaneously with the establishment of a Canadian steamship line between British Columbia, Hawaii and Australia. Meanwhile only one or two of the King's most intimate friends are admitted.

HYPNOTIC BRUTALITY.

A Cincinnati Exhibition May Lead to a Prohibitory Law.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 19.—An amazing exhibition of the power of hypnotism was given before a select party of gentlemen at the Walnut-street house parlors yesterday afternoon.

The audience was composed largely of medical men. The operator was a Mr. De Gray, and the subject was one he had found in the Bowery in New York. It was a most complete and satisfactory test, and excited the wonder of the people present.

The subject when put under the spell, became entirely oblivious of everything around him. As he entered the hypnotic state he shuddered convulsively several times, and was then in a cataleptic condition. To attain this result the operator stood the young man in front of him in the centre of the parlor and went through a series of gyrations, such as moving his feet and grating his teeth, looking his victim squarely in the eye. After the young man was insensible Mr. De Gray ran several needles through the fleshy portions of the man's arm. He then dislocated the subject's neck, allowing the head to be so limp that the chin would strike upon the breast-bone with a thud.

Both shoulders were dislocated, and, to crown the remarkable exhibition, the operator borrowed an ordinary pen-knife from one of the bystanders, and lifting the muscles of the chest with his fingers, he stuck the knife through them and allowed it to remain there several minutes. Two streams of blood poured from the breast and blood was also exuding from the wounds in the arm.

During the entire ordeal the subject gave no evidence of pain or consciousness. When restored to consciousness, which was brought about by slapping him vigorously on the neck and the sides of the face, there was no sign of his being any the worse for the rough usage to which he had been subjected.

BITTEN BY A COPPERHEAD.

Terrible Death of Miss Katie Wilkins at Freedom.

FREEDOM, Pa., Jan. 19.—Death from the bite of one of two pet copperhead snakes is the fate that has befallen Miss Katie Wilkins, 18-year-old daughter of Dr. J. B. Wilkins. The snakes were last fall presented by a tramp to Dr. Wilkins, who intended to send them to the Zoological Gardens at Philadelphia. The snakes were put in a large glass jar, the top being secured by a covering of wire gauze, and the jar was placed on a bracket in the corner of the Doctor's office in the village. This jar was most remarkably overturned and broken on Thursday evening, after the Doctor and his daughter had got back from a professional visit. It was done by a large owl flying in at the window and dashing about frantically in the room before the doctor or his daughter could light a match to see what was the matter.

Katie's screams as she fell fainting in her father's arms brought others of the household into the room. When the ladies began to care for the insensible girl they were terrified to find one of the snakes wound around one of her legs All drew back with horror except a farmer named Thomas, who seized the snake and choked it to death. It had bitten the girl between the ankle and knee. She was taken from the office of the house immediately, and every known antidote for poison was administered by her father. It was without avail, for at 7 o'clock yesterday morning she died.

A Big Price for a Greyhound.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Another American has just emulated Fritz Emmet in paying a fancy price for an English dog. Emmet, as is known, paid $3000 for Plinlimmon, and now a man named Purbeck from Salem, Mass., has just purchased in Sheffield a greyhound, named Gem of the Season, for $3000. This dog, besides carrying off first honors at the Birmingham dog show, has taken thirty special prizes within the last year.

Bob Fitzsimmons, who defeated Jack Dempsey at New Orleans, is advertised to appear in Rochester with "Parson" Davies' athletic show this week.

Joe Donoghue, the skater, will be banqueted and presented with a badge by the Manhattan Athletic Club on his arrival on the Germanic this week.

William Boyd of Newcastle and David Kernahan, also of Newcastle, rowed on the Tyne for £50. Kernahan staking £30 and Boyd £30. Boyd won somewhat easily by two clear lengths.

Donoghue, the skater, uses skates of Norwegian make. The boot upper is of kid, with a thin sole, but nearly the whole of the fore part is covered with a nickel-plate, as is the heel, the plates being rivetted to the leather; from sole and heel extend two pillar-like supports which carry a long nickel tube, like a big cigar, and into this tube is let the blade. The blade is quite flat on the top, and is only 1-10 inch thick. The blade of an Acme skate, to give a standard for easy comparison, is 7-32 inch broad. It is 18 inches long, and extends as far behind the heel as it does in front of the toe. This long blade Donoghue has always worn.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Fatal Fire Near Port Hope—Several Parties Badly Injured.

PORT HOPE, Jan. 19.—On Sunday morning the house of Mr. Robert Sharpe, 5th Con., Clarke, was destroyed by fire, the house and furniture being a total loss. The whole family had a very narrow escape, Mr. Sharpe himself being slightly burned, while one of his children was burned to a crisp. Mr. Sharpe was laid up at the time with a severe attack of asthma, and but for the heroic exertions of his wife, who had to half carry and half drag him from the house, while the flames gained rapid headway, he would undoubtedly have perished. The other children were got out with difficulty, but one of them it was impossible to reach before the body was entirely engulphed by the flames.

If Your House is on Fire.

You put water on the burning timbers, not on the smoke. And if you have catarrh you should attack the disease in the blood, not in your nose. Remove the impure causes, and the local effect subsides. To do this, take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, which radically and permanently cures catarrh. It also strengthens the nerves. Be sure to get only Hood's Sarsaparilla.

THE BUSINESS TAX.

Mr. Davidson presented his bylaw to provide for a business tax in the town of Peterborough. He said it was presented in accordance with an Act passed at the last session of the Legislature giving incorporated municipalities the right to substitute personal tax for personal property tax.

The council went into committee of the whole on the second reading, Mr. Cahill in the chair.

Mr. KELLY and Mr. KENDRY wanted the bylaw left over till another meeting for further consideration.

Mr. DAVIDSON said he could see no objection to the bylaw at all. It was intended to equitably distribute the taxes among merchants. It was a well know fact that the assessors have never been able to strike at any value of goods in stores, and under this bylaw merchants pay a tax founded on the property they occupy. Merchants could not expect to enjoy the special privileges and advantages attached to main streets without paying for them, and that was no doubt the idea of the framers of the law. Mr. Davidson said the statement in a letter which was printed in that evening's EXAMINER that the bylaw was intended to relieve the merchants of taxes was not correct. The business tax, according to last year's assessment, would produce $140 more than the present system.

Mr. KELLY said he understood the object of single tax was to reduce the people's taxes, but he said this business tax would only relieve some merchants and put the burden on others. For instance, he said, take the case of two men doing business side by side, in stores assessed for $6000 each. The one man has been in business for 15 or 20 years, has made money, and has his stock paid for. The other man comes to town to start a business, and he is compelled to take this $6000 store because he can get no other suitable one. He may besides have a small stock, and very little of it paid for, yet he is obliged to pay the same tax as his wealthy neigobor. Mr. Kelly did not think that fair. As to fire and nightwatch protection he said the merchants had to pay for that over and above their taxes. Then, by this bylaw a lawyer doing business in an office alongside or over his store, loaning money profusely, would go scot free of this tax; also the hotelkeeper, who made three times as much money as the merchant. This might be a good law if each merchant was obliged to show up his books and the amount of business done.

Mr. DAWSON failed to see any difference between a merchant paying a business tax, and a man borrowing money at 7 per cent. to speculate in land, and paying other taxes just the same.

Mr. KENDRY said he was not clear in his mind on the matter, and moved it be deferred till the next meeting.

Mr. MOORE read the section of the statutes relating to the business tax option. This kind of assessment, he said, was ascertained by taking seven per cent. of the assessed value of the property. Thus, a property assessed at $6,000 would be rated at 7% or $420 as a basis, and this $420 was assessed again at 7½ per cent.—$31.50. The condition of things described by Mr. Kelly was about right, and Mr. Moore presumed the Legislature had moved in this matter on that account. One merchant has a $5,000 stock with only $500 worth of it paid for, the rest being held by wholesale men. Another man occupying similar premises also has a $5,000 stock, but he owns it himself, and is assessed for that full amount, while the other man, enjoying the same facilities for doing business and the same civic advantages, only has to pay taxes on the small portion of the stock he actually owns. Mr. Moore thought it reasonable that these merchants should pay alike for these privileges, and that was the object of single tax. As to lawyers, they paid an assessment on income, as the merchant did on his goods. The hotelkeeper paid income tax and a license fee as well.

Mr. CAHILL did not think it advisable to press the by-law just then.

In reply to a question, Mr. MOORE stated that by the proposed new system the tax was not taken off real estate, but a business tax was simply substituted for the tax on personal property at present levied.

The others pressed for postponement, and Mr. Davidson, remarking that he thought the council had had ample time since he gave the notice of motion to enquire into the matter, moved the committee rise to sit again at the next meeting.

AFTER THE BOODLERS.

Mr. Kelly introduced this resolution as a notice of motion:—Mr. Kelly moved, seconded by Mr. Kendry, that the Registrar of Deeds of the County of Peterborough be requested to furnish the assessors a list of all mortgages held by residents of the town of Peterborough, and the total amounts and rates of interest

In moving that resolution, Mr. Kelly said it was claimed that a great many mortgages were held by parties in this town and no taxes paid on them. He thought it about time that the assessors were placed in a position to impose taxes where they properly belonged.

Mr. MOORE said that such a list would be of no use as there were scores of mortgages lying in the registry office which were all paid. The expenditure of five or six hundred dollars would bring no recompense.

Mr. HALL said there were a large number of mortgages in outside counties and lists would have to be got of these too.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

Mr. Hall moved, seconded by Mr. Bradburn, that the Manufacturers' Committee be authorized to proceed with the purchase of the right of way for the Grand Trunk Railway and Canadian Pacific Railway to the Edison Co's grounds, and payment for same, and make such other arrangements as may be necessary to carry out the agreement with the Edison Company.—Carried.

ABOUT THE SCHOOLS,

On motion of Mr. Hall, Messrs. D. W. Dumble and W. G. Ferguson were re-appointed High School Trustees.

Mr. MOORE took the opportunity to impress on the representatives of the School Board sitting in the council, the necessity of retrenching expenditures. The last year had been an expensive one in school matters; about a third of the rate was used for school purposes last year.

Mr. KENDRY said that the Board did not wish to spend a dollar that was not necessary; but all the schools were crowded, and if extra demands were pressing he would be inclined to yield to them.

MAYOR STEVENSON said he believed it was the intention to build additions to the Public Schools, and some members of the Board were in favour of separation of the Board and the building of a new Collegiate Institute. He, however, opposed such an expenditure, but thought an addition could be built to the Central Public School and the whole Collegiate Institute building kept for Institute purposes. He thought the council should give an expression of opinion on the question of building a new Institute.

Mr. HALL thought the School Board did not look forward far enough. When building the new schools last summer they ought to have foreseen the growing increase in attendance, so as to avoid the crush which was said to be felt now.

Mr. KENDRY replied that the Board had economized and done all they could to cut down expenses last year, and yet the council grumbled at the outlay.

The discussion dropped.

MOTIONS.

Mr. LANGFORD moved, seconded by Mr. KENDRY, that the street and bridge committee be allowed to ask for tenders for material, lumber, scantling, timber and stone.—Carried.

Mr. LANGFORD presented a letter he had received from Superintendent Frye of the Ontario Telephone Co., stating that as soon as the frost left the ground the old poles on George Street would be removed and the new ones painted.

Mr. WINCH moved, seconded by Mr. DAVIDSON, that tenders be asked for one hundred cords of wood.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

THEY PROVE EVERYTHING.

[SCENE IN EDITOR'S SANCTUM.]

Enter Subscriber—"I suppose you are ready to substantiate any statement your paper makes?"

Editor—"Oh, yes; we have the compositors 'prove' everything that is 'set up.'"

Sub.—Well, then, can you prove that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure Catarrh in the Head—you advertise it to do so?"

Ed.—Certainly, my dear sir. Tens of thousands have proved that. Why, the proprietors offer $500 for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head, and they are responsible and able to pay if they fail."

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness, difficulty of clearing throat, expectoration of offensive matter; breath offensive, smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once. Thousands of cases result in Consumption and end in the grave.

On the move—Liver, Stomach, and Bowels, after Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have done their work. It's a healthy movement, too—a natural one. The organs are not forced into activity one day, to sink back into a worse state the next. They're cleansed and regulated—mildly and quietly, without wrenching or griping. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet is all that's needed as a gentle laxative; three to four act as a cathartic. They're the smallest, cheapest, the easiest to take. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

A Cash Prize.

The proprietors of Burdock Blood Bitters will give a prize of Five Dollars for the clevrest and best essay, (not to exceed one hundred words) upon the merits of B.B.B. as a cure for disease. The competition will close Jan 1st, '91, after which the successful essay will be published (with the author's name if desired.) They will also pay $1 each for any of the essays they may select and publish. No restrictions. Try your skill, and address 2w4d T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont.

Purify the blood, and your condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditied and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

MR. C. H. DORENWEND, Inventor of the famous Dorenwend Electric Belt and Attachments, will be at the above place and date with a complete stock of these Appliances. A practical common sense method of the self application of Electricity for the relief and cure of all forms of MUSCULAR and NERVOUS DISEASES. Be YOUR OWN PHYSICIAN. Use these inventions and leave drugs and compounds alone. ELECTRICITY as applied by the DORENWEND Electric Belt and Attachments, will cure without medicine:—

NEURALGIA
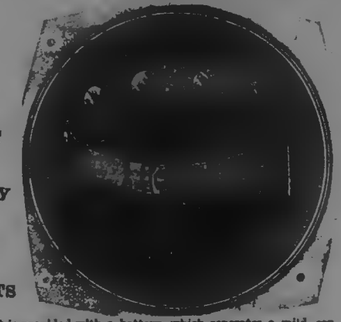
LIVER COMPLAINT
SPINAL DISEASE
LAME BACK
NERVOUS DEBILITY
VARICOCILI
IMPOTENCE
SEXUAL DECLINE
PARALYSIS
FEMALE COMPL'NTS



The Dorenwend Electric Belt is provided with a battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of electricity. It can be felt and can be regulated at will by the wearer while the belt is on the body. It is a light contrivance and can be worn at any time without the least inconvenience. It is the only Electric Belt in the world that follows out the true principles of electrical science. It has been examined and pronounced by experts and authorities to be the most practical and efficient method of bodily application yet invented.

THE DORENWEND ELECTRIC FOOT BATTERY cures Cramps, Rheumatism, Defective Circulation, Cold Feet, &c. This is the only insole in the world provided with a battery, consequently it is the only one producing a current. All others are simply soles of felt with pieces of zinc and copper fastened to them.

Be Careful.—If you are an afflicted one and are contemplating electrical treatment, see what you are getting before you invest. There are many humbugs in the country.

Remember every Dorenwend Belt is guaranteed, and will accomplish all as a curative that electricity can. The current in all Dorenwend appliances can be distinctly felt, and can be regulated to weak and strong degrees. They are the "World's Best," and their equal cannot be found. Now is the time to procure one. Call anyway and examine them, and get a copy of Book on Home Treatment.

At Grand Central Hotel, on Thursday and Friday, January 22 and 23.

A SENSIBLE JURY.

Lays the Blame for a Woman's Death Where it Belonged.

BRACEBRIDGE, Jan. 18.—Much excitement has been caused in Magnetawan lately owing to the death of Mrs. Henry Walton, who was deranged about two weeks ago from the effects of illness and depression. She slyly took rat poison, but was found in the act and subjected to treatment and recovered. On taking severe pains in the stomach a dose of morphia was administered by Dr. Clark, after which she dosed and slept or was drowsy for two days and a night, when she died. The dose of morphia was merely a tolerable and simple one, but in the critical state of exhaustion in which the woman was it seemed to take more effect. Had she been awakened in the early stages of rest and nourishment administered, or had been thoroughly aroused, it is presumed by many that she might have been spared A coroner's inquest was held and the jury gave in their verdict on Thursday evening, having sat 36 hours on the case and heard the evidence of a number of witnesses. The verdict given was this:

That the death of the deceased, Mrs. Ann Walton was caused from the effects of poison taken by her own hands whilst insane, by exhaustion caused by severe vomiting, and by the neglect of all persons having charge of the case.

Died from Her Injuries.

GODERICH, Jan. 18.—Mrs. McKinnon, one of the victims of the double-shooting case on Thursday last, died on Saturday afternoon. An inquest was opened and adjourned until Monday. McKinnon's condition is unchanged. The bullet has not yet been extracted. In addition to the bullet wound he lost a large quantity of blood from a razor gash in his right arm, where he had made an effort to sever one of the main arteries. Last night his will was drawn up and duly signed. By it his property is to be equally divided between his son and daughter. He is at present at his house under surveillance awaiting the result of the inquest.

Mrs. Sutcliffe Used a Shotgun.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 18.—Case of suicide or murder is reported from Shoal Lake, 23 miles northwest of Stonewall. Mrs. Sutcliffe was found dead in her house with a bullet hole over her right ear and a gun with one barrel discharged at her feet. Her husband says he was in the stable at the time of the occurrence and although he heard the report of the gun knew nothing of the terrible affair until he was told of it by his little child. Police started out to-night to investigate the matter.

Cut Her Throat.

WIARTON, Jan. 18.—Mrs. Tomelson of Lavermay committed suicide by cutting her throat with a butcher knife. She was found dead by her husband some distance from the house with the fatal weapon by her side. An inquest was held by Coroner Taylor and a verdict of suicide while in a state of temporary insanity was rendered.

This Woman Used a Pistol.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 18.—Mrs. Anna Strong went to the business office of her husband here yesterday with a pistol in one hand and her marriage certificate wrapped in a handkerchief in the other. She planted herself in the doorway and, looking squarely at her husband, shot herself dead.

Has Anyone Seen Young Sinclair?

RIDGETOWN, Jan. 18.—Temple Sinclair, aged 18, son of the pastor of the Baptist Church here, wandered from home while in a state of temporary aberration caused from effects of la grippe and over-study last Monday morning and has not since been seen. It is supposed he went in the direction of Parkhill or Arkona, though there is no surety as to this.

To be Abolished.

OTTAWA, Jan. 18.—It is stated that the Minister of Militia has decided not to appoint a successor to the late Col. Lewis of Brockville as brigade major of the 4th and 5th districts, as the office will shortly be abolished. There are about 50 applicants for the position.

Flax Mills Burned.

ST. MARY'S, Jan. 18.—A disastrous fire broke out in the Messrs. Weir & Weir's flax mill at about half past one o'clock this afternoon, the building being badly gutted. The Messrs. Weir & Weir, who are the largest dealers in flax in the province, are heavy losers, as there was no insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown. About 60 hands are thrown out of employment.

Crackmen at Streetsville.

STREETSVILLE, Jan. 18.—The Franklin House barroom was entered by burglars, who drilled two holes in the door of the safe, knocked out the combination, abstracted a lot of coppers, some papers and several articles of no value to them, helped themselves to some ale, pocketed a box of cigars and then departed without awakening the inmates

Died From a Fall.

DAYWOOD, Jan. 18.—Mrs. Joseph Ramsay fell and hurt herself, convulsions started and although medical aid was procured she never rallied. Mrs. Ramsay, who has only been married about a year, was the daughter of the late William Johnston of Johnston's post office.

A Strange Death.

ALMONTE, Jan. 18.—A few years ago Thomas Baskerville received a severe wound in the head, caused by the explosion of a gun, part of the broken gun being imbedded in his skull. From the effects of this wound he died in Montana a few days ago. His remains were brought home for interment.

Scalded to Death.

DRESDEN, Jan. 18.—Mr. J. W. Grece received the sad news of the death of his father-in-law, John Murdock, which took place at Seymore, Conn. He was scalded to death in a silk plush factory. The body will be taken to Hespeler, Ont.

Born With Two Faces.

DANVILLE, Ky., Jan 19.—Mrs. William Freeman of Jessamine county last night gave birth to a female child which had two perfectly formed faces. They are located at right angles on either side of the front of the head. Both at the same time exhibit the same signs of the child's feelings: both crying or being in repose as the child's humor changes. When last heard from the infant was doing well.

Off the Track.

HAMILTON, Jan. 19.—Shortly before noon to-day a passenger train on the Welland branch of the Grand Trunk Railway left the track near Thorold. The engine, baggage car and smoker plunged down an embankment and are lying on their sides. No person was killed, and only one person was injured—not seriously.

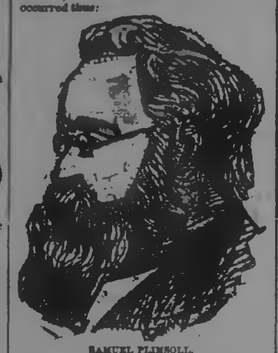
JACK TAR'S FRIEND.

Visit of Mr. Samuel Plimsoll to the Dominion of Canada.

Samuel Plimsoll, who has earned his title of the "Sailor's Friend" by a lifetime of devoted service to the interest of those who go down to the sea in ships, is making just now a visit to the Dominion. Toronto, Montreal and Quebec are the three cities which he has honored with his presence and which honored him in return. The reason of his visit to Canada at this time is stated by himself to be "to get information on the subject of cattle deck loading and so forth. I came to learn something. I think the live cattle trade might be carried on in summer with proper regulations. "Great Britain is meditating legislation in this direction, and Canadian live stock shippers held meetings and discussed the question with Mr. Plimsoll. The historical scene, which he created on the floor of the British Parliament, made his name international. It occurred thus:



SAMUEL PLIMSOLL.

when, after many years of unsuccessful effort to arouse the public conscience of England to the magnitude of the subject, he saw Parliament on the eve of adjournment with his bill once more massacred with the innocents. Springing to his feet and quivering with emotion, Samuel Plimsoll defied Parliament alone, and rushing across to the Treasury benches shook his fist in Disraeli's face and defied him to close the session until his bill had been passed for protecting the lives of Britain's seamen. It was some time before Mr. Speaker Brand (now Lord Hampden) could sufficiently recover from the shock to his dignity to order the offending member to retire. Everybody thought that Plimsoll would have been ordered into the clock-tower under arrest. But he was not. His evident sincerity awakened, as if by magic, a mighty influence in the country which compelled the Ministry to pass his bill in order to save their necks. This gave birth to what is everywhere now known as the Plimsoll load line.

The South Ward Mission School.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the members of the congregation of St. John's Mission, was held in the old building last night. Arrangements were perfected for the opening service on Thursday, and for the tea and concert on Monday night, which promises to be a most enjoyable affair. The congregation believing that those deserving help should help themselves, made arrangements to do the cleaning up of the new building—the gentlemen taking the basement, and the ladies, as is fitting, the higher sphere, the auditorium. The opening takes place on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Sneak Thieves.

The police have been notified of a number of petty thefts around town recently. In most cases the chicken coops suffer. Since the Protestant Home theft was was made public, others have came to notice. Last week thieves despoiled Mr. Theodore Ladgate's hennery in Ashburnham, carrying some away and leaving a valuable game cock dead on the ground with its neck twisted. Mrs. Campbell, Stewart Street, reports the theft of a large chandelier. She laid it away in a box in the woodshed, intending to present it to the new mission building in the south ward. The other evening she went to look for the chandelier but it was gone.

In Business for Himself.

The Campbellford Herald says:—"Mr. Fred. Wood has just made a step forward in purchasing the drug business which up to the present has been in the possession of Dr. Gallagher. The business has been a profitable one, but he finds sufficient work in his medical practice, and removes considerable care and responsibility in its disposal. Mr. Wood is now a full fledged druggist, and will fill an honorable place among the business men of our town. In his advertisement this week, he says he will make it his special object to deal courteously, fairly and honestly with his customers, which we are sure he will do. He is deserving of a lively trade." Mr. Wood is an old Peterborough boy. His many friends will wish him success.

Curlers.

Two rinks of Peterborough curlers went to Whitby yesterday to take part in a bonspiel for a trophy donated by Hon. John Dryden. Seven clubs were entered, Whitby, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Uxbridge, Port Hope, Port Perry and Peterborough. Peterborough's rinks were:

J. McClelland,	D. Belleghem,
J. Connal,	J. B. Pentland,
T. Rutherford,	C. McGill,
Sam Ray, skip.	W. H. Badden, skip.

In the first draw Peterborough defeated Bowmanville by 34 to 20 points, Whitby got away with Oshawa, and Uxbridge beat Port Perry. To-day Peterborough will play with Port Hope, who drew the bye on the first draw, and Uxbridge and Whitby will also play off. The contest will be finished to-day.

Men Not Wanted.

A meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbytery of Peterborough is being held in St. Paul's Church to-day. It has not been the custom for reporters to attend these meetings, which are for "ladies only," but yesterday the local newspapers were notified that they might send representatives to the meeting. Accordingly a couple of reporters ventured into the dove-cote this afternoon for the purpose of reporting proceedings. But their masculinity could not be overlooked, and they received a politely worded note requesting them to "withdraw" which they did, of course, their meek faces suffused with blushes. The ladies are not, perhaps, intentionally cruel, but the abused reporter ought not to be invited to a meeting and then afterwards gently "fired." A charitable construction to place upon the affair is that there was some misunderstanding.

Zozo at Ottawa.

The Zozo Company appeared in Ottawa Friday night. The Free Press says:—"A good sized audience was present at the Grand Opera House last evening on the occasion of the production of 'Zozo, the Magic Queen.' The piece is of the burlesque type now so popular, and was staged in a most pleasing manner. The young ladies of the troupe are all attractive-looking, possessing fine figures, and show to great advantage in their gorgeous, if abbreviated, costumes. The songs, dances and marches were all remarkably well executed. Miss Irene Allen as Queen Zozo made a decided hit, displaying talent of a more than ordinary character. Mr. E. B Adams, in his female impersonations, gave every satisfaction and elicited continuous applause. The skirt dance by this gentleman was one of the best features of the entertainment. The comic element was furnished by Mr. C. E. Edwards, whose 'get-up' as an impossible Irishman, was such as to provoke irresistible merriment, even before he opened his capacious mouth. His facial contortions need to be seen to be appreciated, for they are indescribable. The audience was convulsed with laughter when he was to the fore. The remainder of the cast were, on the whole, above the average. There was a good attendance of ladies and children at the matinee this afternoon. The last performance will be given this evening, when a bumper house is expected." At Bradburn's Opera House, Thursday evening, 22nd inst. 1d

The Rev. J. O. S. Huntingdon.

"The preacher, as he stood silent a moment while his flashing eyes looked full in the faces of the thousand men who thronged every nook of the church, was a man that none might mistake as an ordinary clergymen of the Church of England. And to those who know know the history of the man—how, with the flush of youth still upon his face and with the certainty of fame before him, he laid aside ambition and vowed himself to celibacy and poverty and devoted his life to lessening the misery of his down-trodden brothers of the slums, to preaching fraternity, to pointing to Christ as the great elder brother of the race—the clear-cut features and bold carriage seemed but the natural accompaniment of the voice that for years he has raised against social wrongs."—The Globe, Jan. 19.

He will lecture on the Religious Phase of the Single Tax in the opera house Wednesday evening, Jan. 21st. Admission free. Of his eloquence the Globe says, in reporting a sermon:

"At once a bond seemed to be established between the speaker and his hearers, a sympathy that broke out into cheering once or twice and called forth the rebuke, "Brothers, you are in the house of God."

A plate will be placed at the door the purpose of enabling those who have expressed such a wish, to help the Association in paying expenses. Father Huntingdon charges nothing. Seats reserved for ladies and their escorts. The Mayor will preside.

Town Committees.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Is it not strange that the seven gentlemen councillors who had the duty of appointing the standing committees for the ensuing year could not find room for some of the "new blood" that has been infused into the Council on the Finance Committee. Is it possible that the seven gentlemen who voted themselves on that committee could not place confidence enough in any one of the three new councillors to give one of them a seat on that committee. This looks very much as though the old council were trying to bury a Nigger under the new market building. Therefore as a ratepayer of this town I ask that Mr. Meldrum or Mr. Dennistoun be placed on this most important committee.

Yours, &c.,

RATEPAYER.

Annual Meeting of Directors and Shareholders.

Large Attendance and Rousing Elections—Reports of Progress during the Year.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Company was held at the Council Chamber on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There was a large attendance, over fifty shareholders being present. There was considerable interest taken in the election of directors. The President, Mr. James Stevenson, occupied the chair. The directors present were: Messrs. John Burnham, Q. C., J. J. Lundy, J. J. Hartley, Alex. Hamilton, G. M. Roger, B. Shortly, W. S. Northey, and Mr. E. A. Peck Secretary.

The President read his report as follows:

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

To the Shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Co.:

The President and Directors of the Company beg to present the following report for the past year:

The principal business claiming the attention of the Directors was the appointment of a superintendent in place of Mr. John Kelly, who tendered his resignation. Feeling the importance of obtaining the best available man for the position, the Board advertised in several papers, and made careful enquiries into the qualifications of the applicants.

Of the many who applied for the position, the Board finally determined upon Mr. W. H. Foord, of Peterborough, who was engaged for a year, and entered upon his duties on the first of May last. He has shown energy and skill in the management of the Cemetery and has given the Board entire satisfaction.

The Board is pleased to acknowledge the faithful service rendered by Mr. Kelly, our superintendent for over fifteen years, the efforts put forth to improve the appearance of the cemetery, and the neat and highly creditable way in which the grounds were kept while he held that office.

The Board have directed their attention during the year to the further improvement of the cemetery. In accordance with the suggestion made at the last annual meeting, closets have been erected at suitable points through the grounds. A commencement was made in the work of cleaning up the banks of the lake and river, a suitable wharf was built, and steps placed upon the banks for the convenience of those approaching the grounds by water.

Another dozen of iron seats were procured and placed in the grounds.

The statement of receipts and expenditures for the year, with the auditors' report thereon, has been as usual prepared and printed, and will be submitted to you.

Amongst the receipts may be specially mentioned the sum of $500 from the executors of the late Mrs. Nicholls, for which sum the Directors undertook the care taking of her lots in the cemetery in perpetuity. Including this sum the balance on hand is $1,374 23 as against $928 02 at the commencement of the year.

In conclusion, we beg to recommend that $1,000 of the above balance be invested in town debentures.

Respectfully submitted,

J. STEVENSON, President.

Rev. V. CLEMENTI, in moving the adoption of the report, said he heartily endorsed all that had been said of the efficiency of the new caretaker, Mr. Foord, who had fulfilled his duties to the entire satisfaction of the Company and the public.

Mr. Moore seconded the motion of adoption, which was carried.

In reply to Mr. Kingan, it was stated that the $500 referred to in the report was arranged for by the executors of the Nicholls estate, not as a bequest from Mrs. Nicholls, but on their own responsibility.

APPLYING THE SURPLUS.

Mr. WALTER PATERSON thought it better to use the surplus on hand in reducing expenses rather than investing it as recommended in the report, thus bearing a burden while laying up money for the benefit of those who were to come afterwards.

Mr. MOORE.—There is $2,000 already invested.

Mr. STEVENSON said that the Company might soon be called on to extend their limits and they would require a good balance for that purpose. It would also be reasonable to expect that the revenue from the sale of lots would decrease. The interest on the money if invested would keep the lots in repair after all the lots had been sold and the revenue cut off.

Mr. E. B. EDWARDS endorsed Mr. Paterson's remarks and said that the balance each year should be applied to reducing the expense to shareholders of maintaining lots.

There was some discussion as to what charge was made for maintaining lots, and Mr. Foord said the charges were for caring for flowers, planting trees and shrubs, etc. There was no charge for ordinary attendance.

Mr. MOORE though the Company could easily undertake the watering of lots without extra charge to plot holders.

Mr. ROGER showed from the figures that if the Company undertook to take care of lots it would use up the whole proceeds at present, and when the sale of lots ceased they could do it no longer.

Considerable discussion followed concerning the expense of the Company of watering the flowers and the Company's ability to undertake it. In reply to Mr. Shortly, Mr. Foord said the expense of watering the flowers would be $500.

Mr. E. B. EDWARDS moved that the Company undertake to water the flowers without expense to the shareholders.

Mr. R. M. DENNISTOUN enlarging upon a remark of Mr. Edg. Pearse, said that according to the statement, there was actually no surplus last year, as in the balances was $800 balance from last year and $500 from the Nicholls estate, and it could not be shown that there was an increase of income over expenditure, but the contrary. He moved the matter be left in the hands of the directors.
